MANAGER of Beta Theta Pi fraternity and was named the most popular student at Colgate.
Mr. Irwin is vice president of the Irwin boat works. He was one of the organizers of the Shrewsbury power squadron, serving as its first commander and is a member of the United States Coast Guard reserve. He attends the Methodist church.
Mr. Parker was born at Red Bank on Newman Springs road, in 1910 and attended Red Bank and Shrewsbury grade schools. He was graduated from Red Bank high school in 1927 and has been employed since that time by the Seaboard Ice company. He is now the manager of the Red Bank branch.
Mr. Parker is a charter member and a past president of the Red Bank Quadrangle club, a member of the Red Bank Rotary club and secretary of the Red Bank commercial bowling league. While at Red Bank high school, he participated in football, baseball and track.
Mr. Wellner is connected with the schedule rating office of the Board of Fire Underwriters and is manager of the local office at Asbury Park. He was born in New York and attended schools in that city. He was graduated from Polytechnic institute at Brooklyn.
Formerly employed by the Underwriters map association, he traveled extensively throughout the eastern seaboard. He came to Red Bank 20 years ago and joined the Reformed church, which he is serving as an elder. He is also a former president of the Men's club of the Reformed club. Mr. Wellner is a veteran of the World war.

Defer Action On Water Rate Fight

Little Silver Council to Give Further Study

Action was deferred by the Little Silver mayor and council on a resolution approving Ward Kremer as counsel at hearings before the State Public Utility commission on the proposed increase in rates of the Monmouth Consolidated Silver. Mr. Kremer will represent the various municipalities which are opposing the new rate schedule. The borough's share, if it joins with the other municipalities, is $375.
Officials said they wanted more time to study the matter. Councilman Victor Satter said if the franchise taxes paid to the borough by the water company equals or exceeds the annual sum paid by the borough for fire hydrant service he was not in favor of uniting with the other municipalities "just to fight a utility." The company's new schedule increases the annual fire hydrant charge from $25 to $40 for each hydrant.
Councilman Frederick T. Hurley, who was prepared to read the resolution when the decision was made to defer action on it, pointed out that the new schedule not only affected the fire hydrant rates but also the rates to private consumers.
It was decided to obtain more information about the water rates and bring up the resolution again for consideration at an adjourned meeting next Tuesday night, at which time the budget for 1941 will be introduced.
The recommendation of Councilman Kenneth Walker that another street light be installed at Colonial terrace was approved. Mr. Walker said he had made an investigation and that another light was needed.

No Opposition In Keansburg Election

Three members of the Keansburg board of education who are seeking re-election will have no opposition at the school election February 11. They are Fred J. Treney, Alvin A. Adams and George Behn.
The school budget, to be voted on at the forthcoming election, calls for a decrease of $500 in expenditures. The appropriation for current expenses is $27,000, the item for repairs and replacements is $1,375 and the amount for bonds and interest is $8,245.
Registration of new voters will take place Saturday, February 8, between 7 and 9 o'clock in the evening. Balloting will take place in the Francis place school February 11 between 8 and 9 p. m.
Roy Farley has been named as judge of the board of election, Miss Helen McGrath, secretary and Mrs. Virginia Compton and Andrew Snellgrove clerks.

Plans Discussed For Second Forum

Tentative plans for a second press forum were discussed at a luncheon meeting of the Monmouth County Women's Press club Saturday at the Red Bank coffee shop on Maple avenue. Further plans for the forum will be announced soon.
The luncheon marked the first anniversary of the club. Miss Ruth M. Straus, chairman, presided.
Others present were Miss Helen Mazza and Miss Louella Frey of Red Bank, Mrs. Harry J. Carlin of Fair Haven, Mrs. Ellsworth Tilton, Mrs. Matthew Feldman, Mrs. Philip Nelding and Mrs. Bertha Henn of Keyport, and Mrs. Elliot B. Brainerd of Long Branch.

Three Children Give Parents, Borough Scare

Search Lasts Three Hours But All's Well That Ends Well

Mrs. William Robinson of Grange avenue, Fair Haven, called on Mrs. George Lane of Knollwood last Thursday to spend the afternoon. With Mrs. Robinson was her four-year-old son William, who came to spend the afternoon with Mrs. Lane's five-year-old son George. Now such scenes are common in American homes, and quite the right thing to do, but the scene in the Lane home that afternoon was the beginning of developments which will be remembered for a long time.
William and George slipped away from the house unbeknownst to their mothers, and were joined by Powell Bayland, another four-year-old youngster. Where the boys went must be left a dark secret until later for it would spoil the whole story.
The shades of night were falling fast when Mrs. Robinson decided to start for home. Where was William? Where was George? Alarmed, the women notified Councilman Edgar V. Donise of Knollwood, who joined in a search of the neighborhood. Not a sign of the children.
Mr. Donise enlisted the aid of Police Chief Joseph Gordon, Police Officer Harry Veronenu and Special Officer Frank Leslie. They went in different directions in cars but returned without finding the children.
More volunteers were called as darkness set in. The Red Bank police were notified and they made a search of stores and streets in the eastern part of Red Bank. Police Chief Fred Ziegler of Little Silver and others started out in that borough. At 6 o'clock it was decided to call out the Fair Haven fire company and 40 men divided into groups and started an intensive search. Ten Fair Haven Boy Scouts and the ambulance squad also gave a helping hand. Ponds were searched and men sank into mud up to their knees combing fields and marshlands.
Two hours later Roy King and Fred Russell, riding in the ambulance, learned that the boys had been seen on Hance road in the afternoon. "I have a hunch," said Roy and he headed the ambulance for the Robinson home.
Yes, the three wandering boys were there. And what were they doing? Eating spaghetti. Needless to say, it was a happy reunion when the children were brought back to their parents.

