School board looks to involve senior citizens in classrooms

By Richard Dickon

Acting on a plan recommended by Board member John Notari, the Board of Education is looking to implement a program involving senior citizens in everyday classroom situations with high school students.

Notari, a teacher with the Clifton school district, arranged a meeting in November between Clifton and Belleville school staffs, providing an overview on the successful Clifton program, where senior citizens participate in various course studies.

"Senior citizens are a vital and energetic resource that to a great extent are underutilized, and they have a wealth of experience that can be provided to students," School Superintendent Michael A. Lally said.

Lally said "Clifton reaches out to senior citizens to share their wisdom and vitality with students. They have a lot to offer and it is incumbent on us to provide opportunities."

There are select courses that the senior citizens are invited to attend on a scheduled basis, he said, adding that a formal presentation will be made before the program is implemented.

Notari said the Clifton program has been in place eight years and gives senior citizens an opportunity to audit courses much like a college does, and a person can choose an interest such as drama or creative writing. A block of time is set aside for attendance.

As an example, Notari cited his advanced drama class, where senior citizens come in every week, but are not graded. "We were discussing the film, "Miracle on 34th Street," and one of our senior citizens knew the names of the original cast," he said.

The seniors also are involved in writing and performing an original play at the end of each year, and they attend the awards dinner and receive plaques like other students. They have the option to help out and not audit, for example in a kindergarten class.

"I saw the students and the seniors at first were a little leery, with the generation gaps. But after a few weeks they were doing beautiful work together," he said.

The idea was greeted with support by the school board. Board member Ralph Mazzuca said "When we reach our twilight years, we should be able to share our knowledge and wisdom, to stay young, and have something to do with so much talent."

Board member Robert Molinaro said he would like to see students teach seniors things, such as basic computer skills. Board Vice President Barbara Cicalese called the program "an excellent idea with great benefits." Board member Thomas Fuscaldo said "Senior citizens have funded the school system for a long time, and they deserve to brighten their lives and brighten our children's lives." Board President Gabe Nazziola called the program "a great idea."

PBA's 4, 4.5, 4.75 percent increases among county's lowest...

Police salary raises passed after some resident protest

By Richard Dickon

The Police Department will get raises of 4, 4.5 and 4.75 percent over three years, under a salary ordinance passed unanimously Nov. 22 after a public hearing where several residents complained about the increases being too large.

Police Det. and PBA President Mark Minichini said the department's bargaining unit started negotiations with a figure of 5 percent, not asking for higher increases of 7 or 8 percent.

Residents, particularly older ones, criticized the contract, especially the Police Chief's salary, which many said was already too high, while others complained that they cannot go food shopping because of tax bills or make their mortgage. Other residents voiced approval of the raises, saying the police put their lives on the line to protect residents.

Salary Ordinances giving raises of 4, 4.5 and 4.75 percent for the Firefighters Municipal Employees Association and increases to the Belleville Municipal Employees Association of 4, 3.75 and 3.5 percent were passed on first reading earlier in November despite opposition from some members of the Township Council.

Barbara Tuck, BMEA President, and Fire Department union officials have continued to reserve comment until the salary ordinances pass after a public hearing.

Deputy Mayor Thomas Thomas Spillane said the Council "would've liked to settle at 3 percent (salary increases), but we attempted to bargain to the best of our ability."

Spillane restated a criticism of the state's binding arbitration system for settling police and fire department contracts. Under the system, each side submits a salary increase figure and the arbitrator must pick one or the other. He said the Council sought to avoid the extra costs of paying lawyer and arbitrator fees by settling.

"Until the state does something about binding arbitration, municipal governments have their hands tied behind their back by the state," Spillane said, "The legislature keeps promising to tie the numbers into the municipalities ability to pay."

Spillane added that the Council also gained "a push out" of longevity payments for police officers who are starting now, where they will have to wait longer to receive longevity pay. Councilman Victor Canning had suggested the changes during negotiations.

Canning said at the meeting that the Council would have lost in (continued on page 8)

Rail plans include police substation

By Steve Galvacky

A permanent police substation, shared by the Belleville Police Department and the NJ Transit Police Department, is in the works for the planned vehicle base facility of the Newark-Elizabeth Rail Link (NERL) project, NJT officials said Tuesday.

Jerome Lutin, senior director of the state agency's NERL Division, said at a planning workshop held in Bloomfield that the substation would intend "to provide a high level of security" for the estimated $69 million facility and the surrounding neighborhood.

The primary site being considered for the facility -- where the light rail line's cars would be stored and tested -- are several old industrial tracts off Grove Street on the Bloomfield-Belleville border, as well as the adjacent Bloomfield Department of Public Works building.

Also being considered, he said, (continued on page 9)

After school program being considered

By Richard Dickon

School officials are looking once again at starting an after school program, to first see if sufficient interest exists among parents, who would be asked to pay a monthly fee.

School Superintendent Michael A. Lally proposed the school administration be permitted explore the idea. "We will see if there is parental interest, finalize an interest survey, and bring the costs before the board," he said. Since the district cannot be financially responsible for the program, Lally said the district would look for sponsors and agencies to offer help.

A similar program was tried in recent years, with parental interest insufficient to pay costs of about $110 per month.

Board members discussed other school districts that have successful programs. Board member John Notari said Fair Lawn has a three-hour program, from 3 to 6 p.m., that includes drama, gymnastics and arts and crafts, as well as a study program. "The program is sponsored by the community school, and they only use one school, where all the kids go," he said.

Board member Thomas Fuscaldo said Rutherford has a program sponsored by their Home and School Association that could be looked at as a model. Board Vice President Barbara Cicalese said she thought parents would be very interested in such a program.

Board President Gabe Nazziola mentioned the Verona and Nutley school districts as potential towns to model a Belleville after school program after later on in the process.

Schools divert funds for workbooks

By Richard Dickon

Following complaints by a resident, the Board of Education has located the necessary funds to purchase workbooks for elementary school mathematics texts.

School Business Administrator Edward Appleton said at the Nov. 21 school board meeting he looked at four separate surplus fund accounts and found a total of $137,000, with a deficit of $109,000 leaving $27,900 "to entertain the purchase of workbooks."

School Board President Gabe Nazziola called the workbooks "a priority" and authorized Appleton to "go ahead with the purchase and attend to a priority item."

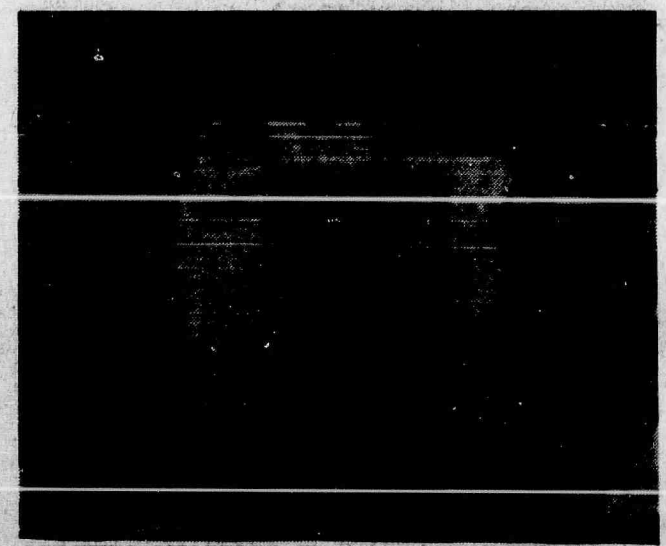

School Superintendent Michael A. Lally explained that workbooks are normally replaced for each subsequent year, since the books are written in and are not usable after one year.

"This is a yearly item and it is our intention to renew this item each year," Lally said.

Resident Tony Caruso had complained at several meetings that his child had no workbooks.

I AM AN AMERICAN

I was well into adulthood before I realized I was an American. Of course I had always lived in America, but it somehow never occurred to me that being a citizen of the United States meant I was an American. Americans ate peanut butter on mushy sliced bread (it came out of plastic bags. Me! I was Italian!

For me - as I'm sure it was for most third-generation Italian children who grew up in the 50s, there was a definite distinction drawn between them and us. We were Italians! Everybody else, Irish, German, French, Polish, they were "Mid-E-Cones." There was no animosity involved in that distinction, no hard feelings, just - well - we were sure ours was the better way.

For instance, we had a bread man, an oil man, a biancolina man, a fruit and vegetable man, and a fish man. We even had a tripe and liver man who came right to our homes or right outside our homes. These were the peddlers we had to wait for, for their call or their yell. The Americans went to the store to buy most of their foods.

I pitied their loss. They would never know the pleasure of awaking every morning to find fresh, hot baked crispy Italian bread waiting behind the screen door. And, instead of being able to climb up on the peddler's truck a couple times a week and help bag fruits and vegetables, most of my "Mid-E-Cone" classmates had to wait at the A & P and watch our parade go by.

