Levitt Tells Industry, Business Plan

Big Project In Manalapan Is Debated

MANALAPAN — Monmouth Village, the 688-house, 474-acre development which Levitt and Sons, Inc., proposes to build on the east side of Rt. 9, was the subject of a four-hour public hearing conducted last night by the Planning Board. A smaller-than-average crowd of about 75 turned out to listen to Patrick Shields, Levitt executive and professional engineer, James P. Kovacs, vice president of Edward C. Reilly and Associates, Freehold, review the maps. The meeting grew heated when Louis Sennick, president of the Yorktowne Homeowners Association, charged that the board had not given the Levitt proposal sufficient study in advance. Mayor Thomas Kerwin retorted that Mr. Sennick had "a lot of nerve" and that he was "in no position to be critical of this body." The Levitt plan to build here was opposed by many Yorktowne residents even before the builder filed his subdivision maps. The proposed development will extend some 5,000 feet along Rt. 9. Maps show 3,500 feet of this frontage in residential lots with the remaining 1,500 feet being used for the bath and tennis club which Levitt plans to construct. Residents criticized the plan for permitting 3,500 feet of "prime commercial land" to be used for residential purposes. Taylor Palmer, Jr., the board chairman, noted that under present ordinances, residences are permitted in all commercial zones, although this may be changed by ordinance when the master plan is put into effect. Abe Magid, of this place, said "this is a great example of why we should have waited for the master plan." He termed the present zoning ordinances "leaky." As promised by the builder, the subdivision meets all of the present zoning and subdivision requirements of the township. All lots have a minimum area of 20,000 square feet and corner lots contain 30,000 square feet. All houses will be set back 75 feet and the width of all lots is at least 100 feet, with corner lots having a width of 150 feet. (See PROJECT, Page 3)

MANALAPAN — Levitt and Sons, Inc. revealed a proposal for a unique multi-million dollar industrial center and shopping plaza at last night's public hearing on the 688 house Monmouth Village subdivision the firm plans to put up on the east side of Rt. 9 here. The commercial-industrial complex would be built on 71 acres of land on the west side of Rt. 9, both north and south of Symmes Dr., on land now controlled by the Levitt firm. 680 Acres This area, part of some 680 acres which the company controls on the west side of the highway, is in a residential "A" zone which calls for nominal one acre lots. The area would have to be rezoned to permit construction of the proposed complex. The Levitt plan calls for a 40-acre light industrial park on the south west corner of Symmes Dr. and Rt. 9 and a 31-acre shopping plaza on the northwest corner. Buildings in the industrial park would be constructed by Levitt and leased to industrial tenants. Louis Schlessinger Co., Newark, industrial real estate specialist has agreed to serve as exclusive agent for the park. Frank Schlessinger, executive vice president, who was on hand last night, estimated that the park could provide retail sales totaling five to six million dollars in ten to fifteen years. Mr. Schlessinger reported that he had been asked by Mayor Thomas Kerwin several times during the past two years to help the township attract industrial retail sales, but that he had avoided involvement here because he felt that the township had little to offer a client. Schlessinger's agreement with Levitt, he said, depended on several conditions which the real estate firm set up and to which Levitt had agreed. These included: Agreement by the builder to erect a shell building at the outset, so that there would be something to show to prospective clients; agreement to build a second shell as soon as the first is rented; a commitment by Levitt to spend money to promote the industrial park; and an agreement by Levitt to absorb certain costs so that the space could be offered for rent at an attractive price. Mr. Schlessinger feels that the most likely principal tenants for the park are companies engaged in distribution or assembly type industries and, possibly, research firms. (See LEVITT, Page 2)

Raritan Unit Hits Bus Policy

RARITAN TOWNSHIP — The Township Committee last night roared the Board of Education on its bus transportation policy, declaring that it would force a change in policy if it had the power to do so. At the same time, Mayor Marvin Olinsky made it clear that disorder will not be tolerated and ordered police surveillance of the parents' protest marches to Lillian Drive and Beers Street Schools this morning. He said it had been rumored that streets would be blocked by people lying down in the roadway. Tuesday night, more than 100 parents from Keansburg Park attended a school board meeting to demand more buses on hazardous streets. Because of a $100,000 budget cut, resulting from two budget defeats at the polls in February, the board has reduced the transportation account by $7,150 and changed its busing policy, eliminating several routes. The board stated that to retain last year's policy would cost about $20,000 more this year. Mayor's Statement: As a result of continued protests, at the committee meeting last night, Mayor Olinsky issued the following statement: "When the Township Committee, under the law, cut the school budget after the two defeats, it cut a lump sum. It is up to the board as to how its money will be spent. We made recommendations as to where the specific line item cuts should be made, but the board did not follow our recommendations. "We did not make any recommendation that any transportation be cut. We were against that then and we are still against it."

After Middletown Party

A LOT OF BEER — Middletown police have this site, the Harthorne woods, Locust, under surveillance to prevent "more wild beer parties and fights." Twelve were arrested at site Labor Day, as some 40 more escaped into the woods. Police estimate there are 2,000 to 3,000 beer cans in the area. A fire at the site was reported yesterday by police, as someone burned furniture and sofas there.

Union Leader Gets Sudden Ouster at Fort

FORT MONMOUTH — Rudolf G. Wunsch resumed the presidency of Lodge 1904, American Federation of Government Employees, last night, but within an hour was ousted from the chair and possibly from the union. A majority of the approximately 40 members attending last night's lodge meeting contended that Mr. Wunsch's supervisory status as a boiler plant foreman not only disqualified him for the presidency but made him ineligible for membership in the union. The ouster move came shortly after M. Wunsch took the gavel from Thomas J. Coleman, Toms River, who was elected president on Aug. 4. The election, which followed a bitter internal dispute, was considered a rout for Wunsch supporters. Return Agreed Under an agreement endorsed by John Griner, national union president, Mr. Wunsch, who was fired from his job on Dec. 31 for allegedly falsifying sick leave slips, was to resume the presidency he had won last November if and when he was reinstated. Mr. Wunsch, who lives in Elberon, was ordered restored to his civilian job on Aug. 26, and returned to work Tuesday. The remaining list of lodge officers, all members of the Coleman faction, remained in office. During the stormy session last night, Mr. Coleman said he was willing to accept the ouster. See Wagner Getting Labor Secretary Job

By WILLIAM HENDERSON WASHINGTON — President Johnson will shortly appoint New York Mayor Robert F. Wagner as his new secretary of labor, The Register has learned exclusively. Originally, the mayor was considered as the one to head the new federal urban housing development agency. The White House aide said the President had changed his mind about that one and will name Wagner to the powerful labor post. Mr. Wagner, who served as mayor for 12 years and who refused to run for another four-year term, has long cherished an ambition to become secretary of labor.

March Begins At Raritan

RARITAN TOWNSHIP — Police this morning reported that some 60 parents, accompanied by about 150 children made the trek this morning from Keansburg Park to Lillian Drive School. Local police, assisted by state police at Keypost barracks, stayed close to the crowd to maintain order. The group traveled from the development onto Palmer Ave., then south to Middle Rd. and north on South Laurel Ave. to the school. Troopers reported that a crowd of equal size made a similar march to Beers St. School.

$900,000 Library Addition, Arts Center Proposal Told by College

WEST LONG BRANCH — Plans for a $900,000 library addition and the pending resubmission of a variance application to build a fine arts building and workshop were announced yesterday by Monmouth College. At a breakfast meeting of the Greater Long Branch Chamber of Commerce, in the college cafeteria, C. Walter Withey, college business manager, revealed a model of the library and architects' sketches of the planned four-story building. Dr. William G. Van Note, college president, called the 100,000 volume library addition the most important of the college's plans for the immediate future. Mr. Withey said bids probably would be received in the spring. The building would be financed by a $300,000 federal grant, a $300,000 federal loan and with $300,000 of the college's funds, he said. Going to Planners Mr. Withey said revised plans for the $150,000 fine arts center would be submitted to the Long Branch Planning Board on Monday, Sept. 20. From there, they would be examined by the Board of Adjustment. The Board of Adjustment on Feb. 8 voted 4-1 to deny the variance application. At that time the board decided the college had not lived up to stipulations of other variances. Mr. Withey said yesterday the revised plans include reduction in parking areas, a point of contention on the part of a number of neighborhood residents at the February hearing. Misunderstanding Claimed Mr. Withey said that the college's intentions were generally misunderstood at the first hearing and cited faulty communications as the main reason. He noted that all possible areas of the college's present plant are now being used and declared that the fine arts structure was vital to the institution's well-being. Dr. Van Note told the assembled businessmen that the college is a "live, vibrant institution" which exists only for public service. In reply to rumors of late, he declared that there are no plans to initiate a football team at the school now.

Holmdel School Use For Politics Is Denied

HOLMDEL — The Board of Education last night rejected a request from Holmdel Young Republicans to use a school all-purpose room for a political meeting. The Young GOP had planned to have an unnamed state political candidate address the club at a public meeting in late September or early October. Such a request from a political organization is not covered in administration policy, and so the matter was put before the board. Then, H. Victor Crespy, superintendent of schools, disclosed that, in the new school-use policy he is drafting, he proposes that political organizations be denied use of school facilities. He explained that requests could possibly come from organizations that might be legitimate political but wholly unacceptable to residents. Groups mentioned included those with Communist or Nazi-type leanings. William L. Russell, Jr., board attorney, conceded that once permission was granted to one political organization, the board would not be on firm ground in denying later applicants. In the past, civic associations have been permitted to use the schools for presentation of all candidates in local elections.

Eatontown Approves Billiard Parlor

EATONTOWN — Anthony J. Piccola can have his billiard parlor. Borough Council last night approved unanimously a use variance recommended by the Zoning Board of Adjustment permitting construction of the controversial establishment in Mr. Piccola's proposed shopping center on Throckmorton Ave. Commenting on Council's action, Councilman Bruce J. Mangan, who has favored the billiard hall all along, had this to say: "Council has acted in the best tradition of our democratic society. It has shown tolerance, the essence of that society, but it has ensured that if necessary, this installation can be removed. We have acted in the interests of democratic free enterprise. Obviously referring to opponents of the project, Mr. Mangan scored them for condemning it out of hand merely as a "pool hall." "Let's not be so quick to cut somebody out," he added. Condition restricting operation of the billiard parlor were made part of Council's approval: —The establishment will be open only from 10 a.m. until midnight; no patrons under the age of 18 will be permitted on the premises after 10 p.m. —No alcoholic beverages may be sold, served, or consumed on the premises. —No magazines, periodicals, or newspapers may be sold. —No gambling will be permitted. The billiard hall shall be operated in accordance with all existing state, county and borough laws, including any licensing ordinances enacted in the future. —Violation of the above rules shall constitute waiver of the right to operate. Mr. Mangan introduced an ordinance providing for licensing of billiard establishments in the borough. Public hearing will be Wednesday, Oct. 13. The ordinance was adopted on first reading by a 3-2 vote, Councilmen Joseph A. Kellenyi and Robert B. Dixon voting against it. Mr. Kellenyi attacked the ordinance as a device to "permit a non-permitted use" — the billiard parlor — in the community, saying it is discriminatory because it applies only to billiard parlors. Other places of amusement such as bowling alleys and pool tables areas in taverns should be included, he recommended. Mr. Dixon agreed. Mr. Piccola's billiard hall has had its ups and downs all summer. First presented to the Zoning Board of Adjustment in May, it was passed on to the Planning Board for an opinion as to whether it would adversely affect comprehensive planning of the borough. The Planning Board, in a split vote, decided that it would, their decision admittedly based largely on an alleged adverse effect the establishment might have on the community's morals. County Will Be Represented At Road Plan Protest Session

FREEHOLD — Long Branch Mayor Vincent J. Mazza said last night that the Monmouth County Planning Board will be represented tomorrow night at a meeting he has called to protest announced plans for the Central Jersey Expressway System. Mr. Mazza said that Charles M. Pike, planning director, has been asked to represent the board by the chairman, E. Donald Sterner. The mayor also said he expects Long Branch City Council to take the first formal action tonight to urge Gov. Richard J. Hughes to reconsider current plans for cross-state highway improvements and additions to the Garden State Parkway. Absence of Spur Specifically, the objection is to the absence of a spur between new cross state improvements and existing highways which service Long Branch, Red Bank, and Bayshore areas. Mr. Sterner voiced the same objection when Governor Hughes announced the new system last month after getting recommendations from a special Task Force he had appointed to draw a proposal. The governor and D. Louis Tonti, executive director of the New Jersey Highway Authority, which operates the parkway, said that including a free spur now would jeopardize financing of the overall project because it will depend in a large measure on toll sections and improve financing prospects. "It is my understanding that financing conditions are related to toll income potential and increasing the traffic volume should improve the overall situation." The mayor said that an exact alignment for a spur has not been drafted. But, he said, he would recommend connections between Rt. 33 in the Freehold area and either the Eatontown or Red Bank interchanges of the Garden State Parkway. Under the state plan, Rt. 33 will be widened and separated between Hightstown and Collingwood Park circle, Wall Township. A new, right-of-way would be built south of Freehold to bypass the congested county seat. In addition, the state proposal calls for a new parkway extension in the middle of the state, west of Freehold, extending between Woodbridge and Jackson Township, with toll spurs to Belmar, and Toms River-Seaside Heights, and a freeway to Trenton.

Junk Cars — New Burden Looms

FREEHOLD — Declining prices for scrap metal threaten to throw another burden on taxpayers to get rid of junk cars. This is a conclusion of the Monmouth County Planning Board in a report to County Freeholder Marcus Daly following up his request for a study of the growing problem. Mr. Daly said the report emphasizes a need for strict enforcement of local police and health laws against abandonment of cars, and for tightening of local laws to cover indiscriminate disposal either on public or private property. But some public means of disposal appears to be an ultimate certainty, the report indicates. Prepared by Charles M. Pike, county planning director, the report said that some cars may ultimately be deposited offshore to help build up a coastal reef. But this area of disposal does not offer even the hope of a total solution, it added. The American Littoral Society, which maintains a headquarters in the Marine Fisheries Laboratory at Sandy Hook, sees the possibility of the labs undertaking an experimental artificial reef program between Sandy Hook and the Shark River Inlet. If successful, it would become a boon to fish productivity. Tentative Approval Tentative approval, the report says, has been given by the Army Corps of Engineers and Navy Authorities for an area under 80 feet in depth with sunken ships to serve as the cores of a series of reefs. Rubble and between 250 and 500 cars a year might be dropped to supplement the deposits. Increasing auto production and new methods in steel manufacturing, which require less scrap metal, are at the root of the surplus junk problem. From a 1940 level production of 3.5 million cars a year, aut makers now turn out 9.5 million. Cars have an average life of 10.5 years and are scrapped at the rate of 8 million a year. Levitt

The absence of a railroad, Mr. Schlessinger said, would tend to rule out heavy industries.

Mr. Schlessinger termed the Manalapan area a desert, as far as industry is concerned. "The only way to attract industry to such an area," he said, "is to have everything here."

With Levitt's major subdivision across the highway, both water and sanitary sewers will become available to the industrial park.

Ephraim Brauer, site selection analyst for Food Fair, told last night's audience that his company would be ready to negotiate now for a store in the proposed Levitt shopping plaza, if it were to be open in a year.

The supermarket chain, he said, looks for sites where there are some 4,000 families in a trade area with a three or four mile radius. He pointed out that this number of families are expected in the Rt. 9-Symmes Dr. area within a year.

The nearest Food Fair stores are in Freehold Township, on Rt. 9—about four miles—and in Sayre Woods, about eight miles away.

Levitt spokesmen said that the builder has had inquiries from two drug store chains, several barber and beauty shops, and other stores which are interested in moving into a shopping plaza here. The shopping plaza would be managed by the builder.

Cars

$38 to $43 a ton in 1958, the price is now $20 a ton for the metal salvaged from a junked car.

The investment needed to establish an efficient scrap metal processing plant is about $250,000, covering a magnetic crane, compressing machine, building, land and other equipment. Auto body metal can be depressed to a cube 2 by 2 by 2 feet and brings 3/4 of a cent per pound at the foundry.

In Monmouth County, auto registrations exceed 140,000 and will reach 350,000 by 1985. More than 11,000 are scrapped annually now and over 25,000 will be in 1985.

Twenty-four sites comprising 80 acres now are utilized in the county as cemeteries for an estimated 10,000 cars. Unless better stacked, junked cars which are being discarded and stored at the rate of 125 an acre will require 240 acres of land by 1985.

Wall Auto Wreckers, Wall Township, is the county's only modern equipped scrap metal processor and it disposes of about 7,500 cars a year.

Making A Charge — Junk yards which once paid varying prices for cars now offer nothing, or make a charge, and depend on resale of part and equipment for a profit. Cars which are stripped before they are abandoned are least desirable.

Public problems, however, are created by the great volume of vehicles left on streets, in public parking lots, and which are accumulated at gas stations and other places.

New Parking System Told

RED BANK — Riverview Hospital has adopted a new parking system to get around the new six-story wing.

The wing, now under construction, ate up nearly two thirds of the parking spaces in front of the Union St. building. An interim plan, using professional parking attendants to conserve space, was instituted pending the acquisition of more land.

Now Riverview has an arrangement its administrators hope will be permanent. It puts to use the former Boro Busses Company tract on the south side of East Front St., and several lots purchased by the hospital between East Front and Union Sts.

Administrator John H. Daniels announced the area on the hospital grounds is permanently reserved for doctors and clergy.

It also has a space saved for persons leaving patients to be admitted or picking up those who have been discharged.

For visitors, the hospital has provided the lot directly across the street—on the south side of Union St. Visitors electing to park there instead of on the street will be charged the fees that were collected by the professional parkers in front of the hospital during the interim arrangement.

The hospital staff is now parking at the bus company headquarters, which was purchased by Riverview.

Frank F. Blaisdell, president of the board of governors, said the old bus company building at Mechanic St. and Globe Ct. would be razed to increase the lot's capacity. Eventually the other buildings on the tract will be demolished too, but for the time being staffers are parking in the buildings.

While moving the parking attendants across the street to the visitors' lot, Riverview will keep its staff of four guards on duty on the hospital grounds around the clock.

The guards will direct traffic in the emergency entrance area, where there will be no charge. If the arrival of ambulances requires a car to be moved from the emergency area, space in the doctors' lot in front of the building will be provided without charge.

Cars picking up or leaving off patients at the main entrance will be allowed to stop there for a short time, but if it is necessary to leave the car for any length of time, the driver should take it to the visitors' lot where an attendant will take it.

The fees in the visitors' lot will be the same as before—25 cents for one hour or 50 cents for over two hours.

A spokesman said the parking attendants, which were originally hired for the interim system, are now expected to be a permanent fixture at Riverview.

J.S.L. Lecture Series

RUMSON — A wide range of subjects will be covered in the third annual lecture series sponsored by the Junior Service League of Monmouth.

The chairman of the four lecture series, Mrs. Carleton H. Boil, Rumson, has announced that the series will open Nov. 3 with actress Betty Furness. The series will be staged, as previously, in Congregation Bnai Israel, Ridge and Hance Rds. All lectures begin at 10:30 a.m. Subsequent speakers will be school body next week, to persuade it to revise its policy.

To a suggestion that the committee loan the board $20,000, Mr. Olinkey replied, "They have the money if they want to spend it."

"The voters must get people on that board who agree with them," added Mr. Shields, noting that under state law the body is autonomous.

The board's new transportation policy sets the following guides for pupils who are to be transported:

—Grades kindergarten through four, who must travel more than one-half mile over hazardous roads.

—Grades kindergarten through four who must travel more than 1 1/2 miles over non-hazardous roads.

—Grades five through eight who must travel more than two miles.

—Grades nine through 12 who must travel more than 2 1/2 miles.

Previously, the hazardous roads condition applied to all elementary grades.

Tickets for this lecture and the three others in the series go on sale this week. Mrs. Albert Metzger, 22 Wardell Ave., is in charge of reservations.

Proceeds from the lecture series will go to the Junior Service League's Community Trust Fund.

News correspondent Hotelet, a political observer who has trudged beside Nazi troops and who has been imprisoned by the Third Reich, will speak on "Behind the International Headlines." He is seen on CBS-TV and reports on the United Nations.

Baroness von Trapp, mother and leader of the world-famous Trapp Family Singers, will speak on "Around the World with the Trapp Family Singers." Broadway stage star Mary Martin originated the role of the Baroness in "The Sound of Music," which was inspired by the story of the famed family of singers.

Comedian Ewell, known for his "awkward Don Juan" roles to such actresses as Marilyn Monroe and Jayne Mansfield, will speak on "The Many Faces of Laughter." Scheduled to open in a Broadway play next month, Mr. Ewell is heard on WNBC radio in a Mr. and Mrs. show.

Chamber Backs Expressway, Studies Rapid Transit Plan Plea

RED BANK — Director Kenneth L. Walker, Jr., yesterday urged the Community Chamber of Commerce to support the Central Jersey Expressway system and, at the appropriate time, a rapid transit system for rail commuters.

"Meeting in the Old Union House, the chamber directors concurred with the first suggestion, and agreed to tell state officials they like the expressway plan."

Mr. Walker, who is president of the Monmouth County Board of Realtors, said that organization had been studying the plight of the commuter and would have an announcement to make in a few weeks.

The chamber's letters to county legislators, Gov. Richard J. Hughes and Highway Commissioner Dwight R. G. Palmer, will express support of the expressway plan and urge the lawmakers to follow through with the needed appropriations.

With regard to expressions of discontent from Long Branch and some Bayshore towns over the lack of feeder routes to serve their particular areas, Mr. Walker commented, "We have 95 per cent of the cake."

It would be too bad, he said, to upset the plan as this point. He added that the proposed Rt. 35 freeway would provide northern Monmouth County with additional service, and the proposed expressway system would aid the economy of all Monmouth County and central New Jersey.

Commuter problems were another area in which Mr. Walker promised to report to the directors of the chamber, and problems he found. He observed that commuting now takes longer than it did 20 years ago, and the same equipment is still being used.

The county Board of Realtors is trying to correlate the studies that have been made of the problem, and spearhead a move to correct it, the realtor said.

He indicated the move, which he hoped the chamber would back, would be in the form of a drive to appropriate monies for some kind of a rapid transit system.

The board will have an announcement on the project in three or four weeks, he said.

Ingram Raps Mayor, Council for Silence

LITTLE SILVER — The Board of Health's president, Walter E. Ingram, Jr., who has charged that he was by-passed for appointment to the Northeast Monmouth County Sewerage Authority for political reasons, last night rapped Mayor Charles W. Stephens and the Borough Council for not telling him he wasn't in line for the post.

Mr. Ingram, whose wife, Eleanor, is opposing Mr. Stephens for the mayoralty post in the November elections, scoffed at the reasons given Tuesday by the mayor and Councilman Michael J. Rafferty for failing to name him.

Mr. Ingram, a borough delegate to the Regional Sewer Study Committee since the RSSC's inception in 1961, said his first knowledge of the decision came after the Borough Council meeting Tuesday night when a Register reporter sought his comment on the mayor's appointment of Councilmen Michael J. Rafferty and Thomas McCabe to the Authority. The RSSC organized the Authority.

Heard Nothing
Neither the mayor nor any member of the council told him he wasn't going to be named to the Authority, Mr. Ingram said.

"After four years of committee work, you would think that I deserved the courtesy of being advised before receiving the information from a Register reporter," Mr. Ingram said in a prepared statement.

Mayor Stephens told The Register he named Mr. Rafferty, who has been RSSC chairman since that committee's creation, and Mr. McCabe in compliance with a council request that the borough's two representatives on the Authority be members of the governing body.

Mr. Stephens said the council made the request because of the large amount of money the Authority will be spending.

Considered Opinion
Mr. Rafferty said it was the considered opinion of the governing body that the Authority posts go to those who had been elected to office.

Noting that the Authority appointments are for five years, Mr. Ingram asked: "Who can now forecast that Mr. McCabe or Mr. Rafferty will be re-elected and thus remain qualified?"

"In fact, Mr. Rafferty told me that if appointed to the Authority, he would not run for office again," Mr. Ingram stated.

Mr. McCabe is seeking re-election to his three-year council term this November. Mr. Rafferty, whose term expires next year, last night confirmed that he will not seek re-election.

