

MRHS Rewards Top Seniors at Assembly

The Daily Register, Red Bank-Middletown, N.J., Thursday, June 10, 1971 5

NEW SHREWSBURY — Monmouth Regional High School held its annual Senior Awards Assembly yesterday.

Following opening ceremonies, out-going Student Council President Roy Moosa, presided at the installation of Paul Spencer as President for the 1971-72 school year.

Mr. Walter Heerschap, chess team advisor, presented plaques to Edwin Battistella, Stuart Pescoe, Jeff Barr, William Reents and Eric Litman for participating on the 1970-71 team. William Rodgers received a certificate of participation as an alternate. (The team won the northern division of the Shore High School Chess League and placed third in the league overall. The team also placed fourth in the Northeast High School Regional Championship and fifth in the New Jersey Chess Federation High School Championship).

Champs Introduced
Joseph Lister, director of athletics, introduced members of the golf team, Shore Conference "B" champions, members of the Tennis team.

Shore Conference "B", Central Jersey Group III champions, and members of the boys and girls track teams, both of which are Shore Conference "B" champions.

Mr. Lister also announced the Monmouth Regional Boosters Club Scholarships awarded to Bruce Gerrity and John Horne.

The other scholarships awarded were:

The Combined Women's Club Scholarships — for college, Thomas Bien, and for post high school training, Brenda Warren; the Lillian Raye Scholarship (awarded by the Tinton Falls Teachers Association), Elaine Nelson and Diane Constantini; The Monmouth Regional Music Makers Scholarships, Carol Ann Mastasio and Marjorie Schulman and the Eatontown Lions Club Scholarship, Patricia Milbauer.

The Army Merit Scholarship, Keith Varner; the Army R.O.T.C. Scholarship, Paul Spiro; the American Cyana-

Brewer Jury Finds Guilt in Jail Escape

FREEHOLD — After deliberating for 21 minutes yesterday, a jury found convicted murderer Daniel Brewer, 20, of Neptune guilty of escaping from the Monmouth County jail April 5.

That Brewer escaped from the new $3.1 million complex in Freehold Township was not an issue in the two-day trial as even Brewer himself admitted on the witness stand that he did escape.

A remark by Assistant County Prosecutor Thomas J. Smith Jr. in his summation to the jury prompted state Public Defender Mark Cohen to move unsuccessfully for a mistrial.

"I'm not going to waste your time," Mr. Smith told the jury. "Mr. Brewer has done enough of that."

At that point, Mr. Cohen objected and Judge McGowan excused the jury. Mr. Smith defended his right to make the statement. "It would be fair for the jury in deliberations to discuss if the defendant has taken time unnecessarily, particularly when he takes the stand and admits all the elements of what the state is seeking to prove," he said.

Rights Upheld
However Mr. Cohen argued that a defendant has a right to a trial by jury and a right to take the stand on his own behalf.

"The prosecutor might think this was frivolous, but I think it (his statement) was prejudicial. The attitude of the state is that Mr. Brewer didn't deserve a trial," he said asking for a mistrial.

Mr. Smith countered that Brewer admitted the escape in this trial and in his murder trial and there was no factual dispute. "I think the court should order a directed verdict of guilty," he said.

When the jury returned to the courtroom, Judge McGowan instructed its members to disregard Mr. Smith's remark.

"We don't consider a trial a waste of time," said the judge. Every defendant is presumed innocent unless and until he is found guilty, he said.

Judge McGowan later set Aug. 6 for sentencing for Brewer. The charge of escape carries a maximum penalty of $1,000 fine or three years imprisonment or both.

Brewer testified that there was a discussion with jail Lt. Edward J. Aikens about the jail operation and how tight the security was. He attributed to the officer a statement that if a door were opened, a light would go on in the control center.

The officer also said that if a person could get out, he should be rewarded, maintained Brewer.

"I felt that I deserved to be out," added the defendant.

Through Window
"Did you leave the jail through a window," asked Mr. Smith.

"Yes," replied Brewer.

Former jail guard Marvin W. Jackson, who resigned from the county job June 1, testified that he had adjusted the television set in the maximum security wing about 7 p.m. April 5 and was walking in the guard's corridor when an inmate called out to him that someone was sick in the cellblock.

Mr. Jackson said he opened the door and was jumped by Brewer. "I was grabbed by the neck and was lifted off the floor," he said, adding that Brewer told him that he wouldn't be hurt.

The former guard said his hands and feet were tied and he was blindfolded. He said he heard "a lot of noise, smashing of glass and steel."

An unidentified inmate said that it was a "damn shame, that they were not going to get away with it," he said.

Inmate Aids Him
Mr. Jackson said he was able to see "feet" going through the corridor window. A short time later an inmate

Long Branch — A transportation letter of credit worth $2,000 has been approved for Long Branch for its youth conservation and recreational development programs, Mayor Henry R. Cioffi said yesterday.

Richard J. Sullivan, commissioner of the state Department of Environmental Protection, and Alfred Guido, program administrator for the state, said the money will be used to transport disadvantaged youths to state parks and other approved recreational and cultural facilities.

Pat T. Ravó, the city's director of Recreation, Parks and Conservation, said a contract has been signed with Boro Busses for trips to Bass River, Allaire and Batsto for youths under 21.

The bus outings get under way July 2 with two bus loads making the trip to Bass River. Other trips to the state forest are planned for July 19 and 26 and Aug. 3 and 26.

Outings to Batsto Village, which contains restored buildings and a museum, will be July 22 and Aug. 11. The trip to Allaire State Park is set for Aug. 17.

A Winner's Problem: What to Do With $1 Million

By TOM CANNON
TRENTON (AP) — "You don't plan on winning a million dollars. I don't know. I'm going to seek professional advice."

These words were spoken May 26 by 30-year-old David C. Moon, a machine operator from Mercerville shortly after he had won $1 million in the state lottery.

But if Moon is counting on much "professional advice" from the state on what to do with his money, he'll be disappointed.

"We tell each winner pretty much the same thing," says

Ralph Batch, executive director of the State Lottery Commission.

"He can expect to receive advice and counsel from friends, relatives and strangers, some of it will be good advice and some will be self-serving. But the wisest thing to do is for him to place the money in a safe place until he has a chance to fully analyze the situation," Batch says.

"Safe Place"
"We tell them to let the money stay there in the 'safe place' at least 30 days or to put it in a bank before doing anything," Batch continued. "We also tell them to get in touch with Internal Revenue so they are aware of their tax liabilities before they spend the money and don't have enough left to meet their tax obligations."

STATE HOUSE SCENE

Moon was so shocked by the news that he had won a million dollars that he passed out and had to be revived with ammonia. But when he regained his composure, he showed that he was smart enough to know that he needed help in dealing with his new wealth.

Judging by the looks of some of the other big winners in other lottery drawings, many will need a lot more help than Moon.

Batch was asked if he felt the state had a moral obligation to offer some kind of counseling service, even if it was no more than a basic economics lecture.

"I think it would be presumptuous of us to tell someone how to spend his money," he replied.

Not Specific

And he said, "I think someone might be critical of us if we were more specific in suggesting how a person might spend his money."

Batch was especially "fearful" of getting into the position where the state might end up recommending purchase of certain stocks, for instance, which might turn out to be highly speculative.

"In an unusual situation, we could inform them of the interest that could accrue to them if they left their winnings in a bank," Batch says.

Asked what he would do if any lottery winner specifically asked the state for financial advice, Batch said, "We would probably advise them to put their money in a bank until they evaluate the situation and make their own determination. Let it bring in interest while they decide."

State Sen. William V. Musto, D-Hudson, has been advocating a state lottery for many years and is generally considered the father of New Jersey's lottery.

He agrees pretty much with Batch's position that the state is limited in the advice it can offer.

"The first thing we ought to tell them (the winners) is to go see their family lawyer or an accountant or a banker," Musto said.

"But if you do much more than that, you're going to get into recommending specific things and then you're going to get into trouble," the senator added.

Driver Suspended, Fined on 3 Counts

HOLMDEL — Municipal Court Judge Seymour R. Kleinberg has fined Peter Schloeder, 52 Harding Road, Red Bank, $245 and revoked his driver's license for two years on charges of driving while under the influence of alcohol, driving with an expired license and driving without a registration in possession.

Assessed on charges of failing to keep to the right and delinquent return of summons were Roger Stone, Elizabeth, $70; Leroy Jackson, East Orange, $25, and Linda J. Milas, Bayonne, $20.

Leonard Chavkin, Mountaintide, was fined $50 on charges of leaving the scene of an accident and traveling too fast for conditions.

Assessed $40 on charges of driving without a license in possession and delinquent return of summons was Herbert M. Douglas, 98 Atlantic Ave., Matawan.

Fined $25 each were Lasco Brown, 228 Shrewsbury Ave., Red Bank, charges of driving without a registration in possession and delinquent return of summons, and Julius S. Christensen, 474 Sycamore Ave., Shrewsbury, charges of hitchhiking and delinquent return of summons.

Assessed on speeding charges were Joseph Dellisanti, Harrison, $25, and Jeffrey Feingold, Jackson, and James Hengeveld, Wayne, $20 each. Mr. Hengeveld paid an additional $10 fine on a charge of delinquent return of summons.

Fined $15 each were Stanley Kaminsky, Belleville, careless driving charge; the Berg Agency, 3026 Rt. 35, charge of failing to comply with the township sign ordinance, and Patrick Sappo, 11

Fox Hunt Road, charge of failing to curb his dog.

Assessed $10 each were John Stanberry, Old Bridge, charge of driving with defective tires, and Chester Terplevich, 3 Grace Ave., Port Monmouth, charge of following too closely.

Drawing suspended $10 fines were George Olmezer, Metuchen, charge of following too closely, and Anthony Baczewski, 23 White St., Shrewsbury, charge of failing to comply with a demolition order. Both paid $5 court costs.

Robert Roman, 17 Monmouth St., Hazlet, received a suspended $50 fine on a charge of loitering and creating a disturbance while under the influence of alcohol. He paid $25 costs.

Rumson School Expansion Hearing Slated Tuesday

RUMSON - A public meeting on the upcoming June 23 referendum regarding school expansion will be held next Tuesday.

Herbert Zydney, facilities committee chairman of the Board of Education announced that the meeting is slated for 8 p.m. at Forrestdale School.

Board members, along with representatives of the architectural firm of Clauss and Nolan who designed the proposed $2,480,000 project, will be on hand to describe in detail the plans for off-site expansion.

Model Shown
A model and plans for the proposed building are currently on display at Forrestdale School.

Mr. Zydney encouraged attendance of all Rumson residents at this meeting.
In another announcement,

Mr. Zydney said that the board's facilities committee report regarding school expansion, is now available from board members and at the school library.