When it came to food, it always amazed me that my American friends only ate turkey on Thanksgiving and Christmas. Or rather, they ate only turkey, stuffing, mashed potatoes, and cranberry sauce. Now - we Italians, we also had turkey, stuffing, mashed potatoes, and cranberry sauce, but - only after we had lasagna, meatballs, a roast, mushrooms, salad, stringbeans and whatever else the cook of the house could think of, such as all kinds of fruits and homemade cookies (no holiday was complete without home baking, none of that store-bought stuff for us).

Foodwise, Sunday was the best day of the week. That was the day we'd wake up to the smell of garlic and onion frying in olive oil. As we laid in bed, we could hear the hiss as the crushed tomatoes were dropped into the pan. Sunday we always had gravy (the "Mid-E-Cones" called it sauce) and macaroni, they called it pasta.

Sundays could not be without going to Mass. We couldn't eat before Mass because we had to fast before receiving Communion, but we knew when we went home we'd find meatballs frying and nothing tastes better than newly fried meatballs and bread dipped in the pot of gravy.

There was another difference between them and us. We had gardens, not just flower gardens, but huge gardens where we grew tomatoes, tomatoes, and more tomatoes so we could jar them; and we also grew peppers, basil, parsley, and squash. And most everybody had a grape arbor where in the Fall we made grape jelly with the paraffin on top, and everybody made homemade wine. Of course, those gardens thrived because we also had something else. It seemed to me our "American" friends didn't have. We had a Grandfather.

It's not that they didn't have grandfathers. It's just that they didn't live in the same house or on the same block as their grandfathers. They visited their grandfathers. We ate with ours everyday. God forbid, we didn't see him everyday.

I can remember my grandfather telling about how he came here as a young man "on the boat." How the family lived in a tenement with boarders to help pay expenses, how he decided he didn't want his children - two sons and two daughters - to grow up in that environment. So, he saved enough. I could never figure out how he built a stucco house. That stucco house served as the family house for about 60 years. And I remember, when it was decided that the family had outgrown the stucco house, how he said he didn't want to leave where he had planted his roots. So we built a new house on the lots next door and he agreed to move in with us. And I remember how he insisted on speaking English (that, he said, was the language of his new country) - even though there were times when it would have been easier to understand him in Italian instead of his broken English - and you dare not make fun of him!

I also remember the holidays when all the relatives who had moved away would visit with their families and there would be tables full of food and homemade wines, music, and dancing. And I remember how my grandfather, pipe in mouth, would sit in the middle of it all grinning - his mischievous smile, his brown eyes twinkling, proud of his family and how well its members had done.

He had achieved his goal in coming to America and to New Jersey, and how his children and their families were achieving the same goals that were available to them because they were Americans.

When Grandpa died several years ago at the age of 91, things began to change. My uncles eventually cut down on their visits. It was understandable, of course. They had children and grandchildren of their own. Today they visit once or twice a year. We meet at weddings and wakes.

Lots of other things changed too. The old stucco house has been covered with aluminum siding. My grandfather's garden is gone. The last of the homemade wine has turned to vinegar and nobody wraps the fig tree in winter anymore. Even the holidays have changed. The quantity of food we once consumed without any ill effects is no good for us healthwise anymore. And nobody bothers with home baking now - too busy - it's easier to buy it, and too much is no good for you.

The differences between them and us aren't so easily defined anymore. And, I guess, that's good. I'm an American and proud of it just like my grandfather would want me to be. We are all Americans, the Irish, Polish, Germans and the French that are U.S. citizens - but somehow, I still always felt more like an Italian when my grandfather was alive.

I received a call from my cousin Josephine Malizia telling me how much she enjoyed reading my column. It's always nice to hear someone say that. It's music to my ears. Josephine is the mother of Frank Malizia, the handsome proprietor of White Oak Pharmacy on Union Ave. in Nutley.

I also had the pleasure of running into Judge Tom Zampino at Rosebud's Confectionary store at Joralemon and Passaic Ave. This guy always has a smile and a good word. Micky Merola is always cleaning up the premises where Rosebud and Good Health Pharmacy are located. Others should follow his example and Belleville would be a much cleaner town. Good work, Micky!

A statement from the A.M.A. advises doctors to practice their penmanship because prescriptions that can't be read are causing dangerous and costly illnesses. They should also know the prices of brand name drugs, so that they can substitute generics which are up to 30 times cheaper. The AMA recommends that doctors with poor handwriting should print or type their prescriptions or else use a computer!

Marie Vander Zwan of Clara Maass Hospital auxiliary reminded me that they are having their annual Tree Lighting Ceremony at 6:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Dec. 6 at the main entrance. A gift of $5 will place a light on the holiday tree in honor or in memory of someone special to you. You can call 450-2150.

Congratulations to my good friends, Mr. and Mrs. John Pisapia on celebrating their 47 years of wedded bliss. May you have many more.

Birthday greetings to Vivian Riccio and a hello to Fred.

Block associations to meet

A four-town gathering of block associations will be held on Tuesday, Dec. 6, at 7 p.m. in Carteret Elementary School, 160 Grove St., Bloomfield.

This will be the first time all members from Belleville's Silver Lake Civic Association, East Orange's Ampere Parkway Block Association, North Newark's 9th, 10th-11th-12th Street Block Association and Spain Youth Center will join the Ampere Coalition of Bloomfield for an evening of information exchange and mutual support.

One aim for the meeting will be to survey the communities for their ideas on future goals for the organizations. Also, a Bloomfield firefighter will introduce applications for the state program which provides free fire alarms to qualified residents.

All residents who are interested in community preservation and effective crime reduction techniques are encouraged to attend.

For further information call Dave Del Deo, executive director of the Ampere Coalition, at 680-8888.

Still time to add to "Books for Tots to Teens," and share love of a good book

The Woman's Club of Belleville and the Belleville Public Library and Information Center has launched "Books for Tots to Teens," a new book donation drive.

Anyone can give the gift of reading by bringing a new book to the library's collection box, located in the James J. Cozzarelli, Jr. Children's Room and the Shafter Branch Library on Magnolia Street.

"Books for Tots to Teens" is a statewide program sponsored by the New Jersey Library Association's Children's Service Section. This year, the Woman's Club of Belleville is joining with the library with the hope that all children will be able to experience the joy of reading books of their very own, according to Barbara Spillane, Woman's Club President.

Book donations will be accepted through Dec. 12, and will be distributed to children across New Jersey by the Marine Corps Reserve. For more information, please contact the Belleville Public Library and Information Center at 450-3434.

Academically talented Sixth graders host Greco-Roman Olympics to enhance study

The Olympic spirit of competition and sportsmanship was demonstrated by the sixth grade Academically Talented classes of the Belleville School System, as they hosted a Greco-Roman Olympics of their own on Nov. 22.

The culminating activity took place after a study of Ancient Greece and Rome, which was part of the Social Studies Curriculum. Students researched the Olympics and then formed committees to emulate the ancient event as their class project. All four sixth grade classes at School #7 participated in the athletic events, as they were invited to compete by the Olympic Events Committee.

Events comprised a variety of sports categories, such as three-legged races, archery, jumprope, obstacle course, friscus, and football throw.

Following the competition was a Greco-Roman banquet with all the trimmings was enjoyed by all the participants. The Menu Committee was in charge of seeing that the banquet ran smoothly.

Gold, silver and bronze medals were distributed to the winners who placed in the events. The Awards Committee was on the scene to honor the victors.

The students elected a representative from each class to carry the Olympic Torch and to light the Olympic Flame.

OUR OPINION

Council, town union cooperation starts to reduce township salaries

Those who ventured out to speak against the salary increases given to the Police in Belleville at the public hearing of the PBA salary ordinance were likely speaking as overtaxed citizens, literally and figuratively. A more objective look, however, reveals that the 4, 4.5 and 4.75 percent salary increases negotiated by the Township Council are the best compromise possible under existing circumstances.

The existing circumstances are that an ineffective system of binding arbitration limits the options of the Council in negotiating with Police and Fire unions. The unions are prohibited from going out on strike, and binding arbitration is supposed to assist their efforts to get a fair contract.

In reality, what binding arbitration does bring is animosity and ill will between the two sides, with each side ultimately submitting salary increases that are too small and too large, respectively, and a state arbitrator usually choosing the higher figure without regard to an individual municipality's ability to pay.

In Belleville, both sides deserve praise for agreeing to true compromise. PBA officials knew they could likely get greater pay increases through binding arbitration, but instead showed that they have listened to residents' cries for tax relief. The Council can take pride in the fact that the salary increases are as low as any in Essex County, and even statewide, where the average is closer to 6 percent.

Until and unless binding arbitration is repealed, or at least modified to consider the municipality's ability to pay, the Council is forced to work within the system. In this case, they have done the best possible job.

Previous contracts for the police, fire and town employees were all close to one percentage point higher than the contracts now set for approval. While this may not please those calling for extreme measures, such as a salary freeze, the reality remains that salary raises of 4, 4.5 and 4.75 percent for the Firefighters Municipal Employees Association and increases to the Belleville Municipal Employees Association of 4, 3.75 and 3.5 percent are reasonable, and close to inflation and cost-of-living increases anticipated over the three years of the contract.