Mayor Stephens says that because the Authority will be spending large sums of money an elected official, and especially a councilman, is more qualified for the appointment," Mr. Ingram said.

Compares Success
"What is there about being elected to office that automatically qualifies a person as a financial genius?" he asks, "I'll compare my personal success as a business man with any member of the council."

"Mayor Stephens states that he complied with the council's request. If so, it is one of the few times that he has confided with that group," Mr. Ingram said.

He recalled that both he and Mr. Rafferty had been appointed to the RSSC by former mayor P. Paul Campi, a Democrat.

Lauds Campi
"It has been completely forgotten that Paul Campi, when mayor of Little Silver, had the foresight to see that sewers were inevitable and organized the neighboring communities to meet and form the Regional Sewer Study Committee," Mr. Ingram said.

Mayor Stephens, a Republican, as are all members of the governing body, was unopposed in his bid for re-election until late in May when Mrs. Ingram announced she would be a write-in candidate on the Democratic slate.

In confirming that he will not be a candidate for the Borough Council at the expiration of the term to which he was elected two years ago, Mr. Rafferty said he sought re-election in 1963 only because "we were in the middle of the regional sewer study, and I thought I should complete it."

Bureau Plan Action Asked By Beadleston

FREEHOLD — Assemblyman Alfred N. Beadleston (R-Monmouth) said yesterday he has called on the state Motor Vehicle Division's Director for a decision on his proposal to re-establish a license bureau here.

In a letter to Miss June Strelecki, director, the assemblyman said he had heard nothing from her since she promised several months ago "to look into the matter immediately."

This is his letter: "Dear Miss Strelecki: "On April 29, I wrote to you concerning establishing in the Freehold Area a motor vehicle bureau to serve the needs of the growing population in that region of Monmouth County. Presently, anyone needing such service must travel to Hightstown, Lakewood or Eatontown."

"Subsequent to my letter, you and Mr. Saley met with Mayor Frank C. Gibson of Freehold Borough, Harry Sagotsky, attorney for their Mayor and Council, and me, at which time we discussed the problem at considerable length, pointing out the great inconvenience to the people in that area in having to travel so far and that it would be a great saving of time and money if a licensing bureau could be established locally.

"At that meeting, you promised to look into the matter immediately and give us your reply in due course. Three or four months have now elapsed, which I believe should be sufficient time to make the necessary decision and I would appreciate your advising me what disposition you are making of this matter."

Surplus of $93,000 Listed in Oceanport
OCEANPORT — Armour Hulsart, auditor for the local Board of Education, last night gave the board his annual audit report.

He noted that surplus school funds are $93,000. He said that as of last June 30, the funds amounted to $138,000.

He recommended procedures to reconcile payroll and cafeteria accounts. He noted minor discrepancies in making payments from the budgeted funds.

Shore Road Relief Route Is Outlined

ASBURY PARK — The State Highway Department outlined plans last night for the proposed $2 million Main St. relief route between here and Shark River.

Spokesmen estimated that plans now 16 per cent complete, will be ready for taking of bids next spring.

The route will be parallel with Main Street, west of the Railroad right of way, between Munroe Ave., Asbury Park, and the Rt. 35 Shark River bridge, Neptune. Most of the alignment is in Neptune City which lies in the middle.

Freeholder Charles I. Smith, director of highways, presided at a dinner meeting of highway department and municipal officials in the Berkeley-Carteret Hotel.

The project will include an intricate intersection on the north shore of the river. The existing Sylvania Ave. bridge over the railroad tracks, from Neptune City to Avon, will be replaced.

The county and federal government will share in cost of the relief route, and the state and federal governments in the intersection and bridge. Municipalities will be required to furnish rights of way in certain instances.

Between Monroe Ave. and Smock Ave., Neptune, the new road will be over existing streets, which will be widened. The balance will cover new construction.

Council Agenda Appeal Chilled in Eatontown

EATONTOWN — Councilman Leon B. Smock, Jr., leading last night's Borough Council meeting in the absence of Mayor Herbert E. Werner, took a dim view of a proposal made by Charles J. Resch of 36 Lake Ave.

At a previous council meeting, Mr. Resch, who has repeatedly interrupted meetings to express his opinions and demand answers to questions, asked that the governing body prepare agendas to be distributed to the public before each council meeting.

Last night he inquired if any action had been taken on his suggestion. Mr. Smock informed him that the matter will be taken up at council's next workshop meeting.

"If no agenda is provided," Mr. Resch declared, "I want to reserve the right to interrupt the meeting at any time to see that the public is kept informed on

Mr. Smock started shaking his head even before Mr. Resch completed his demand. "No, Charlie," he said, "That would lead to a free-for-all."

"In that case," Mr. Resch retorted, "I will bring some very sensitive recording equipment to the next council meeting."

"That's okay," Mr. Smock replied, "if the mayor permits it." Several councilmen were heard to remark that they are pretty sure the mayor won't.

Suit Filed Against Head Of Raceway

FREEHOLD — A Jersey City man who had been employed at Freehold Raceway as captain of waiters filed a suit against the track owner and executive vice president, John D. Cronin, charging false arrest.

The civil suit by Frank Ennis, the former employee, seeks a money award for damages resulting from embarrassment caused him when he was summarily removed from the track by Mr. Cronin Aug. 9.

The suit does not spell out details of the incident, except that it allegedly occurred when Mr. Ennis spoke to Mr. Cronin and was escorted off the raceway premises by security personnel. Also named as a defendant was Jadet Service Corp.

Betsy Picks Up Speed

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Fierce but fickle Hurricane Betsy, at sea once again, picked up speed in the Gulf of Mexico today as it headed for a third and final landfall.

The storm had already spent four costly days passing through the heart of the Bahamas and Florida's southern tourist areas.

After a wild and hectic day Wednesday of doing to Florida's southern tip everything that hurricanes are expected to do, Betsy set to sea accelerating to 17 knots bound on a general course for the Texas-Louisiana area.

Few in Florida would miss her. Betsy left most of the Miami-Fort Lauderdale-Florida Keys area without power and with ruined crops, flooded homes. It washed away several fishing camps in the Keys, sank boats and did damage that can't yet be computed but was initially put at at least $100 million.

Three lives were also lost. This was considered a relatively light toll as the storm's six-foot tides were second only to the record 10-foot tides of 1926 that put a damp end to Florida's great 29s land boom.

Project

The definition of "width" became an issue as it was noted that some lots on the turn-arounds measure as little as 50 feet at the property line.

Lawrence Carton, an attorney representing Pillsbury, Carton and Barnacle, Atlantic Highlands, said that the township ordinance defines the width of a lot as the "mean width measured at right angles to its depth."

Mr. Palmer told the audience that the township engineer has interpreted the width as the measurement along the 75 foot setback line.

Mr. Kovacs reported that lots have been drawn to conform to the ordinance definition of width. No lot would have less than the allowable minimum width of 50 feet at the property line.

As explained by Mr. Kovacs, the houses have been laid out in "small, intimate groups of 20 to 30."

This arrangement, he said, is designed to minimize traffic hazards. Interior streets in the development do not cross between sections.

Pedestrian bridges and walkways are shown connecting the sections, he said, making these additional points:

—Three parcels totaling over 16 acres are reserved for recreational purposes.

An additional area of 18 acres is set aside for a school which Levitt will construct and the builder plans to deed this to the township.

Township officials have been considering deeding this school and some 12 acres to the Manalapan-Englishtown Regional School, while retaining the additional 6 acres for recreational purposes.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q "I am in my early 50's with one goal in mind, and that is growth stocks. I did some speculation a few years back and got 'burned,' so now I am concentrating on issues with a future. I own Bristol-Myers; R.C.A.; Sears, Roebuck; Divco-Wayne; Comsat; Ogden; Beneficial Standard Life. What changes should I make?" S. S.

Prices Rise For 5th Day On Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market yesterday advanced for the fifth straight session on average. Trading quickened.

Volume rose to 6.26 million shares from Tuesday's 5.84 million.

The Dow Jones Industrial Average rose 3.57 to 913.68.

Once again, steels declined as industry sources fretted about a possible cost-price squeeze resulting from the latest labor agreement. On the other hand, there were predictions that the steel industry would resort to selective price increases which would not "stir up the animals" in Washington or elsewhere, thereby helping to compensate for larger wage payouts.

The steels seemed to be trying to recover at the start, with U.S. steel up slightly, but their prices soon melted.

The averages were boosted by gains of pivotal blue chips, such as Du Pont, up 4, General Motors, up 1 1/2, American Telephone, up 1 1/2 and United Aircraft, up 2 1/2.

Of 1,390 issues traded, 589 rose and 538 fell. New highs for the year totaled 69 and new lows 10.

The Associated Press Average of 60 stocks made a narrow gain of .2 at 337.2 with industrials up 1/4, rails off 1.4 and utilities up .4.

Prices were irregularly higher on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 1.69 million shares compared with 1.53 million Tuesday.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. Treasury bonds declined.

A) I'm sorry that you had to learn the costly way that speculation rarely pays off, except for highly experienced operators. You have on the whole a pretty good list. Divco-Wayne's earnings turned up sharply in recent years and the company's business—specialized automotive products and mobile homes—of fers hope for further gains. I do not believe the shares have yet earned a growth rating, which is confirmed by their relatively high yield.

I would switch to American Hospital Supply. The balance of your list appears suitable for your objective.

Q) "I have 200 Chicago & Northwestern preferred and 100 Denver & Rio Grande Rwy. preferred, both purchased in 1944 at $100 each. Will you please tell me if these have any value. My friends tell me no." J. G.

A) I think your friends—and possibly you — are mistaken. There is a Chicago & Northwestern five per cent participating preferred which came out following the road's reorganization in 1944. It recently traded at 103 1/2 on the New York Stock Exchange.

I cannot identify your Denver & Rio Grande preferred, since the only such issue of that company I am familiar with was brought out after reorganization of the carrier was completed in 1947, and redeemed in 1964. An earlier six per cent preferred was written off as valueless in 1944, during the reorganization proceedings.

Howard Sees Big Gain In Aid Benefits

WASHINGTON — Residents of Monmouth and Ocean Counties stand to gain $12 million in social security benefits during the calendar year 1966, says Rep. James J. Howard, D-3d Dist. N.J. Mr. Howard said that through amendments to the Social Security Act, total payments under the new program will reach $74 million in 1966 for the Third Congressional District.

In the calendar year, 1967, additional payments resulting from the amendments will amount to $19 million and total payments will rise to $84 million," Mr. Howard said.

As estimated, 9,000 residents of Monmouth and Ocean counties who could not receive monthly benefits under the Old Age, Survivors, and Disability Insurance programs as in effect before the 1965 amendments, will be able to receive monthly benefits immediately under the program as amended.

"In addition," Congressman Howard remarked, "an estimated 55,000 persons aged 65 and over from Monmouth and Ocean will be eligible for hospital insurance protection under the basic plan on the effective date of July 1, 1966."

The Register's Opinion

Long Branch and the Battleship

Preliminary reports concerning the feasibility of permanently anchoring the Battleship New Jersey off a Long Branch beach have been encouraging and a source of optimism for members of the Long Branch Battleship New Jersey Committee.

The committee's plan to the $110 million warship off the Cooper Ave. beach hinges upon the ship's being decommissioned by the Navy Department and being made available to this city. This could take some time—and must be considered.

Meanwhile, Rep. James J. Howard and Sens. Harrison A. Williams and Clifford P. Case have promised that they will work toward the acquisition of the ship by the city. There is much groundwork which must be accomplished before the ship arrives.

The purpose of bringing the ship to Long Branch is four-fold. It would serve as a memorial to this state's war dead and would point to the foibles of war; it would serve as a permanent museum for various state and local organizations; it would be a major tourist attraction, drawing sorely needed dollars to the area, and it would serve, together with sea retainers positioned around it, to prevent and reverse the beach erosion which is slowly destroying one of this area's greatest assets.

Reports from San Jacinto, Tex., Fall River, Mass., and Wilmington, N. C., where there are similar operations, indicate that less money than originally estimated is required to establish the attraction and that maintenance is more than amply supported by tourist fees. In fact, the Long Branch Committee had anticipated charging $1 for adults, 50 cents for children and 25 cents for children in groups. The San Jacinto operation only charges 30 cents for adults and 20 cents for children.

In Fall River, where the USS Massachusetts was opened to the public on July 24, the response was more than ample, with some 38,000 persons moving through the turnstiles through last month.

The San Jacinto operation, financed entirely by private contributions as would be the case here, has for more than 15 years been self supporting, and this year there was a substantial profit.

A report from Wilmington shows that the total cost of establishing operations was almost 40 per cent less than what is being anticipated in Long Branch.

The state Jaycees have pledged $500,000 to the committee for the implementation of the program. This would include a concrete roadway out to the boat, which will rest several hundred yards offshore, as well as other necessary refinements.

When decommissioned, the Navy Department would provide the ship to the city at no charge. That is, if the city acts quickly and receives the ship before other municipalities which have also expressed an interest in the warship can claim it.

Twenty-eight organizations and legislative representatives have expressed or implied their endorsement of the Long Branch plan. These rank from the undersecretary of the Interior Dept. to third grade youngsters at the Lenna Conrow School in Long Branch. In between, there are veterans groups, fraternal and civic organizations and labor unions.

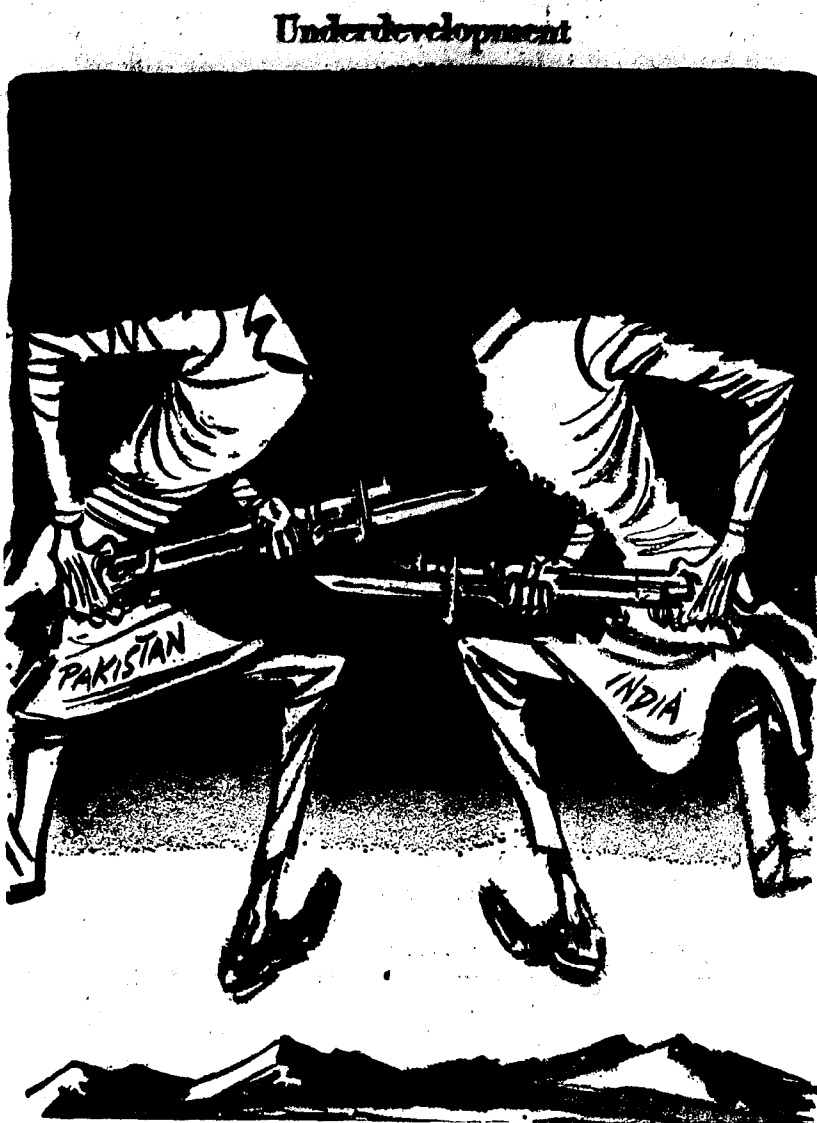

The state Chapter of the Eagles has been instrumental in recruiting support for the project, and has made strides in its promotion.

The project would entail construction of a state park adjacent to Ocean Ave. This would require an alteration of phase two of the general neighborhood renewal program for the city, which has already been approved by federal agencies. However, this is merely a technicality, and could be accomplished with a minimum of trouble and paperwork.

The Long Branch City Council and Planning Board have given their approval of the venture and have authorized studies by the city manager. However, Mayor Vincent J. Mazza and Charles E. Polk, Planning Board chairman, have remained skeptical.

In reality, the possibility that the battleship will be obtained for Long Branch is greater than what is generally thought, and the effect of the ship on shaping and bolstering the area's economy is greater than most imagine.

The ship could be one of the single most important economic factors to influence Long Branch in quite some time.

Sylvia Porter: Your Money's Worth

Your Poverty 'Risk'

What are your strictly statistical chances of being poor today? Precisely how much does your "poverty risk" increase if you are a man or a woman, if you are young or old, employed or unemployed, Negro or white?

PORTER

For the first time, we are getting details profiling the full face of poverty—the "who," the "how many," the "how bad." A new study by Mollie Orshansky of the Social Security Administration in Washington not only pinpoints the percentages but also dramatizes the grim fact that large segments of our population are far more poverty prone than the nation as a whole.

Hard statistics on high poverty risks in our country are imperative if, in our mounting war on poverty, we are to isolate the targets of attack and know where to concentrate our efforts. Here are some of Miss Orshansky's startling findings:

—Your overall chances of being counted among the nation's 34.1 million today statistically one out of six.

—If you're 65 years old or over, though, your risk is twice as large as that of a 45-year-old. While the overall number of people who are impoverished is declining, the number of our aged poor has remained unchanged.

—Next to the aged, children are the second greatest poverty risk in the nation today—particularly children in large families and in households headed by women. Nearly one in four American children—15 million—now lives in poverty but nearly half of all children in families with five or more children under 18 are listed among the poor. That's five times the rate for families with only one child.

—If you are living alone, your chances of being poor are about twice those living in a family unit. If you are old and living alone, your odds of being poor soar to nearly three times the odds for the family unit.

—If you are a non-jobholding wife, your family's risk of being poor is double that of a family in which the wife works.

—If you are a Negro, your risk of being poor is 3½ times that of a white citizen. Today, 10.7 million Negroes are counted poor—about one-half the entire American Negro population.

For a Negro child, the poverty risk is four times that of a white child. For an elderly Negro, the chances are twice as large as those for an elderly white.

—Your chances of being at the very bottom of the U.S. poverty barrel are greatest if you are a Negro woman heading a large family or an aged Negro woman living alone. A sickening five out of six of these are poor! The face of poverty obviously is ugly and extremely lopsided. For some groups, the odds of being poor actually outweigh the odds of being non-poor. Poverty does not "strike" race groups; it is built into their lives.

What's more, the study reveals that employment does not necessarily mean non-poverty: nearly 40 per cent of the 15 million American children counted as poor live in families headed by a full-time breadwinner. The problem, Miss Orshansky notes, is not joblessness but "rather a history of an erratic series of short-term jobs. . . . The critical question for dependency—and for the welfare rolls—is not whether the breadwinner is unemployed at any given time, but whether he works over a span of time, for an income which can support his family."

Even at this early stage in our research, it already is abundantly clear that the poverty risk is highest among some of the fastest growing segments of our population: the Negro, the very young, the aged. Winning the war on poverty in our land is going to be far more complicated than most Americans now think.

John Chamberlain: These Days

Radio Free Europe in Action

MUNICH, West Germany—It is fascinating to sit in on a policy session of Radio Free Europe, the organization started by Americans just after the war to beam news of the free world to the five Iron Curtain countries of eastern Europe.

The policy makers are discussing the uses of "cross-reporting," which is a new word to me. The idea of cross-reporting is to tell the Poles, for example, exactly what is happening in Hungary or Rumania, not what the Communists say is happening, which may involve distortion or suppression. Since hunger for truth is part of the larger hunger for freedom, this is one way of nourishing hopes for an increasing liberalization in the Iron Curtain lands.

"Cross-reporting" must, of course, be sustained by credibility, which means that Radio Free Europe cannot afford to make a blooper in letting Poles in on what Hungarians are doing. Fifty out of 175 employees are engaged in monitoring what Communist radio stations are saying; other employees comb the publications that come through to the West; and there are other means of gathering accurate intelligence. At this morning's policy meeting they are wondering what to do with the text of an article, "Why We Are Silent," which is attributed to Mihajlo Mihajlov, the rebel Yugoslav who was jailed and then released on probation not too long ago for reporting the unattractive Russian intellectuals in a small book called "Summer in Moscow."

The latest Mihajlov piece is filled with what must seem arrant nonsense to an intelligent Westerner, such as the statement that "the United States today, with its war in Viet Nam, is performing a disservice to the cause of freedom in the socialist world." But, since it also urges Yugoslav writers to speak out against a single-party political system, the article could have an important impact if "cross-reported" to the Czechs, the Hungarians, and the Poles.

"Every one-party system," so the Mihajlov article says, "is some kind of subspecies of Stalinism. It cannot be justified on the grounds that, in the specific case of Yugoslavia, it has been a usually liberal one-party system, just as an absolute monarchy cannot be excused because of the temporary appearance of a benevolent ruler."

The decision at the Radio Free Europe policy meeting is that Mihajlov's words should be made available to listeners in the five eastern European countries. But, first, there is the question of the authenticity of the text. An economist who works for the Polish broadcasting division of Radio Free Europe recalls the time when a supposedly new article was beamed to Warsaw. It turned out to be a collection of excerpts from a variety of old pieces. To the author involved, it was proof that western magazines indulge in piracy of literary works. He didn't mind the theft, but he wanted to be paid for it. The Polish economist asks that the Mihajlov article be double-checked, in accordance with the Radio Free Europe "two-source" rule.

RADIO FREE Europe has been criticized in some quarters for broadcasting both the good and the bad in western news. But its European director, Gen. C. Rodney Smith, insists that its reputation for credibility is the foundation stone of its usefulness. The news, he says, must be translated, not manipulated. One blooper and the whole show is in danger of being discredited.

At the present moment Radio Free Europe is riding high. The Communist radio in Prague, thinking to beat Radio Free Europe in telling the Czechs about the progress of the Gemini eight-day space flight, reported a successful blast-off at Cape Kennedy twenty-four minutes before it was actually first scheduled to happen. When the blast-off was postponed at the last minute, the Communist reputation for radio news credibility took a bad nose-dive. It is this sort of blooper that the directors of Radio Free Europe take infinite pains to guard against.

Since the pressures for liberalism, if not for liberation, are mounting throughout eastern Europe, Radio Free Europe's new accent on "cross-reporting" of liberalizing tendencies could pay great dividends. The cross-reports naturally sell democracy, not capitalism. But "creeping capitalism" is very definitely in the air to drive the older Communist bureaucrats crazy.

William Henderson: Politics

One Powerful World

The county election contests appear so close that the key to success or doom for the Republicans and Democratic candidates revolves around one powerful word—registration. The truth is that the party having the most convincing talkers will get out the most county residents to register this month.

HENDERSON and state.

Thousands of lackadaisical voters in Monmouth haven't gone to the polls in years. These, plus the "first time" voters, who may lack interest, are the persons who are going to elect or defeat the county nominees—if they can be wooed to vote Nov. 2.

Rival candidates are about on even terms. There are weak and strong ones, but the Democrats pose a big threat after last year's local victories.

A big registration also seems to be the only answer to Sen. Wayne Dumont's chances of beating Gov. Hughes in the county

RICH Republican who loves to gamble will take Wayne Dumont, Jr., to beat Gov. Hughes—if he gets a 5-2 bet. The fella is also ready to put even money on the line that county Democrats Paul Kiernan, sheriff candidate; Ocean Township Mayor John J. Reilly, running for the Senate, and Assemblyman Patrick J. McGann, Jr., beat their GOP adversaries.