The report includes information on building alternatives based on studies made over a period of 15 months, and outlines a history of the school situation in recent years, as well as specific recommendations of the facilities committee.

The board approved a resolution authorizing renewal of a one-year lease with Educational Industrial Facilities, Inc., for the 13 temporary classrooms currently on the Forrestdale-Deane - Porter? School site. Cost of the rental continues the same as the past school year, $10,110.

Two appointments to the summer school staff were announced. Eugene Feury was named shop teacher, while Miss Constance Gryczk was approved summer school art teacher.

The summer school program will cover five weeks, with periods of 50 minutes daily for each course, thus providing a total of over 20 hours of instruction in each area.

Courses are open to all pupils in the area who have completed second grade. Registration will take place June 18, 2 to 4 p.m., and June 22 and 23, 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., in Unit B behind the Forrestdale School.

Closing Date Set
The board gave formal approval of school closing on June 18, and authorized the appointment of two new teachers for the coming year. They are Mrs. Judith A. Hart, instrumental music and Donald Lepore, general and vocal music. Salary adjustments were authorized for Miss Gillian Neill and James Asbell. A sabbatical leave of absence, at half pay, was authorized for Thomas Jacobus to attend the Media Institute of the University of Bridgeport for the 1971-72 school year.

He will be trained for the development and administration of a media program, and upon completing the course, will be able to provide in-service training for teachers here and to coordinate the audio-visual materials program.
Board member Mrs. Jean

Kelley reported that interviews for a principal at Forrestdale School have begun. Out of 100 applicants, a committee composed of faculty, and board members, as well as Stewart Davis, acting principal, has chosen seven for final interviews.

Sam Chevalier, newly appointed to the board, was named to fill vacancies on various committees created by the resignation of his predecessor, Dr. Louis Melacci. He will serve on the community relations, finance, cafeteria and negotiations committees.

Heroin Possession, Distribution Denied

FREHOLD - Fifteen persons pleaded innocent to charges of possession and distribution of heroin in Long Branch.

They were arrested in a drug raid centered on Long Branch May 13. All were arraigned before Superior Court Judge M. Raymond McGowan.

The fifteen denied possession and distribution of heroin in Long Branch on these dates: (All are residents of Long Branch except as noted.)

Charlie Cooper, 80 Grant Court, March 12 and March 18; Jacqueline Florke, 146 1/2 Branchport Ave., April 8; James Gibson, 115 N. Fifth Ave., April 1; Daythan Hester, 22 Monmouth Ave., March 23 and April 6; Roger Lewis, Brighton Ave., March 18.

Leslie MacIlwraith, Garfield Court, March 17; June Olsen, 44 Riverlawn Dr., Fair Haven, March 6 and March 8; Frederick Staten, Long Branch Ave., March 11; Gary

Towler, 148 Fifth Ave., March 26, who also denied aiding and abetting in the possession and distribution of heroin April 5; Joseph Turpin, 255 Potter Ave., May 3 and May 5; Jimmy Williams, Joline Ave., April 11;

John Werner, Sairs Ave., March 17; John Williams, Joline Ave., April 5, March 11, April 2 and April 13 and O'Neal Davis, Seaview Ave., Aug. 13. Raymond Werner, 523 Sair Ave., denied aiding and abetting in the possession and distribution of heroin April 21.

Other Pleas
Clarence Thornton, Long Branch, denied charges of malicious tampering with railways Dec. 31 by cutting and breaking electric wires of the Central Railroad in Colts Neck; grand larceny Feb. 17 of 15 rolls of copper wire valued at $300 from the same railroad in Long Branch; receiving the stolen property and malicious tampering with railways.

Bond Sale Planned By Holmdel Committee

HOLMDEL - Advertising for bids on the sale of two separate bond issues amounting to more than $1 million was approved last night by the Township Committee in a brief special meeting.

Bids on both issues will be returnable at the committee's regular June 21 meeting.

A new $441,500 issue authorized in the bonding ordinance consolidates three older issues, including $152,000 for road work in Old Manor and Newstead, $228,000 for the municipal office expansion program, and $61,500 for sewers in Cherry Hill.

The other bond sale will cover purchase of $665,000 for sewers in Old Manor and Newstead. Bond anticipation notes for $700,000 for the Old Manor sewers were authorized nearly four years ago. Of that amount, $35,000 has since been retired.

51 Join Congregation Pilgrimage to Israel

LONG BRANCH — Rabbi Rafael G. Grossman of Congregation Brothers of Israel, here, has just returned from Israel having led the third annual pilgrimage to that country sponsored by the congregation. Fifty-one people participated in the pilgrimage.

Among the highlights of the tour was the adoption by Congregation Brothers of Israel of a children's synagogue at Kiryat Malachi in Israel. Kiryat Malachi is a community of Jews who had recently arrived from North Africa and Eastern European countries.

The synagogue in Israel is to be known as Brothers of Israel. To commemorate this event, the rabbi brought with him from Long Branch a Torah scroll which was formally presented at ceremonies to the children's synagogue. Eugene Moss, president of Congregation Brothers of Israel, extended greetings to the community of Kiryat Malachi during the dedication ceremonies, on behalf of Congregation Brothers of Israel. The Torah was placed into the ark of the new children's synagogue by Irving Lasky who is gabbai of Congregation Brothers of Israel. Many of Israel's leading rabbis were also present at the ceremonies and participated in a special religious service.

In Israel, the group were the special guests of Teddy Kollek, mayor of Jerusalem, at a reception given at the Citadel of David in the old city. The reception was in observance of Israel's 23d anniversary of Independence. Honored guest was Israeli Defense Minister, Moshe Dayan.

The pilgrimage began in Jerusalem and toured all of the holy sites, having conducted services at the Western Wall and visited many of Israel's educational, medical and government institutions.

Participating in the pilgrimage were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Bregman, Mrs. Dorothy Burnhardt, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Eserner, Benjamin Feld, Mrs. David Feld, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fleischer, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Forman, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fox, Mr. and Mrs. Nat Geller, Samuel Goldberg, Mrs. Monroe Gorelick, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Gruber, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Guttenplan, Sol Hoffer, Mrs. Isidor Horowitz, Miss Ruth Hyman, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Jaffe, Mrs. Adele Kates, Mrs. Jean Kirschner, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Lasky, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lekach, Mr. and Mrs. Al Matlaw, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Moss, Mrs. Molly Nestor, Mr. and Mrs. Morton Pomerantz, Mrs. Morris Radler and daughters, Toni and Cindy, Mr. and Mrs. William Ratner, Mrs. Nat Selnik, Mrs. Frances Sklar, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Siegel, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Tobman, Mrs. Morris Yankow and Mrs. Samuel Zuckman.

Miss Tuzzio Is Honored By Club

LONG BRANCH — More than 150 persons witnessed the presentation by the Exchange Club of its first annual Book of Golden Deeds Award to Miss Angelina Tuzzio, director of social services at Monmouth Medical Center.

The ceremony highlighted the club's annual dinner-dance in West End Manor, and brought recognition to Miss Tuzzio for her efforts in assisting hospital patients in the solution of family, financial and rehabilitative problems generated by their illness. She joined the social services department staff in 1947 and has been its director since 1953.

Rabbi Jacob Friedman is club president. Others paying tribute to her were Mayor Henry R. Clouff; Dr. Otto Lehmann, MMC medical staff member, and George J. Bartel, former administrator of the center. The Rev. Joseph Doino of Holy Trinity Catholic Church gave the invocation and benediction.

Joseph E. Slianni, Exchange District Director, was chairman of the affair, assisted by Seymour Bronson, City Councilman George P. Hoffman and dinner chairman John J. Plancey.

R. Rubinstein Is Bar Mitzvah

MATAWAN TOWNSHIP — Richard Rubinstein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Rubinstein, was called to the Torah as a Bar Mitzvah at Temple Shalom, here.

Among those attending the Sabbath Morning services were Richard's grandparents, Mrs. Sarah Rubinstein, Matawan, and Howard Maxfield, West Orange.

A seventh grade student at the Lloyd Road Middle School here, Richard is interested in all sports. He plays Senior League baseball.

Paul Winters' Bar Mitzvah Set

MATAWAN TOWNSHIP — Paul Winters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Winters, 11 Cresci Blvd., Hazlet, will make his Bar Mitzvah at Temple Beth Ahm on Saturday at 9:30 a.m.

Paul, who is a seventh grade student at the Raritan Valley School in Hazlet, is active in scouting. His favorite sports are bowling, basketball and football. He is also interested in model rocketry and fishing.

There will be a reception at home after the services.

Bas Mitzvah Set Friday

MATAWAN TOWNSHIP — Hope Gross, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Gross, 28 Deborah Lane, will make her Bas Mitzvah at Temple Beth Ahm on Friday at 8:45 p.m.

Hope is a seventh grade student at the Lloyd Road School here. Her main interests include swimming, baseball, and the latest music. Hope is a class representative to the student council. She is also an active member of the pro-USY.

Confirm Class of 19 At Temple Shalom

MATAWAN TOWNSHIP — The largest class ever to be confirmed at Temple Shalom, the Reform Congregation here, conducted a creative Havdallah Service. The 19 youngsters have completed 10th grade of religious school education.

The confirmands for 1971 are: Paul Bogdonoff, Todd Rosen, Daniel Cohen, Steve Faer, Mona Fischer, Alan Fisher, Sheri Glaser, Candy Gordon, David Jachter, David Karten, Joyce Kostriksky, Steven Murray, Phillip Rippe, Francine Rudoff, Jonathan Schwartz, Jerri Shankler, Steward Shavell, Amy-Jo Piltch and Steven Temes.

They were awarded mementoes of the occasion by David A. Wolfe, president of the congregation, Hart Tandler, president of the Men's Club, and Mrs. Howard Cohen, incoming president of the Sisterhood.

After the service, which was written by the confirmands under the leadership of Rabbi Henry M. Weiner, there was a collation for members of the congregation attending.

Later the same evening, a Confirmation Dance was held in the temple for confirmands and their guests. Confirmation is traditionally held to coincide with the holiday of Shavuoth which commemorates the receiving of the Ten Commandments.

Fort Fire Chief Has Retired

FT. MONMOUTH - Irving S. Van Brunt, fire chief here since 1964, has retired after 33 years and seven months of federal service.

A native of Eatontown, Chief Van Brunt lives with his wife, the former Margaret Erving of Eatontown, and an 18-year-old son, the youngest of their six children, at 901 Armstrong Blvd., Oakhurst. All of the other children, four daughters and a son, are married. The Van Brunts have eight grandchildren.