Residents in danger of being taxed out of Belleville should see the Council's debate over salaries for town employees, and understand that the governing body's hands are tied by binding arbitration. These salary contracts are a step in the right direction, with an eye toward the realities that must be faced. As has been shown in recent weeks, this Council seems unlikely to rubber stamp the spending of tax dollars, and appears more likely to approve spending money only following serious question and debate.

The easy thing to do in Belleville is to see only the negative side of issues, like salary increases equal higher taxes. Further scrutiny shows that efforts are being made to stabilize taxes, but this cannot be accomplished overnight. Time may not be the ally of many older residents struggling to hold onto their properties, but tax relief is coming. The best thing any resident can do at this point is to lobby and pressure the state Legislature to modify binding arbitration, along with other measures such as helping municipalities sustain cuts to defeated school budgets.

The Council is working to bring down taxes in Belleville within very tight constraints forced upon them by the state. Some of the negativity focused week after week by residents against the Council should be diverted to those legislators who continue to delay needed changes. The energy would be much better spent on Trenton.

School spending must be cut, but not 3 percent administrator salary raises

The School Board are expected to question all financial expenditures on behalf of taxpayers, but when a salary increase falls within cost-of-living and inflation projections, the objections border on overkill.

School Board Vice President Barbara Cicalese and board member Thomas Fuscaldo voted against the administrator salary contract, citing longevity payments for administrators with at least 30 years experience that would increase approximately 54 percent, from about $1,900 to $3,500 for the first year of the contract.

Actual salary increases for administrators were less than three percent, but Cicalese accused the school board of "backloading" the longevity and Fuscaldo said longevity numbers "shocked" him and that voters should remember who voted for the increases when they go to the polls for next April's board elections.

The longevity increases appear to be large, but those receiving the raises have worked more than 30 years in the Belleville School District, which averages about $50 for each year served; money well earned.

Board member Ralph Mazzuca, up for re-election next April, put things in proper perspective, saying he sympathizes with taxpayers, but that many do not realize that board members do the best job possible with negotiations. He challenged those audience members opposing the longevity to, instead of always making comparisons to private industries, to compare them with other college-educated professionals and also with salaries in other school districts. Board President Gabe Nazzio echoed Mazzuca's statements and added that the length of the negotiations may have helped bring salary increase percentages were actually probably less.

Fuscaldo was elected on a platform to reduce school spending, and he and Cicalese have done an excellent job of fighting for better utilization of tax dollars, including hiring a second person to find and remove students illegally attending school.

In this case, however, the questioning of administrator's getting hard-earned longevity increases was unwarranted. When the next teacher salary contract comes up for negotiation, we hope those two will be around to represent taxpayers who want smaller salary increases and fewer benefit payments. The two will likely serve as watchdogs in the upcoming budget process as well.

The administrator's salary contract passed even with their protests. Let's hope when more serious tax money is at stake, their voices will be heard and reductions will be made. In this case, they may have gone too far, but in general, demanding fiscal responsibility is necessary and welcome.

Rotarians favor school vouchers

To the editor:

The Rotary Club of Belleville heard a talk by Sister Susanne Bellenoit, Parent Network Coordinator, who spoke on the voucher system pilot program for education proposed for Jersey City. This solution is attributed to Mayor Bret Schundler of Jersey City. When advised that Jersey City needed seven new schools and funds are not available for such a construction program, he sought an alternative. Jersey City has 26 Catholic schools that are not being fully utilized and a voucher system could be utilized to help solve the construction dilemma. The voucher system is like a government-funded college scholarship except that it is for elementary and secondary schools. Funds would be given to parents for use in the selection of the school of their choice. If approved it would mean that fewer, if any, schools will have to be constructed.

The various parochial schools in New Jersey, although required to follow state regulations for curricula, calendar, health and safety standards etc., and deal with the local boards of education; have not been unreasonably controlled by the state. Parents have the right to send their children to the school they believe is best for their children. The voucher makes it possible for the parent to do so.

This is good public policy for at least four reasons: Tax reform - a fully operational system of school choice should be less expensive thus resulting in tax relief for all citizens.

Educational reform - Since parents will be able to select the school that is best for their children, schools will have to compete for students that could result in realistic school reform.

Empower families - Parents, not bureaucrats, will now control the use of education dollars as well as determine their children's destiny.

Social justice - The poor will now have greater opportunities to choose how and where their children will be educated, which is our best hope to break the prevailing cycle of poverty and despair in many urban communities.

The First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution states "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof". Currently, there are a number of areas in which tax support is provided to families who have children attending religious schools, e.g. transportation, textbook loan and nursing services. Thus, the constitutional issue is not simply the separation of church and state but rather a careful choice of services.

Frank Cozzarelli Jr., Esquire
Secretary, Rotary Club of Belleville

Thanks for support

To the editor:

I would like to thank the voters of this community who supported my re-election to a second term.

I believe this victory proves that the voters want a sheriff who has the necessary professional law enforcement experience, capacity to manage service costs effectively and efficiently in light of diminished resources, and fight crime, using innovative and cooperative strategies with other existing agencies.

The citizens also deserve a sheriff who can be independent from the political forces that can sometimes interfere with the provision of quality services. My pledge is and my record reflects a commitment to always put the safety and welfare of the citizens first.

It has truly been an honor and privilege to serve as sheriff and I look forward to continuing to serve the citizens of our county to the best of my ability.

Armando B. Fontoura
Essex County Sheriff

• UNITED STATES Senator Frank Lautenberg carried Essex County by 50,000 votes and Sheriff Armando Fontoura won re-election by 25,808. The Democrat candidate for Register, Carole Graves, Newark Teachers Union President, won by 13,277 votes. County Executive Elect Jim Treffinger won by a couple thousand votes, thanks to defecting Democrats, principally intra-party foes of Cooper.

There is no doubt in my mind that race was a great factor in the Treffinger-Cooper fight. It's obvious from the election results that the white Essex suburbs are not prepared to elect a county-wide Afro-American County Executive. If Giblin had won the Primary race, more than likely, the county elections would have been a sweep for the Democrats - and this at a time when there was a tidal wave nationally to displace Democrats with an across-the-board Republican victory. One of Essex County Republican Chairman John Renna's flunkies writes to complain of my suggestion that Renna should retire. When Renna can't elect Republicans at a time when the whole country is going Republican, one must question the leadership qualities of the organization in charge of the Essex County party structure.

• THE political campaigns which concluded recently turned off many voters. Three races became outstanding for their negativity - U. S. Senate, the 8th Congressional seat and the Essex County Executive post.

The candidates of the major parties were all decent people, but their handlers out of Washington and Trenton made monsters of them. But mud slinging and cheap shots were not the children of the current campaigns. The campaign techniques were as old as our democracy - the names have changed. Sadly, negative campaigning apparently pays. Just take a look at the New York race for governor between Cuomo and Pataki. If one were to believe Pataki, the search would go on to find out where Cuomo hid his horns. It's a sad day when candidates enter the political arena and park their manners, good taste and good upbringing at the door. Shame on the mud slingers.

• HERE'S some "Lefty Wisdom":

"Let us be thankful for the fools. But for them the rest of us could not succeed." - Mark Twain

• REPUBLICAN Congressional winners should be forewarned that when they run again in 1996, they must contend with a higher voter turnout in the cities.

Presidential elections become magnets for big city voting. For example, in the recent election, Paterson gave Congressman Klein an 8,000 majority. Two years ago, when the president was on the ballot, the Paterson majority for Klein was 18,000; and it's my guess that the big city vote will be cultivated very carefully by the 1996 Democrat nominee. That is subject to one caveat - if Jessie Jackson challenges in the Democrat Primary across the country, it will be a foregone conclusion that the Republican nominee for President will win because there will be a perception that Clinton was anti-Afro-American. If the Republicans in the Congress and United States Senate behave responsibly and properly interpret the public's anger displayed in last week's election, they will win back the Presidential seat lost by George Bush two years ago.

Paterson Mayor Bill Pascrell may be the Democrat to oppose Congressman-elect Bill Martini. In a Presidential year, Martini will be hard put to keep the seat he won with 45 percent of the votes cast.

Bill Martini

Life in Silver Lake

Life in ? returns for another week

Here it goes again. Life outside of you know what. I don't think I have to go and explain to all of you what the question mark means, but for those of you who have never read my column, let me explain. The ? is where I come from. Need I say more.....

Congratulations and best wishes are in order for my cousin Veronica on her marriage to Bob Elliot. My husband was sick and I could not attend, but boy I heard the wedding was 'out of sight.' Too bad I wasn't there.

Nicholas and Angelina (Casale) Landolfi of Forest Street celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary. A party was given in their honor at Tommy Apicella's Chandelier. I heard the food was fantastic, but everyone knows that Tommy Apicella is one of the best 'chefs' in the town, the state and maybe even the country. Let me get back to business, now. This anniversary couple are the proud parents of four sons named, Joe, Nick, Robert and Anthony. (I know Anthony very well and he is one of the kindest gentlemen I know. There I go again, getting off the track. Nick and Angelina are life long Belleville residents. Mr. Landolfi is the former owner of Belleville Can Company. They have 11 grandchildren and 1 great-grandchild. I hope you have another 50 years of wedded bliss.