English Woman Speaks To Club

International Group Plans Two Meetings

Mrs. John Khuner, who came to the United States six months ago from England, was guest speaker at a meeting of the international relations department of the Little Silver Woman's club Monday at the club house. Mrs. Khuner gave an account of her trip and read excerpts from letters written by members of her family, her husband and friends living in England.
Mrs. Wilson Smith, chairman, presided. Reports were given by Mrs. A. E. Bowen and Mrs. A. Gardner Fox on international and national questions. The next department meeting will be Monday, February 24, at the club house. The group will attend a meeting of the Monmouth County Branch of the American Association of University Women Monday, February 10, at the Molly Pitcher hotel.

Christian Endeavor Day This Sunday

The observance of Christian Endeavor day, the climax of Christian Endeavor week, will be held by the members of the four societies of the Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon in the chapel. Miss Norma Norman, president of the young people's group, will preside at this celebration of the rainbow jubilee or the 90th anniversary of the founding of Christian Endeavor.
Robert F. Worden will present the invocation and Miss Norman will welcome the young people. Samuel T. Harvey, Jr., will read the scriptural lesson and several members will present sentence prayers. Also special anniversary music will be rendered.
The organization was formed February 2, 1881, by the late Rev. Francis E. Clark and Mrs. Clark in the Williston Congregational church at Portland, Maine. It has grown into an international and interdenominational group whose purpose is manifold. It serves as a "clearing house" for young people to exchange ideas, a method of solving many problems by discussion, a means of developing leadership and an incentive for further development of fellowship among Christian young men and women.
The theme of worship for this Sunday's anniversary program will be "Christ Calls! I Will Answer." All young men and women of Red Bank are invited to this celebration.

Mrs. Alida Emmons Observes Birthday

Mrs. Alida Emmons of McLaren street quietly celebrated her 87th birthday Monday at her home. She received a large birthday cake, numerous cut-flowers and a number of cards and gifts.
Due to the inclement weather a number of her relatives who had planned to visit her were unable to do so. Among those who did visit Mrs. Emmons were her daughter, Mrs. Harry H. Good of New York city, and several nieces, including Mrs. Edward Reynolds and Mrs. Eva Carr of Spring Lake, Mrs. Frank Hickman of Asbury Park, Mrs. Annie C. Worden, Mrs. Albert W. Worden and her five-year-old granddaughter, Christa Joyce Worden.
Miss Alida Emmons of Leonard, grand-daughter of Mrs. Emmons, is spending the winter with her. Mrs. Emmons is the widow of Charles W. Emmons, who was a railroad employee, serving many years as baggage master and conductor.

Telephone Man Addresses Lions

History of Service at Red Bank Given

Fred Zellman, Jr., wire chief of the Red Bank district of the New Jersey Bell Telephone company, was in charge of the program, at Tuesday night's meeting of the Lions club at the Molly Pitcher hotel. He gave a talk on the history of the telephone company in Red Bank and its growth during the past few years. Later, assisted by Jack Burns of the company staff, two sound films, "Trouble in Spots" and "The Company Meets a Challenge" were exhibited.
Mr. Zellman has been associated with the company nearly 20 years. He said the first connections by telephone between Red Bank and surrounding towns was in 1883 and the latter part of that year the first pay phone was installed in the old Schroeder drug store on Broad street, near the present Broad Street bank building. The following January a line was established between the former James E. Weaver tailor shop on Front street and the old boat club building on the river bank.
The speaker declared that what was then thought of as a luxury is now known as a necessity. A list of some of the original subscribers at Red Bank was read and mention was made that Justice Charles R. D. Foxwell and Prentiss I. Minton were two of the original operators of the company's exchange here. In 1898 there were 100 subscribers and the total now is 5,100, the largest in the company's history here. The first business office was established at Red Bank in 1900.
At the present time, during the busy hours of the day an average of 3,000 calls per hour are taken care of, and there are 190 trunk lines out of the local office. Mr. Zellman referred to the history of the American Telephone and Telegraph company and also the prominent part taken by the company in co-operating with defense plans, citing the location in this vicinity of Fort Monmouth, Fort Hancock and Fort Dix. In particular he mentioned that a few days ago the local office completed the installation of a telephone switchboard with 22 connections, for the Fort Monmouth contractor, J. Daniel Tuller, a past president of the Lions, in five and a half hours.
The two sound films showed views of the great damage wrought to telephone company lines and poles by hurricanes, floods and fires in New Jersey and the New England states, and the fast and expert manner in which they were repaired and service restored.
An informal reception was held for Mr. Zellman after the meeting and he received many congratulations for his fine talk. Harry W. Crawford, president of the Red Bank Rotary club and local manager of the Red Bank district office of the telephone company, was a guest of Mr. Zellman at the meeting.
President Lester R. Ross was in charge of the meeting and, on behalf of the club, he extended a warm welcome to James A. Curley, who returned Monday night from his honeymoon trip to Florida. In response to the hearty congratulations, Mr. Curley distributed cigars to the members and guests.
Milton Heller, real estate and insurance agent, and William R. Blair, Jr., patent lawyer, were unanimously elected new members, the active list now totalling 69. Another new application for membership was referred to the board of directors. An attendance prize, presented by Third Vice President Willis A. Clayton, was awarded to Mr. Curley, the correct answer to the question being the air distance between Pittsburgh and Portland, Oregon, is 2,700 miles.
Next Tuesday night induction of new members will take place, club business matters transacted and attendance awards and questions will be furnished by Director Seely B. Tutthill and Dr. Edwin S. Osten.