Chief Van Brunt was awarded the Meritorious Service Medal for Valor for his actions in fighting a Christmas fire in Ft. Monmouth family quarters in 1967. He injured his knee in that action, and a recent reinjury contributed to his decision to retire.

When he entered Civil Service in 1937, Chief Van Brunt was appointed chief guard officer at the fort. He became chief of plant protection for the Signal Corps in World War II, commanding more than 1,000 men in 400 areas of the East.

After the war, he transferred to the fire department here and served as crew chief and assistant chief before succeeding the late Edmund Crelin as Chief.

In addition to his fort duties, Chief Van Brunt has been chief of the Eatontown department. He also is a member of the Honorary Exempt Firemen's Association, and has headed the Eatontown First Aid Squad.

Chief Van Brunt plans to explore the possibility of moving to Florida, but he expects to spend his summers at the Jersey shore.

Brookdale Institute For Teachers Set

LINCROFT - Brookdale Community College has opened its summer institute for teachers of minority-group students.

It will accept applications for participation in the institute from students in senior college or graduate school departments of educators at four-year institutions which have a large percentage of minority group students.

The institute runs from June 28 to July 23 and is structured to give each participant a personal taste of life in disadvantaged areas through the eyes of his own student-tutor from the area.

The institute is intended to demonstrate that the challenge of education for the disadvantaged is a unique problem requiring fresh thinking and new solutions.

Participants selected are eligible for a weekly stipend of $75 plus $15 per week for each eligible dependent.

Information and registration material can be obtained from the institute director, Edward Davis, coordinator of Brookdale's Community Learning Center, at 95 Liberty St., Long Branch.

Library Exhibit By Husband, Wife

RED BANK - The public library will have a dual exhibit provided by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Sand of Red Bank.

Mrs. Sand, known professionally as Sand Alice, is exhibiting a group of her small oils. Among the paintings are "Daybreak," "Shoreline II," "The Loner," and "Earth to Sky." The paintings have in common the "Colorist" tradition and the treatments of the subjects vary from abstract to impressionist.

Mr. Sand is exhibiting samples from his collection of antique snuff, patch and stamp boxes, made in the United States and in Europe.

The patch boxes were used because many people in the 18th Century had skin blemishes due to smallpox and were, attached to their skin, small black silk patches to cover them. Later on, even without blemishes, people frequently wore the patches. In Mr. Sand's collection are several rare patch boxes, including an English silver hall-marked miniature of a Chipendale chest.

Stamp boxes, used for postage stamps, came into use in the middle of the last century. Among the earliest items in the group are two crystal stamp boxes with silver covers made in Birmingham, England, about 1840, and one by Gorham in the United States, about 1860.

VFW Plans Anniversary Open House

MIDDLETOWN - The Veterans of Foreign Wars Post and its Ladies Auxiliary will mark their more than 25 years of service to the community with an open house Saturday from 3 p.m. to 1 a.m. in the post home, 1000 Rt. 35.

Invitations to the affair, which will feature a buffet and dancing to the music of organist Bob Schanck, have been sent to dignitaries on the national, state, county and local levels.

Edward Wise, the unit's second commander, and Dora Tarnow will greet charter members, who will be awarded longevity pins.

The post and auxiliary were instituted on June 17, 1945, by Joseph White, past department commander. Melvin Leek served as first commander.

Youth Orchestra Concert Sunday

LINCROFT - The Monmouth Youth Orchestra, under the sponsorship of Brookdale Community College, will give a concert at the college Sunday.

The orchestra was organized 11 years under the sponsorship of the Shore Area Intermediate Band and Orchestra Association.

It has played a three-month season each year, but this year, with Brookdale's sponsorship the orchestra has been able to extend its season.

The concert will be at 3 p.m. in the Brookdale Theater, Building D, on the campus here.

The orchestra consists of 70 students ranging from the third grade to high school level from Monmouth and Ocean counties.

Red Bank Regional Courses Start July 1

RED BANK - Three courses will be offered at Red Bank Regional High School beginning July 1, through Aug. 12. All courses will run for 12 class sessions, Mondays and Thursdays from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m.

There are no charges for two of the courses: adult basic education and "English As a Second Language." The High School Equivalency (GED) course costs $5.

Application forms were mailed to area residents by the Red Bank Community Adult School. Application for the summer courses can be made by mail, or in person June 21 and 22 from 7:30 to 9 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

CPC Growth Expected

By ROGER E. SPEAR
Q - CPC International seems to be standing still in a rising market. Our 420 shares, costing $3,000, are an outgrowth of the Best Foods merger in 1958. From what I can determine the company is in good shape financially with a satisfactory growth rate. We are in our eighties and wish to leave a sound portfolio for our heirs. Can you offer any suggestions? - C.E.

Successful Investing

A - The 51 per cent recovery gain in CPC shares is right in line with the rebound in the Dow Industrial Average from the 1970 lows. Although shares have moved sideways since the mid-March recovery high; this is to be expected after a seven-month uninterrupted price climb. Price action for the remainder of the year should be above-average, based on projected operating results for 1971.

In the first quarter of the current year, CPC reported a 12.6 per cent increase in sales to $352 million. Higher prices for corn - reflecting the ravages of last summer's corn blight - helped to restrict earnings improvement to 4 per cent. However, CPC has raised prices for its corn-based products which should aid margins in the remaining quarters. Strong growth is anticipated in foreign operations which now contribute over 50 per cent to sales and income.

In addition, recent acquisitions have broadened CPC's product base and also should aid profits. Shares should be retained for gradual appreciation.

Q - I hold Madison Fund and each March receive a distribution which is partly from income and partly capital gains. This year the income dividend was omitted in the March payment. Am I right? - S.W.

A - Since 1968, Madison Fund's March distributions have included a decreasing amount from investment income: 29 cents in 1968, 15 cents in 1969 and 11 cents last year. For those same years, capital gains have totaled: $2.77, $3.11 and $1.43. The 75 cents which was distributed this March is understood to have come from accumulated long-term capital gains. Exact tax status of the distribution will be announced later in the year.

Breakfast Planned At St. Benedict's

HOLMDEL - On Sunday, St. Benedict's Rosary Altar Society, here, will hold its 12th annual Communion Breakfast immediately after the 8:30 mass in the school cafeteria. The Rev. William Bausch, associate pastor of St. Benedict's, will be the guest speaker.

The installation of new officers and the "Rosarian of the Year" Award will also take place at the breakfast.

Anyone interested in tickets should call Mrs. George Clancy, Avondale Lane, Matawan Township.

MORE NEW PIANOS

VIENNA (AP) - Piano production rose by 20 per cent in Austria during 1970, according to the Austrian Federal Press and Information Service.

About 85 per cent of Austrian pianos are exported, with West Germany buying most, the United States second, and followed by Great Britain, Italy, France, Sweden and South Africa.

Support for Sen. Case Bill on Jewish Visas Gains

LONG BRANCH — Sen. Clifford P. Case introduced a bill in the U.S. Senate last month which would make special visas available to 30,000 Jews in the Soviet Union for emigration into this country.

In Sen. Case's absence at a rally for Soviet Jewry at Congregation B'nai Shalom, the senator's executive assistant, Stephen Small, read a statement which also said that 29 other senators had joined Sen. Case in this humanitarian effort.

Sen. Harrison A. Williams, who was expected to be the keynote speaker at the rally which was attended by about 150 persons, sent a letter to the general chairman, Milton Wilkatz, expressing his "unwavering support for the cause of Soviet Jewry."

"Through these rallies, through the efforts of all of us, the message does get through to the Soviet Union — Let my people go," the letter read.

It was noted by several of the guest speakers, that since the first of this year, 6,000 Jews from the Soviet Union have entered Israel, more than four times the number allowed to leave in 1970.

Although the Monmouth-Ocean County Council of Jewish War Veterans, the sponsoring organization, notified all Jewish organizations in the area, more than 150 persons were expected to attend.

Those that attended signed a petition which Rabbi Albert L. Raab expects to give to the Soviet Ambassador in Washington protesting the treatment of Jews in the Soviet Union.

Rabbi Raab, who is president of B'nai Shalom and of the New Jersey State Board of Rabbis, said at rally, "We dare not be silent."

"Let my people go was the clarion call of ancient Egypt, but it was silent in the 1930s and 1940s. We were the people of silence."

"We must be a spearhead for a demand for change in this country and especially in the Soviet Union whose policy towards Jews must be reversed," he stated.

Throughout the evening there was a constant reference to freedom for all peoples throughout the world.

Support is given by Rev. E. O. Megill of St. Luke's United Methodist Church, here, spoke as a representative of the Long Branch and Area Ministerium and supported the petition. He said, "the greatest human he get his grandson out of Russia."

Other speakers included Rabbi Aaron Leikowitz, Rabbi Emeritus of Temple Beth Miriam, Elberon, Long Branch Councilman Samuel Teicher, and Harry Levin, commander of the area JWV.

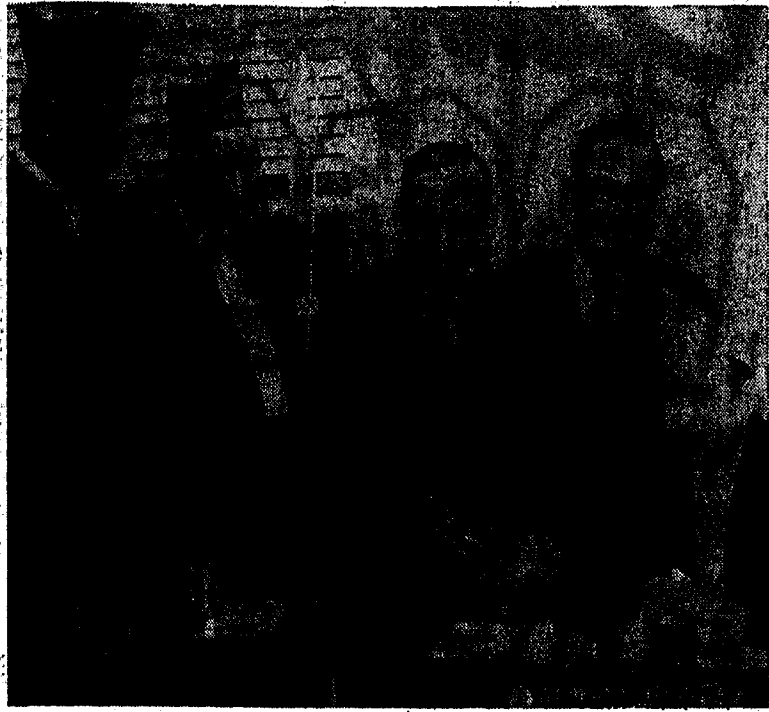

Mayor Henry R. Claffi, who represented the people of Long Branch, quoted a line from a speech that President John F. Kennedy never made. It read: "Freedom is more than resolution. He is not free who is free alone."