Was talking to a fellow County employee, Frank Cesaro Jr. of Branch Brook Drive. What a nice young man he is. Let me wish his wife, Maria, a happy, happy birthday. At the young age of 26 years old, he is the father of three, yes I said three. Their names are Frank III, Donna and Gina. In this day and age for a young man to hold two jobs to support his family is highly commendable and I wish this beautiful family lots of love and happiness.

Marie Strumolo Burke

And they say there are no good people around. Well did I meet two good people. I went to a wedding recently where my two grandchildren were in the bridal party. So I get my camera ready like a proud grandmother would do and I make sure that it is working properly. And of course it is not. I go to the store to buy a battery. Does the battery work, yes and no. The camera winds but the counter is not working. So my next stop is to find a camera shop. On my way to the church, I stop by at Milt's. Guess what, Milt's is closed. So I get in my car to try to find a store where I can buy a 'throw away camera.' I see Rossmore Pharmacy and decide to go in and ask for help with the camera. A couple outside offer to help me, and wouldn't you know it, he opens up the back of my camera and has it working in no time!

It is an honor to tell you the names of these two fine people. They are Julie and Artie Isola from Liberty Avenue. Boy did that make me happy knowing that fellow Bellevillites were there to help out. You two lovely people have restored my faith in humanity. Thanks from the bottom of my heart to two good samaritans. (The dictionary defines samaritans as "to help someone in distress," and boy was I in distress until I met up with them.

Happy birthday to George Simon and his beautiful granddaughter Alyse Marie Muraglia of Beech Street. Do you believe that they have the same birthday. That's great. George Simon is a good man and a pleasure to deal with. Alyse Marie is the daughter of Gina Marie and Joe Muraglia. Oops, I almost forgot their son, Joey. I met up with all of them at a Breakfast recently.

Regards to John Sciarra of Forest Street and good luck on your new job.

Get well wishes are being sent to Josephine Demeano of Agnes Street. We all wish her a speedy recovery.

I would like to send a speedy recovery to Pat Morrison of Little Street on her recent operation. Patty is one of my good friends for a long time and I wish you well, well, well.

Remember, we love Silver Lake.

Teachers, parents, show excellence; UNICO returns

The Belleville Chamber of Commerce 30th Annual Dinner/Dance on Saturday, Nov. 19th at the Branch Brook Manor, was one of the events that illustrates how many people who live and work in Belleville truly care about the quality of life of young people.

This year's theme, "Excellence in Education," honored teachers recognized by the Governor's Convocation on Excellence in Teaching at Princeton University.

I was lucky enough to sit with four mothers of students in Schools #4 and 10 who are involved in their respective Home and School Associations. The four were on hand to present flowers to Maria DeLuisa and Anna Janicelli, respectively, and hearing them talk about their involvement with their own children's education was a reminder that many excellent parents are raising fine children in Belleville. Thanks to for their extra efforts in showing school pride.

The evening was a triumph of positive attitude about education in Belleville. Speeches by school officials and Chamber of Commerce members, as well as politicians, all focused on the importance of striving for excellence in education. A special thanks to the Chamber of Commerce for starting the ball rolling, particularly to Eileen Brown, who continually helps coordinate events that highlight the myriad of good things happening in Belleville.

One more special mention to the honorees are: Jules Palmieri, the high school; Louis Scanzillo, the middle school; Nancy Finetti, School #3; Maria DeLuisa, School #4; Michele Caprigliene, School #5; Francine D'Agostino, School #7; Celeste Bruccalero, School #8; Eugene Morriello, School #9 and Anna Janicelli, School #10. You have brought pride to Belleville schools...

Members of the Bloomfield Chapter of UNICO National have reached their goal to establish a Belleville Chapter. The committee that finally accomplished this is spearheaded by Dr. Emanuele Alfano, Eugene Antonio, and Charles Palmisano.

The committee felt that Belleville, which may have the largest Italian-American population in North Jersey, deserves a chapter of active members and all agree that the Belleville chapter can become a family chapter because there will be a place for our men, women, and children. With the family unit facing the greatest test of its strength possibly in history, these efforts are most important and most welcome. Improving the quality of life in any town starts with improving from within the family unit.

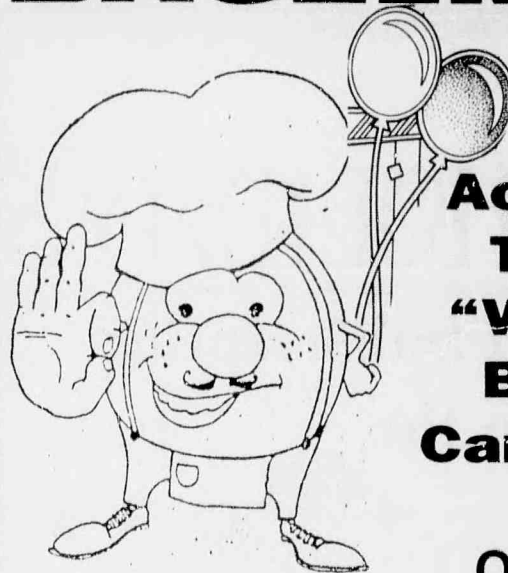

The chapter will be chartered within the next two months. The committee is hoping to attract Italian-Americans that are not only proud of their heritage but are willing to serve while standing up to defamation and discrimination.

Anyone who believes that defamation and discrimination have been eradicated for Italian-Americans or any other ethnic group in America has closed their eyes. UNICO's presence is as necessary now as it ever was. As Alfano stated, "The future of UNICO National lies with the cultivation of our rich culture and our youth." For more, see page 8. The Belleville Times and this column will continue to support their efforts. Good luck, people...

If you know of someone, or are yourself responsible for some of the many big or small, important good deeds done everyday and worthy of recognition in this town, let me know, because, as the this column states,, when it comes to good people, doing good things, "That's All in Belleville."

Essex County's Turtle Back Zoo planning a winter workshop

A winter workshop for children at Essex County's Turtle Back Zoo in West Orange will offer them the opportunity to make bird feeders and holiday craft ornaments with a nature theme.

The event, set for Saturday, Dec. 3, and Sunday, Dec. 4, is sponsored by the zoo's docents, who will furnish the materials and instruct the youngsters in creating food garlands, pine cone bird feeders for their feathered visitors during the winter, and holiday decorations for themselves, all to be taken home.

Santa Claus is expected to make an appearance each day. Scheduled from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. both days, the workshop will be held in the zoo's Education Center, 560 Northfield Ave., West Orange. There is no extra fee for the workshop; it is included in the regular general admission.

For further information, call the zoo at 731-5801.

UNICO National planning to establish a Belleville chapter

Members of the Bloomfield Chapter of UNICO National have reached their goal to establish a Belleville Chapter. The committee that finally accomplished this is spearheaded by Dr. Emanuele Alfano, Eugene Antonio, and Charles Palmisano.

The committee felt that Belleville, which may have the largest Italian-American population in North Jersey, deserves a chapter of active members. Dr. Alfano hopes the new Italian value, the family. Antonio and Palmisano both agree that the Belleville chapter will become a family chapter because there will be a place for our men, women, and children.

The chapter will be chartered within the next two months. The date, time and place will be announced in the near future. At that time the officers and members of the men's chapter, the Women of UNICO, and their Young Italian-Americans A.C.E.S. Club will be sworn-in.

All those individuals and families that register before the charter date will enter as charter members. The committee is hoping to attract Italian-Americans that are not only proud of their heritage but are willing to serve while standing up to defamation and discrimination.

Alfano stated that, "The future of UNICO National lies with the cultivation of our rich culture and our youth." Those interested and who feel the same should call Alfano at his office 429-2818 or Eugene Antonio 759-9259.

Police salaries ordinance passed

binding arbitration and that those who criticized the pact refused to acknowledge good deeds.

Councilman Joseph Scaperrotta said he supported the PBA contract for two reasons. "First, I feel the men and women of the Police Department do an outstanding job and we appreciate their diligence as our first line of defense," he said. "Second, I understand the negotiation process and how binding arbitration ties our hands. Unless binding arbitration is repealed, this negotiation is the only responsible step."

Scaperrotta said the increases compare with the lowest raises in Essex County and across the state, where the average is closer to 6 percent. He added that the PBA probably could have gotten higher increases in binding arbitration. "The PBA bargained in good faith and showed they knew the hardship of Belleville taxpayers," he said.

Both Spillane and Scaperrotta credited Mark Ruderman, who was hired to negotiate with the unions, for helping keep raises down.

Because of an overflow of people attending the meeting, a motion was made to move the meeting to a larger room, but the motion did not pass.