THOUSANDS of county residents who are 65 or over should be warned that benefits from Uncle Sam's new Medicare program, which became law July 30, do not start for a year or more. Hospital benefits begin July 1, 1966, and nursing home care Jan. 1, 1967.

THE blooper season is upon us. At Democratic dinner in Spring Lake, Paul Kiernan introduced Hudson County political chieftain Kenny as "John V. Kennedy," and at a Lincoln feast GOP Assembly candidate Joe Azzolina, Middletown, called the governor "Mayor Hughes."

POTPOURRI—A surprising number of county Republicans, turning prognosticators, say Sen. Stout and Assemblyman Beadleston are the June party candidates who'll be elected. They also claim Wayne Dumont, Jr., has an outside chance of beating Gov. Hughes. . . . HANDFUL of Long Branch city councilmen would boot public works boss James O'Neill out of his job if they could. We know three councilmen who are just crying for the post. . . . THOSE dinner meetings of the Affiliated Republican Club of Monmouth County are getting to be hotter than a cap pistol. Perhaps this reveals the true party spirit of the members. . . . GUESSING game: Name the big shot Republican whose days as friend and confidant to Gov. Hughes are numbered? Only last June the wealthy contributor tossed a lavish party for Hughes. Now, something is amiss. . . . AT the Democratic dinner in Spring Lake, county vice chairman Mary Reseter of Hazlet was sitting in "left field" until rescued by the Freehold Township woman leader. She threatened to make a speech about the seating arrangements, but Mrs. Reseter finally was placed on the dais. Mrs. Reseter's friend learned her politics in Jersey City. . . . HUDSON County leader John V. Kenny got into the act at the same feast—and during his speech murdered the king's English. We've heard Kenny make the same pitch dozens of times in Jersey City. He only changes the names of the candidates. . . . THREE women who are staunch Republicans appear to be sitting out the local elections. They haven't even made phone calls. Perhaps the gals want to be coaxed. . . . FISH and politicians were charmed by music from electric organ installed in his $200,000 yacht by John Cronin, general manager of Freehold Raceway. Group of Republicans chartered the craft out of Brielle to map Dumont's campaign strategy during short cruise, but they forgot to invite the candidate. . . . TWO GOP candidates who think they have it made again this election could be in for a rude awakening. They're not making a play for independent and Democratic votes. . . . VOTER from Farmingdale would like to know how come various flaws in the operations of the county Board of Freeholders are just coming to light. We told her Freeholder director Joe Irwin knows the answers. Incidentally, if Joe's running, head with Democratic Rep. Jim Howard, is a preview of their possible congressional campaign against each other next year, then he's off on the wrong foot. . . . GOV. Hughes played it smart when he ducked the picnics last Sunday sponsored by the two Democratic factions in Union Beach. Hughes doesn't want to alienate any voters. . . . QUESTIONS in the mail: Why doesn't Paul Kiernan, who works so hard for his party, ever get elected to a top office job. Is it because he acts and talks too much like a bigtime politician? The other note reads: Why does county Democratic chairman Paul Campi always stay in the background and let someone else carry out his chores? We presume the inquiries were written by a woman who is deeply concerned about both of these able men. . . . MAYOR Maurice Oakley, Union Beach, is solidly behind Councilman Bernie Crane, an independent, for re-election. And Bernie displays his independence with his natty wardrobe. . . . ASBURY Park cops sent visitors home on Labor Day in fine fettle. They gave out only a few tickets for overtime parking. We know. . . . RESIDENTS devoured 500 pounds of chicken, 100 pounds of spareribs, 11 bushels of corn and three bushels of tomatoes at joint Little Silver-New Shrewsbury Democratic barbecue. Fred Seidenzahl, candidate for coroner, and Mrs. Florence Peskoe were chairmen—and good ones. . . . SOMEONE in the governor's Trenton office is overcommitting him. He disappointed hundreds over the holiday weekend by failing to make local scheduled appearances at picnics. On the other side of the fence, Sen. Dumont is griping many voters by showing up at rallies, meetings and outings two and three hours late. One top adviser threatened to quit if Dumont continued his tardy arrival habit. Both men should remember "an early bird catches the votes." . . . IF all members worked as hard as Leonard A. Cologne, president of the Democratic Club of Union Beach, party candidates would never lose. Ditto, John Crowley, Ann Murray, Jean Askerman, Patti Klein, Penny LaFrance, Gloria Wilson and Irene Lamano who helped make the club's annual outing a rousing success. . . . BEFORE long, the U.S. government becoming economy minded, will spend only two cents to make a quarter instead of the present outlay of 24 cents. . . . NEW Shrewsbury home owners might give themselves a break if they elected Sheila O'Keefe tax assessor. . . . NOISY party-goers who were arrested and fined in Belmar for disturbing the peace were mostly Jersey City residents. . . . GOOD GOP vote salesman is Jim Minogue, New Monmouth, who has the political savvy a committeeman needs. . . . NERVOUS Nellies who drive below the new 40 mph minimum speed law on the Pennsylvania Turnpike are headed for trouble. Make Jersey should enact such a law. . . . CAROL Baecht, Atlantic Highlands, Sharon Toynebe, Rumson, Jacqueline Anderson, Leonardo, and Dick Hoovers, Fair Haven, are the youngsters who handle the pony rides for kids while moms and dads go politicking at nearby clambakes. . . . LITTLE Silver Republicans face a tough task in beating Gordon Litwin, Democratic candidate for council. . . . LOCAL politico says pigeons who are messy housekeepers can be scared away by placing large plastic hoot owls nearby. The idea would protect many a head and hat, too. . . . PLANE displaying a "vote for Beame" banner flew over this area. Controller Beame is a candidate for N.Y. city mayor. The pilot probably thought he was over Coney Island.

What's more, the study reveals that employment does not necessarily mean non-poverty: nearly 40 per cent of the 15 million American children counted as poor live in families headed by a full-time breadwinner. The problem, Miss Orshansky notes, is not joblessness but "rather a history of an erratic series of short-term jobs. . . . The critical question for dependency—and for the welfare rolls—is not whether the breadwinner is unemployed at any given time, but whether he works over a span of time, for an income which can support his family."

Even at this early stage in our research, it already is abundantly clear that the poverty risk is highest among some of the fastest growing segments of our population: the Negro, the very young, the aged. Winning the war on poverty in our land is going to be far more complicated than most Americans now think.

Robert S. Allen, Paul Scott: Inside Washington

'Master Plan' for Viet Peace

WASHINGTON—A crucial aspect of the Johnson administration's master plan to "bring the Viet Nam conflict from the battlefield to the negotiating table" is replacing the existing military rule with a broad-based civilian "government of national reconciliation."

ALLEN

Consisting of an indirectly "elected" national assembly, a premier and cabinet, this regime would take the lead in seeking a negotiated termination of the fighting.

Tagged to play a key role in this intricate backstage strategy is Edward Landsdale, the controversial retired Air Force major-general now back in Saigon for the announced purpose of heading a special team of U.S. advisers to the Viet Nam Central Rural Construction Council.

It is this still largely paper organization that is to be Landsdale's principal tool in setting in motion the series of developments designed to bring about the peace-aiming "government of national reconciliation."

While congressional and other authorities know that the President, and his inner advisers, have a master Viet Nam "peace" plan, it is shrouded in closely-guarded secrecy. Other than vague references to it in White House briefings and the President's private talks with callers, nothing has been divulged.

THE NEAREST a high-placed official has come to saying anything publicly about the hush-hush plan was by Walt Rostow, chairman of the State Department's Policy Planning Council. And his generalized and enigmatic comments are meaningless except to those with some awareness of their true import.

In a press interview last week while vacationing at a South Carolina resort, the one-time Massachusetts Institute of Technology economics professor said:

"Turning points are quite mysterious in wars. But our bombing strikes have made a big difference. The U.S. has three goals in Viet Nam: To help the new and younger generation of Vietnamese get settled and get started. Then to help the officials start and maintain a modern government. Third, to keep pressure on North Viet Nam through telling bombing strikes."

A FEW REVEALING DETAILS—While the administration is enforcing a tight blackout on its "peace" plan, some significant information has been pieced together. Public discussion is hampered by the highly classified nature of much of it.

But it is possible to report the following: A major phase of the plan is a huge refugee program, under which hundreds of thousands of peasants and villagers are to be "relocated and rehabilitated." Gen. Landsdale will be in charge.

This refugee project will be very costly. Exactly how much is conjectural. But it is certain to run into hundreds of millions of dollars.

The military regime of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, the tart-tongued young air brigadier, is to be ousted. Just how that is to be brought about is not known. It may turn out to take quite a bit of doing, as Ky, with characteristic ebullience, considers himself a "man of destiny."

But the master plan calls for his military rule to be replaced by a civilian "government of national reconciliation."

It is to be broad-based, including Buddhists, Catholics and other elements. It is to be brought into existence by the indirect "election" of a national assembly. As a popular election is precluded by the widespread ground fighting, it is proposed to "elect" the assembly members by having the village chiefs designate them.

This is justified on the ground that these local leaders were elected by popular ballot last year.

WHAT, IF ANYTHING, is done to keep village chiefs from naming Viet Cong to the national assembly is another blank spot. Perhaps it is contemplated to screen the assemblymen. Perhaps not.

In any event, the national assembly will select a civilian premier who, in turn, will set up a cabinet representative of all major elements.

This presumably broad-based and U.S.-backed civilian "government of national reconciliation" will launch a two-pronged effort—to negotiate a cease-fire, and to get under way a wide-ranging economic restoration and development program, with the U.S., of course, footing the bill.

Also envisioned is a start on withdrawing U.S. troops.

This will depend on how this concept of events works out. But as the President eagerly pictures it, the homeward redeployment of troops should be in progress by January. That's what he has been broadly hinting to congressional and other callers.

As reported in this column last week, he told a small group of congressmen when the question was raised about the possibility of escalation of the Viet Nam conflict, "There is no serious danger of that. In fact, I think that when you come back here in January for the next session, there is a good chance we will be redeploying our troops home from Viet Nam."

CHAMBERLAIN

Since hunger for truth is part of the larger hunger for freedom, this is one way of nourishing hopes for an increasing liberalization in the Iron Curtain lands.

"Cross-reporting" must, of course, be sustained by credibility, which means that Radio Free Europe cannot afford to make a blooper in letting Poles in on what Hungarians are doing. Fifty out of 175 employees are engaged in monitoring what Communist radio stations are saying; other employees comb the publications that come through to the West; and there are other means of gathering accurate intelligence. At this morning's policy meeting they are wondering what to do with the text of an article, "Why We Are Silent," which is attributed to Mihajlo Mihajlov, the rebel Yugoslav who was jailed and then released on probation not too long ago for reporting the unattractive Russian intellectuals in a small book called "Summer in Moscow."

The latest Mihajlov piece is filled with what must seem arrant nonsense to an intelligent Westerner, such as the statement that "the United States today, with its war in Viet Nam, is performing a disservice to the cause of freedom in the socialist world." But, since it also urges Yugoslav writers to speak out against a single-party political system, the article could have an important impact if "cross-reported" to the Czechs, the Hungarians, and the Poles.

"Every one-party system," so the Mihajlov article says, "is some kind of subspecies of Stalinism. It cannot be justified on the grounds that, in the specific case of Yugoslavia, it has been a usually liberal one-party system, just as an absolute monarchy cannot be excused because of the temporary appearance of a benevolent ruler."

"She was bending over backward to help her fellow man and something snapped!"

'Adequate' County Library Service Is Seen Finally Within Reach

By CHARLES A. JOHNSTON
(Second of Two Articles)

FREEHOLD — When Monmouth County embarks on its new county library system it will provide "adequate service for the educational needs of all residents for the first time," says Miss Julia Killian, county library director.

A disagreement earlier this year among members of the Board of Freeholders over the best site for a proposed single central library produced the decision for two buildings now and more later.

In the first of a series of progress reports on library development, Miss Killian was reported yesterday to have said:

"A library is an educational institution... What we are developing will be first class... everyone who will share in the cost... (will) enjoy the benefits..."

Parley Set Tuesday

The freeholders and the Board of Library Commissioners plan a full discussion of the library program next Tuesday in the Hall of Records. Present will be representatives of the local library boards in the 42 towns which belong to the county system. At that time, it has been indicated, the freeholders will announce the site of the first of the two buildings which is to be erected in the Eatontown-Shrewsbury area. The second will be built in Freehold.

The first library will have all the advantages of a central library as originally planned. It will have a reference and research center "in depth" plus the varied facilities, special services, and full reader book volume to serve the county's 400,000 population.

The second building will contain administrative offices, a complete reading service for a population hub of 100,000 people, and a stockpile from which bookmobile service to member libraries will be founded.

Prior to the two-library decision, James Bryan, Newark city library director, was engaged as a consultant to develop a plan for a central library. He submitted a report which critics later borrowed to argue that he contended a central library was the only solution.

When the freeholders decided on two buildings, Mr. Bryan changed his plan to meet new needs and requirements. He explained later at a public meeting that his assignment was as a consultant to produce workable plans in line with whatever policy decision was made by county officials.

Thanks to an increase of $50,000 a year in tax revenues within the municipalities contributing to the system, and a $37,250 a year federal grant, the county program was launched on a significant expansion effort in 1964.

The Library Picture
In terms of past, present, and future, here is the library picture:

Reference books: There are about 1,200 in use now, compared to 600 as a former standard and 6,000 a year after the new coastal building is opened.

Periodicals: 280 now on file, many in microfilm as well as paper copies, compared with 48 in 1964 and 250 in 1967. Some standard newspapers are now in stock and more are to be added.

Total volumes: 140,000 now, 240-300,000 in three years. A minimum of 150,000 will be in use at the coastal building and the balance on shelves and in bookmobile service at Freehold.

Hours: 68 per week, closed only Saturday nights and Sundays. The service will be equal to any in the East, except the New York Public Library.

Government documents: A strong collection of U.S. publications, exceeded only by those held in official depositories, will be maintained. In the Third Congressional District, official depositories are Monmouth College, West Long Branch, and the proposed Ocean County College.

Library privileges: Reader use will be available at all times to all visitors, regardless of residence. Immediate borrowing privileges will be available to all residents of member towns. Residents of non-member towns will have the same privileges upon reference from their own local library.

The distinction here is that a non-member would be required to borrow first from his own local library. But if he couldn't be served there, he would be accommodated the same as a member at the county buildings.

Special collections: A music department will hold 4,000 records, and listening stations where visitors may enjoy plays, books, music, children's specialties, and instructional material.

About 1,000 records are now owned by the county and are maintained at the Oceanic Library, Rumson.

There will be a young adult section in the coastal building. This will be a separate room with volumes for students and similar aged visitors.

Likewise, there will be special areas for business and industry editions, maps and picture files, and a pamphlet file. There will be typewriters and dictation devices for rent.

Study area: A room where absolute quiet will be required will be included. This supervised section will be one of a very few in the state.

Meeting room: A conference room, with a seating capacity of 100, and capable of being divided in half, will be provided. This will be available to little theater groups, other interested in the varied arts, and to civic groups for meetings. A small galley will be available for preparing snacks.

Children's room: A special room to accommodate 40 children at a time, and with a collection of 18,000 volumes for pre-school through eighth grade level, is planned. Regular story hours will be offered for the very young.

Seating capacity: There will be at least 175 reader chairs at the coastal library, compared to 12 in the present building.

Personnel: At the start, the coastal library staff will number between 20 and 25 and the total complement, including those in Freehold, about 40. One third of all will be professionally trained. There are now five on the professional staff.

Costs: Construction costs will be borne by general taxation.

Delay Award Of Road Job In Eatontown

EATONTOWN — Awarding of a contract for the reconditioning of Maxwell Rd. was deferred by Borough Council last night until Monday, when a special meeting will be held at 9 p.m.

Bids were received from three area contractors for the job:

Low bidder was Stavola Contracting Co., Inc. of Red Bank, bidding $33,813 with a 6-inch macadam base, or $33,415 with a 6-inch bituminous stabilized base.

Charles J. Hesse, Inc. of Belvidere bid $35,947 with either base. A. Campo, Inc. of Middletown bid $34,975 for the macadam base, and $34,776 for the bituminous base.

Council adopted on first reading an ordinance introduced by Councilman Robert B. Dixon creating the post of assistant building inspector at an annual salary of $1,000. Public hearing will be Wednesday, Sept. 22.

Also adopted was a resolution authorizing a $12,000 bond anticipation note to finance the recent purchase of the borough's new street sweeper.

Enrollment At Holmdel Is 1,030

HOLMDEL — Schools are open here today and 1,030 students—the count as of yesterday—are packed into three schools.

H. Victor Crespy, schools superintendent quipped last night that he hoped to find the count is wrong. Enrollment continues to mount, he reported, up 65 over last month, with two added only yesterday. He said he expects to have to add another second grade by next month.

Kindergarten students — totaling 140 — are divided into eight half-day classes. All other classes are on full sessions, and, at least so far, the administrator expects this to continue. A proposed intermediate school, however, is not planned for completion before September, 1967.

The Board of Education this year had to reopen, for classroom use, the heretofore abandoned Old Village School. As residential growth continues, bringing with it continued enrollment increases, the possibility of split sessions next year remains. Board members, at least publicly, have shied away from the subject.

Union Beach Petition Drive Will Begin

UNION BEACH — The drive for approximately 750 petition signatures for a charter study commission here will get underway tomorrow.

John R. Murray, former councilman who is spearheading the movement, said he expects to have the necessary number in time for a referendum on the Nov. 2 ballot.

There has been no word so far on candidates for the suggested commission.

BID REJECTED

HOLMDEL — The lone bid for drainage, curbing and parking field work at Village School was rejected by the Board of Education last night because C. J. Hesse, Belvidere, failed to provide state certification of eligibility.

The board voted to readvertise for bids, returnable at a special meeting, Wednesday, Sept. 29.

Operating costs will be paid from receipts of the special library tax in member municipalities and state and federal aid.

While the estimated cost of the coastal building is between $650,000 and $700,000, the Freehold library won't be as costly. The former will include about 23,000 square feet, and the latter, 24,000 square feet. But the coastal building will devote about 19,000 square feet to public use and the Freehold building, only about 13,000.

Lakehurst 'Copter Unit Crews Rescue 2 Pilots

ABOARD USS FORRESTAL — Helicopter crews from Combat Support Squadron Two, Lakehurst, N. J., detached aboard the USS Forrestal, rescued two air-plane pilots uninjured from the Mediterranean Sea in August.

On Aug. 17, a helicopter piloted by Lt. Scott Munro, with Lt. (JG) John Legge responded to a call from the ship while on a night plane guard mission.

They were directed to a flare in the distance marking a plane in the water. Aviation Machinist's Mate J.O. Smith directed the pilots to the downed flyer, who was quickly hoisted aboard and returned to the ship.

A similar rescue was performed Aug. 27 when a helicopter piloted by Lt. (JG) Jim B. Chester and Lt. Ralph W. Knight responded to a call telling them that a pilot had ejected from his plane about four miles from the ship.

Seeing a parachute at about 1,500 feet, the pilots hovered near where it would hit the water, waiting. When the downed flyer struck the surface, the helicopter crew hoisted him aboard and returned to the ship.

Builder Fails To Obtain A Variance

SHREWSBURY — Robert Cook of the Cook Construction Co., 89 Alameda Ct., was frustrated in his attempt last night to get a variance for an undersized lot at 40 Francis St.

With only three members of the Zoning Board of Adjustment present, Mr. Cook needed three affirmative votes. The first motion, by member Charles Kroll, was for denial, but it died for lack of a second.

It was then obvious the motion for approval could not pass, and none was made.

Chairman John Newbon told Mr. Cook he could re-apply when the full board next meets.

Mr. Cook first applied in May for variance for a three-lot subdivision of a tract with frontage of 167½ feet. Meeting a lack of enthusiasm, he submitted a two-lot application last night.

Mr. Kroll's motion for denial cited the lack of a hardship, failure to meet area requirements, failure to meet frontage requirements in one of the lots, and failure to meet a rear yard requirement in the other.

BULLDOGS INK GIBBS
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Bulldogs of the Continental League signed quarterback Sonny Gibbs, former Texas Christian ace, Tuesday.

Gibbs was recently dropped by the Detroit Lions of the National Football League. The 6-foot-6 Gibbs spent two years with the Dallas Cowboys of the NFL and one with the Lions.

READY ON TIME — Acting Administrative Principal Daniel McKeown, left, welcomes teachers James Thompson, center, and Charles Phillips to new wing of Union Beach Memorial School, completed in time for school opening yesterday. Addition, replacing burned Cottage Park School, has eight classrooms and 10,000-volume library. Finishing touches, including repairs of damage by vandals, will continue as students utilize space. Board of Education has scheduled open house for residents Oct. 10.

ORIENTATION PROGRAM

Miss Pamela G. Steen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Steen, Jr., 126 Glenwood Dr., New Shrewsbury, began her orientation program for members of the freshman class at Wells College Wednesday on the Aurora, N. Y. campus. Classes begin Sept. 12. Miss Steen is a graduate of Monmouth Regional High School.

NEW PINE MANOR

Miss Meryl Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert D. Smith, 140 Bingham Ave., is a member of the first freshman class to enroll on the new Pine Manor campus in Chestnut Hill, Mass. The campus of the 55-year-old liberal arts college for women was formerly located in nearby Wellesley. Pine Manor has an enrollment of 347 students this year.

Chamber Offering Free Membership

RED BANK — The Community Chamber of Commerce is offering free membership for the remainder of 1965 to business and professional men who sign up for 1966.

Prizes for enlisting new members and dinner meetings with prospective members are also being considered in an effort to bolster chamber ranks and the till.

Membership chairman Hubert M. Farrow reported to the chamber directors yesterday that a spring drive had brought in nine new members. The directors voted to admit F. Don Chapin of the Lincoln National Life Insurance Company.

The directors, meeting for the first time after a summer-long recess, heard John D. Bolduc, executive vice president, report that an expanded membership and an expanded budget were needed "if we are to remain fluid in our activities." He added, "When you start stopping chamber programs, you are putting the noose around the neck of the community."

Mr. Bolduc said the chamber budget had remained around $21,000 for three years, and should be increased.

Some $2,175 is still payable in 1965 dues, and $1,800 in delinquent dues are left over from previous years, he said. Irwin Vogel president of the affiliated Retail Trade Board, reported an improvement over last year in the board's financial state.

This year the RTB knows it will have enough money for the $7,000 expenses that will come up at Christmas lighting time in December, he said.

Mr. Vogel requested and received the directors' permission to solicit non-retail merchant members of the chamber for $25 contributions to the Christmas lighting fund. That program was started last year and was a success, he said.

Mr. Bolduc reported the chamber is sponsoring the dedication of the new Red Bank Post Office and a reception for dignitaries after the dedication. The date will be announced, he said.

Sagotsky Hits Republicans For Inaction

FREEHOLD — Samuel S. Sagotsky, Democratic candidate for the state Assembly said Tuesday that construction of the new, proposed $188 million Central Jersey expressway is threatened because Republican legislators refuse to act.

"The Legislature," he said, "has been asked to meet in order to pass, immediately, appropriate legislation to get the project going before election. Democratic assemblymen had said yes. The governor is waiting, pen in hand. The bipartisan task force, headed by Republican Paul Troast, has done a magnificent job. But Republican incumbents in the Legislature refuse to budge."

Mr. Sagotsky asserted that "a super highway, so vital to our state, is hanging in the balance because the Republicans are lax."

Outfielder Mack Jones of the Milwaukee Braves led the International League in homers (39) and in runs batted in (102) with Syracuse in 1964.

Retired Officers Meeting Tonight

FORT MONMOUTH — The Retired Officers Association, Central Jersey Chapter, starts its season with a dinner meeting tonight in Gibbs Hall.

Col. Carl A. Borgeson (AUS-ret.) of Little Silver will present the featured program, speaking on "Midsummer in Sweden."

Col. Borgeson, who recently completed 40 years service with American Telephone and Telegraph Co., was commissioned in the Army Signal Corps Reserve in 1925. He was retired from the service in 1963.

PROMOTED BY STAUFFER — Stauffer Chemical Company has announced the appointment of Guy E. Disch of 38 Laurie La., Little Silver, as manager of polymer sales for the company's plastics division. A graduate in chemistry of Fordham University, Mr. Disch also received an M.B.A. in marketing from New York University. He has held positions in both chemical and market research, and most recently served the company as director of market research. He will be headquartered at the Stauffer's offices in New York City.