Fred Thomas Joins Navy

Red Banker Back in Government Service

Fred R. Thomas of Branch avenue recently joined the United States Navy and reported Tuesday to the recruiting station at Newport, Rhode Island. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Thomas.

Thomas received his honorable discharge several years ago at the conclusion of a three-year enlistment period in the United States Army. During his Army service he spent one year in San Francisco and the remaining time in the Philippine Islands. Because of his military experience in the Philippine sector, Thomas has reason to believe he will be ordered to the Asiatic fleet.

The new recruit was employed by the Satter Lumber company following his release from the Army and has since been employed at Toms River. He was a member of the Toms River Athletic club football team last year. He is a graduate of Red Bank high school.

When questioned as to why he selected the naval branch of the government service instead of returning to the Army, Thomas said he believed the navy offered a "better opportunity."

Appeal Committee Gets Letters From England

The Shrewsbury England Appeal fund committee recently received two letters of thanks from the mayor of Shrewsbury, England, and the head of Red Cross work at Shrewsbury, England, for a check for more than $1,000 which was sent to the stricken city earlier this month. The money sent to England was collected by Shrewsbury residents during a three-month period. Mrs. L. S. Yivisker, committee chairman, has announced that the appeal fund drive will be continued in the spring. The committee treasury has a balance of $30 which will be enlarged upon this spring.

The two letters are published below. The first letter was written by the Mayor of Shrewsbury, England, Harry Steward, to Frederick W. Robinson, who was mayor of Shrewsbury when the campaign fund opened.

Gulldahl, Shrewsbury, 13th, December, 1940.

Mayor F. W. Robinson

Dear Mr. Mayor: Mr. Wilding has shown me the letter and news-cutting which Mrs. Yivisker has sent to him in response to our appeal to you and to the citizens of New Shrewsbury to support us in our efforts for the Red Cross.

I can only say on behalf of the Angel town that everyone here is happy to know that they have your whole-hearted support in this our time of stress.

I am proud that in this my third year of office as the chief citizen of Shrewsbury, all are rallying round me so magnificently in pursuance of our war efforts which are going to bring us to victory.

It is a difficult time that we are passing through, but our faith in a great cause cannot but bring peace more among us, with we pray, happiness and prosperity to the whole world, in which your town will I hope have no small share.

Yours sincerely, Harry Steward, Capt. M. C. J. F., Mayor of Shrewsbury.

Mrs. L. S. Yivisker, Shrewsbury, New Jersey.

Dear Mrs. Yivisker: Your kind letter of October 28 has just arrived, and it gives me great pleasure, as you may imagine, to know that New Shrewsbury is to help us in our Red Cross appeal. Our Mayor was delighted to hear of your whole-hearted support, and I am happy to enclose a note from him to Mrs. Robinson, with this letter.

I have a meeting of my committee on Tuesday next, when I will read your very kind letter, and the very interesting news-cutting which you were kind enough to send. I too will reciprocate by sending you the cuttings of the write-up which will appear in our local press about the support you are giving us, and I shall of course be very interested to see any further cuttings from your papers regarding your campaign on our behalf.

To date we have raised in our town about 5,300 pounds for the Red Cross and further efforts are expected to increase this amount; we have had, I think you will agree, a generous response from our public at a time when there are so many calls on one's income due to the war.

I am pleased to say that apart from a few isolated cases we have so far escaped any material damage in this ancient borough, and we earnestly pray that we may be spared the horror and wanton destruction of the indiscriminate attacks which have been made on some of our other cities in England.

Under separate cover I have sent you by ordinary mail some books about our town which I hope will be of interest to your citizens. I am sorry, but it is impossible for me to send you the autograph of our King for it is a very strict rule of the royal family that this cannot be given. I personally endeavored to obtain it for a purpose in connection with our own appeal, but I was unsuccessful.

We are all so full of confidence here in England in our ultimate victory, and it is amazing to hear how the citizens of our bombed areas have stood up to their ordeal, and of the will to "go to it" with far greater zest than before.

Certain foods are of course "rationed" but there is plenty of food for everyone, and although some luxuries are not obtainable one can truthfully say that there is little difference in our food compared with pre-war standards. We are comforted to know that we have your prayers and confidence in the ultimate fulfillment of those things for which we are fighting.

Yours sincerely, J. O. Wilding.