Scaperrotta had tried unsuccessfully to table the Belleville Municipal Employees (BMEA) salary ordinance and to have the Township Manager, Attorney, Engineer and Municipal Judge removed from the ordinance, so that their raises could be negotiated separately. Councilwoman Angie Paserchia also voted to remove the four positions, while Councilman Jerry Digori cast the other vote in favor of tabling the BMEA salary ordinance.

Spillane had tried to have the non-union employees ordinance tabled, but could not get a second.

Township Manager Stephen Cuccio had pleaded for swift passage of the BMEA pact, saying they had bargained in good faith and a delay would damage the next contract negotiations.

Scaperrotta had pushed for removing the four positions, saying they are under contract, and should not be treated as employees, but instead are subject to review, and renewal, even with salary increases.

Mayor Jim Messina favored keeping the four professionals in the salary ordinance, using the analogy that the attorney, if called, has to work, like any employee.

Spillane has said the four should be treated constantly as separate entities.

Cuccio and the Council have continued to discuss changes in the BMEA contract for several employees. Senior Citizen Program Aide, Registrar and Traffic Maintenance Foreman were all discussed, with questions raised about whether or not they were needed. In addition, the part-time clerk positions for the Zoning Board of Adjustment, the Planning Board and Rent Leveling Board were also discussed.

Other positions discussed were new positions, including a private clerk, to work temporarily, who is not a Civil Service Employee. Also new is the position of Purchasing Agent, changed to Senior Purchasing Agent, a change Cuccio said was mandated by Civil Service, adding that a Civil Service test will be open to all qualified applicants in Belleville. Also, there is the hiring of a Practical Nurse for the Health Department, which Cuccio said is already in the department's budget. A practical nurse is paid less than a registered nurse, Cuccio said, and a practical nurse is all that is required for the department.

Rail Link to have substation

are passenger stations at both the base facility and another location off Franklin Avenue near Heller Parkway, across from Branch Brook Park.

David Showalter, a professional planner hired by NJT, said both proposed stations would feature shelters and off-street parking.

Showalter said that because the electric rail cars would cross several streets in the Silver Lake section, NJT has proposed traffic changes at two Belleville intersections. He said that, working with local officials, the agency has proposed signal phasing revisions at the Heller Parkway-Franklin Avenue intersection and the Belmont Avenue-Franklin Street intersection.

At the latter intersection -- actually, the location of two traffic signals where Belmont Avenue "doglegs" -- NJT has also proposed eliminating some street parking in order to create double approach lanes, he said. The two signals would be coordinated with two rail crossings, located just west and south of that intersection, Showalter said.

Another NJT consultant, Biz Colburn, said a study showed that land acquisition by the tax-exempt state agency would mean a loss of $21,000 in ratables for Belleville.

NJT is considering extending the existing Newark City Subway, which presently terminates just south of the Belleville line, approximately 400 feet to the abandoned Orange Line railroad bed.

From that point, under the proposal, NJT would build the light rail line west through the Silver Lake section to the Bloomfield Avenue area in Bloomfield, with possible future extensions along the same line to West Orange.

Because local and environmental approvals would be required, construction of the line through Belleville and Bloomfield would not begin before 1997 or 1998, NJT officials have said.

Police, fire dept. offer holiday safety tips

By Richard Dickson

Police and Fire Officials are offering suggestions to for a theft and fire-safe holiday season.

A special Christmas holiday task force detail is out in the Township, with plain clothes detectives and patrolman and malls, banks and places of business to protect shoppers against purse snatchers and burglars.

Police are urging holiday shoppers to keep gifts locked in car trunks; not to carry large amounts of cash; to shop in groups and walk in well-lit areas. The burglary rate normally rises during the holiday season, with presents being kept in homes. Police recommend leaving lights on keeping all doors and windows locked when not at home.

In a separate development, police officials announced that a permanent, walking patrol officer is being assigned to the Silver Lake District, in conjunction with the mini-precinct being set up in the district, under the direction of the Community Relations Bureau.

The Fire Department reminds residents that each thousands suffer injury, burns and death because of holiday decorations and carelessness. Trees, lights, ornaments, and fireplaces produce extra hazards in homes at a time when the hectic season may distract residents from fire safety. To help enjoy the holiday season, fire officials offer the following advice:

- If you buy a natural, cut tree, check for freshness. Shedding needles are a sign of a dry tree and serious fire hazard. Fresh needles won't break when bent. Once the tree is home, keep it outside until you can decorate it. Cut off the base, one to two inches, and place it in a stable holder. Keep the holder filled with water and keep the tree away from heat.

- Place your tree away from heaters and out of the exit ways. Check all lighting for safety. Look for frayed or broken areas where wires are exposed. Damaged sets should be thrown out. Do not chance repairing. Keep bulbs away from curtains and flammable materials and do not use candles anywhere on the tree.

- No more than three sets of lights should be on an extension cord. Overloading cords can start a fire. Keep connections away from the water base and use Underwriters Laboratory (UL) listed as cords of the correct size.

- Use weather proof OUTDOOR lights and cords for outdoors. These sets are not for prolonged exposure, so take them down as soon as the season is over.

- Unplug all lights and blow out all candles before leaving the house or going to sleep. Do not use real candles in the windows; use electric ones listed by UL. Keep all ornaments, candles, and cords away from children and pets.

- Dry trees burn like a torch and spread the fire. Remove them as soon as large amounts of needles fall.

- Do not burn trees, decorations or wrapping paper in your fireplace. Wrappings and evergreens burn rapidly and throw sparks which can set the roof on fire.

Water Utility

Violation of Microbiological Standards

The Water Utility of the Township of Belleville has been informed by the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection and Energy that it is in violation of the Total Coliform Rule by exceeding the maximum contaminant level (MCL) for total coliform bacteria by having five positive samples out of 49 taken during October 1994. The maximum number of samples is one per month.

The United States Environmental Protection Agency (USEPA) sets drinking water standards and has determined that the presence of total coliform is a possible health concern. Total coliform are common in the environment and are generally not harmful themselves. The presence of these bacteria in drinking water, however, generally is a result of a problem with the water treatment or the pipes which distribute the water, and indicates that the water may be contaminated with organisms that can cause disease. Disease symptoms may include diarrhea, cramps, nausea, and possibly jaundice, and any associated headaches and fatigue. These symptoms, however, are not just associated with disease-causing organisms in the drinking water. USEPA has set an enforceable drinking water standard for total coliform to reduce the risk of these adverse health effects. Drinking water which meets this standard is usually not associated with a health risk from disease-causing bacteria and should be considered safe.

Subsequent testing by the Belleville Water Utility has shown the water to be free of coliform bacteria. Customers need not take any precautions when using the water. Consumers with any questions or concerns should contact the Engineering Department at 450-3442 during the hours of 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Clara Maass has RK eye surgery

For many nearsighted people, there is an alternative to wearing glasses and contact lenses.

This simple procedure is called radical keratotomy. Radial keratotomy, or RK, is an effective surgical procedure that corrects the most common vision problems: myopia (nearsightedness) and astigmatism. By surgically modifying the cornea, RK can reduce or eliminate your dependency on glasses and contact lenses.

Most people experience very little discomfort during the procedure. Patients are conscious and anesthetic eye drops are used to numb the eye. During the RK procedure, the eye surgeon makes a series of very fine radial micro incisions in the outer portion of the cornea to reshape its curvature. This flattens the central portion of the cornea.

Light rays entering the eye are then properly focused on the retina, resulting in a clear image. The number, length, depth and placement of the incisions determine the amount of flattening. To correct astigmatism, transverse incisions are made in the irregularly curved areas of the cornea, making it more spherical. These incisions improve the focusing power of the eye.

Eye surgeons at Clara Maass Health System in Belleville are specially trained in RK and will advise you as to whether you are a good candidate for the procedure or not. Several factors are taken into consideration when determining candidacy for the procedure. These include: your profession or occupation's visual requirements; glasses or contact lenses do not satisfy your visual needs; levels of myopia and/or astigmatism; curvature and thickness of your cornea; stability of vision; age and overall health; and your expectations of the procedure.

A series of tests and measurements are performed to determine the degree of correction needed, your corneal thickness, the amount and uniformity of your corneal curvature and the general health of your eyes. This information combined with your age and medical history will help determine your appropriateness for RK. If you are a good candidate for the RK procedure, then the decision to go ahead with the operation is entirely yours to make. RK is an outpatient procedure and most patients find they can return to work in one to three days.

The modern method of surgically reducing nearsightedness is a tremendous breakthrough. RK is changing people's lives. For many, RK is an exciting, effective technique offering not only correction of vision problems, but also freedom from contact lenses and glasses. For others, RK offers a practical solution to reducing the need for heavy or uncomfortable eye wear, which can interfere with active lives.

To learn more about RK at Clara Maass Health System, call 450-2929.

Sean Kimball put it best: "Only 364 more days until we play Nutley again"

It was one of the coldest Saturdays-after-Thanksgiving that I can remember. Five years ago, the Belleville Bucs had just played a hard hitting game at the Oval, losing to the Nutley Maroon Raiders 6-0 on a touchdown late in the fourth quarter.