MS PICNIC SUNDAY RIVER PLAZA — Mrs. James J. Reed, River Dr., Titusville, has been selected chairman of the annual picnic sponsored by the Central New Jersey Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society. The announcement was made by Mrs. Alvan Campbell, Jr., 33 Orchard Rd., here, chapter vice president and chairman of patient service. The picnic will be held Sunday in the Gen. Greene Pavilion at Washington Crossing Park, Bucks County, Pa.

BARBECUE SLATED ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS — The local Republican Club will hold its annual family barbecue, Saturday, Oct. 2 in the Sea Scout building at the harbor, from noon to 6 p.m. Republican candidates for state, county and local offices will be present. The public is invited.

SPEAKING OF STUDENTS — Dr. Alton L. Lewis, right, director of school psychology for the New Jersey Department of Education, shares pre-program conversation with C. David Vanderhoof, Little Silver superintendent of schools, and Mrs. Frank Lechuk, a sixth grade teacher in that borough's Markham Place School and chairman of the curriculum council. Dr. Lewis was the principal speaker at the Professional Day conducted Tuesday for the teaching staff of the borough's schools.

Miss Chrisman Ends Course

RUMSON — Miss Kathleen Chrisman of 19 Oakwood La. has completed an eight-week post graduate course, under a federal Department of Economic Opportunity program at Duquesne University, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Miss Chrisman, a graduate of Southern Methodist University, Texas, where she gained a bachelor's degree, obtained her master's degree at Columbia University Teachers College.

The course recently attended is part of the Cause 2 Counseling Program, a federally sponsored counseling and education project. The Cause 1 phase of the program, held last year, included persons with bachelor's degrees. The second phase was devoted to persons holding master's degrees. Graduate credits toward a doctorate were granted to Miss Chrisman.

Of the 21,000 nationwide applicants, only 2,100 persons qualified for the program. Six were from New Jersey. The program included advanced studies of psychology and sociology.

Miss Chrisman, an accomplished singer, also masters the piano and violin. She has studied voice and music in Paris, Berlin and Milan. She has taught in New Jersey public schools for 20 years.

Devoting her time now to her home and her French poodle, she said yesterday that she is eyeing the possibilities of teaching in federally sponsored guidance and education programs.

Little Silver Schools Staff Hears Lewis

LITTLE SILVER — Dr. Alton L. Lewis, former Monmouth County school psychologist who is now director of school psychology for the state Department of Education, was the principal speaker at the Professional Day conducted in the Markham Place School Tuesday for the teaching staff of the borough's schools.

"What Do We Know About Our Children in School and What Are We Doing For Them?" was the topic of Dr. Lewis' talk.

After Dr. Lewis' presentation, group discussions were conducted by Dr. Stanley Sprung, psychologist with the borough school system; Mrs. Eleanor Engelbrecht, county social worker and Mrs. Elizabeth Schiller, county general helping teacher. Dr. Philip Cardina, of the Monmouth College faculty, served as a resource person.

Luncheon was provided by the Board of Education. Charles O'Malley, board president, welcomed the staff. Guests at the luncheon included Charles A. Thompson, retired superintendent of schools, and three retired teachers, Miss Agnes Hackett, Mrs. Anabel Mitchel and Mrs. Adele Conover.

Ocean Township Now Revising Ordinances

OCEAN TOWNSHIP — The Township Council Tuesday night introduced a sweeping ordinance modernizing and codifying all the existing ordinances in the township. A public hearing on the measure will be held Monday, Sept. 20.

Leonard Etz, of Bermen and Etz, Trenton, was paid $7,500 to review the entire set of ordinances in the township and revise them.

One of the major changes is an entirely new set of administrative ordinances providing for the creation of departments of health, law, public works and administration.

Another change requires peddlers and solicitors to post $1,500 bond and give definite proof that they are free from contagious or infectious disease.

Traffic and parking ordinances were completely revised but no major changes were made.

Also introduced was an amendment to the zoning ordinance establishing standards for churches, rest homes and nursing homes.

The ordinance stipulates that churches are permitted uses in all residential and commercial zones if they are situated on at least two-acre parcels of land and provide sufficient off street parking.

Rest homes and nursing homes would be permitted in all residential zones except R-1 and R-2 zones as long as they are built on two acres of land and provide adequate off street parking. Loading and delivery areas must be set up in the rear and there can be no more than 15 residents for each acre of land.

Applications for special permits for the erection of these types of structures would be obtained from the Zoning Board of Adjustment.

There will be another public hearing Sept. 20, this one for an ordinance introduced last night stipulating that all persons seeking approval for off-street parking areas for more than five cars will have their application reviewed by the Planning Board instead of the Zoning Board with respect to traffic circulation.

Council passed an ordinance requiring owners of buildings located on streets which already have sewers or due to get them to install a toilet in the building and connect it to the sewer line.

A resolution authorizing the issuance of a $237,500 bond anticipation note for the new township library across from township hall, was approved unanimously. The building is expected to be completed this fall.

Council voted to authorize the sale of two parcels of deeded-restricted land in the Deal Beach and Asbury Park Estates on Sept. 20.

Bids for leaf containers, leaf loaders and a trailer mounted brush clipper were received and held for study.

Sam E. Volovick was re-appointed as a constable.

Mayor John J. Reilly proclaimed Friday Sept. 17 as Citizen's Day and Sunday Oct. 24 United Nations Day.

Regional High's Wing Readied for Opening

NEW SHREWSBURY — Monmouth Regional High School's $1.5 million, 22-classroom addition was ready for occupancy yesterday — right on schedule without a hitch, pleased members of the Regional Board of Education noted Tuesday night.

Ralph T. Keevil, board secretary, reported the new wing "99 per cent complete" and operational, only minor odds and ends remaining to be done.

Official dedication of the addition will be on Friday, Oct. 8 at 8 p.m. when municipal, county and state officials will be guests of the Board of Education at services highlighted by an address by Rep. James J. Howard (D-3d Dist., N.J.).

Official guests and the public will be escorted by a student committee on a guided tour of the new facilities.

Mrs. Grace Donahue, public relations committee chairman is in charge of dedication program plans.

Two new science teachers were hired Tuesday night at salaries of $2,250 each. They are William W. Black of Matawan and Thomas P. Grazulis of Bound Brook. Mr. Grazulis will also serve as assistant basketball coach at an additional $300 salary.

Mrs. Helen D. Anderson of Eatontown was hired as a general office clerk at a salary of $3,300.

Two teachers who have attained their master's degrees were given salary raises. They are Lawrence J. Beresik, reading teacher, whose pay was raised to $7,250; and Harold Newman, teacher of languages, to $7,900.

Vincent R. Spruils, social studies teacher, was appointed soccer coach at an extra salary of $200.

Reappointed school physician at $2,000 was Dr. George E. Henkel of Eatontown.

Livingston A. McDowell of Red Bank was hired as sanitary engineer for the school's new package sewage disposal plant for one year at $225 monthly.

Hired as temporary custodians for 90 day trial periods were John Lawes of Long Branch and John Alton of Cherry St. Their salaries are $3,900 yearly, prorated.

R. Helfrich & Son, of Keansburg was awarded a contract for fall athletic transportation at $1,195.

How to Run a Railroad Is Puzzle to Legislators

TRENTON (AP)—New Jersey's commuter crisis may have reached a crossroads of sorts. "Isn't this," inquired Senate Majority Leader William E. Ozzard, R-Somerset, "a hell of a way to run a railroad?"

In other words, Ozzard continued, "to have a facility and do nothing with it at all, spend no money for improvements, spend no money for maximum maintenance of equipment, spend no money whatsoever to develop an arm, a very expensive and large arm of your whole operational picture?"

"A hell of a way to run a railroad," replied William White, president of the Erie-Lackawanna Railroad, one of New Jersey's major commuter carriers, "is to run it into bankruptcy."

This salty exchange peppered a public hearing conducted by a legislative committee studying the merits of establishing a public agency to run commuter railroads.

To Ozzard, who is chairman of the committee, and some of his colleagues, the handwriting is on the wall.

The other two railroads, the Pennsylvania and the Jersey Central, gave us a lot of ifs, ands and buts but left the impression ways could be worked out to continue passenger operations, he said. The Erie Lackawanna practically handed down an edict. They're ready to get out of the passenger business. They're going to force the state into the railroad business.

About 200,000 commuters ride New Jersey's railroads daily. They're a drag on the financial ledgers in a business where profit is largely geared to freight.

The state doles out $7 million a year to subsidize commuter service. The railroads complain it leaves them short.

The Erie, says White, gets a subsidy of $2.2 million but its deficit for running passenger trains runs $11 million.

Gov. Richard J. Hughes says he would prefer the railroads to remain strictly a private enterprise. But he concedes the idea of creating a public authority has crossed his mind more than once.

How would such an agency operate?

White—"It should contract with the railroads to operate commuter service and pay the railroad its avoidable cost, the cost it would not assume if it didn't operate the service. That would mean that the agency

State Police Exams Set

WEST TRENTON — Written examinations for applicants to fill vacancies in the New Jersey State Police will be held in six locations next Tuesday. Col. David B. Kelly, State Police superintendent, has announced.

All young men who meet requirements may take the written examination without prior application. They should present themselves at 7 p.m. at the following examination points:

- St. Joseph's Parochial School, Hammonton.
- Central High School, Trenton.
- Sayreville War Memorial High School, Sayreville.
- Assumption School, Morristown.
- Essex County Catholic High School, Newark.
- Woodrow Wilson High School, Clifton.

Applicants must be U. S. citizens not younger than 21 nor older than 34, must be in excellent physical condition, and must have valid New Jersey driver's licenses.

ing a good job?"

O—"I said so, because I am looking at your profit figures."

W—"Because they haven't got the money. They could do the job."

O—"Any of my clients who lose this kind of money or even one-millionth of this kind of money, or lose anything consistently, I don't think they are running the business well enough to manage it."

W—"Senator, you are talking right up my alley and that's why I say the railroad has got to get out of this thing. Because it's damn poor management to keep on providing a service that constantly loses money. A manufacturer that has a product that loses money discontinues it."

In one of its last acts before adjourning for the summer in May, the New Jersey Senate vowed not to leave the commuters stranded.

"We'll conduct more hearings," said Ozzard. "We want a total picture. We want to hear not only from the railroads but from the Port of New York Authority, the highway commissioner, the state division of railroad transportation and from commuter groups. We hope to have a report ready by December."

Salvation Army To Hold Services In Red Bank

RED BANK — Col. Ralph T. Miller, retired national evangelist for the Salvation Army, will conduct a week of evangelistic services at the Salvation Army's Red Bank Corps, 20 Riverside Ave., beginning Tuesday evening, Sept. 14. It will conclude with Sunday services Sunday, Sept. 19.

Services will begin each evening at 7:30. Music will be by the Red Bank Citadel Band, church soloists, visiting groups and instrumentalists.

Col. Miller's topics will be: Tuesday, "The Cross to Wear;" Wednesday, "Altogether Lovely Christ;" Thursday, "Christ and Communism;" Friday, "Christ and Communism;" Saturday, an illustrated message on "Crosses." Sunday, 11 a.m. "The Will of God" and 7:30 p.m. "The Second Coming."

In his capacity as national evangelist for the Salvation Army in the United States, Col. Miller has conducted spiritual campaigns throughout the country, spending approximately three months of each year in each of the four territories.

After serving as divisional secretary in Northeast Pennsylvania and Southern New England, Col. Miller, in 1935, became divisional officer for the latter division and in 1938, divisional commander for Northern New Jersey. In 1943 he was made divisional commander for Western Pennsylvania and in 1955, provincial commander for the New England Province, from which appointment he assumed his responsibilities as national evangelist.

Mrs. Miller, the former Maj. Hilda Carlson, is also a member of a well-known Salvationist family.

Col. and Mrs. Miller have been living in retirement in Red Bank for several years.

Muccifori Hits GOP On Crime Issue

LAKWOOD — Democratic state Senate candidate Thomas J. Muccifori, Tuesday attacked the Republican dominated Legislature for refusing to act on vital legislation to implement a state-wide system of periodic crime reporting.

About this, the former assistant prosecutor of Ocean County had this to say:
 "This obstinacy on the part of certain Republican leaders is typical of the attitude of these very same leaders in fields of civil rights legislation; in the area of regional sewer planning and in the area of motor vehicle air pollution control."
 "As a former county law enforcement official," he added: "I know that legislation is vitally needed to reduce the danger of indiscriminate possession of firearms to protect the public from narcotic addicts and to make our streets, homes and parks safe for the community."

Warns on Narcotics
 "Our youths must be made safe from the living death of narcotic addiction. Narcotic addiction is now the greatest threat to the well-being of our citizens. Narcotic addicts by and large, present the highest percentage of criminals and of criminal activities."
 The candidate further stated that: "In an effort to sustain this loathsome and expensive habit these poor, wretched, unfortunates will turn to robbery, burglary, larceny and even prostitution in an effort to secure funds so as to enable them to continue this illicit habit."

 The Senate nominee also told the Lakewood Democrats that when he is elected he will sponsor legislation to curb the rise in narcotic addiction.
 "Educational clinics and special hospitals must be set up in an effort to cure and rehabilitate these unfortunates," Mr. Muccifori asserted.

Taking the Wheel In Life's Journey

NEW YORK (AP) — Curbstone comments of a Pavement Plato:
 Some like to take the wheel in our journey through life, while others prefer to go along as passengers.
 It seems to me that the role of the passenger is an important one and has its advantages.
 The function of the passenger is to serve as the audience for the actors of this world.
 The actors are the people who drive cars, sail boats, buy houses in the country. They surround themselves with expensive toys, and like any child with a new toy they are never quite happy alone.
 They must show their toys off to somebody. That is where the passenger comes in. His job is to praise the new toys and the skill with which their owner plays with them.
 That is his whole job, and he must do nothing more if he is a conscientious passenger. Let me illustrate.
 Recently I accepted an invitation to go for a cruise with a man who had just bought an expensive sailboat. There were just the two of us aboard.
 During those four days I never asked to steer the boat or offered to reef or unreef a sail or perform a helpful chore of any kind.
 At the end of our cruise my host said to me with that faint note of hostility that creeps ultimately into every host's voice: "You know, you're really just an eternal passenger. You've made a career of being helpless. You don't know how to do anything, and what is more you don't even want to learn how to do anything."

 His ingratitude rather annoyed me. So I endeavored to set him straight.
 "You are implying that there is no difference between a passenger and a barnacle." I told him. "But there is. A barnacle is merely an inactive hitchhiker."
 "But as a passenger I've been quite useful to you. For four days I've praised your boat's performance, admired your skill at the tiller, listened to your woes, agreed that you were a better man than your enemies, and refrained from giving you advice of any kind."
 "Believe me, I have been of far more service to you than if I had merely pitched in and helped you fight winds and waves. You can rent somebody to do those things for you. What I have done for you is beyond price."
 Well, after thinking it over, my host admitted there was some merit in what I had said. Anyway, he rowed me ashore, bought me a fast beer and said I would have to take a cruise with him again sometime—maybe next year, maybe the year after.

Mrs. Festa Is Elected By Society

MATAWAN TOWNSHIP — Mrs. Eugene Festa has been elected president of the Dante Alighieri Society of Central Jersey. The society held its first meeting in the Strathmore Bowling Lanes, Rt. 34.
 Others elected were Mrs. Joseph LoSardo, first vice president; Mrs. Michael Ambrosio, second vice president; Mrs. Louis Zito, secretary; Mrs. Louis Pettillo, assistant secretary; Mrs. Selvio Setteducati, treasurer; Mrs. Joseph LaRusso, assistant treasurer, and Mrs. Peter Giaccio, sergeant-at-arms.

Plans were made for the annual calendar year which include many fund-raising functions.
THINK SMALL
 NEW YORK (AP) — While nearly everyone else is concerned with "thinking big," some chemists are concerned with "thinking small."
 Through development of a new product called B-Nine, they are able to retard the growth of flowering plants. Although this might seem strange, it actually serves professional plant and flower growers to produce larger flowers on clay-potted plants that do not spend all their energy in stem and leaf growth.

Seek Additional Train Service

MIDDLETOWN — The Township Transportation Committee has announced that a request has been forwarded to the Central Railroad of New Jersey and the Pennsylvania Railroad seeking an increase in train service.

The request is based upon findings of a survey which began July 30 at the railroad station and elsewhere, with the cooperation of local newspapers and merchants.

The survey revealed an urgent need for additional trains, both north and southbound.

The committee hopes to have the service in effect by the October timetable change.

Dumont Hits 'Narrow Line' Appeal

TRENTON — Republican candidate for governor, Wayne Dumont, Jr., said Tuesday it is "something of a fallacy" for political candidates to make traditional Labor Day weekend appeals to the working men and women along narrow lines of special interest.

"The men and women for whom Labor Day has been set aside as a holiday of their own are today just as concerned with the broad problems of our state as any other citizens, and in reaching their political judgments will measure the qualifications of candidates on grounds extending far beyond the special considerations of their employment," the senator stated.

The candidate asserted that "the working man and woman are just as concerned about adequate college facilities for their children as the banker or lawyer."

Sen. Dumont, continuing his remarks, declared: "Working people are concerned about soaring taxes on their homes; lack of adequate highways; the need to meet the problems of mental health; the sorry plight of our commuter railroads; recreational facilities; mounting food prices; the prohibitive cost of medical care and hospitalization and the special problem of our older people."

The senator also said that the people of the state "are concerned about drug addiction and making our streets safe for everyone at night."

Dumont finished his statement by saying: "The working men and women will be examining the record of the present administration in Trenton, and asking whether, during the past 3½ years, there has been an honest and determined effort to resolve these problems."

This is a time for less talk and more action on the things which affect the everyday conduct of their lives."

Eatontown

Howell Joiner, Anderson, Ind., spent Labor Day weekend in the home of his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Joiner, Heritage Rd.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Zadozny and children, Rose C., and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bullwinkel and son, Main St., recently returned from a trip to Finger Lakes, Niagara Falls, Canada and the Adirondacks.

Mrs. Elmer Simpson, Monmouth Rd., has returned after spending five weeks in East Orange visiting relatives.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Francis, Wyckoff Rd., last Sunday were their daughter, Mrs. Eugene Buttle, Summit, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Tucker, Whippany.

Stephen Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Anderson, South St., left Sunday for Elmira Heights, N. Y., where he will spend the year with his aunt, Miss Lucille Anderson. He will attend school there.

Jeffrey Pierce, son of Mrs. Virginia Pierce, South St., will begin auto mechanics study at the Lincoln Technical Institute, Newark, this week.

Safe Boat Class Opens On Sept. 20

RUMSON — Classes in piloting and safe boat handling will be offered weekly by the Shrewsbury Power Squadron in Rumson-Fair Haven Regional High School, beginning Sept. 20 at 7:30 p.m.

Courses, which are free to persons 16 years old or over, include safety afloat, seamanship, small boat handling, the compass, lights of vessels, rules of the road, aids to navigation, charts and piloting and equipment and government regulations.

Persons successfully completing the course will be awarded certificates of Piloting and Small Boat Handling. Adult males completing the course will be eligible for membership in units of the United States Power Squadron.

L. W. Lancaster of Red Bank is commander of the Shrewsbury unit. Alfred C. Urfer of Ford is executive officer, and George N. Wagner of Red Bank, is administrative officer.

Other squadron officials are Wilfred E. Huelsenbeck of this place, treasurer; William S. Suddam of Middletown, secretary; David Rugg of Middletown, chairman of local board for piloting, and Grover C. Culshaw, here, admission committee head.

Adult Recreation Season Starts Sept. 20

MIDDLETOWN — The Township Recreation Commission is accepting registrations for the Adult Recreation Program which will begin Monday, Sept. 20.

Courses include ballroom dancing, bookkeeping, ceramics, contract bridge, flower arranging, women's sports, interior decorating, painting, sewing, typing, judo and religion. An arts and crafts workshop will be offered for boys and girls seven to 10 years old.

Brochures, with enclosed registration blanks, have been mailed to all area residents. Registration will be held in the local high school office, Wednesday, Sept. 8, and Wednesday, Sept. 15, from 7 to 9 p.m.

Miniature Fair Benefits Hospital

RED BANK — A firemen's fair in miniature, presented by the unofficial Red Bank Junior Fire Department, netted $5.25 for Riverview Hospital.

Chief Peter DeFazio, Jr., 15-year-old son of fireman and first aidman Peter DeFazio, Sr., of 26 Oakland St. knew of the hospital's needs from talking with his father.

Assisting were Luigi Codispoli, Mark Royal, and Rocco Marascio, all 13. They organized the junior department a year ago.

Under new coach Johnny Pont, formerly of Yale, Indiana's football team will utilize a flanker back and rely heavily on an option series.

Oceanport School Board Adopts Policies for Staff

OCEANPORT—A clerical staff was unrealistic and would not be salary guide and policy regulating favorably accepted by the public. He called for revision of the local school system was adopted by the Board of Education last night, following a 40-minute discussion.

Board Vice President Glen R. Whichello proposed the salary guide and policy. William Thomson objected to the language of the proposed ruling. He noted that it did not stipulate that proposed rules would apply to personnel under a 12-month contract.

The matter was settled by discussion and the issue then arose concerning planned vacation for secretarial employees.

It was planned to allow two weeks to employees with more than one and less than three years service. From three to six years employment would entitle employees to three weeks vacation and more than six years would call for a month of vacation time.

Maher Objects
Board member Ronald L. Maher objected to the month of paid vacation. He said the plan Plan Sidewalks for Middle Rd.

RARITAN TOWNSHIP — The Township Committee last night answered a Register editorial of yesterday on the subject of sidewalk construction along hazardous streets.

While conceding that the governing body has not mapped out a long-range program which will cover all areas of need, Committee member Stephen J. Filardi announced that it will be the committee's goal to construct sidewalks on Middle Rd. next year.

A county road, and admittedly the most hazardous in the municipality, the official said renewed efforts will be made to get the Board of Freeholders to contribute county funds.

Gem Club To Resume Meetings

MATAWAN — The Matawan Mineralogical Society's first meeting of the season will be held tomorrow at 8 p.m. in Room 114 of Matawan High School, Atlantic Ave.

New officers are E. Perry Tucker, president; Mrs. George Weber, vice president; Mrs. Frances Omoover, recording secretary; Mrs. George Wells, treasurer and Mrs. E. Percy Tucker, corresponding secretary.

Mr. Tucker has announced the following chairman: Robert Morris, membership; Mr. Tucker, program; Mrs. Tucker, hospitality; George Wells, field trips; Mrs. William Kurz, welfare; Mrs. Weber, publicity and librarian; and Michael Kidzus, annual show.

Planned for Friday evening is a demonstration on the physical identification of rocks and minerals, identification of radio active minerals and a "bragging session" by the members who will show specimens collected during the summer. Members have traveled to Canada, Mexico and all over the United States.

Several field trips are planned for the fall season. Plans are under way for the 1966 annual Rock Show, to be held in the high school next May 14 and 15. Dealers and collectors from Canada, Mexico and all the United States are expected to attend.

The club encourages children and young people especially, to join and programs are keyed to the amateur who is just starting out as well as to those more experienced.

Instructions will be given for making jewelry in a future program.

But, in any event, the governing body plans to do the work. At the same time, Mr. Filardi revealed that not all of Hazlet Ave. will get sidewalks immediately. One stretch is being left open for the time being, he said, because court action is necessary to obtain an easement. The matter came up as a result of discussions on the school transportation problem.

Residents, while criticizing the school board for its new bussing policy, also hit the committee for its failure to provide sidewalks. Advised after the meeting that Middletown has received federal aid for sidewalk construction, Mr. Filardi conceded that Raritan applied too late to get such benefits, under the Accelerated Public Works Act, but said the committee will keep trying.

In Middletown, aid applications are researched, studied and filed by a business administrator. Raritan has no administrator, manager or full-time township clerk.

Of the sidewalk problem, the editorial stated: "Practically nothing was done

BIG DOG ON CAMPUS
DANVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Tripod is as well known on the Centre College campus as many of the professors.