YMCA Discusses Boy Government

Idea Is Explained in Detail by Nelson Scull

The board of directors of the Little Silver Y. M. C. A. met Thursday evening at the home of Councilman Anthony L. McKim on Rumson road. The work of the boys' government which meet weekly at the Little Silver school was discussed.

It was announced that the Junior Hi-Y group had made arrangements to go roller skating tomorrow evening.

Nelson Scull, county secretary, discussed boy government. He described in detail the one that was set up in Sea Girt, and strongly recommended the idea as an excellent method of teaching the boys about their own municipal government. A committee was appointed to look into the matter and to make the necessary arrangements to set up such a boys' government at Little Silver.

The financial chairman, Albert S. Dielman, reported that plans for the annual campaign were being formulated. Mr. McKim announced that a Y. M. C. A. defense fund was being set up with which to establish recreational facilities near the various military encampments throughout the state. The Little Silver quota was set at $50 and Chester Apy was appointed chairman of a special committee to arrange for the collection of that sum.

The present were William H. Carhart, R. K. Cooke, A. S. Dielman, Karl G. Jansky, L. R. Lowry, Mr. McKim, George R. Woodhouse and Mr. Scull.

Rate Fight To Cost Middletown $1,730

Middletown township's share of the cost of contesting the proposed rate increase of the Monmouth Consolidated Water company will amount to $1,730, it was revealed last week at a meeting of the township committee.

The committee adopted a resolution requesting the State Fish and Game commission to realock township waters and fields with small fish and game. "There was a time," John T. Lawley, chairman of the finance committee, said, "when Middletown was one of the most famous places in New Jersey for hunting and fishing. Unfortunately, this sport, which is a poor man's sport, seems to be on the wane in Middletown."

An assessment hearing on East Keansburg jetties will be held Thursday, March 13. Named to five-year terms on the Leonardo harbor commission were Charles J. Hesse, Jr., Walter J. Bills and Walter Schoelmer.

The membership of seven firemen in the department was approved. They are Fred Williamson, Brevent Park and Leonardo; Garret A. Corson, Lincoln; John Johnson, East Keansburg; Paul Ludlow, Port Monmouth; Harold S. Newman, Community and Robert P. and John G. Mason, Middletown No. 1.

County Pupils To Compete In Art Work

Pupils of the Rumson, Leonardo and Matawan high schools will compete in the New Jersey high school art exhibition to be held from February 24 to March 8 at L. Bamberg & Co., Newark.

The 150 competing schools will send in their entries between February 1 and 8, and the selection jury will meet the early part of the following week to choose from the thousands of pieces of arts and crafts work submitted. Every student whose work is hung, will receive a certificate of merit, and the first three winners in both groups of the 16 different classifications will receive medal awards in addition to merchandise prizes.

Wouldn't You
Welcome Relief from Certain Tasks?
Given the opportunity, there are some tasks from which any woman would simply "leap for relief." Doing the dishes is one. The family was another. We offer no suggestion about the dishes, but when it comes to the toil and toil of weekly washing, have a convenient solution—try our Economy Service.
All washing and most of the ironing is done for you. Flatwork is finished; balance fluff-dried. That leaves only outer wearing apparel for you to iron at your convenience.
The rate? You'd hardly guess that low—5c per pound, first 5 pounds 55c; handkerchiefs 1c each extra. (Shirts professionally finished, if desired, 10c each additional). Economy saves work, saves time and, true to its name, saves money! Try it once and we know you'll agree.

GORDON - BARKELEW. (a) Where was Samuel Gordon b., married, died or buried? He was b. Mar. 28, 1765, d. July 18, 1834. He md. Patience Cumberly of Hamilton Square, N. J. (Hlet. of Union & Middlesex Co's, p. 825-827).
(b) Where was Abraham Barkelew b. in 1720? What was his wife's name? Their son Runyon Barkelew lived near Old Bridge and was father of Vincent, Abraham (2), Stephen H., Abigail, md. Gordon; Betsy, md. Serivise; Runyon Barkelew served from 1776-1781 in Rev. war several months in each year and was 20 when he claimed service. Have a certified copy from Adj. General's Office in Trenton, N. J. They also advised me that Runyon Barkelew filed Invalid Pension claim #84 which is on file in Washington. In deed, Runyon Barkelew names wife Sarah. What was Sarah's maiden name? Was Abraham Barkelew's wife a Runyon? Whom? (J.W.R.)