Under normal circumstances, it would have been a moral victory for the Bucs. In 1989, the team won just one game, and that came in the season opener at Paramus Catholic. In contrast, Nutley had qualified for the state playoffs for the second straight year. The Raiders might have been a little down, because they were beaten the previous week in the playoffs at Randolph.

Nonetheless, Nutley was favored to win handily, which meant the game was probably going to be a toss-up since nothing usually goes according to plan when these two teams meet.

The teams were originally supposed to play each other on Thanksgiving Day in '89, but a snowstorm blanketed the area on Thanksgiving morning, dumping about four inches of snow and ice. Consequently, the game was moved to the Saturday after the holiday. It turned out to be one of the coldest days of the autumn, with temperatures in the low 20's and windchills that registered near zero.

Anyway, the Bucs gave it a good effort, but fell short. Following the bus ride back to Doc Ellis Field, the players changed, said their good-byes and headed home.

As I spoke to a few people outside the lockerroom door, junior running back Sean Kimball, who had missed most of the '89 campaign because of a knee injury, limped over to me and uttered his now famous quote.

"Only 364 more days," Kimball said to me.

"Until what?," I asked.

"Until we play Nutley again," Kimball said. "I can't wait."

He didn't have to say anything else. As he headed home on that very cold afternoon, I knew that Sean Kimball would be back in 1990 to have his chance at playing against Nutley.

And that's pretty much the story of this rivalry. Injuries seem to heal quicker when these two teams get together. A hard hit which might keep a player down for a series or two is brushed off as just a quick pop. (Chances are, the player in question feels the full impact of the hit a few hours after the game is over).

Last Thursday, the 55th version of THE GAME was played at Doc Ellis Field. Similar to '89, the windchill was low, but the sun shone brightly and a large and enthusiastic crowd filled the stadium to see if Belleville could win its third game in four weeks or if Nutley would clinch a winning season by winning its fifth game.

As has been the case in most of the games Belleville and Nutley play, the game went down to the wire. It was scoreless at halftime, which was a story in itself considering that Nutley had tallied over 65 points in its previous two games.

The Raiders made some adjustments at the beginning of the third quarter and scored quickly. The Bucs rallied back, with Tyrone Fitts scoring from three yards out in the fourth quarter. The point after was short, and Nutley held a 7-6 lead.

With a little over four minutes left in the game, the Raiders looked to run down the clock and came through with an effective running game. Nutley scored an insurance TD with 1:53 left in the game. The Bucs tried a late rally, but fell short and, for the first time since 1991, there was a winner in this game.

"Give them credit," assistant coach Gennaro Russo said of Nutley. "They needed to do something after we scored and they came right back. We couldn't stop them. They got the job done."

"Some teams would have quit a few weeks ago, when we were 0-5," said defensive coordinator Joe D'Ambola after the game was over. "Some kids would have decided who needs this. But not these kids. They won two of their next three games and gave the number three team in the state a run to the wire."

"We played a real good team today," John Senesky said after the Nutley contest. "They have outstanding offensive capabilities. Our defense did a good job. We moved the ball well on their defense. We just didn't have that one break away chance on offense. But the kids worked hard. They really gave it a good effort."

There were some excellent performances. Tom Escott was named MVP for the Bucs. Frank Marrero excelled on the defensive line. Amir Darwish did another standout job, as did Artie Settembrino.

Sal Berardi directed the Buccaneer offense. Dino Durante played his best game of the season. Fitts ran the ball effectively.

Remember the name Tyree Huffin, because you'll be hearing some good things about him on the gridiron in the years to come. Huffin was a standout on the defense, making two key plays that stifled Raider rallies in the first half.

But this isn't just about football. It's about the senior players competing in their last game. It's about the senior cheerleaders and band and color guard performers who were honored before the game in a ceremony with their parents and family members.

It's about the tradition of the Belleville-Nutley game, and all the excitement that makes this a different game than any other contest you'll see.

As I said before, there was a large and enthusiastic crowd on hand. The fences were lined with spectators around the end zones. Former Belleville players Anthony Caruso, Mike Mundy, Joe DePeri and Sam Marino gave encouragement to their team. (Caruso was the '93 MVP of this game). It was two hours and forty five minutes of excitement.

And then, it was over. The Raiders won, the Buc players said good bye to the coaching staff, wished everyone a good Thanksgiving and everyone went their separate ways.

As I walked to my car, around 2 p.m. that Thanksgiving afternoon, I looked back at the stadium, which was now totally empty. It was a cold day, and the look of the empty stadium made it even colder.

There's a certain finality to this game. It means the end of the football season and, for sure, the coming of winter in all its glory

Escott, Sellari named MVP's

Bucs stopped by Raiders, 14-6

By Mike Lamberti

A victor was crowned at the Belleville-Nutley game for the first time in three years, but unfortunately for Buc fans, the trophy is headed back to Nutley as the Raiders won 14-6 on Thanksgiving Day.

The loss was a tough one for John Senesky's team. The Bucs finished 2-7 on the season, but the team did win two of its last four games, with the losses in that span coming by a combined 14 points.

"They're a very talented team," Senesky said of Nutley. "Our kids played very well on defense and we had our chances on the offense. We just couldn't make that one big play."

For Nutley, the win snapped a two game losing streak and clinched a winning season (5-4). It was also Nutley's first victory at Belleville in six years.

As expected, it was a hard hitting, emotional game. Both teams had their chances in the first half but defense pretty much dominated the first two quarters.

For Belleville, Tyree Huffin was outstanding. The sophomore made a key deflection of a possible touchdown pass from Mike Greco to Joe DeMaestro in the first quarter. Huffin stayed stride-for-stride with Nutley's talented wide receiver, and swatted away a pass that surely would have been good for six points.

In the second quarter, Huffin made a fine open field tackle of Nutley's excellent running back Robert Carey. The Raiders were inside the Buc 20 with a fourth and four. Carey took a short pass from Greco and moved upfield for a possible first down.

Huffin stood his ground, showed good footwork and tackled Carey one yard short of the first down marker.

Jeff DePeri's fumble recovery in the second quarter gave Belleville good field position. The Bucs were able to move the ball thanks to some solid running by Dino Durante, Tyrone Fitts and Dave Paladino. But a Buc fumble gave the ball back to the Raiders and negated a scoring opportunity.

Late in the first half, a Sal Berardi to Tom Escott pass and a ten yard run by Fitts moved the ball into Nutley territory, but Mike Sellari sacked Berardi for an eight yard loss and a bad snap on fourth down turned the ball over to Nutley.

Belleville running back Dino Durante heads up field for yardage during last weeks game with Nutley. Durante played a solid all around game for Bucs.

The first half ended scoreless, which was a big plus for the Bucs considering Nutley's offensive firepower in its last two games.

The Raiders came out running in the third quarter. From his 35, Sellari gained 23 yards to the Buc 42.

On the next play, Sellari took a handoff from Greco and ran 42 yards into the end zone for the first score of the game. Frank Cozzolino converted the point after and Nutley led 7-0.

The Bucs came right back, with Fitts and Durante providing some key runs and Escott making a big catch. Belleville got as close as the Nutley 38, but Berardi's pass was intercepted and the drive was stopped.

The Bucs finally found the scoreboard in the fourth quarter. The key play was a 35 yard pass from Berardi to Durante, who had found a seam in the Raider secondary. Only an ankle tackle by Carey prevented a Buc touchdown.

The Bucs moved to the Raider 19, where Berardi faced a fourth and 12 situation. The senior QB hit Escott across the middle for a first down at the Raider five, and two plays later, Fitts ran in from the five, cutting Nutley's lead to 7-6 with six minutes left in the game.

The Bucs elected to kick the PAT, but the ball was short and Nutley held on to the lead.

The Belleville defense, which answered the call throughout the day, could not hold Nutley in the waning stages of the game. The Raiders running game did the job, taking 4:30 off the clock and scoring the game clinching TD on a 25 yard run by Carey. Cozzolino added the PAT.

The Bucs got the ball back with 1:17 left in the game, but the team was unable to put together a possible game tying drive.

"Nutley came right back after we scored," Buc assistant coach Gennaro Russo said. "They did the job, give them credit."

Despite the loss, the Bucs received excellent performances from the defense. Frank Marrero, Artie Settembrino, Michael Loney, Anthony Frantantoni, Amir Darwish, Jeff DePeri, Robert Caputo, Huffin, Brian McIntosh and Escott were all outstanding.

Escott was selected the MVP of the game for Belleville while Sellari garnered similar honors for NOTES: Nutley's last victory at Belleville came in 1988, a 38-13 triumph.

Bucs finished 2-5 in the NNJL Pacific Division. Hackensack, which will take a 10-0 record into the Group IV, Section I championships this weekend, won the league title.

Bloomfield gave powerful Montclair all it could handle before dropping a 13-9 decision. The Bengals had a fine season, putting together a 6-3 record, their best mark in five years.

We'll have a recap of the '94 football season in an upcoming issue.