The dog, origin, unknown, was adopted last year after his leg was broken by an auto. Someone brought him to Dean of Men Max Cannes, who had the leg amputated and a pegleg installed.

Tripod follows students to classes, sits quietly through lectures and shows a preference for Shakespeare. He recently attended a six-week session on the Bard of Avon and even showed up for the final exam.

as the township has a responsibility.

"But back-passing will not get sidewalks constructed, and concrete won't be poured with promises."

Hazardous roads, as listed by the school board, are: Rt. 35, Rt. 36, Middle Rd., Palmer Ave., Laurel Ave., Beers St., Bedle Rd., Bethany Rd., Holmdel Rd., Stone Rd., Hazlet Ave., Poole Ave., Florence Ave., Union Ave. and Clark St.

Bids Held

The committee received, and held for study, bids for conversion of the township garage into municipal offices. Low bidder for general construction was Pal Jon Construction Co., Middletown, at $51,738. Total of low bids came to $77,140.

An anti-littering ordinance was adopted by unanimous vote, following two objections that it is not strict enough. The code provides for fines of up to $200.

Building Inspector James G. McAdam reported that so far this year 15 substandard structures have been demolished.

Question Legality
Republican Township Committee candidate Joseph A. Morales asked whether an $8,600 expenditure for township radios and a $14,000 expenditure for a street sweeper were legal without competitive bidding.

Mayor Marvin Olinsky said two previous township attorneys have ruled in the affirmative on the basis that the items constitute "special equipment" and that competitive, although informal, prices were obtained from several firms. He said Township Attorney Philip J. Blanda, Jr., will check the ruling.

Mrs. Morales cited recent problems in Middletown over the radio subject but said he would wait for a statute citation from Mr. Blanda.

Mrs. Jeanne C. McDonough, secretary of the Board of Health, was appointed to the Planning Board, replacing Joseph DeVirgilio who recently resigned. Pantry Pride and J. M. Fields, Rt. 35, were ordered to clean up garbage in the rear of the stores and take care of noise from an air conditioning unit or face a summons to Municipal Court. Said the mayor: "We have had enough trouble on this, it's time to get tough with these people."

King-Sized Problems for LBJ

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — "We cannot expect to mosh a button," President Johnson said soon after he took office, "and have our wishes carried out all over this globe."

Today Johnson could find use for a string of magic buttons which — presto — could wipe out foreign policy problems which have risen up to plague him.

To name three: Viet Nam, the Dominican Republic, and United Nations finances. The last two, while still present, are not acute at the moment, but the question of Viet Nam has become more serious since he took office in November 1963.

Johnson came to the White House comparatively untested on foreign issues. On the other hand, he was a recognized master of domestic issues.

But the foreign picture has its brighter spots, too. To name three again:

— The Panama problem, which erupted with Canal Zone riots in January 1964 as Johnson's first full-blown foreign crisis, has receded into negotiations that show promise of curing two long-standing issues: Panama's discontent with the old Canal Zone treaty, and agreement on a new sealevel waterway.

— The former Belgian Congo, giant in the heart of Africa, has survived insurgency and African animosities with a strengthened pro-West regime at Leopoldville.

Grasso in Italy

AVIANO, Italy — Airman Second Class Stephen M. Grasso, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Grasso of 151 Fay St., Long Branch, N.J., has arrived for duty at Aviano AB, Italy.

Airman Grasso, an air traffic controller, previously served at Clark AB, Philippines. He is a member of the U.S. Air Forces in Europe, the primary combat-ready air element of NATO's defense forces.

The airman is a graduate of Red Bank (N.J.) Catholic High School.

TO SPONSOR DANCE

Sell Fast! The Daily Register Classified.

— Cyprus, threatening to ignite war between North Atlantic Treaty Organization allies Turkey and Greece a year ago, has calmed after extensive U.S. diplomacy in foreign chancelleries and the United Nations.

To label any one of these cases as a success or failure entirely attributable to Johnson is to credit him with more power than he commands. As Johnson put it, "We are not the last word" — other forces are at work too, and every crisis has historical antecedents.

The final verdict is in the distant future on Johnson's foremost foreign affair difficulty—the conflict with communism in Southeast Asia.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara returned from a July inspection trip to South Viet Nam saying the situation had deteriorated. Johnson had ordered the first sustained bombing of North Viet Nam begun in February and sent initial U.S. ground combat forces to South Viet Nam the following month. Now he has increased the U.S. military manpower commitment by 50,000, to 125,000.

Battle reports are producing moderate optimism on defeating the current Viet Cong summer offensive. Yet the Reds still show no sign of wanting to talk peace. Even if there should be clear military gains in the coming months, a long task would lie ahead in strengthening South Viet Nam to the point where it could stand without outside aid.

There persists the grave question of whether the Communist Chinese might move in bodily on the Viet Nam warfare.

In the Dominican chaos last April, Johnson averted what he portrayed as the threat of another Cuba by sending in more than 20,000 troops. Still, there was sharp criticism from many Latin Americans who protested what they called a return to the gunboat diplomacy which preceded the good neighbor policies of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The Organization of American States has been on the scene in the Dominican Republic now, with a force still largely American negotiating for an interim government.

Large-scale U.S. aid for years is in prospect after Dominican government finally is set up.

At the United Nations, Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg announced the administration's formal abandonment of the lengthy U.S. effort to force the Soviet Union and other delinquent members to pay their U.N. dues on peacekeeping operations.

This about-face from the position previously taken by the Johnson and Kennedy administrations indicates a new method of financing the world organization will have to be worked out. The United States has been by far the largest contributor.

The wide and often turbulent field of U.S.-Soviet relations generally has come under the cloud of Viet Nam. Keeping affairs with Moscow on an even keel is Washington's main effort now. U.S.-Soviet negotiations succeeded last year in agreeing on a consular treaty. No breakthrough on disarmament is in sight.

Some progress with Communist bloc countries is in increased trade, travel and relaxing tensions has been reported from Johnson's policy of building bridges to Eastern Europe. This is a slow but continuing process.

Stagnation marks U.S. relations with Western Europe. Johnson has hewed to American policy favoring European unity and closer transatlantic ties. A revival of talk about a multilateral nuclear force is expected after West Germany's elections this fall.

But French President Charles de Gaulle stands firmly aghast moves to integrate the European countries, and France remains in the heart of Europe.

The record is mixed elsewhere. The overthrow of Ahmed Ben Bella seems to have improved the U.S. view of Algeria. Relations with the United Arab Republic's Gamal Abdel Nasser are uneasy but not rock bottom. With Indonesia's Sukarno they are going sharply downhill. U.S. diplomats have found no way to stop the India-Pakistan strife.

In Latin America the Johnson administration has stepped up Alliance for Progress aid. The program still gets complaints from Latin Americans of bureaucratic strictures by Washington, and criticisms from some U.S. officials that the Latin Americans are foot-dragging on reforms.

An election in Chile and a military coup in Brazil last year went in the right direction from Washington's standpoint. Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Cuba, under continued U.S. quarantine, is reported losing some of its charm for hemisphere left-wingers.

Start Community 'Y' Building Fund Drive

ASBURY PARK — The Monmouth YM-YWHA has started its initial general solicitations drive for the proposed $750,000 building to be erected on an eight-acre lot on Grant Ave., West Deal, Ocean Township.

According to Sidney Meistrich, Asbury Park, general campaign chairman, the new building is designed for all ages, from nursery schoolers to Golden Agers. "The children will be provided with a facility where growing up will be fun. The teenagers will have a place to meet to establish self confidence and to develop a good sense of values in order to accept the responsibilities of oncoming maturity," Mr. Meistrich stated.

"The adults will have a program limited only by the extent of their interests."

Donkey Baseball Game Sept. 17

RARITAN TOWNSHIP — Jack Waring, president of the Jaycees, has announced that arrangements have been made to bring "donkey baseball" to the township.

The organization has signed a contract with the Buckeye Donkey Ball Co., Columbus, Ohio, to bring the animals here. The game will be played on the high school football field Friday, Sept. 17.

The game is played by nine men on each team, using the donkeys to travel around the bases.

Malcolm Thompson is project chairman.

Leroy Morris, winner of 192 races during 1964, led the Suffolk Downs jockeys with 65 winners at the Massachusetts track's 1965 spring meeting.

Who says the cost of everything has gone up? Over the years, we've worked hard to hold the line on the cost of phone service. Usually we've succeeded. And sometimes, as in the charge for color telephones, the price has dropped. Then dropped again. The cause? Improved efficiency. A continual search for "a better way to do the job." Plus a lot of plain, old-fashioned hard work — work that's still going on today.

Reading the Bible

9 Florence Rd.
Middletown, N. J.

To the Editor:

Yesterday you printed letters in your paper from Ann Reichard and myself. She asked why the Bible isn't read in school and I asked why it should be.

She wrote "why can anybody be allowed to read all the dirty, filthy junk they please when we aren't allowed to read the Bible in school?" My answer to her is that we aren't allowed to read the dirty, filthy junk in school either.

No one took anyone's right to the Bible away, they just placed the responsibility back where it should be, with the parents and the church. Parents have their children about 14 hours a day, summer vacations, weekends and holidays. Who has the most time to do it? I regret there is any law regarding the Bible either for or against.

The Bible was never taught, it was read. How many of them understood its meaning? The teachers are trained to teach the three R's, reading, rithn' and rithmetic, your minister is trained to teach the fourth R, religion. It would help the parents, too, if they read to their children. How many of us read the Bible each day?

Opposes Speed Limit

389 Lloyd Rd.
Matawan, N. J.

To the Editor:

Re: Your edition of Tuesday, August 31, 1965.

In your review of the Matawan Township Committee meeting, held the evening before, you reviewed the fact that I, as resident of this township, questioned the committee, and the mayor in particular, concerning the mayor's seeking a speed limit of 35 m.p.h., rather than a speed limit of 25 m.p.h., which is usual in residential areas such as is Lloyd Rd.

You have described Mr. Traphagen as, in response to my questioning, assuring me that "he'll be pleased if he is successful in getting the state to go along with a limit of 35 mph."

If you refer to your observer, you will discover that Mr. Traphagen did not so reply at all. When questioned, Mr. Traphagen repeated: "In my opinion it should be 35." He assured me of nothing, as your article describes.

One of the points which I would like to make is that Mr. Traphagen refuses to acknowledge that he is responsible to the community; responsible for explaining his views. Why, Mr. Traphagen will not attempt to "push" for the 25 mph, or even to consider it! Is this a picture of a vital, crusading mayor? This is a picture of a, "don't bother me; my opinion is the only one that counts; and I can't be expected to place the welfare of the community over my own defeatist attitudes" type of a mayor.

Mr. Traphagen has, apparently, a fixed desire to establish Lloyd Rd. as a direct throughway from Routes 34 to 35, despite the fact that it is but a residential street, having a year-round beach club; a new elementary school (soon to be built), two houses (to be built) of worship; the Cambridge Park Recreation Center, and hardly any sidewalks for use by the public for safety. Of course, Mr. Traphagen is in favor of sidewalks, but the fact is that they do not exist. Then, too, if the state traffic survey refuses to lower the limit to 25 m.p.h., we will have traffic legally going at a rate of either 40 or the 35 m.p.h., Mr. Traphagen deems essential, on a street thickly traveled by bicycling children and by others using, or to use, the public facilities on this street. Is this progress?

I proposed at the committee meeting, further, that the township seek to establish Lloyd Rd. as a "light traffic only" street. Alternate streets are readily available for heavy truck travel, e.g., Main St., County Highway 516, Church St., etc. The mayor, however, did not choose to give me a reply to this proposal. Lloyd Rd., the street Mr. Traphagen has a fixation about; (he advised me that he envisions it as a street maintaining a rate of traffic of 500 cars an hour), now has traffic lights and a state authorized "stop" sign. Should a street with a stop sign and traffic lights (at intersection of Lloyd Rd. and Route 34), be considered as a "super throughway" as Mr. Traphagen envisions it? The alternate routes I mentioned for trucks do not have all of these "encumbrances" for traffic.

In support of my proposals, I have gained the similar opinions of the local police department and a local commission, which has proposed shunting trucks off a part of Lloyd Rd.

It is my contention that the mayor should place the safety and welfare of the people over his own opinionated fixations. Certainly, it is time for all men in public office to exhibit a regard for the suggestions and proposals of their constituents, and this should include Mr. Traphagen too.

Thank you for letting me express these proposals and for permitting me to indicate my purpose at the Township meeting.

Very truly yours
Albert Solomon

Zoning Board Criticized

13 Roland Pl.
Hazlet, N. J.

To the Editor:

Having attended the Aug. 26 meeting of the Raritan Township Zoning Board of Adjustment, I must say that I was quite shocked and dismayed at the actions and attitudes of the board. This is not in reference to the pros and cons of the variance application which was under consideration at this meeting, but rather to the fact that the hearing was held and testimony was heard in anything but a fair, objective or impartial manner.

The parties requesting the variance were treated more than cordially by the board and were, in my opinion, deliberately prompted into giving the answers the board wanted given, that is, the "correct" or "proper" answers. In contrast, those objecting to the variance were subjected to harassment and were asked irrelevant and often embarrassing questions. Instead of listening courteously to these people and taking their objections into serious consideration, the board tried to convince each one of them of the merits of granting the variance.

While it is well known that the mayor and the Township Committee want this variance, one would think that the Zoning Board might at least make an effort to appear objective in their hearings and attempt to conceal those all too obvious puppet strings.

Sincerely,
S. N. Mazzone

The Minority's Right

53 Spring St.
Red Bank, N. J.

To the Editor:

Recently in the Register there have been some very disturbing comments which have exemplified all the traits of un-Americanism so foreign to our constitutional system of government and its derived way of life.

"A parent and a taxpayer" urged last June that the Middletown Board of Education take a definite stand concerning the recitation of a daily prayer in the public school system, demanding that God be acknowledged daily in the public schools for, as was stated, "Only an atheist would want to erase God from a child's education — and how many atheists are there in our town?" Another woman wondered why pornography can be sold, "when we aren't allowed to read the Bible in school? Where is the free speech there?" she demanded to know. Most recently it was inquired, "What is wrong with our parents? Can't they instill in their children . . . love and fear of God?"

Two constitutional principles must be kept in mind when analyzing such problems: the wishes of the majority and the rights of a minority. Under the American system, when the two conflict the latter is held supreme . . .

THE DAILY REGISTER Thursday, Sept. 9, 1965—17

Anyone who as a taxpayer demands that prayers be said in public schools must remember that non-Christians also pay their taxes for these same schools. If a taxpayer demands not only education from schools, but also the place to acknowledge God, then he should send his children to parochial schools. Have these taxpayers, who supposedly worship their God, never heard of the usual place for worship — the church? What would these same people say if five minutes were taken from the Sunday Mass, or service, to teach plane geometry?

The reason why parents can't, "instill in their children . . . love and fear of God" may well be that the age of prejudice and superstition is hopefully coming to an end. The final answer to the religious question can be given neither by any Nietzsche or any Kierkegaard, nor by any parent, or religious leader — no final answer can be given in this world. Moreover, religious faith, to have a sound structure, must not be instilled, but must be of a spontaneous nature, evolving from within the self . . .

The question is not how many atheists are in any town, but are there any? If there is only one atheist, then his rights as a taxpayer should be observed. It is not only the

The Downtown Mall Is Working in Fresno

By STEPHEN SANGER

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — One year ago the City of Fresno, in a spectacular reply to the lure of suburban shopping centers, ripped out 10 blocks of its main downtown business street and put in a pedestrian mall.

People wondered — will it work? Today, busily waiting on customers who stroll in from the flowery, tree-shaded mall, storekeepers are almost unanimous in answering that, yes it is working, fabulously well.

About the only opposition has come from one shoe store owner who declines to give his reasons. He planted onions in one of the flowerbeds as a form of protest.

Downtown Fulton Street was noisy, dirty, clogged with cars, and parking was a long-shot gamble.

Today the $1.6-million, 10-block mall, financed by urban renewal and local funds, is a sprightly place. It invites strollers to relax and seems to put them in a buying mood.

Splashing fountains, small watercourses, shaded benches and small protected play areas for the kids dot the entire stretch.

Beds of flowers are kept in bloom, and $150,000 worth of modern statuary adds to the atmosphere.

For those who tire of walking, there are pleasant, quiet electric carts chauffer-driven at 10 cents a ride.

Nearby parking is: cheap or free, but still not entirely adequate.

Scouts Back From Visit Out West

OAKHURST — The 55 Boy Scouts who left here Aug. 13 for three weeks at the Philmont Scout Ranch in New Mexico have returned home, skilled in outdoor life and a bit footsore from a 45-mile hike that lasted for 10 days.

Jeff Davis of Colts Neck, the reporter for the Monmouth Council of Boy Scouts said that, the hike included packing on horses, walking over mountains, sawing and piling trees that were uprooted by past flooding, and gold panning.

He said a few flakes of gold were found while the boys learned the old skill.

On the last day of the hike, he said, a hail storm, which is quite frequent at Philmont, caused the boys to spend time cooking cakes. "We all had a feast," he said.

Woman Hurt In Accident

NEW SHREWSBURY—A Cranford woman was injured Tuesday afternoon when her car was hit broadside by a field service truck at the intersection of Shafto Rd. and Asbury Ave.

Mrs. Sarah Smith, 51, of 309 Walnut Ave., Cranford, is reported in fair condition in Fitch Hospital, Neptune, with head and back injuries and multiple cuts.

The truck turned over on its roof, but the driver, Carlton T. Lane, 704 Clark Ave., Union Beach, escaped injury.

Mrs. Smith's car was demolished.

Police Chief James A. Herring said witnesses reported that Mrs. Smith was traveling west on Asbury Ave., a stop street. Mr. Lane was driving north on Shafto Rd., a through street.

The truck, used to carry oil to construction equipment in the field, is owned by Middletown Equipment Co. and leased to M. J. Stavola, Chief Herring said.

Oil being transported by the truck was spilled over the road by the accident. The Wayside Fire Company hosed down the road and the county road department sanded it.

No summons has been issued pending further investigation by Patrolman Charles O'Connor.

JWV to Sponsor Bloodmobile Visit

FREEHOLD — The Oglensky-Jackson post of the Jewish War Veterans, will sponsor a visit here of the American Red Cross bloodmobile Wednesday, Sept. 15 between 1 and 6:30 p.m.

The mobile carrier, which is used for blood donations, will be parked at the S. B. King and Son auto agency, 54 West Main St. It can accommodate 11 donors every 15 minutes. Appointments will be made through Police Capt. Henry T. Lelkovich, chairman of the post's blood donor committee.

SHREWSBURY HOURS

SHREWSBURY — Mrs. Paul Fabry, Borough Clerk, has announced that her office at 766 Broad St. will open the following extra hours for the convenience of residents who wish to register to vote in the forthcoming general election:

Friday, Sept. 10 from 7 to 8 p.m.; Saturday, Sept. 18 from 10 a.m. to noon and Thursday, Sept. 23 from 7 to 9 p.m. Deadline for registration is Sept. 23. The office is open 9:30 to 4:30 Monday through Friday, for registration, also.

Tom Hoxie, executive director of the Downtown Association, a merchants group which co-operated closely in the planning, said, "The mall is fabulous. It has beauty and utility."

Some skeptics say it came too late to reverse the trend of a dying downtown, but concede it has at least halted the decay.

There still are complaints about parking being insufficient. Donald Pollard, deputy city manager, says the city recognizes the need and eight large parking garages are being built or planned, plus designs for a new freeway, with easy access. Pollard estimates he has conducted tours for 85 groups from other cities interested in similar projects.

He said the mall has been a big factor in a record $42 million invested downtown in the past two years — more than during the previous 40 years.

Actually, the mall is the existing glamorous showpiece of a redevelopment program that includes an 18-block "superblock" and 2,000 outlying acres.

The mall merchants treasure the words of a housewife, who said, "It makes me want to come downtown to shop."

Recreation Department Keeps Active

RED BANK — Ralph S. Cryder, director of parks and recreation, has announced a program of fall activities beginning Sunday.

On the 12th, the Pop Warner Football League will play its first game. Two uniformed teams for boys aged 9 through 13 will play Sunday afternoons under the sponsorship of Red Bank Youth Sports, Inc. Ernest Blakeley will coach. Mrs. Blakely will be adviser to a girl's cheerleading squad, and Frank Loveridge will be the Pee-Wee coach. The next fall activity will start Sept. 17 when the Junior Rifle Club, open to boys and girls aged 12 to 18, will meet at the Fort Monmouth range. The club will meet Fridays at 6 p.m. for instruction by James Kearney of the National Rifle Association. Registration is open at the Parks and Recreation Department, 51 Monmouth St.

On Sept. 20 the girl's baton twirling class starts its 10-week course at the high school gymnasium. It is free to girls in grades 5 through 12 who reside in Red Bank. Mrs. Patricia Fons is the instructor. Registrations are being accepted now.

A six-week course in flower arranging will begin Sept. 21 at 10 a.m. in the borough hall. Mrs. Jean Swanson of The Nixie, 40 Monmouth St., will instruct. Area women may register now. Old-Timers' Day for senior citizens will be Sept. 22 at Marine Park. The Parks and Recreation Department and Chamber of Commerce have arranged chess, checkers, card games, singing, shuffleboard, games, prizes and a luncheon for anyone who considers himself or herself an oldtimer.

The Red Bank Community Adult School opens its fall term Sept. 23. This year 65 courses are being offered in Monday and Thursday evening classes. Registration may be completed the evenings of Sept. 13, 16, 20 or 23 in the high school cafeteria, or by mail. In October, the fall Women's Tennis Tournament will be held at the Marine Park courts. The morning doubles will require a $1 entry fee, and trophies will be awarded. Registrations will be accepted at the Marine Park tennis courts after Sept. 13.

Junior boys' and girls' bowling leagues for youngsters in grades five through eight will play Saturday mornings at the Red Bank Recreation Lanes, Newman Springs Rd., starting Oct. 2. Boys will play at 9 a.m. and girls at 10:30 a.m. through March.

The annual Halloween parade and carnival will be Oct. 31. For the 18th year prizes will be gained.

awarded for the best costumes in the parade.

In November there will be a hunter safety course for boys and girls under the age of 18. They must, according to state law, pass a safety course before being eligible to purchase a hunting license. Classes will be arranged at the Fort Monmouth rifle range by the Parks and Recreation Department. They will be taught by James Kearney.

Seek Red Bank Variance

Favor Proposal For Apartments

RED BANK — The Zoning Board of Adjustment last night recommended granting of a variance for a six-unit, two-story apartment building at 189 Shrewsbury Ave.

The applicant, Joseph Meyer of Middletown, was heard on the application last month. Borough Attorney Patrick J. McGann, Jr. opined that no zoning restrictions were applicable, and no variance was needed.

Last week Mr. Meyer applied for another building permit—this time for an eight-unit structure. Building Inspector John J. Corrigan did not issue the permit, and Mr. Meyer went to the Monmouth County court for a show cause order as to why the permit could not be issued.

No Problem Keeping Shape

ATLANTIC CITY (AP) — "I have no problem keeping my shape. I have a problem keeping my weight up," says the curvy blonde who won the swim suit title in the Miss America pageant.

"I'm eating all the time and I eat anything and everything," says Patsy Puckett, the shapely 20-year-old Miss Mississippi.

The University of Mississippi junior measures 35-23-35 on a 5-foot-6, 120-pound frame.

Miss Puckett was named the swim suit winner Wednesday night during the first round in the nation's oldest beauty contest.

And Miss Indiana, an 18-year-old soprano who never took a voice lesson, won the talent honors singing a medley of three songs from the hit show "Sound of Music."

Eileen Smith of Indianapolis, said she began singing "when I was seven. . . ever since I first saw Roy Rogers and Dale Evans."

Regional Sewerage Authority Expected to Form Next Month

LITTLE SILVER — The Northeast Monmouth County Regional Sewerage Authority is expected to become a reality with the beginning of October.

The six-municipality Regional Sewer Study Committee (RSSC), which organized the authority, will meet Friday, Oct. 1, at 8 p.m. in the West Long Branch Borough Hall for what the group fondly hopes will be its swan song.