VAN ROLLEGOM - STANLEY - WHITE - LEROUX. A joint will proven 1693-4, made by Jans Van Rollegom and wife, Tryntje Jans VanHartenbaugh mentions dau, Gertrude, wife of Bartholamew LaRoux. (N. Y. Wills). Gertrude and Bartholamew were witnesses at the baptism of Elizabeth, dau. of Robert White and Frances Stanley (1695). Also, Jaquemyntie, dau. of Robert White and Frances Stanley (1697). Reformed Church of N. Y. records state that Robert White of London, Eng. md. (1) 1890 Jacomyntie Van Rollegom; (2) 1894, Frances Stanley. The chn. bpt. were of the 2nd mar., but evidently Jacomyntie was named for the 1st wife. Was the witness, Gertrude Van Rollegom, a sis. of Robert White's 1st wife. The mar. of Gertrude and Bartholamew LaRoux was celebrated in 1688. Who were the Van Rollegom (or Van Rollegon) and LaRoux? Frances Stanley was dau. of Thomas Stanley, but who was he? A Thomas Stanley, took oath at Boston with William Bartholamew. Was Robert White related to Thomas White, who came from Deal, Eng. and bpt. land in Monmouth Co. 1815? Jacomyntie White (1697-1784) md. John Morris, son of Lewis Morris and Elizabeth Almy and was my ancestress. I wonder if the Van Rollegoms and LaRoux Americanized their names as did many of the old Dutch and French Huguenot stock, as occurred in the case of the two brothers—Thys (Matthys) James Lanen Van Pelt and Teunis Janso Lanen Van Pelt whose descendants are now known by the names of Lane and Van Pelt, respectively. A des. of reporter family from the South gave me the family history, but says the search must be confined in Kentucky and from Long Island, its all rather vague, the family in early 1800's were from New Jersey, went to L. J. and from there South. Kentucky is full of Woolleys and Carpenters and Hammersleys families, but a county must be known in Ky. from where to start work and Radio-Program of "Missing heirs" did not say. (Mrs. C.B.H.)

Court Affirms $17,303 Verdict

Judgment Obtained by Lester Clayton Upheld

A judgment of $17,303.73 in favor of Lester Clayton of Freehold against his stepmother, Mrs. Mary S. Clayton, also of Freehold, executrix of the estate of Charles H. Clayton, deceased, was affirmed in a decision handed down last week by Justice Parker in the New Jersey Supreme court.

The appeal was the result of lengthy litigation that followed Charles Clayton's death June 3, 1938. At that time Lester Clayton, who was the son of Charles Clayton, was the possessor of a promissory note in the amount of $13,600 made payable to him by his father. Lester Clayton subsequently presented to the executrix a claim for the face amount of the note with interest, the whole amounting to $17,303.73. The claim was rejected by the executrix and suit was started in the Monmouth County Common Pleas court. At the trial before Judge John C. Giordano in September, 1939, the genuineness of the note was bitterly disputed. Another defense made was that the note was a gift from the father to the son and for that reason uncollectible.

John J. Quinn, of the law firm of Quinn & Doremus of Red Bank, who represented Lester Clayton at the trial and in the appeal, contended before the Supreme court that the note was genuine; that it was not a gift from the father to the son, but represented payment of the son's share in a partnership business which the two had carried on in Freehold for some years prior to the father's death.

A handwriting expert from New York, who was produced at the trial, unquestionably demonstrated the genuineness of the note.

Justice Parker, in deciding the case, held that there was no evidence that the note was a gift but that on the other hand the evidence clearly showed that the note was given for a valuable consideration. He further found that no error was committed in the court below on any of the grounds of appeal urged for the reversal of the judgment.

Middletown P. T. A. To View Tableaux

A special program of tableaux showing figures in the educational regime of American history, and the singing of patriotic and folk songs of the period will be given at the Founders' day meeting Thursday night, February 6, by the Middletown Township High School Parent-Teacher association at the high school auditorium at 8:30 o'clock. Dr. Wiley G. Pate will be narrator. William Lybarger, chairman of program, will lead in the community singing. Lights will be in the hands of Kenneth Melner, who will also show a picture on the work of the Red Cross.

Miss Doris Hurst will be in charge of music. Others taking part will be Barbara Hamilton, Eleanor Merken, Robert Willey, Claire Hillier, Beverly Rabone, Carl Helwig, Jr., Walter Willey, Mrs. Howard Rabone, Mrs. Wiley G. Pate, Harold Hillier, Jean Ahearn, Harriet Banfield, Donald and Rodney Gordon, Albert Ruff, James David Heiser, William G. Thomas, Carl Helwig, Sr., Ralph and Harold Morford, Mrs. Cornelia Patterson and Mrs. Frank S. Wadsworth. A group of 12 girls will sing spirituals under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Clayton, supervisor of music. The program will be in charge of Mrs. Belle Gold Cross.

Youth Arrested For Attack On Small Child

Ernest Beldo, 18, colored, of West Bergen place, was held for the action of the grand jury Friday morning when he was arraigned before Recorder John V. Crowell on a charge of atrocious assault on a six-year-old child. According to police, Beldo attempted to attack the child in a wooded section just south of the municipal athletic field on Bergen place.

Andrew Brown of Broad street and Walter VanNess of Leighton avenue, who were passing by, heard the child's screams and ran to the scene. Beldo fled, but a description was furnished the police, and Lieutenant George Clayton apprehended the youth at Central avenue and Berry street. Police declared that Beldo had been guilty of previous attempted attacks on children.

Hawaii Popular With Marines

Famous in song and story, the Hawaiian Islands are decidedly popular with the U. S. Marines and blue-jackets, according to hundreds of them who, at various times, have been stationed at Pearl Harbor, about eight miles from the city of Honolulu.

There are definite reasons for their popularity. Not only has the charm of the islands intrigued many tourists as well as the marines but the climate is said to be the most equable in the world. Since the days of Captain Cook the archipelago has been a focal point of romantic interest.

Members of all branches of the service are stationed on the island of Oahu and there is some lively competition among them in boxing, baseball and other sports.