Some of the organizations represented were Monmouth Jewish Community Council, Hadassah, B'nai Brith, Shore Lodge of B'nai Brith, and the Jewish War Veterans.

Also attending were John H. Dill, Rumson councilman representing Mayor John O. Teeter, Rabbi Jacob Friedman of Temple Beth Torah, Wanamassa, and Long Branch Councilwoman Mrs. Gertrude Bergman.

RALLY SPEAKERS — Meeting in Rabbi Albert L. Raab's study at Congregation B'nai Shalom, Long Branch, before a rally for Soviet Jewry sponsored by the Jewish War Veterans are, left to right, Harry Levin, commander of the Monmouth County Council of JWV; Robert M. Zweiman, who introduced last night's speakers and is chairman of the National Foreign Affairs Committee of JWV; Long Branch Mayor Henry R. Claffi, Rabbi Raab, and Milton Wilkatz, chairman of the rally.

Rabbi Sydney Goldstein of the Sons of Israel, Asbury Park quoted the 25 per cent figure of world Jewry that lives in the Soviet Union — "three million Jews in the midst of totalitarian rule."

And Rabbi Rafael Grossman, of the Brothers of Israel, here, and president of the Hillel School, spoke dramatically of his encounter with a Russian Jew in Leningrad, a member, he said, of the Communist party, an intelligentia, who begged that BROOKLINE, Mass. — Francis E. Getz of 20 Allen St., Rumson, N.J. has won a place on the honor roll of the Hearstone Insurance Company of Massachusetts for writing more than 100 introductory accident policies in a special sales campaign week benefiting boys' club members in his home state.

By selling 112 "Little Giant" income-protection policies, he helped Hearstone enroll 28,834 new policyholders in its Northeastern Division during the week.

Parkway Ready For the Summer

WOODBRIDGE — The Garden State Parkway is moving fast to a full-force summer traffic alert with supplementary ground and air patrols already in action to aid and guide motorists along the road.

Chairman John P. Gallagher of the New Jersey Highway Authority, which operates the parkway, reported all components of the special summertime forces were building up to their peak strength for the annual effort to cope with increased traffic requirements.

He said the parkway's manned helicopter has started its weekend flights for traffic surveillance and reporting of trouble spots to state police patrols on the ground via a radio link.

At the same time, the supplemental patrols by off-parkway emergency service trucks have commenced their weekend runs for the summer season in the heavier-travel area between Monmouth and Bergen Counties to provide instant aid to disabled vehicles along the road.

Both the added patrols — air and ground — will continue on the parkway until after Labor Day. They are both designed to spot and remove potential traffic impediments promptly in the effort to keep cars on the move safely.

Meanwhile, both the toll-collecting and maintenance forces were being augmented by special part-time help for the summer season to serve the greater needs of the peak travel season on the parkway.

Mr. Gallagher said it is anticipated that before the July 4 weekend, the parkway will be on a full 24-hour-day alert for the seasonal heavy traffic with all forces ready. Included in the summertime coverage is special maintenance personnel assigned to picnic and service areas.

Fight higher car prices!

at your Chevy dealer

Up, up go prices. But surprise! You can cut your car costs.

If you've been buying for more money than Chevy, no need to any more; without the name tag, you'd take Chevy to be one of the costliest cars. Inside and out.

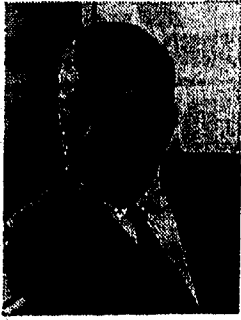

If you're ready to move up out of a midget, another surprise! Often there's no need to go up in price; big Chevys sell for less than dozens of smaller cars.

Surprises right down the line. Like our Monte Carlo, the luxury personal car which out-looks Thunderbird, Toronado and Riviera, yet sells for $1,000 less. Like Camaro, which looks so much like a $16,000 Ferrari. Like Vega, the world's best built car at America's savingest price. To name a few.

The net net is you can fight higher car prices without lowering your standard of living. Just raise your sights to Chevy savings. Come drive one.

HERE'S WHERE YOUR "FAMILY STOCKBROKER" TURNS FOR INVESTMENT RECOMMENDATIONS!

One of our most important services to clients in our effort to act as "Family Stockbrokers" (in the same sense that you may have a "family" physician or attorney,) is to provide investment data and recommendations.

Halle & Stieglitz Family Stockbrokers depend on Equity Research Associates for this vital information. When we acquired it, ERA was an independent, profit-making company selling investment data and recommendations only to institutions and stockbrokerage firms. Now, ERA devotes its time and talent exclusively in the interests of our clients.

Recently, ERA's President, John Westergaard, wrote what we consider to be a stimulating and challenging article on investing attitudes in an unsettled market climate. Mr. Westergaard reviews Equity Research Associates' application of "technological leverage" as a concept and compares the ERA outlook with that of more traditional economists.

The article makes no specific "buy" or "sell" recommendations. It outlines an approach and philosophy we believe serious investors will find useful and productive.

It takes time and thought to read and appreciate Mr. Westergaard's concept—but we think you will find it rewarding. Your copy, without cost or obligation of any kind, will be mailed immediately on receipt of the coupon below. We invite you to mail it to us today.

Name Study Unit Aides

RED BANK — The Red Bank Regional High School Study Committee, advisory unit to the Board of Education, has elected its 15-member steering committee.

Five students, five staff members and five citizens comprise the group whose task is to synthesize Study Committee work to date. The larger advisory group was composed of 130 people from the regional community — 41 students, 53 citizens, and 36 staff members had a part in developing recommendations which will be presented to the Regional Board of Education later this month.

Student members include Pamela Bradley, 39 E. Sunset Ave., Red Bank, a junior who is the first black student selected by the American Field Service to live abroad in an international student exchange program; Rick Cordasco, 143 Garden Road, Shrewsbury, a junior; Helgi Kristinsson, 2 Georjean Drive, Holmdel, salutatorian of the senior class, who will enter University of Rochester on the Bausch and Lomb science scholarship; Lynn Salm, 22 Silverbrook Road, Shrewsbury, a senior gymnast and corresponding secretary of the Student Council, and Kethi Slater, 14 Carolyn Road, Little Silver, a junior who plays French horn in the Buccaneer band and is a cheerleader.

Staff members of the steering committee include Dr. John F. Cone, chairman of the English department; Larry Seip, chairman of the Science department, and teachers Joseph Farrell, in his 19th year at Red Bank teaching distributive education, and Joseph Piserchia, a history teacher who is a retired Army lieutenant colonel and veteran of Vietnam. Robert Dudley, acting director of guidance and vice president of the RBR Education Association, is also an elected member of the group.

Citizen members include Mrs. Mary Ann Fischer, 2 Queens Drive, Little Silver, mother of two preschoolers and active member of AAUW, and Mrs. Millicent Salm, 22 Silverbrook Road, Shrewsbury, whose daughter, Lynn, was also elected to the committee. Also representing the citizen component are Frank Herbert, 61 William St., Red Bank, who works in the curriculum division of the Signal School at Ft. Monmouth, and Robert Loversidge, 96 Silverton Ave., Little Silver, a businessman employed by N.J. Bell Telephone Company. George West, 365 Prospect Ave., Little Silver, completes the 15-member group. He is a career Navy meteorologist and communications specialist.

Pianists' Recital This Sunday

RED BANK — Mrs. Frances Naylor of Fair Haven will present her piano pupils in recital Sunday at 4 p.m. in Westminster Hall of the First Presbyterian Church.

There will be beginners' pieces and classical works by Bach, Mozart and Haydn, as well as romantic numbers by Chopin, Schubert, Liszt and Tchaikovsky. Three of the students will play duets with their mothers. The program will end with a Slavic Dance written for four hands by Dvorak.

Participating will be Susan Osborn, Gwen Petti, Alain Valles and Suzanne Valles, Colts Neck; Kristin Wellington, Eatontown; Kent Deary, Kathleen Oliverson and Leonard Pitzalis, Fair Haven; Christina Vales, Holmdel; Jane Burdan, Laurie Burdan, Dianne Milligan and Marianne Milligan, Little Silver; Shellagh Clarke, Diana House and Bonnie Werner, Middletown; Sandra Allen, New Monmouth; Jane Fitzpatrick and Sharon Greenberg, Rumson, and Jeff Clark, Shrewsbury.

Nice, the sun-blessed capital of the Riviera, was founded by the Greeks in the fourth century B.C., says National Geographic.

Woodchuck Is Prospering in Man's World

By WILLIAM F. SANDFORD
It was an industrious woodchuck, so busy it didn't see me moving up behind it. The leaves of the sapling were far above its head but, resourcefully, it stood on its hind legs and, using its forepaws like hands, bent the slender stem, moving "hand over hand" along it until it could reach and nibble the foliage.

interrupted escape route. Except for the cottontail rabbit and gray squirrel, Marmota monax (the Marmota puts him in the same genus with the marmots of the West) is the most readily seen of the local quadrupeds. Every woodlot and fallow field has its 'chuck population, and they move in daylight, when we can see them. The groundhog's color varies from yellowish brown to a dark gray-brown. Its tail — four to seven inches long — is furred, distinguishing it from the muskrat and opossum with their hairless, rat-like tails. The 'chuck is a vegetarian. It gets into trouble with farmers and stockmen because of its crop-raiding habits and its burrows, which can break the legs of horses and cattle.

Dawn Chorus
The spring bird migration has ended now and the dawn chorus of local nesting species is nearing the peak of its crescendo. You have to get up before sunrise to catch it at its loudest. If you do, and you're in an area of good avian population, it may surprise you that you've been able to sleep through it on other mornings.

Field notes: The cedar waxwing is an erratic bird which nests in our area only rarely. This may be one of those years. Franklin Ruck of Leonardo reports a flock of at least 10 of them in his yard. In Marlboro Sunday we watched several which seemed to be taking up residence. The species sometimes nests as late as August or even September, however, so those still lingering here may still move out without setting up housekeeping. . . Mrs. Joseph Reed of Middletown says the mallards that nest on her property brought forth a brood Monday — latest hatching date she has ever recorded for a first nesting. . . There seems to be a good crop of wild strawberries this year, and the first of them are ready for eating now.

OUTDOOR WORLD

It was one of the biggest chucks I've seen, fat and round as a barrel. From time to time the sapling slipped from its grasp and swung upright again. The animal merely moved back to the base and started the process all over. When that had happened several times the stem remained partially bent over and at one point the groundhog made several ludicrous attempts to jump up and grab the leaves. The foliage was only a foot above the outstretched forepaws now, but the most strenuous "leaps" carried the fat body no more than half an inch off the ground.