Michael J. Rafferty, a Little Silver councilman and RSSC chairman, said he hopes the committee will complete its affairs and disband at the Oct. 1 meeting.

The 12 members of the Authority then will be sworn into office, he said.

Appointments Awarded

Of the six communities participating in the regional sewerage plan, only Fair Haven has not yet named its two delegates to the authority.

RSSC members last night said the Fair Haven representatives are slated to be named when that municipality's Borough Council meets Monday.

The authority, created by adoption of enabling ordinances in each of the member municipalities, will be responsible for building and operating the proposed $17,610,000 sewerage system.

Milton Mausner, Red Bank, RSSC attorney, said that the authority members will serve five-year terms expiring Feb. 1, 1970.

He said that by state law, the term of each of the members, all appointed since mid-August, became effective this past Feb. 1.

Authority members named to date include: Monmouth Beach, Mayor Sidney B. Johnson and Thomas H. Barham; Oceanport, Councilman Felix J. Foggia; and Edward E. McKeige; Shrewsbury, Councilman Paul F. Schlusser and Howell K. Walton; West Long Branch, Councilman George M. Conway and Harvey R. Shatto; Little Silver, Councilmen Rafferty and Thomas McCabe.

All except Mr. McCabe are RSSC members.

At a meeting in the Borough Hall, here, last night, the RSSC began preparations for its dissolution.

Payments Authorized

Members authorized payment of the committee's only outstanding bills — $1,500 to Mr. Mausner for his legal services from the time of the committee's inception in 1961 through last night, and $270.40 to its engineers, Mangano, Martin and Lincoln, New York City.

Mr. Mausner will inquire into whether the $660.22 which the RSSC has left in its bank account legally may be transferred to the authority.

Mr. Mausner reported that an outline of the service contract through which the authority will operate the proposed sewer system has been approved by attorneys for each of the six boroughs. It remains for the authority to prepare the contracts, he said.

Contracts Needed

William Martin, of the engineering firm, said that preparation of the contracts is the next most important step.

The authority will not be eligible for an interest-free federal planning grant until the contracts have been executed, he said.

Mr. Rafferty said Fort Monmouth officials still have not indicated whether they want the fort and its Camp Charles Wood Area hooked into the system. The engineers have prepared alternate plans providing for inclusion of the federal installations.

A copy of the preliminary plans for the system have been sent to Rep. James J. Howard, D-3d Dist., N.J., Mr. Rafferty said. He said he has asked Rep. Howard's assistance in securing federal aid for the project.

The committee took no action on the resignation of its financial custodian, George C. D. Hurley, Jr. Mr. Hurley, former collector-treasurer in Oceanport, resigned his RSSC post when he moved from that borough to New Shrewsbury in July.

Cemetery in Marlboro, Approved 26 Years Ago, Is Readied for Use

MARLBORO — A 26-year-old cemetery here finally has been put to use.

Work now is progressing on a 68-acre cemetery on Texas and Amboy Rds. in this township. Township records show that approval for the Forest Green Park Cemetery was granted July 13, 1939, but it had not been used prior to last November.

Sidney O. Young, Jr., the township business administrator, said that there was no news of the cemetery corporation from 1939 until a police officer, Joseph Walker, discovered that a body had been buried in the cemetery late November.

The gravesite was discovered next to a pile of trash about one mile from Burnt Fly Bog, the controversial area that has been used for local dumping.

Area Cleaned

The area around the grave was cleaned up after Mr. Young wrote April 2 to William Boorstein, Bayonne attorney representing the cemetery corporation, about "the condition of the grave site, the lack of drainage and the refuse in the vicinity of the grave."

The cemetery is located on the old Michael J. O'Hara farm. A map of the area was filed with the State Department of Health June 20, 1940. The map was prepared by Richard Heuser, Matawan civil engineer.

The sale price for the 68 acres was discovered by Tax Assessor Mrs. Kate Jackson to be $749,750.

At the same time that Officer Walker was reporting a body buried on the grounds of the Forest Green Park, the township received a letter from the next of kin wanting to know more of the cemetery and its location.

The one grave was dug Nov. 19, and the request from the relative was dated Nov. 25.

The next event regarding the cemetery came to light April 3 when a representative of the cemetery corporation reported the discovery of two recent gravesites near Texas Rd.

The township attorney, Joseph T. Grause, wrote to the county medical examiner, Dr. C. Malcolm B. Gilman, and requested the doctor to determine if the bodies in the graves were human.

Howard Preston, the registrar of vital statistics, at that time had issued no death certificates nor burial permits.

Dr. Gilman told The Register last night that he went out to the area and "personally tramped over 30 acres of land and never found a thing."

Dr. Gilman said he spoke with township officials later and suggested that the graves might be those of animals.

Dr. Gilman said that he did in fact receive a letter from attor-

Board Slates Two Studies

RED BANK — At a specially scheduled executive session of the Library Board of Trustees yesterday afternoon Thomas H. Lehman of Newark and New York was commissioned to make two architectural feasibility studies.

One will deal with alteration and expansion of the present West Front St. plant, the other with a proposal to locate the library to the former post office on Broad St.

He will work with James E. Bryan, a director of the Newark Public Library, who has been hired as a consultant to assess the borough's library needs.

Mayor Benedict R. Nicosia said that the trustees want Mr. Bryan to tell them what the municipality needs, and Mr. Lehman to show them how it can be accomplished. They plan to meet with both experts next Thursday.

Mr. Lehman will receive between $1,100 and $12,200 for the two surveys, Mr. Nicosia said. Mr. Bryan will receive $500.

Mr. Bryan's study will define what kind of library facilities Red Bank should have in terms of size, staff and number of books.

Propose Municipal Library Site

MIDDLETOWN — Mayor Ernest G. Kavalek yesterday went on record in favor of constructing the proposed new library at the township hall site.

"I don't go along with those who say we don't have enough property there," he commented. "I think there is room to squeeze it in and I am very concerned about the cost of the proposed Spruce Dr. site."

Tuesday night, a member of the Planning Board criticized the Library Board for not consulting with the planning unit about possible library sites.

The Library Board favors the Spruce Dr. site although it is considering five others.

Including all factors, the library project will be a million-dollar undertaking based on present estimates, although some costs will be spread over a period of several years.

The board wants to build a 28,000 to 35,000-square-foot structure, at an estimated cost of $20 to $25 per square foot.

ney Grause in July telling him that the graves were indeed for animals.

The Board of Health in each municipality must, according to Dr. Gilman, issue permits for the burial of anything, animal or human.

"They were probably children who loved their dogs and buried them in the cemetery," speculated the county physician.

Forest Green Park Cemetery will be divided into three sections when it is finally completed: Rolling Hills Memorial Park, Guardian Angel Cemetery and Beth Shalom Cemetery.

Mr. Young found out last Thursday that the area is now being landscaped. Drainage and roads are now being roughed in for the commercial burial ground. Forest Green is not affiliated with a local church.

The reason that the township officials gave for delving into the matter was this, the building inspector and the zoning officer, Joseph La Mura reported: "We were interested in what they were doing, and they told us."

The major concern was that Deep Run Brook, which runs through the property, would not be adversely affected. There has been no public controversy about the graveyard to date, and Mrs. Jackson, the assessor, commented that "the public has not been asked how it feels because no permission was needed to go ahead with the project. Permission was granted years ago."

Bulldozers were working yesterday clearing about 15 acres to the east, and 10 acres to the west of Texas Rd.

There are four houses in the immediate vicinity of the cemetery, which is in a predominantly rural area.

The automobile graveyard in Burnt Fly Bog is exactly one mile away.

Eatontown Planning Chief Hits Land Exchange Deal

EATONTOWN — "We were sold a bill of goods," Melvin J. Kohn, Planning Board chairman and Democrat Council candidate, told Borough Council last night.

Mr. Kohn, closely questioning council members on a number of matters outstanding, referred to the land swap between the borough and Shore Development Associates which gave the borough the new site for its proposed municipal building and gave the developers the still-empty lot at the corner of Broad and Main Sts.

Reminding council that the developers planned a $750,000 five-story office building on the old Borough Hall site, Mr. Kohn went on:

Asks Recourse

"We were told this $750,000 rateable would pay for the new $500,000 town hall — which, incidentally, was only $300,000 at the time. . . Now we learn it may only be a $450,000 rateable, or perhaps none at all. All I ask is that we have some recourse — or else we've been hoodwinked," the candidate added.

Councilman Edward O. Clark, who has been conferring with principals of Shore Development Associates on their failure so far to meet terms of the deed by erecting the promised building, assured council and Mr. Kohn that the matter will be pressed to a conclusion.

Reporting that Shore Development officials have stated that the five-story building will be economically feasible in the spring, Mr. Clark added:

"We won't just wait until spring."

Under terms of a council resolution incorporated in the property deed, Shore Development Associates was to have demolished the old Borough Hall and started construction of the new five-story building within six months after title transfer. This deadline was extended six months until Aug. 1 because the developers, lacking tenants, could not get financial backing.

Referring to the terms of the deed, Mr. Kohn insisted, "I think we have legal recourse."

"We'll take it under consideration," Councilman Leon B. Smock, Jr., council president leading the meeting in the absence of Mayor Herbert E. Werner, promised.

Sewer Application Marked 'Rush'

MIDDLETOWN — The township's sewer committee decided last night to wait "a little longer," as chairman Edward J. Roth put it, for a federal sewer loan after receiving word that the application has been marked "rush."

At a meeting of the unit, Mr. Roth, member of the Township Committee, said the state Department of Conservation and Economic Development has approved the federal application for a $150,000 engineering loan and sent it to the Federal Housing and Home Agency, Philadelphia, marked "rush."

The state okay is a formality. The township has also applied for a state loan, from the Department of Health. Mr. Roth said no word has been received on this application.

Work on the municipality's proposed $20 million sewer program is at a standstill, pending a solution to the question of financing the final engineering plans.

Mr. Roth said he has written to Sen. Harrison A. Williams, and Clifford P. Case and Rep. James J. Howard, asking them to pressure the federal agency for quick approval of the federal loan application.

Township sewer engineer Charles J. Kupper has estimated the okay will take six months.

The committee also reported that work has started on the Willett Acres sewer extension, a half-million-dollar job which will provide package sewer facilities for some 600 houses in the Mills-Countryside area.

Approximately 30,000 linear feet of sewer lines are to be laid. The work is due to be completed by December.

Correction:

They'll Dine and Dance Oct. 17, And They're for Sen. Dumont

RED BANK — Because of an error, the names of six prominent Republican women were inadvertently added to a news story in yesterday's Register dealing with the naming of a group which is working for the re-election of Democrat Governor Richard J. Hughes.

The Register regrets the error and any embarrassment caused Mrs. Edward W. Wise, Jr., Mrs. John Bryan, Mrs. Joseph C. Irwin, Mrs. James Smith, Mrs. Alonzo Dozier and Mrs. Melvin Cree, who are members of the Women's Republican Club of Red Bank. A spokesman said all six are unanimously endorsing the Republican candidate for governor, State Senator Wayne Dumont.

The story that should have appeared with their names is as follows:

RED BANK — Plans for its annual dinner dance are being made by the Women's Republican Club, with Mrs. Harold Williams and Mrs. Magdalene Olsen as co-chairmen. It will be the club's major fund raiser for this year's campaign.

The committee has set Sunday, Oct. 17 as the date, and the Willowbrook Inn, River Rd., Fair Haven, as the place.

Music for the 5:30 p.m. affair will be provided by Vito Marascchio's combo. Roast beef will be served, but there will be no speeches, said Mrs. James Hammond, Jr., the club's president. County candidates and Joseph Falvo and William Anderson, council aspirants, will be present.

Other members of the committee are Mrs. Edward Wise, Jr., Mrs. John Bryan, Mrs. Joseph C. Irwin, Mrs. James Smith and Mrs. Alonzo Dozier.

Mrs. Melvin Cree was named honorary chairman of the affair.

To Hide Offensive Signson Parkway

WOODBRIDGE — The Garden State Parkway announced today that screens of plants and shrubs will be used to hide unsightly signs within view of Parkway motorists.

Chairman Sylvester C. Smith, Jr., of the New Jersey Highway Authority, said the authority is determined to preserve the parkway's rustic scenery in the face of a recent rash of garish advertising signs along rural sections of the toll road.

While the signs posted on off-parkway property may be legal, the commissioners noted they are also offensive. Officials will ask for the co-operation of property owners in removing the signs voluntarily. If the co-operation is not forthcoming, screens will be planted.

No signs are allowed on the parkway right-of-way itself.

RARITAN RHUBARB—Battle developed at Raritan Township Committee meeting last night as a result of road department's digging out of some 85 feet of hedge yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kostelansky, 11 Otter St., Split Rock, on the township's 10-foot right-of-way. Photos show before and after scene. Township Committee claims the hedge was a traffic hazard, although complaints about fence on township's right-of-way at Poole Ave. and Middle Rd., which forces children to walk in street, has brought no action. Mr. Kostelansky had 175-name petition citing alleged discrimination against him which he didn't present last night because "it was too late." But he showed photos of 40 other locations with hedges and fences. Committee said township will be surveyed and hazardous obstructions taken down.

Says Road Death May Have Been Prevented

TRENTON (AP)—Republican gubernatorial candidate Wayne Dumont Jr. said Tuesday the death of a Fair Lawn youth might have been prevented had a new Lovelandtown bridge been built in Point Pleasant.

A car driven by the youth, James Garside, plunged through the wooden railing of the 40-year-old bridge and into the Point Pleasant Canal early Tuesday.

Dumont said funds were appropriated to replace the bridge during the Democratic administration of Gov. Robert B. Meyner, who served from 1953 to 1961. However, a Highway Department spokesman denied money was ever allocated to replace the span.

Call of the Sea

By ELEANOR MARKO

The smell of salt in the air is the only thing missing from a Ted Goerschner seascape. And since he is an enterprising young man, there is no telling how he might remedy this in time for his next one-man show.

That will take some doing inasmuch as he is just about out of paintings fresh from a sunny vacation and successful show of his work in Nantucket, Mass. While there he pocketed two of the major awards in the Kenneth Taylor Galleries, home of the Nantucket Art Association, of which he is a member.

"Madakat Fog," a 20 by 24-inch oil in grayed earthtones with the highest key colors in yellow ochre and burnt sienna, won first prize in the 15th annual Patrons Show, a major event at the gallery, a non-profit facility.

Mr. Goerschner also won top award in the New Directions Show with an abstract, "Misty Reflections." Artists entering the competition were requested to paint in other than their normal style.

Abstraction is not the usual Goerschner style. He likes it. But he feels that art must "communicate" — or he at least feels that this is what he wants his art to do.

"Abstraction is for the artist and the critic, not for everybody," he summarized. This concern with "communicating" comes naturally to Goerschner, a resident of Herberaville. He is art director of V. I. P. Advertising and Public Relations, Ltd., 708 Grand Ave., Asbury Park, where he executes layouts, illustrations, collateral material and sundry details to meet exacting deadlines.

It is these deadlines which have to be met that are the secret weapons of a man out to accomplish the most in the least amount of time.

To be ready for his one-man show sometime before Thanksgiving in the Old Mill Gallery, Tinton Falls, Mr. Goerschner has set a goal to complete one painting a week. This will fill the gap left by the sale of 15 of his paintings out of the 24 exhibited Aug. 18 through Aug. 22 in the one-man show at Nantucket.

For subject matter, the artist will draw from sketches made on site, camera shots, and memory. He prefers to be removed from the scene when he paints.

"When I work from nature I become too involved with details," he said, disclosing a hint on simplification for any art student.

Mr. Goerschner has taught a large adult class at Britt's auditorium in Brick Township for the high school and private classes in his home studio.

A former resident of Union, he studied at Newark School of Fine and Industrial Art and with John Grabach and Joseph Rossi before moving to Florida where he attended St. Petersburg Junior College and Tampa University. At the latter he studied with Carl Zerbe.

Goerschner began painting in New Jersey again in 1960 and joined local art associations including the Bay Head Art Association, Toms River Art Association, Guild of Creative Art, Shrewsbury, and the Old Mill Association, where he is on the board of directors. In New England he is now represented by the Munson Galleries (founded in 1890), a commercial enterprise with exhibition rooms in Nantucket, Chatham, Cape Cod and New Haven, Conn.

This cross section of exhibition areas brings Mr. Goerschner's work to art patrons from all over the United States. His recent show, a fine example, included vacationers from Florida, Washington and Pennsylvania. One couple were so pleased with the purchase of the award winning work "Madakat Fog," Mr. Goerschner said that they movie-filmed the purchase, the artist, the gallery, all in color to be shown in a premiere home showing during the dull, cold winter. This was one form of communicating Goerschner hadn't even thought of.

"I paint what I like and paint what I know," the artist commented. He's a sailing buff and will be out to prove it in rough style with a new series of paintings he is planning. The subject will deal with the clamming industry at Point Pleasant and will entail two-day trips at sea with the clambers. This will give the artist endless ideas for forthcoming compositions, with an added suggestion here that he at least include a self-portrait on scene fixed with salt spray.

THIS TREK TO NEW ENGLAND is a magnet for shore to shore artists.

Wini Smart Diehl of Freehold is due home from a summer in Maine aboard, of all things, a houseboat. Since she had to fare solo with her children while her husband backtracked to the home base here a couple of times, there seems to be not only enough subject material for paintings, but material also for a book. We'll see.

MARDEE REED of New Shrewsbury will demonstrate the process of plaster casting tomorrow night at 8:30 o'clock in the Guild of Creative Art, 620 Broad St., Shrewsbury, for members and the public. In detailed steps she will describe the method of making, pouring and chipping away the mold in the traditional waste mold process.

One of her clay models of a head will be the demonstration piece. Coloring the finished cast will follow.

A graduate of the Rhode Island School of Design, she received a bachelor of fine arts degree, and majored in sculpture. She also studied at Syracuse University and was assistant instructor at the school, as well as at the Vesper George School of Art in Boston, Mass.

AMOS H. MUMFORD of Holmdel, a commercial artist with his one-man show currently extended in the Old Mill Gallery, Tinton Falls, scored a hit with art collectors. More than half of the 16 mood landscapes in the exhibition have been sold, reducing the "backlog" that Mumford has been working on.

There is no fear that Mumford will disappear from the exhibition scene, however. He and his wife are back from a vacation in — you guessed it — Cape Cod and Martha's Vineyard, which has so inspired Mumford that "he couldn't wait to get home" according to his wife, to begin painting in his studio.

PAUL LEHR AND JAMES AVATI who began this summer to teach at 21 Broad St., Red Bank, will close the first session this weekend and open reservations for the next. Paul will teach Monday afternoon and evening art classes and Jim is open for Monday and Wednesday classes.

Art Calendar

GUILD OF CREATIVE ART, 620 Broad St., Shrewsbury, Mardee Reed, Plaster casting demonstration, tomorrow, 8:30 p.m. Continuing one-man show Jane Geayer, Sea Bright, through Sept. 30.

OLD MILL GALLERY, Sycamore Ave., Tinton Falls, Amos H. Mumford, first one-man show, extended.

JANE HARVEY STUDIO, Monmouth Bridge Gallery, Monmouth Shopping Center, Civic Auditorium entrance, Student Art Exhibition, closes Sept. 12. Open 8 to 11 p.m.

HEAR 'N SEE GALLERY, 60 First Ave., Atlantic Highlands, Borough resident artists, through Sept. 30.

MONTCLAIR ART MUSEUM, South Mountain Ave., Opening fall exhibition, Andre Kertesz, pioneer of modern photography, through Sept. 28.

RUMMAGE SALE
KEANSBURG — Friends of the Moose Social Ladies Club will hold a rummage sale Tuesday through Thursday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Moose Hall, Myrtle and Maple Aves. The sale is open to the public.

"MADAKAT FOG," a 20-by-24-inch oil by Ted Goerschner, Asbury Park commercial artist, featured in a one-man show in Nantucket, Mass., won first prize in the Patrons Show in the Kenneth Taylor Galleries there.

Student Show Slated for Hear 'n See

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS — The Hear 'n See Gallery, 60 First Ave., has scheduled a student art exhibit for October.

The gallery which can show as many as 30 moderately sized works is now reserved for adult artists who reside in this borough. Works by Florence Maise, Michael Michaels, Edith Ahern, Casilda Sullivan, Robert Neighbauer, Betty Gallagher, Bonnie Stanbro, Corry Ten Kate, Dorothy Straub, P. M. Southworth, Carol Fisher and Sue Branin will continue to be exhibited through Sept. 30.

Students to date who will exhibit next month are Ginny Haag and Louis Gowers of Atlantic Highlands; Ralph McGeehan, Rumson; Ed Pajak of this borough and Newark and Susan St. Peter of Middletown.

Joseph J. Szostak, manager of the book and record store and its accompanying art gallery, has invited other student artists of the area to participate. Their works will be on sale and may be viewed each day from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. including Sundays.

AN EXPERIMENT

RED BANK — Hy Suchman, Bud Natelson and Ruth Campbell associated with the shop Art at 26 White St., are selecting 100 names at random from the telephone book each week and inviting them by mail to an open house on Thursday nights.

"Others are welcome, of course," Mrs. Campbell states, but this weekly stint is an experiment in line with their aim to reach "the non-art community." The three artists will be on hand to greet the guests and serve the refreshments.

TRAILSIDE ART SHOW

MOUNTAINSIDE — The 17th Annual Trailside Art Show will be held Sunday, Sept. 19 from 10:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. at Watchung Reservation. Rain date is Sept. 26.

Works by some 500 artists are expected. Judging will take place at 10:30 a.m. by Homer Hill, Albert Bross and Nicholas Reale. More than $500 in prizes will be awarded 31 entrants. The event is sponsored by the Union County Park Commission. Exhibiting artists will be members of seven art associations in the Mountain-side area. Blanche Holland of Cranford is chairman. Demonstrations will be presented on the site by 11 professional artists and an exhibition of work by the judges will be on view.

Fall Term Begins at Guild Sept. 20

SHREWSBURY — The fall term for art classes at the Guild of Creative Art begins Sept. 20. On the staff for adults are Roberta Carter Clark, Rumson, portraiture; Agnes Egan, Rumson, oil, pastels; Betty Hart, Little Silver, oil and drawing; Evelyn Leavens, Red Bank, all media; Valdi S. Maris, East Brunswick, landscape in oil; Marj O'Rourke, Middletown, oil painting; Earl Tyler, Bay Head, oil, watercolor and drawing; and Regone Pierrakos, Monmouth Beach, beginners, all media.

Also, Sheila Loebel, Red Bank, woodcuts; Mary Sheehan, Middletown, watercolor; Donald Voorhees, Lincroft, watercolor; Mar-dee Reed, New Shrewsbury, sculpture and Barbara Gray, Strathmore, Matawan Township, oil painting.

Some of the classes are held in the gallery and some in the home-studios of the artists.

Mrs. Hart, Miss Leavens and Mrs. Sheehan also have classes open to juniors, teenagers and smaller children.

Reservations are being taken at the guild for the 10-week sessions.

MUSEUM WORKSHOP
NEWARK — Arts workshop for adults begins its new fall session at the Newark Museum, 43-49 Washington St., Sept. 27, and will continue through Dec. 9. Admission applications are being accepted at the museum, with free brochure available describing courses, schedules, registration instructions and fees for the 1964-65 season.

Courses in painting, weaving, sculpture, printmaking and ceramics are offered. Inquiries may be made by mail, phone or in person addressed to the Arts Workshop. Registrations will be held Sept. 20-23.

DEBORAH BENEFIT
PALISADE — The first annual benefit outing for Deborah Hospital, Browns Mills, will take place tomorrow and Saturday at Palisades Amusement Park.

More than 200 chapters of Deborah Hospital along the Eastern seaboard will participate in this fund-raising outing. Advance tickets, which are tax deductible as contributions to Deborah Hospital, may be obtained from local Deborah Hospital Chapters.

"There is no protection from rain or wind," explained Yvonne Aubert, president of the guild here. The threat of a hurricane helped squelch the idea permanently.

Country Fair's 13th Edition Opens Tonight

Candidates Set For 'Open House'

EATONTOWN — Councilman Robert B. Dixon and Daniel H. Kaufmann, chairman of the Zoning Board of Adjustment, both Republican candidates for Borough Council in November, will hold an "open house" gathering at the Eaton Crest apartments swimming pool Saturday at 3:30 p.m.