J.V. football team finishes with 3-3-2 mark

By Rocco Constantino

The mark of a good JV football program is not just the overall team record, but also how the players progress and learn the game.

Success is also measured on the JV level by how well the players perform for the varsity. Keeping those ideas in mind, it's safe to say that John Apicella's JV football team had a successful season.

The Bucs finished the season with a 3-3-2 mark, which could have easily been 5-3 if not for late, game-tying touchdowns by Clifton and Paramus Catholic. Belleville's victories came against tough Teaneck and Don Bosco squads and league doormat Paramus. They played a tough game in losing to St. Joe's, 6-0. Belleville's other two losses came at the hands of Mendham and Hackensack, two teams whose varsity programs have made it to the state finals.

Three JV players had major impacts for the varsity team this fall while numerous others enjoyed playing time late in some games. Leading the way early in the season for the JV Bucs were quarterback Ram Parekh, defensive end Brian MacIntosh and most visibly running back Tyrone Fitts. Also contributing on both the varsity and JV

Junior Buc "B" team wins Super Bowl

Billy Bretzger threw two touchdown passes to Danny Lally and the Belleville Junior Buc "B" team won its second Super Bowl in four seasons, stopping powerful Paterson 12-0 last Sunday.

Joe DeRiggi's team finished the season with a 7-1-2 record.

"This years team was a real joy to coach," DeRiggi said after the game. "We had a great year and capped it off with our second Super Bowl win. Coach Al Fusco ran a defense that gave up just three touchdowns all year, and today's win was a credit to his coaching. On offense, coach Billy Gray called the plays and also did a fine job with the boys."

There was no scoring in the first quarter. In the second, Bretzger found Lally on a 40 yard slant up the middle for the first score.

The score remained 6-0 until the fourth when Bretzger hit Lally again on the same pattern, this time for 73 yards and a score.

Offensively, fullback Mike Forlenzo rushed 14 times for 86 yards. Halfback Bo Bernard had 70 yards on the ground and Bretzger was 4 for 7 for 135 yards and two touchdowns. Lally caught four balls for 135 yards and scored both touchdowns.

Defensively, Hector Benitez recorded four quarterback sacks and Todd Duffy had three sacks. Anthony Bello had an interception, Mike SanPhilip had eight tackles and Kyle McDuffie recorded six tackles.

DeRiggi noted the fine play of his team all season long.

"All I can say is that they are one of the most aggressive teams I have coached. What they lacked in size they had in heart and determination. The parents of the boys should feel proud of what these guys have accomplished this season. Hopefully, we'll build on this foundation for next year."

The Bucs put themselves into a position to play in the Super Bowl by stopping Clifton 24-6 in the semi finals.

Bernard was the star of the game, scoring three touchdowns, one on an interception return.

Bernard led all rushers with 157 yards on 10 carries. Benitez turned in a good job at fullback, carrying the ball nine times for 70 yards.

JV Bucs finish season

squads were Donnel Graham, sophomore quarterback Rich DeFalco, split end Tommy Dyer, and two-way tackle Scott Rafferty.

MacIntosh led the defense early in the season with a two-sack performance in the shutout win against Teaneck. He turned in another multi-sack performance against St. Joe's and played inspired ball when the Buc needed it most. He came up with a big sack and forced a fumble in a crucial third down situation against Teaneck to seal the win. Mac moved on to the varsity squad where he quickly became a quality starter and a crowd favorite.

Perhaps the strongest point of the JV Bucs this year was their offensive backfield. Early in the season, the starting backfield consisted of quarterback Ram Parekh along with running backs Donnel Graham and Tyrone Fitts. Parekh moved on to the varsity where he started games against St. Joe's and Clifton. A great athlete, Parekh was even used as a third receiver in the big game against Nutley. Ram's strength appears to be in his scrambling ability. He throws on the run very well and is a smart field general, showing enough poise to lead run-dominated drives down the field.

Junior running back Donnel Graham gained notoriety in the Bucs' first game of the year. He scored two touchdowns in the win against Teaneck. A strong runner with enormous legs, he reminds you of Ricky Constantino (no relation) a tremendous fullback who graduated in 1993. Like Constantino, Graham relies on leg strength and the ability to create a hole when there isn't one. Graham was a goal line runner who led the Bucs in scoring this season.

The main runner for the Bucs early on was Tyrone Fitts. What Tyrone lacks in size, he makes up for in determination. A runner with excellent moves, Fitts was at his best against Teaneck when he gained over 150 yards. He quickly caught the eye of coach Senesky and was moved into the starting varsity backfield.

Sophomore Rich DeFalco appears to be Belleville's quarterback of the future. A tall kid with a strong arm, DeFalco gained varsity experience early in the season. On the JV level, DeFalco progressed nicely and in the team's final game he sparked in a 32-0 trouncing of Paramus. Rich DeFalco will be a name to remember in the future of Belleville football.

There was a strong supporting cast for Belleville this season and promising efforts were turned in by Dyer, Rafferty, Tyree Huffin, Efrain Mercado, and Jim Cotugno.

While the JV Bucs' record wasn't dazzling, it was solid with many players moving on to the varsity level. This year's JV football players will move on next year to provide help in what appears to be a promising varsity campaign next year.

Senior band member Albert Alves was among the upperclassmen who were honored prior to the start of last weeks football season finale.

Senior Brian Pasterchick, who missed almost all of the season due to injury, and his parents enjoy the moment during pre game ceremonies prior to Thanksgiving Day game.

Cheerleading captain Janine Mazzuca is in the midst of a flip during halftime dance routine. Mazzuca landed safely and the cheerleaders gave another fine performance at last weeks game.

Sal Berardi and his father embrace during pre game ceremonies in which seniors were honored.

Bobcats finish soccer season with 6-2 mark

The Belleville Bobcats of the Belleville Soccer Association completed the regular season with a second place finish in Division 3 of the Jersey Hills Youth Soccer League.

On opening day, the Bobcats defeated West Paterson, 4-2. Tommy Saja led the scoring with two goals, while Victor Celi and Jay Ambrosino had one goal each. The defense was led by Malori Clarke-Cameron and Derek Saar. In the second game, Belleville overpowered Wayne, 8-0. Walter Morales recorded the shutout and Mike Porecco had two goals.

The Bobcats suffered their first loss of the season in week three against Bloomfield, 6-4, in a game that was played in the rain. Dave Ranucci scored two goals with Danny Solorzano and Mike Porecco scoring one goal each.

The Bobcats got back on the winning track with a 5-2 victory over High Point and improved their record to 3-1. Mike Porecco led the way with three goals. Carlos Simoes and Derrick Czupak also scored, while the defensive standouts were Vinnie Mennella and Lou Scanzillo.

The second half of the season started with Belleville traveling to face undefeated Wanaque. The two teams battled back and forth with Wanaque prevailing, 4-3. Carlos Simoes led the scoring attack for the Bobcats, netting two goals, while Mike Porecco tallied one goal. Malori Clarke-Cameron and Victor Celi came through with strong efforts for Belleville.

Game six had Nutley visiting Belleville in a rain-soaked game. Walter Morales recorded his second shut-out of the season as the Bobcats won, 1-0. Carlos Simoes scored the game's only goal. Lou Scanzillo and Danny Solorzano led the defense for Belleville.

Next up was a re-match with Wayne. Once again, it was no contest as the Bobcats came away with a 9-1 victory. Mike Porecco led the scoring with three goals while Carlos Simoes scored twice for Belleville. Also scoring for the Bobcats were Dave Ranucci, Jimmy Smith, Vinnie Mennella and Danny Solorzano.

In the final game of the season, Belleville came back from a half-time deficit of 1-0 to defeat West Paterson, 4-1. Carlos Simoes scored two goals for the Bobcats while Dave Ranucci and Victor Celi scored one each. Fred Lozano, Mike Stefanelli and Luis Carhuayo also played well for Belleville.

The Bobcats finished the season with a record of 6-2 and are now preparing for the playoffs. The leading scorers for Belleville were Mike Porecco with 10 goals, Carlos Simoes with eight goals, and Dave Ranucci with five goals.

Aztecs go undefeated

(let's hope it's not as bad as last winter!).

But, after winter there will be spring, and before you know it, people will be talking about another football season and all the hype will start anew, with new heroes who will take the place of the former Buc standouts.

And through it all, the words of Sean Kimball will continue to ring in the minds of many current and future Belleville football players.

Only 364 more days, and counting.

VIRUSES VERSUS BACTERIA

There may be some confusion in the minds of some people as to whether antibiotics are effective in fighting viruses, bacteria, or both. Each of these microorganisms can be the culprit behind infections and illnesses. The free-living organisms known as bacteria can multiply and destroy tissues or produce toxins within the body. Viruses, on the other hand, usually do not live on their own. They are smaller than bacteria and can invade a host cell to change its genetic makeup, causing harmful cells to grow in place of healthy ones. In some cases, a virus may take over a cell and eventually kill it. Antibiotics are generally useful in killing bacteria, while people must be immunized against a particular virus (usually by vaccine). Antibiotics and other prescription medications are available at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Avenue (759-1956, 759-1968). We also carry cosmetics, toiletries, greeting cards, cameras, and film. Don't forget us for holiday gifts including Timex watches, transistor radios, and other items. Open: Daily 9am-10pm, Sundays 9am-9pm.