It gave that up quickly and went back to bending the plant down.

Now I was less than six feet from it. On the next step a twig snapped and the chuck turned to face me. Then I discovered why it was less cautious than it might be otherwise. It turned and waddled into its burrow, which was only five feet from where it stood. With refuge that close, it apparently felt fairly secure from enemies.

That reminded me of one I'd surprised last spring. I was walking down a cleared path, hidden from the 'chuck by a log behind which it was feeding. It saw me first and bolted down the path before me as fast as the short legs would carry the roly-poly body. Sensing that speed wouldn't save it, it went for the nearest tree and scrambled up it. But it picked the wrong tree. It was only a six-foot stub of trunk; the rest of the tree had been snapped off by a windstorm. Clinging as tightly to the bark as possible, it held its ground as I walked by, within a yardstick length. It kept an anxious eye on me, so scared I could see its heartbeat under the fur.

Although it's a member of the squirrel family, the woodchuck seldom climbs even as far as that one climbed on its

Complete Nurse Course

LONG BRANCH — Twenty-one graduates of a refresher course for registered and licensed practical nurses conducted by Monmouth Medical Center received certificates at a graduation breakfast in the center's Alexander Pavilion.

The presentations were made by Mrs. Elizabeth Sanderson, MMC's assistant administrator in charge of nursing, and Mrs. Miriam Maarberg, director of staff development, and represented successful completion of 64 hours of clinical experience throughout the hospital and 30 hours of lectures. The course was coordinated by Mrs. Maarberg and the instructors were Mrs. Jean Cole and Miss Mary Fitzgerald.

Those who received certificates were: Anne Kristin Moore, Matawan; Louise Marie Sonntag and Yvette Eveline Lyssan, Freehold; Anne M. San Souci, New Shrewsbury; Mary Eloise Curran, Long Branch; Dorothy Petty, Belford; Sally Jane Dexter, Little Silver; Martha Etta Jensen, Atlantic Highlands; Virginia Myrl Hudson, Shrewsbury; Natalie Wanda Bower, Toms River; Selma Soloff, Englishtown; Barbara Eileen Barry, Eatontown; Patricia Ann Flanagan, West Long Branch; Kathleen Theresa Driscoll, Holmdel; June Carol Pastorius and Edla Frances Colloca, Monmouth Beach.

Awards Event Slated

ALLENWOOD — The first volunteer awards event to be held at the Geraldine L. Thompson Medical Home will take place Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. Previously, a joint recognition ceremony honoring volunteers of both institutions was held at the John L. Montgomery Medical Home in Freehold.

Both medical homes are operated by the Monmouth County Welfare Board. The licensed nursing homes for the chronically ill are primarily for persons of limited income who are residents of Monmouth County.

Patients at the Thompson home have made posters symbolizing "Love," the theme of the awards event, which will be given to the volunteers after the ceremony. Certificates of recognition will be presented to approximately 100 individuals and organizations who have given service to the home and its patients.

Guest speaker will be Mrs. Linda Conover, a registered nurse who is a recreational therapist at the Alexander pavilion, the extended care facility at Monmouth Medical Center, Long Branch. Mrs. Conover is a graduate of the Monmouth Memorial Hospital School of Nursing. During her student days, according to Mrs. Elizabeth Sellars, aide at the Thompson Home, Mrs. Conover volunteered to help in open heart research at the Thompson Medical Home which was then a county tuberculosis sanitarium.

Mrs. Conover now works closely with volunteers and recently led a workshop at Monmouth Medical Center to promote the sharing of ideas between staff and volunteers of various agencies.

Kappa Gamma Alumnae Plan Family Picnic

LONG BRANCH — The North Jersey Shore Alumnae Club of Kappa Kappa Gamma will wind up its club year with the annual Family Picnic, Saturday at 4 p.m. here on the grounds of Mrs. H. Carleton Fream, Patten Point. Games will be featured.

A major topic for discussion at the picnic, according to Mrs. Stephen Bansak, president, will be the Kappas' recent trip to their national fraternity's philanthropy, the New York Institute of Rehabilitation Medicine. They toured the five-family monkey colony which the Kappas are financially saving from being eliminated by cuts in government spending.

Mrs. Bansak stated the local alumnae club will be donating four eight-piece place settings of dinnerware to Teen Outreach, a local organization for drug rehabilitation.

Drug Problems: Taking Action

Eighth in Series
By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

"If you are not part of the solution, you are part of the problem."
Citing that saying, the National Center for Youth Outreach Workers in Chicago is doing what its name implies—seeking more effective ways of helping youngsters in or near trouble from drugs or other cause.

Founded by the National Board of the YMCA, Youth Outreach is recruiting and training youth workers who focus not upon a building but the neighborhood—in city, suburb or rural area—where the youths are, and enlist the support of all community agencies and resources. It stresses correction of causes of youthful difficulties.

It is one example of increasing action programs now to prevent tragedy from problems such as drug abuse, or to help those who have fallen into trouble. Your own community has or could have some of these same resources.

Like flowers blossoming in spring, "hotlines" and crash pads and drop-in centers and free clinics have sprouted over the nation. They are mostly self-help units run by young people from teen-age up. Some have backup support from professionals in medicine, education and social agencies, churches, and service clubs. Some have the cooperative understanding of legal authorities. Other centers or facilities are harassed by local authorities in the suspicion sometimes that "hippies" are up to no good.

In New Haven, Conn., a private project called Number 9 is an easy-going, informal "youth crisis intervention center" run by young people. It's a storefront where youngsters can "rap" or talk about what interests or bothers them; it has a crash pad for drug users to sleep in emergencies, and an arts lab for painting and working with clay, leather or other materials.

"Basically, we've found that kids have an intuitive sense of how to help other kids," says Ted Clark who at 26 was a co-founder of Number 9, so named from a Beatles song, "Revolution Number 9."

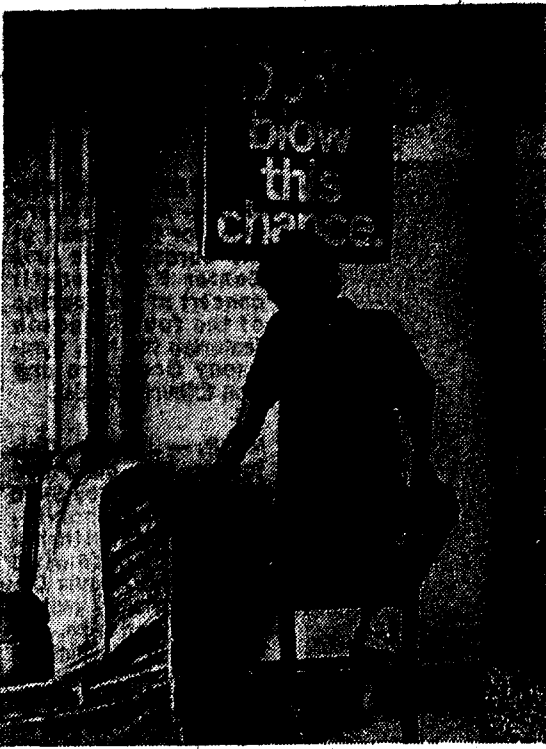

"As examples of institutions for the young, self-help programs have implications for the primary prevention of drug abuse that may be more profound than any other effort including the expenditure of millions of dollars on drug education curricula in school systems," says Dr. Matthew Dumont, assistant commissioner for drug rehabilitation in Massachusetts. These programs are informal, readily accessible, and their focus is on health and immediate needs, he points out.

Youngsters use "hotlines" not just to discuss drug problems, but other matters bothering them. And adults sometimes tune in, also, to learn from youths what they think the real problems are, or what the solutions might be, or what should be done.

Skipping across the country, one finds these among a wide variety of action programs in education or treatment of drug problems:

In Washington, D.C., the Black Man's Development Center, seeking to wean addicts off heroin and also the substitute drug, methadone, and to train them for jobs. . . . In Phoenix, Ariz., an integrated approach—CODAC, standing for Community Organization for Drug Abuse Control—including a "hotline," a round-the-clock emergency center for help without fear of arrest, high school students explaining drug perils to still younger students, and an educational and talk-out program for parents.

In New York, Encounter seeks to prevent youths from graduating from soft or mild drugs to the hard drugs. . . . In major cities are such treatment centers as Synanon, Daytop Village, Odyssey House, Phoenix

Programs are springing up to prevent tragedy from problems such as drug abuse, or to help those who have fallen into trouble

House, Halfway Houses, Satori, to help heroin or other drug users quit through live-in or outpatient facilities or other programs offering psychotherapy, methadone, or combinations.

Multiple approaches are

Middletown Zone Ruling Sparks Suit

FREEHOLD — Hillandale Farms Inc. of 270 Rt. 35, Middletown, has filed a Superior Court complaint to reverse Middletown Board of Adjustment decisions which denied it variances to subdivide a lot and to build a house on one.

The complaint said that the company wants to subdivide its 1.839-acre tract off Chapel Hill and East Roads in Middletown which is in the R-45 residential zone and it wants to build a one-family two-story house on one of the lots.

The zoning board denied the variances April 19.

The complaint alleges that the board's action was erroneous, improper, invalid and illegal because the denial contained no requisite findings of fact to support the decision and the board deliberately and willfully chose to ignore all uncontradicted, competent and credible evidence by the plaintiff.

Richard D. McOmber of Middletown, represents the company.

Brendan J. Rochford

Name Equitable Unit Manager

MENLO PARK — The Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States has announced the appointment of Brendan J. Rochford as district manager in Central New Jersey.

Mr. Rochford will be associated with the Peter J. Moran Agency in Menlo Park. He has served as an Equitable representative in this agency since 1969.

Mr. Rochford was named Man of the Year for 1970 and is a member of the National Leaders Corps. He was a delegate to the National Leaders Conference in Las Vegas.

Mr. Rochford, his wife, Mary, and their three children, Brendan, Kevin and Kerry, reside in Middletown.

Flag Ceremony

KEYPORT — Members of the American Legion Raritan, Post 23 will dispose of unserviceable American flags during Flag Day ceremonies Sunday in the post home, 81 West Front St.

Veterans are invited to the open house, which will begin at 1 p.m. Post service officer, Fred Kruser will be available to inform returning Vietnam veterans of the benefits they are entitled to.

Any one having unserviceable flags may drop them off at the post home.

TELEVISION BULLFIGHT

NEW YORK — Television played a major role in making Mamel Benitez, known as "El Cordobes," into a Spanish national hero. Now closed-circuit television of the Bullfight of the Century—beamed live and in color from Jaen, Spain, to over 50 American outlets, including Madison Square Garden, on Sunday afternoon, June 13—promises to multiply the international acclaim for the world's richest matador.