All residents of the borough have been invited to attend, Mr. Dixon emphasized last night.

NEW SHREWSBURY — Sink 20 telephone poles in five acres of land; string more than two miles of electric wire; put up 11 tents; mail out 11,000 circulars; enlist the aid of 400 volunteers. Put all this together and you have the 13th annual New Shrewsbury Country Fair, opening at 6 p.m. today and continuing through 11 p.m. Saturday.

Mayor John E. Lemon, Jr. will open the fair formally at 7:30 p.m.

Highlighting tonight's program is a variety show at 8 p.m. featuring young people of Monmouth County in two age groups: 12 through 15, and 16 through 20. Appearing in the 12-15 age group is Victor Follensvalder, local accordionist; "The Kids," a local combo made up of Stephen Phillips, Edward Dougherty, Mark Edwardson and Warren Smith; "The Dynamics," another local combo consisting of Paul and Brian Grammer, Paige and Paul Morgenthal, and Peter Larkin; Carol Vanecek, Little Silver organist; vocalist Patty her successor, chosen from 10 girls nominated by participating organizations.

Mulheren of Red Bank; Rita Finnigan of Farmingdale, a dancer; and Rumsen's "King James and his Court" combo, featuring Jamie Mellish, Joan Karinja, Sharon LeRoy, Sue Hoffman and Sue Garalde.

Other features Friday will be Uncle Ernie Hillbrunner's annual auction of miscellany to raise funds for the New Shrewsbury Christmas Fund, and entertainment by "The Moonlighters," Tinton Falls Schools teachers doubling as folkingers.

Mrs. Jack Arnold and Mrs. J. Lester Rigby, co-chairmen of the queen contest, will introduce the entertainers.

Saturday morning will see the opening of the pet show, where any kind of pet may be shown by children under 16 years old. As in former years, Mrs. E. W. Speicher is in charge.

Jacalyn O'Shaughnessy, Red Bank Catholic High School freshman, will run "Lucky 13" contests with prizes for children between the ages of 7 and 13 to celebrate the Fair's 13th anniversary.

Auxiliary Luncheon Fair Haven

FAIR HAVEN — The River-view Hospital Auxiliary will hold a covered dish luncheon at its first meeting of the season Monday at 1 p.m. in the Holy Communion Episcopal Church. Slides of the hospital will be shown.

Board Hires Architect For Library Study

OCEANPORT — Mrs. Joan Schiavone of this place, and Donald Jackson of Middletown, were hired to teach in the local elementary school by the Board of Education last night.

Mrs. Schiavone will teach a fifth grade class. Her salary has been set at $6,250 per year. Mr. Jackson will receive $6,000 to teach the seventh grade.

Mrs. Annette Boland, a former part-time Kindergarten teacher, was awarded a contract to teach the class on a full-time basis for the coming school year. She will receive $8,200.

The board also retained Mrs. Lea Nagel as a playground supervisor. Her salary will be $3 per hour.

Celli to Vote Against Road Repair Job

LONG BRANCH — Councilman Michael G. Celli said yesterday he would vote against a contract tonight calling for the repaving of Ocean Ave. from Brighton to South Bath Aves.

"I am definitely against spending the taxpayers money for a repaving job that in my estimation is waste. This strip of Ocean Avenue has a very small amount of traffic that uses it. It can be repaired by just filling in the cracks and holes by our Street Department.

"At least three streets are closed off that lead into this section. The traffic is so light from the access into Vine Court that children play hop-scotch in the street."

The contract, one of four road repair contracts scheduled to be awarded by City Council tonight, has also been opposed by Councilman Edgar N. Dinkelspiel.

Mayor Reilly Seeks to Create Legislators' Conference Group

OCEAN TOWNSHIP—Whether he wins or loses the election, state Senate candidate John J. Reilly will move to create a two-county legislators' conference which would map plans to help taxpayers conserve their monies, he said last night.

The Democratic mayor of this township disclosed his aims to newsmen at a conference in the Paul Samperi restaurant.

Mr. Reilly pledged to spearhead the formation of a clearing house of information on available state and federal assistance to local and county governments in Monmouth and Ocean.

The candidate stated that after the Nov. 2 election he would seek to organize the conference which would be composed of federal, state, county and municipal officials.

The mayor is campaigning for the Senate in the new 5th district consisting of Monmouth and Ocean Counties.

"It is no longer possible for any one level of government to operate in a vacuum, whether it be federal, state, county or municipal," Mayor Reilly stated.

which would meet in January and June of each year.

One session would be held in Freehold and the other in Toms River.

Mayor Reilly offered these proposals:

1. A conference consisting of the congressman (Howard) and the state senators representing the two counties; the three assemblymen from Monmouth; the assemblyman from Ocean; the five Monmouth freeholders and the three Ocean freeholders and two mayors each from Monmouth and Ocean, to be selected by the New Jersey Conference of Mayors.
2. A January meeting to be held prior to the convening of congress and the state Legislature and the June round table talk would take place prior to recesses of the state Senate and Assembly.
3. At least 30 days before each meeting, every member of MOLC (Monmouth-Ocean Legislators' Conference) would submit in writing, to the clerks of the Boards of Freeholders, matters they wanted considered by the conference.

Freeholders Leadership

4. Directors of the Boards of Freeholders would preside at the meeting. This means Joseph C. Irwin, Red Bank, and Robert J. Miller, Toms River, both Republicans, would be in charge of the conference. Rep. Howard, senators and assemblymen would report on available programs and other problems would be aired by local officials.

5. Clerks of the boards of freeholders acting as secretaries to the conference, would issue and send copies of written reports of the meetings to every municipality in both counties.

When The Register asked Mayor Reilly if he would follow through with his program if he is defeated in his bid for a Senate seat, he replied: "If I don't win, I'll still press for it. I'll still be the mayor."

In that case, Reilly could be named the mayor to represent Monmouth on the conference.

USAEC Staff Chief Reports For Fort Duty

FORT MONMOUTH — Col. Robert D. Terry, designated chief of staff of the U.S. Army Electronics Command, reported for duty at Fort Monmouth Tuesday.

Col. Terry will succeed Col. Elton D. Vaughan, who is retiring Sept. 30.

Col. Robert D. Terry

The new chief of staff comes to Fort Monmouth from the XVIII Airborne Corps, where he was assistant chief of staff for communications and electronics. In this position he won the Legion of Merit for outstanding service in establishing military communications for U.S. and Organization of American States forces in the Dominican Republic.

Col. Terry was born in Indianapolis and attended Butler University, there before entering the U.S. Military Academy, from which he graduated in 1942. He served in the European Theater of Operations in 1944 and earned the Rhineland and Central Germany campaign ribbons.

After World War II, Col. Terry served in Manila from 1945 to 1947. From 1948 to 1950 he was with the Alaska Communications System.

Col. Terry has attended the Signal and Chemical Schools, the Command and General Staff College and the Naval War College. He has a masters degree from the University of Illinois, and in 1954 was assistant and then associate professor of electricity at the Military Academy.

Col. Terry and his wife, the former Miss Magnolia Grey DeHart of Indianapolis, have three daughters.

Must Add Chlorine To Water Systems

TRENTON (AP) — The State Health Department said Wednesday that all water systems in New Jersey must begin adding chlorine to their water by next July 1.

The Health Department said that 350 of the 500 water systems in New Jersey now use chlorine. The new order affects an estimated 740,000 people. About a million of the state's 6.5 million people will continue to get unchlorinated water from private wells.

State Health Commissioner Dr. Roscoe P. Kandle said the requirement is spelled out in a new code that was filed with the secretary of state's office in July. Regulations were mailed to municipalities last week, Kandle said.

Kandle said the primary reason for the new regulation is that New Jersey's population increase has brought with it a greater chance of pollution of both ground and surface water.

Four Girls Rescued By Two Lifeguards

SEA BRIGHT — Four girls the only persons affected by the wave. When they realized they were being dragged by the strong undertow, they screamed for help.

Rescued were Dee Henderson, daughter of Register newsmen William Henderson of Fair Haven, Kathy Howard, daughter of the Fair Haven school superintendent, Charles Howard, Pamela Sharabba of Shrewsbury, and Priscilla Patlock.

The girls were swept from the beach by a freak wave termed a "sea-puss." The unusual condition occurs, it was said, when a narrow incoming wave meets an outgoing wave. The condition is said to create a violent turbulence in which bathers it was reported, may be swept sideways and then offshore.

Screamed for Help House Hunting! It's open season in the Daily Register Classified near several other persons, were fished now.

Decide Against Lights For Basketball Courts

HOLMDEL — A request by John J. Landers, president of the Board of Education, to have outside lights installed for the basketball courts at Indian Hill School got nowhere last night.

Estimated at a cost of $255, the lights were to be mercury vapor and would provide illumination for about 20 young players who have been using the courts — and complaining to Mr. Landers about the insufficient light at night — for years.

Board members, at first, appeared sympathetic.

They listened to reports from George S. Kinkade, board secretary, and H. Victor Crespy, superintendent of schools, on efforts made to obtain the best, economical form of lighting possible.

Motion is Made Dr. Phillip Rabin, a board member, moved to have the purchase approved. William Daly offered a second.

However, after hearing James M. Goodwin assert that the expenditure was for recreation and should more properly be made by the township Recreation Commission, Mr. Daly withdrew his second.

He explained that he had just realized that under no circumstances would the lights ever be used as part of the educational program but could serve only for limited evening-hours recreation for a limited group of youths.

Dr. Rabin then withdrew his motion. After further discussion, the board agreed to refer the issue to the commission.

Douglass Alumnae Unit Establishes Scholarship

SHREWSBURY — Proceeds of the Douglass of Monmouth luncheon-fashion show to be held in Shadowbrook on Thursday, Sept. 23, will be used to establish a scholarship for a Douglass student from Monmouth County.

This is the first time the local alumnae group has made available a specific county scholarship. The club previously contributed to the college's general scholarship fund.

Serving as co-chairman of the event are Miss Elizabeth Warwick, Long Branch, and Mrs. Philip Bretz, Red Bank.

Fashions, professionally modeled, will be by Belmar's Fashion Corner. Mrs. Florence Sokolow who, with her husband, has owned the women's specialty shop for 18 years, will be commentator.

Serving on the committee are Mrs. Robert Cronheim, 88 Monmouth Dr., and Mrs. Donald Coffey, 85 Norwood Ave., both of Deal, reservations and ticket distribution; Mrs. Laurence Henderson, Holmdel, publicity, and Mrs. Jeremy Judge, club president, Middletown, gifts.

Reservations deadline is Sept. 20. Douglass of Monmouth officers, in addition to Mrs. Judge, are: Mrs. C. Harold Larsson, Fair Haven, treasurer; Mrs. Donald Blesse and Mrs. Mary Lou Van Iderstine both Rumson, recording secretary and first vice president; Mrs. Barbara Gregorio, Bradley Beach, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Coffey, second vice president.

Douglass College is the women's college of Rutgers, the State University, New Brunswick. The selection of the Monmouth County scholarship winner will be made by the regular Douglass Scholarship Committee.

Mrs. Frank M. DeSheplo
(The former Carol Ann Stouffer)

Carol Stouffer Is Bride Of Frank DeSheplo

LONG BRANCH — Our Lady Star of the Sea Catholic Church was the setting here Saturday for the marriage of Miss Carol Ann Stouffer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merle E. Stouffer, 455 Ricky La., to Frank Michael De-Sheplo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis DeSheplo, 488 High St., Long Branch.

Rev. Thomas O'Connor officiated at the double ring ceremony. Miss Rose DeNucci, Long Branch, was organist. A reception followed in the Admiral's Table, West Deal.

Mr. Stouffer gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a long gown of silk organza detailed with appliques of Alencon lace at the waistline of the fitted bodice and designed with a detachable silk organza train. Her bouffant veil was held in place by a crown of matching lace trimmed with pearls and Austrian crystals. She carried a cascade of stephanotis and white roses centered with a white orchid.

Miss Connie Stouffer, at home, was maid of honor for her sister. Also attending the bride were Miss Lynn Buono, cousin of the bridegroom, and Miss Joan Fraga, both of Long Branch, and Mrs. Fred Ross, Lincroft. They wore Empire-styled formal-length crepe gowns in peach, blue, green and shocking pink, respectively. The gowns had pleating details at the necklines and hems and their headpieces were of pompons and French maline to match their gowns. All carried cascade bouquets of white pompons centered with Fuji

Jeffrey Bolton Marries

WILMETTE, Ill. — Miss Carol Louise Griffith and Jeffrey James Bolton, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. McRoberts, 5 Evergreen Dr., Rumson, N.J., were married here Aug. 28 in St. Augustine's Church with Rev. Joseph A. Howell officiating at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Griffith of this city.

Stanley F. Martin was church organist. The Winnetka Women's Club was the scene of the reception which followed.

Mr. Griffith gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a floor-length Empire-style gown of peau de soie fashioned with a lace-trimmed bodice, bishop sleeves and sheath skirt also trimmed with lace. Her fingertip veil was held in place by an open pillbox headpiece and she carried a cascade arrangement of white roses and stephanotis.

Miss Peggy Ann Griffith, at home, was maid of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were the Misses Dorothy M. Johnson, Allentown, Pa., and Karen M. Smith, Baltimore. They wore floor-length gowns of mint green crepe fashioned with Empire waistlines and sheath skirts. Their open pillbox headpieces matched their gowns and they carried cascade arrangements of pale yellow chrysanthemums.

Best man was Hugh C. Kent of Essex Fells, N.J. Ushers were Arthur F. Schmidt of Des Plaines, cousin of the bridegroom; Andrew C. Schnur of Deerfield and Frank T. Pancy-szyn, Millville, N.J.

The bride is a June 1965 graduate of Bucknell University at Lewisburg, Pa., where she received a bachelor of arts degree in history. She was a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority and Phi Sigma Tau national philosophy honorary.

Mr. Bolton, a 1961 alumnus of Red Bank High School, also was graduated from Bucknell University and holds a bachelor of science degree in business administration. He was a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity. Mr. Bolton is with the Union Service Corporation in New York City.

The bride and bridegroom will be at home at 366A Morrilstown Rd., Matawan, N.J., on return from their wedding trip to New York.

MS Unit Plans Series Of Socials

RED BANK — As part of its plan to take graduated steps toward becoming an official chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, the Monmouth County Branch, affiliate of the Central New Jersey Chapter, has held a series of social gatherings to help volunteers and patients to become acquainted.

Meetings were held at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. George Lange, Shrewsbury; Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Mancino, Lincroft, and Mr. and Mrs. Alvan Campbell, Jr., River Plaza.

Members of the branch committee attending were Col. and Mrs. Robert M. Mouk, Sea Girt, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kelley, Manasquan. MS Hope Chest chairmen present were Mrs. Frederick Shaller, Lincroft; Mrs. William J. Neiswender, River Plaza, and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Murphy, Atlantic Highlands.

Other volunteers and patients included Capt. George Ashton, USN and Mrs. Ashton, Red Bank; Mrs. Joseph Tomalino, Lincroft; Dr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Bennett, Deal Park, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Krummel, West Long Branch, members of the social events committee; Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Searles, Mrs. Gordon Kidd, Mrs. George Pulis, Mrs. George Senn, Mrs. Karl Muszel, all of Middletown and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Langer and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Oleson of Matawan.

At each meeting there was discussion of the need to raise sufficient funds to prove to the Central New Jersey Chapter that Monmouth County residents can support a separate Monmouth chapter.

Mrs. Paul Siciliano will serve as Campaign March chairman and William P. Walton, Jr., as chairman of canister distribution. Louis Burtelnd, Asbury Park, is serving as MS Hope Chest treasurer as well as assisting on the branch committee and serving on the board of directors of the Central New Jersey Chapter.

Twins Increase Lead to 6 Games

For Minnesota there's consolation, for New York there's elimination and for Bert Campaneris there's frustration. That was the linescore following a historic night in the American League Wednesday. The Minnesota Twins consolidated their position at the top of the league, driving back the on-rushing Chicago White Sox 3-2 and increasing their lead to six games. The Yankees, meanwhile, edged Washington 6-5 but still were eliminated from pennant contention in this, their worst season in 40 years. Then there was Campaneris. The versatile Kansas City youngster became the first player in modern major league history to play all nine positions in one game, but his play at two of them helped lead to the Athletics 5-3, 10-inning loss to California. Not only that, Campaneris, who played a different position in each of the first nine innings, wasn't around at the finish. He left after the ninth with a shoulder injury. The 23-year-old Cuban, who once pitched both right-handed and left-handed, started the game as shortstop. In succeeding innings he moved to second base, third base, left field, center field, right field, first base, pitcher and catcher. Athletics' owner Charles O. Finley, who conceived the idea, even made Campaneris a $1 million player for the night. That's how much he insured him for — taking out the policy with four different companies at an undisclosed cost. Campaneris, however, wasn't insured against errors and wildness. The error came in the sixth inning while he was playing right field. With two out and Albie Pearson at first base, Jim Fregosi lofted a fly to right-center. Campaneris got under the fly, but the ball bounced out of his glove, allowing Pearson to score the run that broke a 1-1 tie. Then, as a pitcher in the eighth, Campaneris walked two men on eight straight balls, then threw two more balls to Joe Adcock before he singled for another run. Finally, there was his ninth-inning job — catching. Ed Kirkpatrick stole second on him, but Campaneris nailed him at the plate when he tried to steal home. Kirkpatrick knocked Campaneris over, and a brief tussle ensued. It was on that play that the all-around Athletic hurt his left shoulder. In other AL games, Baltimore defeated Detroit 2-0 before having its eight-game winning streak stopped 5-0 and Boston trimmed Cleveland 5-3 in 10 innings. Jim Grant stopped the White Sox on four hits for his 18th victory against five defeats while Jimmie Hall provided Minnesota's winning margin with a two-run homer in the seventh inning, his first since Aug. 2. The Yankees, who had won a record-tying five straight pennants, went down fighting. Elston Howard's run-scoring single with two out in the ninth won it for the Yankees, who also got a three-run homer from Ray Barker in the fifth. Willie Kirkland, Don Lock and Ken McMullen homered for Washington. The Angels finally downed Kansas City with two runs in the 13th, Bobby Knopp scoring the tie-breaker on pitcher John O'Donoghue's two-base throwing error. The Athletics tied the game in the ninth on run-scoring singles by Ken Harrelson and Dick Green. Baltimore's Bob Johnson hit a two-run homer in the ninth inning of the first game, giving Steve Barber his 13th victory. The hit was only the fourth off Detroit's Hank Aguirre. Dave Wickersham pitched the Tigers to the second-game triumph, limiting the third-place Orioles to three hits. Don Wert provided a three-run homer in the sixth. Fred Whitfield's two-run homer in the ninth, in pulled Cleveland into a 3-3 tie, but Boston won in the 10th as Tony Horton socked a two-run homer.

Teenager Signs With Minnesota

NEW YORK (AP) — The Minnesota Twins signed Alan Costantino, a 19-year-old catcher from Providence, R.I., to a baseball contract yesterday. Chief of scouts Bennie Borgmann, who signed the youngster, said Costantino, a sophomore at LaSalle Academy in Providence, will be sent to Thomasville, Ga., in the Western Carolina League next year.

KEANE TO MANAGE YANKS AGAIN IN 1966—Johnny Keane, New York Yankee manager, holds contract in New York yesterday which he signed to manage the team again in 1966. At right is the team's general manager, Ralph Houk. Terms of his new contract were not disclosed, but it is believed Keane will receive the same salary as this year—reportedly $40,000. Yankees Give Johnny Keane Vote Of Confidence; Signs For 1-Yr.

NEW YORK (AP) — Manager Johnny Keane will be back next year but the same cannot be said for certain about two other New York Yankee standbys — second baseman Bobby Richardson and shortstop Tony Kubek. At Wednesday's signing ceremonies in which Keane was retained for the 1966 season, the 53-year-old pilot acknowledged his awareness of Kubek's and Richardson's intention to retire at the end of the current season. He added, however, "I won't believe it until I see it." Richardson and Kubek have told teammates they are at least considering retirement. Third baseman Clete Boyer, like Keane, admitted he had heard both express those sentiments. Again, like Keane, he believes they will change their mind. "Kubek has been afflicted with injuries a good part of the time this year," explained Keane. "He's had a frustrating time. It's only natural for a fellow in that frame of mind to feel the way he does. But I think after a winter's rest he will feel differently about things. As for Richardson, I've heard a word or two about his desire to spend more time with his family. But I don't accept that as definite." In any event, Keane isn't taking any chances. Just in case Kubek and Richardson are serious about retiring, Keane plans to groom a couple of youngsters as replacements. They are Roy White, a second baseman, and Bobby Murcer, a shortstop.

Steelers Trim Roster To 42

PITTSBURGH, Pa., (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League asked waivers yesterday on three veterans and a rookie, trimming their roster to 42, one under the limit permitted this week. Veterans cut loose were ends Jim Kelly and John Burrell and linebacker John Powers. The rookie is Ken Henson, who played at Baylor.

Newark Bears Play Hartford Team Sunday

NEWARK—The Newark Bears will play host to the Hartford team Sunday night at Schools Stadium. Kickoff will be at 7 p.m. While it will only be the fifth game for both in this year's 14-game CFL schedule, the game will be a crucial one. Each team is 1-3. The loser could face early elimination in the race for Eastern Division honors. Newark suffered its first and only shutout in its three-year history when the Charleston, W. Va. Rockets piled up a 38-0 score against them last week. Offensive mistakes brought about the loss. The previous Bears losses were attributed to defective defensive play. "We corrected the defensive side but the offense went off the beam," moaned Coach Steve Van Buren. "We concentrated heavily on mending the defensive errors never thinking the offense would fall apart," he added. The offense was charged with six lost fumbles and six interceptions that resulted in five Charleston victories. "We'll work hard on both in this week's training," said Steve Van Buren, "because we need the win over Hartford to stay in the running." Hartford also has been strengthened by the acquisition of former Utah passing great Lee Grosscup. The former All-America was signed by the Oaks two weeks ago. He played his first game with little practice with the team and showed much better last week. Lee figures to be at his best against Newark.

Scotti Cut

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers cut defensive halfback Ben Scotti (Long Branch, N.J.) on waivers yesterday to bring the National Football League club down to the required 43 man maximum. The 49ers acquired Scotti from the Los Angeles Rams last year.

$50,000 UP FOR GRABS — The four competitors in the World Series of Golf, to be played at the Firestone Country Club, in Akron, Ohio, Saturday and Sunday, gang up in this photo with the "victim" of the holdup being Jack Nicklaus, the Masters champ who won the $50,000 prize in 1962 and again in 1963. Jack wasn't eligible last year. The hopefuls are, left to right, Peter Thomson, British Open champ; Gary Player, U.S. Open king and Dave Marr, PGA titleholder. Second prize is $15,000, $7,000 third, with $5,000 fourth.

Nicklaus Favorite In World Series Golf

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Jack Nicklaus never has won a 72-hole tournament at the Firestone Country Club here, but has been installed as the favorite in the fourth annual World Series of Golf at the 7,165-yard course Saturday and Sunday.

First prize in the 36-hole extravaganza is $50,000 and Nicklaus won it the two previous years he qualified for the event.

The World Series is for only the winners of four major tournaments. Nicklaus qualified with his record-breaking performance in the Masters last April. His challengers will be Gary Player of South Africa, the U.S. Open champion; Peter Thomson of Australia, winner of the British

1966 National PGA Tourney Sight Switched

DENVER, Colo., (AP) — The National PGA tournament, scheduled to be played in 1966 at the Columbine Country Club, will be held there in 1967, instead.

The 1966 event will be held at the Firestone Country Club at Akron, Ohio.

The Columbine course was damaged severely by a flood in the South Platte River in June and repair work has been hampered by frequent heavy rains since.

The flood washed out six of the 18 holes. These have been repaired and reseeded, but only the 12 undamaged holes are being used for play now.

Etta B McEllen Cops Feature at Freehold

FREEHOLD—Etta B. McEllen, of Freehold to the wire in 2:00 an eight year old brown mare driven by Ken Huebsch, won the co-feature VIP Lounge Pace at Freehold Raceway yesterday.