About 100 years ago, in 1840, Pearl Harbor was surveyed by Commodore Charles Wilkes of the U. S. Navy, who recommended the site as a naval base. A few years later Lieutenant J. W. Curtis of the Marine Corps also recommended the harbor as a proper site for the defense of Honolulu.

Naturally neither officer could foresee that Pearl Harbor eventually would become an important naval base, even though its possibilities as such were recognized.

"If the water upon the bar could be deepened, which I doubt not can be effected," wrote Commodore Wilkes, it would afford the best and most capacious harbor in the Pacific." Wilkes also wrote that the location was so named because it was the only spot where "pearl oysters" could be found in the islands. Units of the Marine Corps have been stationed at Pearl Harbor since 1904. Nearly all of them seem well pleased with their tour of duty in the "Paradise of the Pacific."

Zippers have been manufactured commercially since 1913 but until several years ago were used only on tobacco pouches, galoshes, etc.

State Council Has 5-Point Program To Publicize State

Advantages of State as Recreational Area to Be Emphasized

Trenton.—The recreational program of the New Jersey Council for this year, states Amory L. Haskell, director, looks ahead to the further development of the natural recreational assets and continued advertising of the state as a recreational area by state, public and private, county, regional and community agencies and interests. The activities, as recommended by the recreational committee of the council, includes also further efforts to improve accommodations and service and to disseminate information to prove to New Jersey people that the recreational industry benefits all business and interests all citizens.

A five-point program covering the publicizing of the state has been submitted by the committee including (a) the further improvement and co-ordination of individual advertising efforts; (b) the improvement and co-ordination of sales literature published in the state; (c) increased reference to New Jersey as a recreational area in national advertising by the state's industries and financial institutions; (d) further development and publicity of recreational events as a means of increasing vacations in New Jersey, and (e) increased publicizing of New Jersey as a year-round vacation state.

In connection with improvements of accommodations and service, the committee recommends, according to Mr. Haskell, that (a) hotels, inns and camps be modernized as rapidly as possible; (b) that operators provide more recreation facilities; (c) that food dishes, typical of New Jersey, be featured; and (d) that there be a continued development of cordial and co-operative interest in recreational visitors and property owners on the part of the state, municipalities, public officials and people engaged in recreational business.

Another suggestion of the council committee covers the state's natural recreational assets and recommends the improvement of roadsides and community entrances; increased accessibility of natural beauty spots; zoning of both community and recreational areas for the maintenance of their attractiveness and value from the standpoint of the visitor and property owner and the determination, in conjunction with federal and state agencies, of policies regarding the land and water areas to be developed for recreational use by the public and areas in which private investment in recreational properties is to be encouraged.

The final suggestion of the committee, according to Mr. Haskell, recommends the continued development of trunk line highways to major and minor recreational areas and adequate and attractive markings of routes and places of historic, cultural and recreational interest.

FORD ECONOMY WINS AGAIN!

FIRST PLACE IN ITS CLASS GILMORE-GRAND CANYON ECONOMY RUN

23.05 MILES PER GALLON AT AN AVERAGE SPEED OF 43.19 MILES PER HOUR!

Earl Gilmore, President of the Gilmore Oil Company, awards trophy to William Knopp, driver of the 1941 Super DeLuxe Ford car which won first place in its class. Al Siebing, Hollywood Ford dealer entering the car, looks on.

For the fourteen-hour run the stock model 1941 Ford averaged better than 43 miles an hour over the grueling 599.3-mile course from Los Angeles to the Grand Canyon—through city traffic, across the Mojave Desert and Boulder Dam, up and down the winding roads of three high mountain ranges buffeted by stubborn headwinds, and over ice and slush for the last hundred miles with four inches of snow on the road at the finish! The run from start to finish was under the supervision of the Contest Board of the American Automobile Association. This Ford victory should conclusively prove to every motorist the surpassing economy of the Ford V-8.

Repeating its past triumphs Ford scores a decisive fuel-saving victory. It took an easy first in its class, with the amazing record of 23.05 miles per gallon! The second car in the class averaged 21.71. The stock Ford without overdrive surpassed the record of several higher priced cars equipped with overdrive.

That's official proof of the big, beautiful 1941 Ford's downright pinch-penny economy. The Contest Board of the American Automobile Association strictly supervised the punishing 599.3-mile Gilmore-Grand Canyon Economy Run, checked all records, released the figures! Ask any Ford dealer to give you the keys to a 1941 Ford—drive it yourself—and you'll want to own "the low-priced car with the room, the ride, the view, and economy, too!"

Stern Issues Second Statement

Says Essex Got Relief As Well As Roads

Essex county received "concrete" as well as "bread and milk" during the heavy State Highway Fund diversion years when the cry was raised "We want bread and milk instead of concrete."

This was contended by State Highway Commissioner E. Donald Sterner in the second of a series of weekly news releases answering charges of discrimination against Essex county, in particular, and the North Jersey Metropolitan counties in the distribution of State Highway Funds.

Essex county, Commissioner Sterner pointed out, received a total of nearly twenty million dollars from the motorists' taxes out of a total of nearly fifty-three and one-half million dollars disbursed for relief payments between 1937 and 1940.

Essex county's share represented not only more state highway funds for relief than any other county, as well as more than all the South Jersey counties put together, but was actually nearly two million dollars more than the combined allotment to eighteen other counties.