Shrewsbury Homes Get Plaques

HISTORY LIVES — The past comes alive for young and old at the ninth annual Year End Party of the Jerseyana Club of the Shrewsbury Boro School. From left, John T. Cunningham, president of the N.J. Historical Commission, outlines his organization's aims to the Rev. James R. Steele, pastor of the Shrewsbury Presbyterian Church, where the party was held; Julie Kirsh, 13, chairman of the plaque committee, and Mark Bartosh, 14, chairman of the party.

By FLORENCE BRUDER
SHREWSBURY — At the ninth annual Year End Party of the Jerseyana Club of Shrewsbury Boro School, 11 plaques were presented to the owners of century-old homes in Shrewsbury by individuals who had an interest in the house or knew a former owner.

Julie Kirsh, chairman of the plaque committee, introduced Mark Bartosh, chairman of the Year End Party, who gave the history of each house.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas McNitt, Sycamore Ave., who have lived in the Waldron Post Brown house since 1958, received a plaque from C. Alan Hudson Jr. of the Hudson Antique Shop, here, a grandson of Mr. Brown. In 1896, Mr. Brown bought the property which extended west to the railroad station and north almost to where Rod's Shadowbrook is today. The following year, he built an impressive summer home which remained in the family until the 1930s. Mr. Brown's daughter, Mrs. C. Alan Hudson of Rumson, said her father was extremely proud of the white Shark River gravel driveways and wouldn't permit cars to travel over them.

Built in 1838
 Mr. and Mrs. Philip A. Genovese, 812 Broad St., received a plaque for their house north of the new Red Cross building. A deed search revealed a house was built there in 1838 by James Anderson. In 1853, Dr. Edmund W. Allen, who lived in the house on the corner, sold it to his son, Joseph T. Allen, who lived in it until he died in 1889. He was a merchant who ran the store in the Allen House, a business well known throughout the county as Corlies and Allen. In 1898, William I. Green bought the property and, as postmaster of Shrewsbury, kept an office there until he retired in 1920. Mrs. Augustus C. Smith, the former Rachel Green, who assisted her father in the post office, made the presentation to Mr. and Mrs. Genovese.

Since 1961, John W. Hamilton has owned Narrow Gate Farm on the north side of Sycamore Ave. west of Broad St. The house was built by Francis Gilhuly, a blacksmith who, in 1851, bought three acres there. Now the property is larger and includes a polo field. Former Shrewsbury Mayor Alfred N. Beadleston, now a state senator from Monmouth County, lived in this house for many years and gave the plaque to Mr. Hamilton.

Pricelss Antiques
 In 1867, William Lambert Borden bought a lot and built a house which is the second building on Broad St. from Christ Episcopal Church. It was a square house with eight rooms. The present owners, Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Doelger, who have lived there since 1944, changed the interior and furnished it with priceless antiques. A great-grandson of the Bordens, Francis Borden, made the presentation to Mr. Doelger.

Theodore J. Miller operates an antique shop in the unusual basement of his house at 800 Broad St., which was built in 1834 by Edward Bowne, who owned and operated the village harness shop. Capt. Samuel T. Sleeper, who lived here, was the only Civil War casualty who resided within the borough. His family continued to live in the house for 100 years after his death in 1864. Mrs. Stewart Van Vliet, who knew Capt. Sleeper's granddaughter, Cora Jennings, when she lived there, presented the plaque to Mr. Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver H. Rose moved here in 1968, into a century-old house at 351 Sycamore Ave. built in 1860 by a family named Arrance. Club members were unable to find out much about them except that they owned several pieces of property in Shrewsbury.

The Sickles; the Deisses and the Grimms have all lived here in this century. As a former owner, Mrs. Walter Deiss, gave the plaque to the Roses.

Next recipients were Mr. and Mrs. Monroe G. Marx of Broad St. who have lived in their house since 1947 when they purchased it from Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Coddington. A search revealed that Benjamin Scott bought a lot in this location in 1848. Dr. Charles H. White, a Red Bank dentist, and his wife, lived here from 1893 to 1906 when Mr. Marx's grandfather bought the property. Because her father-in-law owned the house at one time, Mrs. Martin Marx presented the plaque to her son.

Edward W. Carpender built the house on Sycamore Ave. that was moved down the road until now it is the third house from the corner opposite the Jersey Central Bank and Trust Co. It was then owned by Mr. and Mrs. J.

Wright Brown and later sold to the Pattersons. Dr. Harry Ticehurst, a veterinarian, bought the house in 1929 and had an animal hospital in a small building in the rear. Mr. and Mrs. David Emmons bought it in 1945, and their son and two daughters still live there. Dr. Robert L. Ticehurst, Dr. Ticehurst's son, made the presentation to Miss Bernadette Emmons.

A plaque went to Mr. and Mrs. Morris D. Cammack, who have lived on Sycamore Ave. for the past 20 years. Their house was at one time part of a large estate, a big barn converted into a home by Mrs. Phillipse E.N. Greene. It was part of the property now lived in by Dr. Ervin L. Harlacher, president of Brookdale Community College, Lincroft, and Mrs. Harlacher. Dr. Harlacher, as a neighbor, gave the plaque to Mr. and Mrs. Cammack.

Broadmeadow-Hazard
 James Broadmeadow did very well with his family when he came to Shrewsbury and built a house on Sycamore Ave. in 1867 where Mr. and Mrs. William S. Davis live today. Mr. Broadmeadow, before going to Red Bank, sold his business in Shrewsbury which later made E. C. Hazard famous as the manufacturer of Hazard tomato-ketchup. Mayor Robert C. Lawrence 3rd, a neighbor and friend of the Davis family, presented the plaque.

The last plaque was a secret presentation by club members in appreciation of all the assistance they've received over the years from borough residents. The Rev. James R. Steele, pastor of the Shrewsbury Presbyterian Church, presented a plaque inscribed "Built by Abram Holmes Borden, 1891" to the Borden family.

A highlight of the party was the presentation of the annual History Medal Award given by the Daughters of the American Revolution. Recipient this year was Mary Grace Farjello, president of the club. The presentation, always a secret until the envelope is opened, was made by Miss Margaret E. Borden, regent, Shrewsbury Towne Chapter. Mayor Lawrence presented a check to Dr. Harlacher as a contribution to SARAH (Shrewsbury Association for the Restoration of the Allen House).

Mr. Marx, vice president of the Board of Education, presented an oil painting by Shrewsbury artist George Ivins of a one-room Shrewsbury schoolhouse, circa 1800. Kevin Connolly, vice president of the club, accepted.

John T. Cunningham, president of the N.J. Historical Commission, spoke on the aims and hopes of the commission.

Mrs. Bayard D. Stout, president of the Monmouth Historical Association, expressed appreciation to club members for their interest and work.

Refreshments were served in Blair Hall following the program.

Library Unit Begins New Sewing Class

NEPTUNE — "If I can sew, you can sew." The phrase, made familiar by television, has acquired a new meaning at 1130 Heck Ave., headquarters of the Disadvantaged Program of the Monmouth County Library.

It means a possible future income. It makes the lure of new clothes attainable. And, next Christmas, it will provide a holiday program for children of the area.

Working toward these goals, women and girls are learning to sew every Thursday from 2 to 4, in an informal and practical class conceived and instructed by Mrs. Pauline Williams, the program's assistant coordinator.

Mrs. Williams, to start the class, bought a vintage, simple portable machine, and continues to buy inexpensive material which she makes available to those who do not have their own. County funds soon will provide another machine.

Mrs. Williams plans a fashion show in October, to raise the Christmas party money. Ladies of the class will model "everything that comes out successfully," she says, "and we are looking for a place. We will be grateful to a civic organization, the township—anyone who will let us use a building."

Mrs. Williams has only one daughter to whom she can teach her sewing skills, and five sons, ranging in age from 23 to 44.

"I'll teach you, and I love doing it," she says, "but you'll do it 'til you get it right."

Man Arrested On Drug Charge

LONG BRANCH — Richard Bryant, 23, of 580 Bath Ave., was arrested Tuesday night and charged with being under the influence of drugs, according to police.

Mr. Bryant was released in $100 cash bail for a court appearance on June 22.

The arrest was made by Patrolman R. A. Frabizio.

BACK IN TIME — New York Met Bud Harrelson scampers back to second base to avoid being picked off in the third inning last night. San Diego Padres shortstop Enzo Hernandez takes the tardy throw from pitcher Tom Phoebus. The Mets won, 4-2, on a four-run eighth inning.

Mets Break Log Jam, Rip Padres

By The Associated Press
The New York Mets, frustrated for seven scoreless innings, broke through with a four-run rally in the eighth highlighted by pinch-hitter Ken Singleton's run-scoring single to beat the San Diego Padres 4-2 last night.

Until the big inning, New York was unable to score against San Diego starter Tom Phoebus and reliever Al Severinsen, who left 12 Mets stranded.

Singleton's one-out single drove in Bud Harrelson with the tie-breaking run. Bob Aspromonte's bases-loaded walk later forced in the final tally.

The Mets had tied it on run-scoring triples by Don Hahn and Harrelson off Severinsen 1-2.

Severinsen came on in the seventh to protect a 2-0 lead after Dave Marshall walked and Ed Kranepool singled to put men on first and second for New York with one out.

Nate Colbert hit his 12th home run of the season on a 1-2 pitch off New York starter Tom Seaver, 8-2, in the second inning to give San Diego a 1-0 lead.

The Padres scored their second run in the fourth when Clarence Gaston came in on Ed Spiezio's two-out single. Gaston opened with a single and eventually scored on Spiezio's hit.

The victory boosted the Mets back into first place in the hot National League East race over Pittsburgh and St. Louis, who both lost yesterday.

Elsewhere, San Francisco went down to 4-0 defeat to Montreal, the Giants' seventh loss in eight games this month. Philadelphia trounced Los Angeles 9-4, the New York Mets rallied to beat San Diego 4-2, Atlanta whipped St. Louis 8-3, the Chicago Cubs shaded Pittsburgh 3-1 and Cincinnati edged Houston 2-1.

WEST LONG BRANCH — Christian Brothers Academy added another star to its already bulging chest here yesterday when John Burrus captured the individual singles championship and Dave Galligan and Bob Sullivan nailed down the doubles crown in the Monmouth College Invitational Tournament of the unbeaten.

Burrus floored Asbury Park's Bob Hecht, 6-0, 6-0 in the singles, while Galligan and Sullivan had to put in a little overtime to check Middletown Township's Brian Barton and Ed Pierce, 6-8, 6-2, 6-4.

The tourney, which is played after the completion of the team tournament, judges the best doubles and singles of each squad. Only those teams and players (number one) who were undefeated in the invitational are eligible.