Etta B McEllen beat Dickens Pick and Blue Cream to the wire.

Ernie Orgo of Newark made the trophy presentation to Huebsch, who guided the daughter lunate chain of events when the three-year-old bay gelding fell on the turf. Knize, with Richard Carocelli in the sulky, and Bower Bohemia, driven by Ellis Myer, collided to avoid Crimson Ribbon and both drivers were tossed from their seats. All three, however, escaped with minor injuries.

Sals Mite beat Wishful Lobel to the wire in the Borough of Totowa Pace and paid $14.60, $5.80 and $3.40. Wishful Lobel driven by Austin Thomas was second and paid $10.00 and $4.90 while Red Kid $2.80 was third.

It was a good day for long-shot bettors. The 5-1 daily double combination paid $152.20 as Miss Clementine $35.20 won the first race with Snap Reward $18 outdistancing the field in the second race.

Longshot Pop Song driven by Leo Bartellon won the fifth race and paid $19.80 as the six-year-old bay gelding topped the mile in 2:08 1/4. In the sixth race, four-year old bay mare My Jewel, driven by Harry Sowash came on strong in the stretch to win in 2:04 4/5 and returned $13.60, $7.60 and $3.60.

The twin double combination of 3-2-3-5 paid $489.80.

Reds Crush Mets

Luck of the Irish? Not for Jim O'Toole. Irish stew would be more appropriate.

O'Toole, who's been in a stew most of his career and all of this season, fashioned a four-hitter Wednesday night as the Cincinnati Reds crushed the New York Mets and moved to within one-half game of the National League lead.

It was O'Toole's first complete game since opening day and only his second victory of the year, but then inexplicable things happen to a guy who in the past has been kicked by a horse and rapped in the face by a paddle-tennis racket — at a Jewish Center.

A 17-game winner in 1964, O'Toole pitched well enough in spring training to earn the opening day assignment and went out and pitched a complete game against Milwaukee. But he lost. He went out time and time again but was unable to win until June 16 when he was credited with the victory in a game against the Mets.

He hadn't won since when he took a 1-9 record and a 6.82

Wall Oval Swings Into Final Stock Car Racing

WALL TOWNSHIP—Wall Stadium swings into its final stock car racing card of the season Saturday night, with two of the divisional point titles still "up for grabs." Four others were clinched in the two-night racing cards over the Labor Day weekend.

Still undecided is the point championship in the modified driver's division, where Bill McCarthy of Freehold, holds a 32-point edge on runnerup Jim Hoffman of Englishtown, and the sportsman car owner's division where Parker Bohn's number 66 GMC-powered six-cylinder racer holds a 44-point lead over the number 38 sportsman of Dan McLaughlin. Both leaders appear to be safely home but as long as the mathematical chance exists you can't count as champions just yet.

Both wrapped up the sportsman division driver's race over the Labor Day weekend, his second driving title at the Wall oval. He won the modified division crown back in 1953. Two other driving titles were clinched over the weekend.

earned run' average into Wednesday's game against the Mets — and in the first inning was hit on his pitching hand by a pitch thrown by Darrell Sutherland.

"Everything just seemed to go wrong for me this season — like when he hit me on the hand," said O'Toole. "I thought, Holy smoke, there it goes, and I just wondered if I'd be able to throw the baseball the next inning."

He was, and eventually marched off the mound with the organist playing "When Irish Eyes are Smiling" and the Reds in a tie with the idle Los Angeles Dodgers for second place, one-half game behind front-running San Francisco.

The Giants remained on top as Willie Mays hammered his 44th and 45th homer and drove in five runs in a 12-3 walloping of Houston. Fourth-place Milwaukee fell two games behind after a 6-5 loss to Philadelphia and fifth-place Pittsburgh remained four back with a 2-1 decision over St. Louis.

Mays hit a three-run homer in the second inning and connected with one man on in the eighth, lifting his career homer total to 498. Willie McCovey also homered for the Giants while Bob Bolin scattered nine Houston hits, bringing his record to 9-5 with his first complete game of the season.

Johnny Callison and Dick Stuart drove in five of the Phillies' runs, Callison stroking a run-producing single in the third inning and a two-run single in the seventh while Stuart hit a two-run homer in the fourth. Joe Torre and Hank Aaron hit solo homers for the Braves.

Bob Friend allowed the Cardinals only four hits, bringing his record to 7-11, while the Pirates broke a 1-1 tie in the seventh when Del Crandall lashed a double off Ray Sadecki and Gene Alley followed with a single. Sadecki struck out 13 in his seven-inning stint.

Pool Cover Keeps Water Usable Year After Year

Even a drought, such as the one experienced this year, causes no hardships for the swimming pool owner who has equipped his pool with a cover that keeps his water usable year after year.

In fact, pool owners who have been using a Sylvan pool cover for as many as five years report that they are still using the same water. You can, too, with no danger whatsoever to health.

You'll save money, too, because filling a pool each spring costs money—money that you could be saving, because emptying a swimming pool in the winter is unnecessary with a Sylvan pool cover.

Not to mention the convenience. No more leaves, insects and dirt falling into your pool, particularly at this time of year when this problem is most prevalent. No more clogged filters and drains. And you'll save

Nicklaus Holds Golf's $$ Race

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus hasn't been to the bank for two weeks, but his lead in golf's money-winning race is not threatened.

The Professional Golfers Association said yesterday that Nicklaus' total earnings for the year stand at $138,633, and his margin over his closest competitor, Tony Lema, is almost $30,000.

The top 10, with official, unofficial and total winnings:

Nicklaus, $127,445, $11,189, $138,633; Lema, $101,817, $8,063, $109,870; Bill Casper $74,522 $25,292 $99,814; Gary Player, $89,964, $1,098, $91,062; Bruce Devlin, $87,658, $13,265, $17,923. Doug Sanders $63,029, $10,858, $73,887; Dave Marr, $39,050, $8,850, $47,900; Gene Littler, $38,899, $4,304, $43,203; Arnold Palmer, $37,771, $22,829, $60,600; Bruce Crampton, $451,378, $12,250, $463,628.

Mexico's Antonio Palafox Upsets Veteran Chuck McKinley

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Antonio Palafox, the agile tennis matador from Mexico upset former Wimbledon champion Chuck McKinley 9-7, 6-4, 8-6 but Dennis Ralston, America's No. 1 player, fought back from the edge of disaster to gain the quarter-finals yesterday in the National Tennis Championships.

Down one set and trailing 1-3 in the third against Ron Holmberg of Dallas, Ralston stormed back to win 3-6, 6-3, 6-1, 11-9. "Hit it, you idiot," Ralston screamed at himself as he juiced up his fighting qualities to prevent another tennis debacle.

He had been criticized for his poor play in the Davis Cup interzone finals at Barcelona, Spain, last month.

The third-seeded Ralston and the unseeded Palafox went into the round of eight with five other seeded favorites and giant-killer Charlie Pasarell of Puerto Rico.

The survivors include the world's No. 1 ranking amateur, Roy Emerson of Australia; Manuel Santana of Spain, No. 4; Arthur Ashe of Los Angeles, seeded No. 5; former champion Rafael Osuna of Mexico, No. 6, and the eight-seeded Cliff Drysdale of South Africa.

The lower half of the men's draw is scheduled to be played today, with Ralston facing Drysdale and Pasarell meeting Osuna.

The other half will be completed tomorrow with the big match the meeting of Emerson, holder of the U.S., Australian and Wimbledon titles, and Ashe, the U.S. Davis Cup hopeful. Palafox and Santana meet in the other.

"I think I can beat Emerson," Ashe said after winning a 2½-hour thriller from Thomas Koch of Brazil 12-10, 13-11, 10-8.

The Ralston-Holmberg match was a cliff-hanger, keeping a gallery of about 7,500 glued to their seats well into semi-darkness.

Holmberg fought off matchpoints in the 13th and 15th games and another in the 20th before Ralston finally clinched it with a slashing backhand down the line on fourth match point.

Holmberg is a balding, wide-waisted, 27-year-old Texas hotel employee who was rated a fine prospect when he was a youngster in Brooklyn, N.Y. However, a stint in the Army and a hotel job got him away from big time tennis.

With the score 9-9, in the final set, Holmberg had a point for a break, but Ralston saved it with a beautiful low volley from his shoe top that just died over the net.

Lacked Sharpness

McKinley, who quit as America's No. 1 tournament player a year ago for a business career, lacked the sharpness to compete against Palafox, who played one of the best matches of his life.

The nimble-footed Mexican won the first two sets with single service breaks and had a 3-1 lead in the third before McKinley smashed back to level the set. Bullet-like returns brought Palafox the final vital break in the 13th game of the third set.

Ashe was impressive in his 64-game victory over Koch, one of the best players to come out of South America. Ashe lost his service only twice and scored with strong volleys.

Emerson had his hands full with Pierre Barthes of France, fighting off a set point in the second set for a 6-4, 13-11, 6-4 triumph.

Santana won 10-8, 6-1, 6-3 over Marty Riesen of Evanston, Ill. Osuna came back with a 6-0, 6-4, 6-4 victory over Ronald Barnes of Brazil and Drysdale, with a zipping two-fisted backhand, erased Vic Seixas, Wimbledon and U.S. champion, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4.

Pasarell continued to show the excellent form that knocked off second-seeded Fred Stolle of Austria by beating left-handed Keith Carpenter of Canada 6-3, 6-3, 6-3.

Defending champion Maria Bueno of Brazil led four into the quarter-finals of the women's division, beating Mary Ann Eisel of St. Louis 6-2, 6-3. The Brazilian is seeded second behind Margaret Smith of Australia, the Wimbledon winner.

Ann Haydon Jones of Britain, No. 3, crushed Patsy Rippy of Shawnee, Okla., 6-0, 6-0. Billie Jean Moffitt of Long Branch, Calif., No. 5, won over Mimi Arnold of Santa Barbara, Calif., 6-4, 6-2. Seventh-seeded Carole Graebner of Beechwood, Ohio, trounced Peaches Bartkowicz of Detroit 6-4, 6-2.

Miss Smith plays Justina Bricka in the featured third round women's match today. Nancy Richey of Dallas, the main U.S. hope, takes on Tory Ann Fretz of Hollywood, Calif.

FREEHOLD (AP) — The New Jersey Racing Commission announced yesterday that it has demanded a strengthening of security procedures at Freehold Raceway.
 In a statement issued after an investigation at the State's only parimutuel harness track, the commission also said:
 "The severance of the employment by Freehold Raceway of veterinarian Dr. A. L. Gorowoy was ratified as being in the best interest of racing in the State of New Jersey."
 Thomas J. Brogan, chairman of the commission, said the commission had no further comment on Dr. Gorowoy. Earlier, he said Dr. Gorowoy was dismissed because his name was not on a list of officials the Raceway had sent to the commission for approval.
 Brogan said the commission's inquiry would continue.
 In its statement, the commission said it had "reviewed racing conditions at Freehold Raceway prompted by persistent rumors that some drivers were not complying with the rules of racing."
 "As a result of this review," the commission said, "there has been no specific action taken against any individual by the commission at this time."
 "However, the current inquiry has caused the commission to insist upon a strengthening of security procedures and to direct racing officials to continue a close surveillance of the conduct of racing to insure that it remains at all times above suspicion."
 Brogan said the commission reviewed information its investigators got from drivers who had complained of alleged improper conduct of other drivers.
 The commission also questioned John D. Cronin, executive vice president of the Raceway, Brogan said, adding that Cronin was "very helpful."
 Brogan dismissed rumors that the Raceway's twin double and daily double had been mishandled. "We have checked every twin double race including the pictures (photographs of the race finish) and nothing seems out of order," he said.
 Brogan said the commission itself had initiated the inquiry, which was not something which blew up on the outside," he said.
 The other commission members are Hugh Mehorter and John Mulligan. Also present at the meeting were State Deputy Attorney General Evan Jahnke, Perly Gale, an investigator for the U.S. Trotting Association, and State Police Detective George Smith and Robert Green.

Intra-Club Swim At Trade Winds

SEA BRIGHT — Trade Winds Beach Club held its annual intra-club swim meet Sunday, featuring relays for various age groups.
 Kyle Barnett, Frances Covias, Karen Hennig and Susan Heidt formed the winning team for girls 8-and-under event. Joseph Zetkovich, Ricky Hennig and Steven Oxley won for boys' 8-and-under.
 Mary Joe Werle, Shiela Marloff, Nancy Staple and Linda Desch in the 12-and-under group, defeated the second place team by one second. Joe Fuqua, Todd Barnett, Charles Desch, Bob Frick and Keith O'Connor took first place for boys 12-and-under.
 The winning ladies' team was composed of Mrs. Claire Hennis, Mrs. Eleanor Stewart and Mrs. Kenneth Altreuter. On the winning men's team were Kevin Fuqua, Mike Estavanak, Bill Heidt and Kenneth Altreuter.
 Officials for the adult races were Katie Muheren, age 10, head judge; Dickie Chadwick, 8, starter; Cindy Frick, 6, first place judge; and Karen Hennig, 5, second place judge.

MIDDLETOWN — The eighth annual Tricorne Farm Horse Show drew a record entry of 223 participants for its card of 17 classes staged at the farm, Holland Rd., Saturday.
 Participation in the fall Tricorne show is limited to students of the farm's riding school. Participants included those in classes for beginners to advanced riders, including many adults.
 Saturday's events, staged in clear weather, also drew a record spectator crowd.
 Judges were Mrs. S. H. Wood of Middletown and Mrs. A.R. Gilman of Lincoln. Fred Stafford of Tricorne, served as ringmaster.
 The Walker Challenge Trophy was won, in close competition, by Miss Leslie Gottdenker of Dakhurst on her "Short Story." She also rode her horse to victory in the field hunter class, run over the rolling fields of the outside course.
 The Edmond Trophy was won by Miss Robin Sahner of Middletown.
 In a jumping event labeled "Gambler's Choice," Miss Susan Trotter of Red Bank, riding "Thumper," won with a total of 123 points. The object of the event is to clear as many jumps as possible in 90 seconds, with a point value assigned each ob-

8-2 (2)—Simple Gifts.

Now that the summer weekends are history this station presents a pleasant documentary on where people go for off-beat weekends within 200 miles of New York. Many of them will be available during the Fall so you may get some good ideas from this. (Color)

8-3 (7)—Special. "Once Upon a Tractor."

The third in the ambitious series of UN Specials is definitely no worldbeater but fans of zany chase yarns might enjoy some of it. The message is quite obvious in this tale of a farmer who can't get his government to supply him with a new tractor because all the UN funds are being spent on military arms. The cast headed by Alan Bates and Diane Cilento, with cameo bits by Buddy Hackett, Mervyn Douglas and Albert Dekker, does as well as possible considering some of the dialogue.

9-3 (7)—Bewitched. "Which Witch is Which?"

(Repeat.) Highly entertaining episode. Endore (Agnes Moorehead) turns herself into a duplicate of her daughter so that Samantha can be in two places at once. Naturally the complications are many and funny. Elizabeth Montgomery delivers a very good voice imitation of Miss Moorehead.

10-11 (2)—The Defenders. "Moment of Truth."

(Repeat.) It's not the jury duty bribery plot that will intrigue you tonight, but the serio-comic faces of Jack Gifford and Anne Jackson playing a simple minded taxi driver and his wife. They're so earnest and entertaining, you'll forget the contrivance of the story and simply wait for them to come back on camera.

11-12 (3) (11)—Merv Griffin.

Actor Cyril Ritchard and actress Joan Crawford help highlight tonight's show.

11-12 (5) (5)—Movie. "The Lady Killers."

(Repeat.) Two of Britain's best actors, Alec Guinness and Peter Sellers, team in this uproariously funny comedy about a strange crew of bank robbers whose plans are thwarted by a nice old lady.

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS

The Monmouth County Tax Board yesterday heard 84 tax appeals filed by taxpayers in Middletown, Keanburg, Highlands, Sea Bright and this borough.

The biggest appeal—on which the board reserved decision—came from Atlantic Bayview Terrace, Inc., owner of the Highlands Apartments, Ocean Blvd. The firm is seeking reduction in assessment from $1,500,000 to $840,000, on the building.

Vacant Apartments
Although the structure is insured for $1,510,436, realtor John D. Lazarus, testifying for the applicant, said only 37 per cent of the 80 apartment units are rented, the gross monthly rental being $5,845.

Mr. Lazarus estimated it will take two years to rent 90 per cent of the apartment units, at a reduced rental.

MIDDLETOWN CASES

In Middletown cases, the following appeals were stipulated: Connick Laurino, lot 18A, Twinbrooks, from $4,300 to $1,000 on land; lot 70, from $5,000 to $1,000, land, and lot 110, from $5,000 to $1,000, land.

Harmony Lounge, Inc., 1815 Rt. 35, from $77,063 to $16,810, on machinery and equipment, and from $559 to $400 on inventory.

By STEVEN H. SCHEUER

Question— I was a fan of "No Time For Sergeants" since it first went on last season and I thought it was very good primarily because of Sammy Jackson, who plays Will Stockdale. I am sorry to see it go off the air. I heard a story of how Sammy got the part and it sounds rather farfetched. Would you tell us how he got the part?—F. M., Madison, Wis.

Answer— Sammy had a daily radio show and weekly TV show in North Carolina when he found out they were looking for an unknown to play the part of Will Stockdale in a pilot film for a proposed series based on "No Time For Sergeants." He wrote a letter to Jack L. Warner, head of Warner Bros. Studios, and asked for a chance to test for the part. Surprisingly, he was sent for by Warner Bros., tested for the part, and was signed to play Stockdale. It's quite a story and it would be even better if "No Time For Sergeants" had turned out to be a big hit.

Question— I have been waiting for an Alfred Hitchcock drama all summer, which I saw during the early part of the year and loved. It was about a man who impersonated a gas meter reader and entered a woman's house who was having an affair while her husband was away. The plot got very complicated and was great. I can't recall the stars but they were also good. —Mrs. G. M., York, Pa.

Answer— The drama was titled "Misadventure" and guest starred Lola Albright and Barry Nelson. It was repeated once already this season. Now, you'll have to wait until "Hitchcock" goes into syndication before you can see it again.

Question— I am a Ma and Pa Kettle fan and I wish they would show some of their funny movies on TV. I think Marjorie Main and Percy Kilbride were great in these comedies.—T. K., Glendin, W. Va.

Answer— All the "Ma and Pa Kettle" films have been made available for TV showings. "The Egg and I," which introduced the characters to the screen, has been on TV for years and still remains the best of the lot, in my opinion.

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS

The Monmouth County Tax Board yesterday heard 84 tax appeals filed by taxpayers in Middletown, Keanburg, Highlands, Sea Bright and this borough.

The biggest appeal—on which the board reserved decision—came from Atlantic Bayview Terrace, Inc., owner of the Highlands Apartments, Ocean Blvd. The firm is seeking reduction in assessment from $1,500,000 to $840,000, on the building.

Vacant Apartments
Although the structure is insured for $1,510,436, realtor John D. Lazarus, testifying for the applicant, said only 37 per cent of the 80 apartment units are rented, the gross monthly rental being $5,845.

Mr. Lazarus estimated it will take two years to rent 90 per cent of the apartment units, at a reduced rental.

MIDDLETOWN CASES

In Middletown cases, the following appeals were stipulated: Connick Laurino, lot 18A, Twinbrooks, from $4,300 to $1,000 on land; lot 70, from $5,000 to $1,000, land, and lot 110, from $5,000 to $1,000, land.

Harmony Lounge, Inc., 1815 Rt. 35, from $77,063 to $16,810, on machinery and equipment, and from $559 to $400 on inventory.

Freight Brothers, New St., from $11,028 to $5,976, machinery and equipment.

Miles Shoes, the shoe department in Two Guys, Rt. 35, from $6,755 to $4,255, inventory.

County Will Operate Ocean Township Library

FREEHOLD — Even before it now, the county is designated as has its own twin sites, the area library for purposes of federal Monmouth County Library will assistance totaling $37,280 a be operating a new library facility.

Under an agreement with Ocean Township, the county Board of Library Commissioners will staff and stock the Ocean Township Library which was begun two months ago. The building, estimated to cost $250,000, has been awarded $50,000 federal aid.

Miss Julia Killian, county library director, said the building will be operated as a county branch and will be open to all residents of member municipalities. Part of the expense to be assumed by the county will be offset by a reduction in bookmobile costs for the township and surrounding area.

As a unit, the Monmouth County Library will be known upon its expansion as a "regional" library because its several facilities will serve various regions and its reference center in the coastal building will serve the county as a whole.

The difference between a regional and an area library may be a matter of semantics, Miss Killian agrees.

The New Jersey Library Association in urging development of an integrated statewide library system envisions Monmouth as one of 22 area libraries. Even

"ASTRO-GUIDE" By Ceean

Friday, September 10 Present—For You and Yours... Things quiet down considerably today and you can relax and enjoy life once more, without complications that plagued you earlier in the week. Relief from some financial restrictions seems indicated, so you may want to splurge a little. Keep all promises made to loved ones.

The Day Under Your Sign

Aries, Born Mar. 21 to Apr. 19 You gain stature in the eyes of one you love by an extraordinary thoughtful act. Taurus, April 20 to May 20 By-pass so-called bargains if you aren't sure of their real value. Gemini, May 21 to June 21 Money is meant for spending but that doesn't necessarily mean all at once. Cancer, June 22 to July 21 Do something to take your mind off your worries. A romance could be the solution. Leo, July 22 to Aug. 21 Give support to someone who is working for a worthwhile cause in which you believe. Virgo, Aug. 22 to Sept. 22 Influences are variable, but mostly on the optimistic side—at least concerning money.

1965 Dinner Stated

FREEHOLD — The annual dinner of the Monmouth County Planning Board will be held Thursday Sept. 30 in the Berkeley-Carter Hotel, Asbury Park.

D. Louis Tonti, executive director of the New Jersey Highway Authority, will be guest speaker.

As it happens, West plays the seven of clubs, and dummy wins with the jack. South returns to his hand with a diamond and leads his other low club.

This time West must play his ace. He gets only a low club from South and a low club from the dummy. South can get a second club trick with his king and can then get to dummy with a diamond to cash the queen of clubs, making the contract.

South cannot be sure that West will have to play his ace of clubs on the first or second trick, or even that West has the ace of clubs. It costs nothing to try; if the attempt fails, there is always time to play for the 3-3 break.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 1 NT (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes. You hold: Spades—Q J 10 9. Hearts—K 9 8 6. Diamonds—8 6 3. Clubs—A 7. What do you say?

Answer: Bid two clubs, the Stayman Convention. If partner has a major suit of four or more cards, he will bid it and you will raise to game in that suit. If partner has no major suit, he will bid two diamonds and you will then jump to three notrump.

Suit Against School Board

FREEHOLD — A Matawan man brought suit against the Matawan Regional Board of Education here yesterday for injuries his son suffered in a gymnasium class at the school Oct. 1, 1964.

The action in Superior Court was filed by James C. Hynes, 143 Deerfield Ln., Matawan, for medical expenses and on behalf of his son James W. Hynes, for his injuries.

The suit charges that the boy was hurt in an accident which resulted from use of gymnasium equipment. Also named as defendants, charged with negligent supervision of the equipment, were two teachers, Dieter J. Johnson and William George.

Freehold Charity Ball To Be a Gala Affair

FREEHOLD — From 6:30 to 9 p.m. Saturday, the scene at the Raceway here will be frantically hectic as the Fourth Annual Charity Ball committee readies the grandstand and patio for an expected 2,000 at the Greater Freehold Area Hospital benefit. "Getting the grandstand and patio area ready for dancing always looks impossible at 6:30 (when the racing day ends) but in the short span of two and a half hours the job gets done," said Arthur Schreiber, general chairman of the event.

The Gay 90's is this year's theme, and Ray Maher and his committee will begin assembling and displaying their two months of work. It is the decorations committee that is responsible for the major changes.

Sammy Kaye's bandstand will be erected simultaneously on the patio.

Following on the heels of the decorations and the raceway clean up crew will be the Jaycees, who will be under the supervision of Abe Littenberg.

A special cake booth, to be manned by Joseph Saker and Fred Gibson, will sell 175 cakes and pies all baked and donated by local women.