HINT: Antiviral drugs inhibit a virus from growing and decrease the symptoms it can cause.

Young Dems set Youth Summit

The Essex County Young Democrats will sponsor "Youth Summit 1" on Saturday, Dec. 3, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the West Ward Boys and Girls Club in Newark, on Littleton Avenue off of South Orange Avenue.

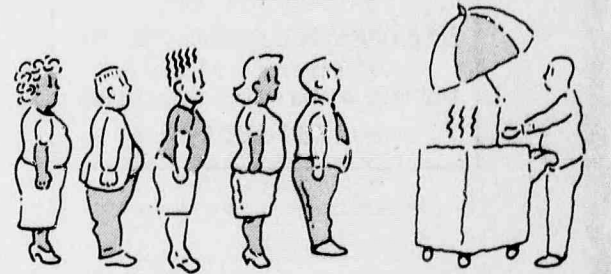

Essex County residents, especially those between 16 and 25, are invited to attend free of charge.

Government officials, community activists and private sector representatives will discuss job development and apprenticeship programs for young adults, economic development in Essex County and its impact on youth, and practical advice on obtaining employment. There will be a special emphasis on the needs of young adults from urban areas.

"The summit is non-partisan and intended to facilitate a dialogue between government, community groups, the private sector and youth," said ECYD President Ronald Rice Jr. He said the summit is the first in a series of bi-monthly ECYD forums that will address issues important to youth such as education, crime and recreation.

"Unfortunately, the concerns of young adults are often overlooked, while the needs of the elderly, taxpayers, and others receive great attention," Rice said. "We must remember, there can be no true renaissance in Newark or Essex County without the participation of young people. They represent the future of Essex County."

SHOWCASE OF FINE HOMES

Arlington Ridge available through Coccia Realty

With only five homes out of 26 remaining in Phase I of Coccia Realty's Arlington Ridge in Kearny, Phase II has already been commenced with great success.

Arlington Ridge will consist of a total of 137 townhouse, duplex and ranch-style homes situated on a 7.5-acre field in the heart of Kearny.

Situated on the Ridge of South Midland and Passaic Avenue in a residential neighborhood, the "community within a community" offers easy accessibility to shopping, schools, banks, restaurants, houses of worship, path and bus and rail transportations. It is also located minutes from the N.J. Turnpike, Route 280, Routes 3 and 21.

Arlington Ridge features spacious layouts combined with on-site amenities which have made them very popular with both the first and "second" home buyer.

Although most of the homes feature two bedrooms and one to two bathrooms, there are a few that consist of three bedrooms.

According to Joseph Coccia, co-developer of Arlington Ridge and co-owner of Coccia Realty, all homes especially in Phase II have been outfitted with upgrades without additional cost to the homebuyer. Deluxe kitchen cabinets, plush wall to wall carpet, thermal insulated tilt-in windows, microwave oven, dishwasher, electric garage door openers, gas heat and central air are just a few of the amenities. He also added that many of the models also include balconies.

Maintenance fees are also remarkably low, only $98 per month. A "tot lot" is also being planned with the neighborhood.

The prices themselves are also within reason, $123,900 to $127,900 for the remaining homes in Phase I and $127,900 to $164,900 for homes in the second phase.

John Kwarpniewski, president of Coccia Realty, indicated that "These homes are very unique to the area. Usually homebuyers would have to travel 40 or 50 miles out of the metropolitan area to find a home in a community such as Arlington Ridge."

Each home boasts its own individual entrance, versus common hallways that are usually found in other communities, as well as a sprinkler system and a security system which is free for one year provided by the builder.

Financing is also being made easy with low interest rate mortgages with no points, refundable application fees and 5 percent down payments being made available to qualified first-time homebuyers.

The sales office at Arlington Ridge is open daily and is located on site at 20 South Midland Avenue, Kearny.

Arlington Ridge is marketed through Coccia Realty, an active real estate organization with over 30 years experience, located at 636 Kearny Avenue, Kearny.

HOME SAFETY

How to Childproof Your Medicine Chest

News USA

(NU) - Every year hundreds of children become ill or die from accidental medication poisoning. If there are children living in or visiting your home, talk to your family pharmacist about childproofing your medicine cabinet.

Out of Reach

NARD, the national association representing independent retail pharmacy, offers these tips for making your medicine chest safer.

- Make it hard for children to get into trouble. Ask your pharmacist to dispense all of your medications in vials with childproof caps. To protect toddlers and young children, attach safety locks to any cabinets that contain medications or other toxic substances such as mouthwash and nail polish remover.

- Ask visiting grandparents and relatives to keep their medications hidden or out of reach. Children are curious by nature, and some medications are brightly colored or have a sugar-coating that make them particularly appealing.

- Discuss the potential dangers of medication with older children. Explain to teenagers that although someone else may be suffering from the same symptoms, prescriptions should never be shared. Have adolescents talk with your family pharmacist about medications and how they interact with each other. For example, aspirin can be life-threatening if taken within hours of some medications.

- Know which medications pose the biggest risk of overdose. Even a small quantity of iron-enriched prenatal vitamins can kill a toddler. Antidepressants and many heart medications may also cause a life-threatening situation.

- Don't assume that half an adult dose is equal to a child's dose. Talk to your pharmacist or physician about proper dosing before giving children any medication.

In an Emergency

Unfortunately, many children, regardless of the precautions taken by their parents, still fall ill due to poisoning. If you believe your child has swallowed or even sucked on medication that he or she shouldn't have, seek help immediately. Some medications have a delayed effect — don't be tricked because the child appears to be fine.

Because minutes count, keep the telephone number of the local poison control center in a handy location. Other phone numbers to know: your community pharmacist, physician, and emergency room.

If your child must be seen by a physician, remember to bring the medicine vial even if it is empty. The quantity, type, and strength of medication ingested are extremely important when determining a treatment.

Finally, keep in mind that a quick, calm response to an overdose may save your child's life.

Organized Neighborhoods Are Effective Deterrents to Crime

News USA

(NU) - While many people just talk about crime, neighbors in communities nationwide are getting together to prevent it. In fact, Neighborhood or Block Watch programs are among the most effective and least expensive ways to discourage crime and reduce fear.

October — national Crime Prevention Month — may be the perfect time to organize your neighborhood. Here, from the Crime Prevention

Coalition, are some tips for getting started

- Form your watch group around a geographic unit — a block, apartment complex, park or business area.
- Let the police and other crime prevention organizations know you're forming a group and ask for help in training members. You'll need home security and reporting skills, as well as information on local crime patterns.
- Select a coordinator and block captains to organize meetings and relay information to members.
- As you recruit members, be sure to include renters, the elderly and young people

Getting Results

Neighborhood watch groups are not vigilantes. They are extra eyes and ears for reporting crime. And they are neighbors helping neighbors.

- Watch group members ...
  - Listen for screams or shouts for help.
  - Watch for someone looking into windows or parked cars.
  - Observe vehicles moving slowly with no apparent destination, or without lights.
  - Report anyone being forced into a vehicle.
  - Observe a stranger sitting in a car or stopping to talk with a child.
  - Work with local officials to require dead-bolt locks, smoke alarms and other safety devices in new and existing homes and commercial buildings.

- Work with parent groups and schools to start a McGruff House or other block parent program to help children in emergencies.

McGruff, the crime prevention dog, and his "Take A Bite Out Of Crime" slogan symbolize the National Citizens' Crime Prevention Campaign. McGruff House programs are staffed by volunteers and forge partnerships with law enforcement agencies, schools and community organizations.

To find out how to start a McGruff House, call 801-486-8768.

For more information on starting a neighborhood watch group and other ways communities can fight crime, contact the Crime Prevention Coalition, c/o the National Crime Prevention Council, 1700 K St., N.W., Washington, DC 20006-3817. Or call 202-466-6272.

As a convenience to the buyer, monthly payments are included in our ads. For purchase prices up to $250,000, monthly mortgage payments (principal + interest) quoted in our ads are to qualified buyers, based upon a 20% downpayment and a conventional 30-year fixed rate loan at 6.000% with 3 points. EXAMPLE: For an example, a $100,000 loan would mean monthly payments of $904.62. For purchase prices from $250,000 to $400,000, the monthly payments are to qualified buyers based upon a 20% downpayment and calculated at 8.125% with 3 points on a 30-year fixed rate mortgage with an APR of 8.472%. An example of a $50,000 loan would mean 300 monthly payments of $4,082.16. Figure terms are approximate and do not include property taxes, hazard insurance, or homeowners' association dues for a condominium purchase. Interest rates quoted are, as of November 1, 1994, and subject to change. Not responsible for typographical errors; while information is believed accurate, we request that the payment be verified with a mortgage provider prior to purchase.