Burrus, who was undefeated all season, is headed for Rollins College in Winter Haven, Fla.

Swarthout, Felty to Lead Sprints

WALL — Gino Swarthout of Olean, N.Y. is defending champion and Leroy Felty of Jonestown, Pa., is looking to take it away.

Who are Gino Swarthout and Leroy Felty? You can find out Saturday night at Wall Stadium when for the first time in five years the United Racing Club's Super Sprint cars will take to the one-third mile oval.

It was the summer of 1966 when the winged supers last played the resort speedway. And just to show the caliber of drivers that will compete in the two 20-lap feature events on tap this week it was Denny Zimmerman who took the checkered flag in the URC feature five years ago.

Denny Zimmerman is none other than the Denny Zimmerman who finished eighth in the Indianapolis 500 May 29 and walked away with rookie honors.

U.R.C. president Lou Kunz has informed Wall Stadium management that four time winner Leroy Felty will be in the thick of competition Saturday night along with Buck Buckley Jr. of Kennett Square, Pa., Joe Tetz of Middletown, N. Y., Walt Bettler of White House Station, Tom Price of Wilmington, Del., and Bob Shaw of Dundee, N. Y.

Also expected to make the trek north from their Florida homes are Bill Royman of Tampa, and Billy Yuma of Melbourne.

In addition to the two 20-lap features staged by the URC cars which incidentally will feature a reverse starting order in the second attraction, the Modified-Sportsman Stock Cars and the Limited Sportsman Stock Cars will combine for the four-feature evening.

The pits will be full as more than 100 cars are expected to be on hand looking to take part in the four main events. It is quite possible that a few of the local stock car pilots will be given a ride in the open cockpit machines.

Among the modified-sportsman chauffeurs who will see action are the likes of Parker Bohn of Freehold, Don Stives of East Windsor, Charlie Kremer of Lakehurst, Gil Meame of Jacobstown, Bob Russell of Bordentown, Joe Severage of Wall Township, John Garner of Staten Island, Dick Lewis of Cream Ridge, Jerry Allen of East Brunswick, Richie Massing of Milltown, Jim Hoffman of Union Beach, and Dan McLaughlin of Toms River.

The modified-sportsman stockers will see action in three 12-lap heat races with six cars out of each contest gaining a berth in the feature.

The non-qualifiers will then contest in a consolation race where four cars will qualify. A total of 22 cars will go to the post where the winner of the 35-lap grind will be awarded $618.

The limited machines led by Manahawick's Sonny Rostein and Manasquan's George Schaefer will also duel in three heat races and a consolation before the fastest 22 roar out in a 30-lap main event.

Gates open at 6 p.m. — first come first served on general admission seats — with the first race getting the green flag from starter Pete Lavance at 8 p.m.

ROARING AT WALL — The United Racing Club's Super Sprint Cars return to Wall Stadium Saturday night after a five-year absence. Led by four-time winner LeRoy Felty, the sprints will compete in two 20-lap feature races. Racing begins promptly at 8 p.m.

Mater Dei Honors Greco, Fitzpatrick

MIDDLETOWN — Steve Greco and Greg Fitzpatrick, Mater Dei High School seniors, were presented special awards last Wednesday at the Mater Dei Booster Club's Sports Award Banquet held at Buck Smith's Inn.

The Arthur Schiller Memorial Award went to Greco who starred as a lineman for three years. Created in the memory of Mater Dei's first football coach, the trophy was voted to Greco by his teammates in recognition of his special contributions to the team's improvement. Robert Bollweg Jr., class of 1965, made the presentation. Bollweg was a player on the original Schiller teams.

Mater Dei's head football coach George Conti presented the Joe Kastenberger Memorial Award to Fitzpatrick. Conti, who was coached by Kastenberger at St. Benedict's, Newark, cited Fitzpatrick as the player whose courage and ability on and off the field most closely emulated the player a coach would choose for a son. Fitzpatrick, an All-Shore lineman, was captain of the 1970 Seraph grid team.

More than 350 people attended the Eighth Annual Award Dinner. Guest speaker Dave Herman regaled the audience with his stories of the New York Jets.

Thomas Wilson, 1969 Mater Dei graduate, now a University of South Carolina track star, was the alumni speaker. Toastmaster of the affair was Jeremiah Wilson. Ray Avarez was dinner chairman.

Athletic Director Frank Outwater presented letters to seven varsity sports participants in addition to girl's track performers and the cheerleaders.

Booster president Jack Feeney introduced Bill Thompson as the new club president for 1971-72.

Giants at Top In MYAA Circuit

The Middletown Giants maintained their lead in the Middletown Youth American Little League, posting an 8-1 mark as the season neared the halfway point.

During the past two weeks pitcher Billy Taylor has won two games. Taylor pitched a no-hitter over the Padres, striking out 13 men and walking two.

McDonald's Raiders trail the Giants with a 6-2 record. Winning their last three out of four games, the Raiders have been led by hurler Dave Kreighbaum's two wins and Mike Bijas 1-0 win over the Grooms.

The Port Monmouth Padres have split four games including an 11-9 triumph over the Buck Smith Grooms. In that game Jerry Patella slugged two homers, and Drew Zellar and Rick Zarilla powdered one round tripper apiece. Frank Guida picked up the winner's credit, while Denny Jacques shared another victory.

The Grooms beat the Padres, 2-0, behind Brian O'Neil, and the Greeleys 7-0 with Jim Dorsa on the mound.

Greeleys finally got a win on Bill Harrington's pitching over the Raiders in a 7-3 game, while Mike Donaghue won, 3-1, over the Greeleys for the Travelers lone win during the past two weeks.

SATCOM VICTORS — Lt. Col. Robert B. Eddy, left, Chief of Staff of the Army Satellite Communications Agency, presents a bowling trophy to Col. Leland D. Wamsled, SATCOM Commanding Officer. The award was won by SATCOM after it captured the "A" Division of Ft. Monmouth's Intra-mural Handicap League. The team is comprised of Col. Eddy, Sergeant Major Lloyd Bailey, Master Sergeant Theodore Cummings, Sergeant First Class Charles Rossefer, Staff Sergeant Willie Sullivan, Sergeant Bertus Pritchard and Specialist Five Charles Stankovich.

Soil Removal Issue Flares Once Again

MIDDLETOWN — Is there or is there not a "confidential report" from Richard M. Schulz, township engineer, to the Township Committee on the soil removal from Thompson Park in Lincroft by the Holmel Excavating Co.? The question remained unanswered at last night's meeting.

The subject was broached when Wilford L. Wisner, Democratic organization candidate for Township Committee, referring to an editorial in an area daily newspaper, urged that committee to release the report to the public.

"Mr. Wisner, there is no such report," Mayor Harold H. Fouks said with vehemence.

"Well," said Mr. Wisner, "there is a confidential letter from the township engineer to the Township Committee stating the soil removal was not necessary to build a baseball field."

Mr. Wisner insisted that since such a report or letter was compiled at public expense, and since "other questions" about the soil removal remain unanswered, including what he called "a possible giveaway of public property without compliance with state laws," the engineer's report should be made public, as urged by the newspaper editorial.

He explained that the editorial also suggested Committee member Thomas J. Lynch, lone Democrat currently on the governing body, should make his copy of the report public if the committee as a whole were unwilling to release it.

"Most of the questions have already been answered. Our files and our letters are open to anyone, but no one has asked for that letter," said Committee member Edward P. Makely. "There is a possibility of Grand Jury action in the matter, and I hope it will clear the air and answer all questions," he added.

Turning to Mr. Lynch, Mr. Makely went on, "If you gave the story to the paper; if you have the letter, release it," he urged.

Mr. Lynch protested that Mayor Fouks was also called by the newspaper and had a part in giving it the material for the editorial.

"If you have that report, release it," Mr. Makely insisted, speaking again directly to Mr. Lynch.

"I haven't seen the newspaper," Mr. Lynch replied.

Not Satisfied — John J. Murphy, independent candidate for Township Committee, was not satisfied. Through Mayor Fouks, he asked Mr. Lynch for a yes-or-no answer as to whether he has such a report and whether he will release it to the public.

Two Charged After Theft of Car Tire

MIDDLETOWN — The theft of a tire from a car parked at the railroad station lot, has led to the arrest of a young couple for possession of stolen property.

William Seaman, 21, of 1 Millbrook Place, was lodged late Tuesday in the Monmouth County jail in lieu of $500 bail after he was arrested by Patrolmen James Kerrigan and Barry Grimm on the Middletown-Lincroft Road.

Detective Capt. Robert M. Letts said his companion, Pauline Devereaux, 19, of 9 Columbia Ave., North Long Branch was also charged with possession of stolen property and was released in $500 bail yesterday.

The two were arrested as they allegedly drove from the railroad station area at high speed. A tire, which police said was taken from a car there, was allegedly found in the trunk of their car. Mr. Seaman is scheduled for a court appearance today.

McKenna Takes Post With Colorado Schools

MATAWAN TOWNSHIP — Dr. John F. McKenna, former regional school superintendent, has accepted a post as top administrator for the 11,000-student St. Vrain Valley school district in Colorado.

Dr. McKenna, who came here in 1968 and resigned last December, will assume his new duties July 1.

He explained that the district, which has approximately double the student body of this district, lies 35 miles north of Denver and encompasses 450 square miles.

The district recently approved a $15 million building program to add a senior high school, a junior high school, three elementary schools and a vocational school to its present physical plant of 15 elementary schools, six junior high schools and three senior high schools.

Family Enthused — "My family and I are very enthused about the move and about the potential within the new district," Dr. McKenna said yesterday.

"It looks like a fine place to raise a family and presents an opportunity to be motivated professionally as well," he added.

Pointing to the obvious growth of the area, Dr. McKenna said the largest city in the district, Laramont, has doubled its size from 1960 to 1970 and the area has become a fairly young community.

Attuned to changes in education, the district has, Dr. McKenna explained, "the open space, team teaching and media concepts and believes in extensive use of its buildings."

The district is also ahead in vocational training, using a nearby industrial complex for student cooperative training, the superintendent added.

History Unit Installs at Madison

MADISON TOWNSHIP — Mrs. Edward Kaminski was installed as president of the Madison Township Historical Society at a candlelight ceremony.

Other officers are Mrs. Nelson Smith, first vice president; Mrs. Paul Blahota, second vice president; Miss Celeste Wenzel, corresponding secretary; Miss Madelyn Gaub, treasurer, and Mrs. Ebner Martin, director.

Miss Wenzel was presented an honorary membership in recognition of her work as corresponding secretary and her dedication to the unit since its formation in 1964.