In his next release, Commissioner Sterner will tell in detail how, exclusive of the Edison Bridge-Amboys State project, Essex county "has also received the 'concrete' through more state highway funds on state highway projects than any county in the state and more than all the six South Jersey counties combined."

His statement on cash relief payments to the counties during the heavy diversion years follows:

"Having shown that the Essex county freshers received more state aid than any other county in my first release, last Friday, in this series to show just where our state highway funds have gone during my administration from 1935 to 1940, I shall in this release show that during the heavy diversion years of 1937 to 1940, inclusive, Essex county received approximately twenty million dollars out of a total of fifty-three and one-half million dollars disbursed to all of the counties for cash relief.

The total disbursements to Essex county represented not only more state highway funds from the motorists' taxes for relief payments than any other county, as well as more than all the counties of South Jersey combined, but actually amounted to nearly two million dollars more than the combined allotment to the following eighteen counties:

"Atlantic, Bergen, Burlington, Cape May, Cumberland, Gloucester, Hunterdon, Mercer, Middlesex, Monmouth, Morris, Ocean, Passaic, Salem, Somerset, Sussex, Union and Warren.

"In other words, under the slogan 'We want bread and milk instead of concrete,' Essex county not only received about twenty million dollars in the last four years for 'bread and milk' but, as I shall show in my next release, Essex county, exclusive of the Edison Bridge-Amboys' bottleneck state project, has also received the 'concrete' through more state highway funds on state highway projects than any county in the state and more than all the six South Jersey counties combined.

"It should be noted in the table below that in the disbursement of state highway funds for cash relief, the six Metropolitan North Jersey counties have received about six times the amount disbursed in all the South Jersey counties. Likewise, next week I shall show that during my administration the Metropolitan North Jersey counties have received about four times the combined expenditures for state highway projects in all the South Jersey counties.

"In the following table of cash relief for all the counties of the state, I have only used the years 1937 to 1940, inclusive, since they are the years when the heavy diversions of state highway construction funds for cash relief occurred, nearly ninety per cent involving either cash diversions of highway funds or bond issues for the payment of which state highway funds are pledged.

Cash relief disbursement, 1937 to 1940 inclusive:

Atlantic	$ 1,528,295.51
Bergen	1,745,010.00
Burlington	1,986,370.92
Camden	4,353,875.24
Cape May	151,285.90
Cumberland	417,370.87
Essex	19,758,784.97
Gloucester	580,020.90
Hudson	11,686,570.50
Hunterdon	59,269.42
Mercer	8,068,894.27
Middlesex	3,269,255.81
Monmouth	524,291.25
Morris	486,183.22
Ocean	112,638.42
Passaic	8,257,209.13
Salem	21,594.53
Somerset	207,695.57
Sussex	30,552.37
Union	1,468,789.97
Warren	508,025.45
Total	$58,642,783.85

"During 1935 and 1936 there were further cash diversions of seven and one-half million dollars of highway funds but most of the state's share of cash relief came from state funds including sales tax receipts in 1935 and from the Dorrance Estate Inheritance Taxes in 1936."

Business Women's Club Has Meeting

The Red Bank Business and Professional Women's club met Thursday night at the home of Miss Donna Green at Shrewsbury. Miss Irma Groell, president, reported on the state executive board meeting held at Trenton recently. Miss Green and Miss Edna Mapps also attended this meeting.

The National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs is endeavoring to raise funds for several motorized food kitchens from which to feed the homeless in Britain's bombed areas. The Red Bank club made a contribution to this fund.

Miss Harriet Cook was in charge of the program. The topic was "Helping to Shape Legislation." Her talk related to the laws which affect women and discussion followed. Miss Donna Green, health chairman, distributed health tests. The club will hold a dinner meeting Thursday night, February 6.

Stamps IN THE NEWS

By the AP Feature Service

Two new sets of stamps have arrived from Hungary. One is for charities in Transylvania province, recently returned to Hungary only to figure importantly in the Rumanian revolt, and the other is honoring arts of Hungary.

The charity stamps are as follows: A 10f plus 50f green with picture of a soldier; a 20f plus 50f purple with a symbolic picture of the return of the province; a 32f plus 50f yellow-brown showing a mother kneeling as she holds her child aloft.

The set for arts and artists is in four values. The green 5f plus 5f shows a winged figure with olive branch and shield; the male figure represents sculpture on the 10f plus 10f ochre; the 10f plus 10f purple pictures a woman with a palette and brush in her hands, and the 20f plus 20f depicts Pegasus on a brick-red background.

Philatelic mail is to get special consideration on the first trip of the Highway Postoffice service February 10 between Washington, D. C., and Harrisonburg, Va., Postmaster General Frank C. Walker announces.

Covers for the first trip cancellation must be in the hands of the postmaster of one of the towns by noon February 9. Those sent to the postmaster at Washington will go on the first southbound run from Washington and receive designation of "Trip 1" in the cancellation die. The covers sent to the Harrisonburg postmaster will go on the first northbound trip to be designated as "Trip 2."

All letters properly addressed and stamped should be sent under cover endorsed as follows: "For dispatch on the first trip of the Highway Postoffice, February 10, 1941."

The commemorative stamp for the 150th anniversary of Vermont's statehood will appear March 4.