The society reports the Thomas Warne Historical Museum is open to the public each Wednesday from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. Hours at the society's Thrift Shop, behind the museum, are 9:30 to noon each Wednesday.

History Unit Installs at Madison

Looking forward to his move, Dr. McKenna said the seven-member school board at St. Vrain is young and has a good board policy, with administrative details left in the hands of the general superintendent.

Although he resigned last December, Dr. McKenna left the regional May 1, when Anthony J. Nucolo, his assistant, stepped into the vacancy until a permanent administrator is chosen.

The regional board is presently interviewing candidates submitted by its consultants, Dr. C. J. Salisbury and Associates of Temple University.

The consultants submitted eight names, but the board has indicated it is considering personnel from within the district, including Mr. Nucolo, for the position.

A testimonial dinner for Dr. McKenna has been scheduled this Sunday in Colts Neck Inn from 6 to 10 p.m.

True Value Proved By Jersey Symphony

By JANE FODERARO HOLMDEL — It was good to welcome the New Jersey Symphony back to the Garden State Arts Center last night.

In an all-Beethoven program, the young orchestra proved once and for all that, under the baton of a demanding conductor, Henry Lewis, it is a thoroughly professional organization that can hold its own in great concert halls here and abroad.

Perhaps the orchestra's newly found power was most evident in the third and fourth movements of Beethoven's familiar Fifth Symphony in C Minor.

Because of Mr. Lewis' insistence on rhythmic integrity, the orchestra — the expanded cello section, in particular — was able to re-define passages often glossed over by one interpretation or another. There's no question about it, the forceful Mr. Lewis makes his musicians count without let-up.

This is not to say, however, that the orchestra now is given over entirely to purely technical aspirations. (There was a day, only three years ago, when the fledgling orchestra ran admirably on spirit, but spirit alone.) In his approach to Beethoven, Mr. Lewis apparently prefers the slightest bit of understatement. He refrains, thankfully, from an all-out assault on the great composer.

Rather, he allows the gathering-musical forces to move forward and arrive at powerful climaxes unencumbered. It's a form of spontaneity by remote, but absolute, control.

The orchestra played equally well when violinist Berli Senofsky performed Concerto for Violin in D Major.

Violinist Excellents — The virtuoso excelled in soaring passages of the opening movement, producing melodic lines with a purity that sounded at once effortless and transcendent as it totally independent of the instrument.

In more difficult harmonic passages, some quite treacherous, he took his time and worked his way through them with conviction.

The program opened with the fiery "Fidelio" overture that was supposed to have personified Beethoven's concept of the noble, heroic and ideal woman.

At the end of the program, with the dramatic conclusion of the Fifth, the audience rose and called Henry Lewis back to the stage four times with hearty applause.

The response was well deserved, for Mr. Lewis has created a strong orchestra by setting extremely high standards of musicianship. May he so continue.

EXPORTS INCREASE — LONDON (AP) — British exports of building materials and components reached a record $518 million in 1970, an increase of 14 per cent over 1969.

Your Horoscope Birthday

THURSDAY, JUNE 10 - Born today, you are basically a private person, not given to enjoying large social gatherings, not prone to making many friendships easily or quickly, not likely to draw to you people with problems to solve. Your views are your own, your responses unmistakably original with you. Not one to travel the well-beaten paths of others, you enjoy setting out to tame virgin territory, setting your own goals, achieving them in your own time and through your own methods.

You will have several opportunities in your life to become the unseen force behind the powers that exercise their prerogatives in full view of the public. Needless to say, you would be wise to take advantage of such chances; through them, you will be able to rise to the top of your field and still retain that which is most precious to you - your privacy. This is especially true of you women who need to feel both successful and protected.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Friday, June 11

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) - The wise Gemini will keep as many fingers in as many pies as is possible under the circumstances. Remind friends of promises.

CANCER (June 22-July 23) - Think things over very carefully before making up your mind about contracts presently offered. You may want something different.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) - Let your usual calmness help you to meet an unusual situation this morning. Don't rely on others to bail you out.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) - You may well achieve the high position you've been waiting for today. Don't be late, however, in offering another your congratulations.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) - Where morning activities are concerned, be prepared to offer another reasons for your behavior. A good day.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24/Nov. 22) - Make an effort to contact those who can be of help to you in climbing the social ladder. Call a friend on the employment scene.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) - A distant source of remuneration comes to your rescue today as you send out a call for aid. Let your gratitude show.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) - Seek the stability of those friends whose activities have proved both practical and high-principled.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 21) - To avoid making mistakes in judgment, refuse to make any decisions vital to your future today. Consider every angle twice over.

ARIES (March 22-April 20) - If you have any doubts as to the worth of the project you are presently engaged in, do some research in the field. Be sure.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21) - Be selective in your buying and selling and you can greatly improve your chances of making important gains at this time. Be accurate.

Sheinwold's Bridge Advice

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

"How do you stand on the Women's Lib movement?" asks a correspondent. "Do you think that men should play all bridge hands? What happens when the female half of the partnership has the only playable trump suit? Don't forget there are 20 million female bridge players in the United States alone, and they'll all be waiting for your answer."

Our correspondent was North in today's hand, condemned to be an innocent but indignant bystander, when South insisted on playing the hand at diamonds.

East overtook the king of spades with the ace at the first trick, partly because West might have had a singleton king. Our correspondent suspects that East, the male half of another mixed partnership, didn't trust his partner to continue the suit.

At any rate, East won the first trick and then took two more spades. West dithered over her discard on the third spade but finally settled on a high heart.

East cashed the ace of hearts, having decided that West surely had a six-card suit since she could have no high cards outside of spades and hearts. East then led a fourth spade.

Caught Either Way

South was caught either way. If he ruffed in the dummy, he would be unable to finesse through East for the queen of trumps. And if South ruffed in his own hand, which he actually did, West would overruff, which she actually did, and dummy would have to ruff anyway. South couldn't afford to ruff with the jack of diamonds, since then East could afford to cover the ten of diamonds with the queen.

It was very sad. South was down one, and North could have made three clubs without even a finesse. And what is this column going to do about it?

Our correspondent is just being silly. It wasn't a question of male or female. Anybody who takes the North seat knows that South plays all the hands in this column. Get yourself a reliable compass and forget about Women's Lib. (Also, get yourself a partner who knows how to pass when he has already said enough.)

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one spade, and the next player passes. You hold S - 10 6 2 H - Q 9 3 D - 10 C - K Q J 9 2.

What do you say?
Answer: Bid two spades. The hand is not quite strong enough for a response of two clubs, followed by a show of spade support.

Hyperkinetic Children and Stimulant Drugs

By IRWIN J. POLK, M.D.
Should grade school kids ever be given stimulant drugs?
This was a question dealt with recently by a government-appointed panel of experts in fields related to child health and education.
The meeting came about because of the increasing interest by the public in the use of stimulant drugs for the treatment of over-active students.
Certain children are just too restless to concentrate on schoolwork. About 3 per cent of the children under eighth grade level have some sort of a difficulty which makes them inattentive in class and causes them to have disordered, undisciplined behavior and intense physical activity.
These children are usually not brain-damaged but are, in fact, normal or even above normal in intelligence. They are more often boys than girls and most of them have shown some unusual behavior since infancy.

Ceaseless Whirlwind
These are the children whose activity is a ceaseless whirlwind, children who fidget constantly, can't remain seated or in any set position for more than a moment or two, who are into everything all the time. Such children are now called by doctors "hyperkinetic," a word derived from Greek which means "overactive."
A hyperkinetic child is a terror for the parents. He is always on the move, usually without purpose. He can't sit through a meal, a bath, much less a day at school. As a result, he does poorly in any situation which requires attention, which is, of course, almost any social or educational one.

He does very poorly in school, upsetting the class and driving the teacher almost to tears as he vibrates rapidly from one seat to another, finishing nothing and disturbing everyone. No wonder that a method of treatment is so sorely needed.
The Treatment
Treatment for the over-active child is possible by drugs. Some years ago it was noted that certain drugs which cause stimulation, increased activity and alertness in adults do the opposite in children.
Medicines such as the amphetamines are in this group as are such medicines as certain nose drops. Not too long ago, a new nose drop was marketed which quickly became known for its ability to put small children to sleep. Just two drops in each nostril and off went the baby, sometimes for as long as 24 hours.

Dr. Gerard J. Haslach

She was graduated from Georgian Court College with the highest scholastic honors and is a candidate for a master's degree from Temple University.

Heads Christian Science Board
BOSTON - Needs of the whole human family can be met through individual spiritual recognition of divine power, Mrs. Lenore D. Hanks of Boston, new chairman of the Christian Science board of directors said at the denomination's annual meeting here Monday.
It is not too late, Mrs. Hanks told the gathering, for the individual to learn about the spiritual resources which enable mankind to repair the ecology, reverse the population explosion, and arrest drug abuse, war, crime, injustice, apathy and greed.
The meeting heard a report on the progress of the building development in the Christian Science Center in Boston. Of special interest was information about a new training program initiated and funded by the Mother Church "to employ minority unskilled workers leading to union apprenticeship."

Other drugs in this same group seem useful for slowing down the overactive child, permitting him to concentrate better and so better to adjust to the world and to learn at school.
There are a large number of these drugs, each of which works a little differently on each child. But usually by repeated trials, a suitable medicine can be found which will help the hyperkinetic child to slow down and function better.
But every child who does poorly in school is not "hyperkinetic." Some are brain-damaged, others are hard-of-hearing, or have eyesight trouble.
Don't Have It
And some children just don't have it in the school situation. These kids will not benefit from the use of medicines which help overactivity. So an important part of the management of hyperkinesis, as in all of medical care, is exact diagnosis.

The diagnosis of hyperactivity is best made by a qualified expert, usually a pediatrician, sometimes a neurologist, psychologist or psychiatrist. Since there is no specific test for hyperkinesis, it is examination by someone trained to recognize the disease which best affords the diagnosis.
Recognizing the problem does not assure successful treatment. Some children respond to one type of stimulant drug, others to another. But some children do not improve with any of the available medicines.
In each case, a suitable length of time must be allowed to follow the course of the child on the drug, a period which may be measured in weeks or in months.
Trained Observers
This, too, must be done by qualified, trained observers. Exact diagnosis and appropriate treatment by experts is often the solution to the problem of the overactive child.
For best results, the problem must be detected and managed as soon as possible. The longer it takes for the problem to be recognized and treatment begun, the more time is wasted during which the child is not growing socially or educationally.
The hyperkinetic child is certainly one grade school kid who should be given a trial on a stimulant drug.

Dr. Polk will be happy to answer questions on medical subjects. Letters may be addressed to him in care of The Daily Register, 105 Chestnut St., Red Bank 07701.