A 400 reis brown-purple stamp from Brazil is the newest commemorative from that country. This one celebrates the 10th anniversary of the presidency of Vargas.

The design has a rising sun, national flags and a feminine head. Inscription against the sun reads "Pelo Brasil uno de Forie" (For Brazil, Unified and Strong).

A seven-pence-half-penny stamp is to be added to the regular issues of Bermuda, according to P. S. Ingham, (Correct) Colonial Postmaster of Bermuda. This is the exact amount of airmail rate to the United States.

Although the Nassau government listed stamps as one of the values which could not be taken from the Bahamas, collectors apparently have not found it difficult to acquire surcharged stamps.

Special stamps bearing likenesses of Chancellor Hitler and Premier Mussolini will be issued by the Reich postal administration, the German radio announced. Proceeds will go to the cultural fund. The value is 20 pfennigs with a 38-pfennig premium. The Italian postal administration is planning an issue to bear likenesses of Italian and German soldiers.

Philatelic Program Announced

Postmaster-General Frank C. Walker has announced the inauguration of the philatelic program of the post-office department for this year. Under this plan the first stamp to be issued will be one commemorating the 150th anniversary of the admission to statehood of Vermont and will be first offered for sale to the public on March 4. It will be of the 3-cent denomination. The design, color and place of first day sale will be announced later.

A suggestion has come to the department from Senator Warren R. Austin of Vermont that a picture of Ira Allen, who was a brother of Ethan Allen of Revolutionary fame, should adorn this stamp. Ira Allen was the founder of Vermont university, established in 1791, the year the State was admitted into the Union.

It has also been suggested that both Bennington and Montpelier be named first-day sales cities. It is pointed out that it was at the former that Vermonters accepted and ratified the Constitution of the United States, before Montpelier became the capital of the state.

As a rule a picture of the State Capitol is used as the principal design on a commemorative postage stamp and the state capital is chosen as the place of first-day sales. Final decision with reference to the Vermont stamp rests in the hands of the President and Mr. Walker.

Receipts for 1940

The Postmaster-General also made public final receipts from the sale of postage stamps at the Philatelic Agency of the Postoffice Department for the calendar year 1940. These amount to $1,425,546, which represents an increase of $612,954 over the 1939 calendar year, when receipts totaled $812,600.

Philatelic Agency receipts for December amounted to $134,461, Mr. Walker said. This figure is an increase of $33,746 over the same month a year ago.

Highway Postoffice Plans

It was also announced that arrangements have been completed for handling the philatelic mail on the first trip on the Highway Postoffice Service, on February 10, between Washington, D. C. and Harrisonburg, Va.

Those desiring first trip cancellations should send covers prepared and ready for mailing, with postage prepaid at the first class rate, to the Postmaster, Washington, D. C., for the first south-bound run to Harrisonburg, Va., which will be designated in the cancellation die as "Trip 1"; and similar covers to the Postmaster, Harrisonburg, Va., for the first northbound run to Washington, D. C., which will be designated as "Trip 2." All letters properly addressed and stamped should be sent under cover to the postmasters indicated, indorsed on the covering wrapper.

"For dispatch on the first trip of the Highway Postoffice, February 10, 1941." It is not permissible to apply both postmarks to the same piece of mail matter. Round-trip covers are, accordingly, not procurable.

Unemployment Compensation Council

A special cancellation will be used, the outer lettering of the circular die reading: "Washington, D. C. and Harrisonburg, Va., H. P. O." In the center of the die will appear the date and the words "Trip 1" or "Trip 2," which will indicate the direction of the dispatch. In the bars will appear the words "First Trip."

All covers intended for first trip cancellation should be in the hands of either postmaster not later than noon of February 9.

Covers Announced

Cachet covers will be issued in connection with the launching of the Rio de Janeiro in March by the Moore-McCormack Lines. These are the last of a group of four ships entering service to the eastern coast of South America next summer. Covers may be secured by communicating with the Moore-McCormack Philatelic Agent, 31 Park Row.

A Valentine's Day cachet will be sponsored by C. E. Breads, Jr., 160 Park avenue, Allendale, N. J. There will be one cachet, mailed from four towns, so, collectors are asked to send four covers stamped and self-addressed with one cent a-piece forwarding fee.

A general seapost-paquebot souvenir cancellation, posted on the high seas, will be printed on all covers for collectors who desire Merchant Marine cancellations. Fifteen ships will be covered. Send envelopes, stamped and self-addressed to Walter Czubay, 3117 Thirly-sixth street, Long Island City, with one cent per envelope forwarding fee.

Happenings of 50 and 25 Years Ago Culled From the News and Editorial Columns for Entertainment of Today's Readers

FIFTY YEARS AGO

The board of commissioners postponed for two weeks action on the application of Harry C. Badaeu for a saloon license for David Belshaw's place. The lease of the saloon was to be sold at auction, and there was a remonstrance against granting the license.

Captain Robert J. Hayward died at the residence of his daughter on Wallace street. He was 50 years old and was survived by three children, Mrs. George T. Hook, Mrs. Ralph Slack and Humphrey Hayward.

An enjoyable soiree was held at the Red Bank Methodist parsonage under the auspices of the Ladies Aid society. About 200 guests were present and they were received by Rev. William M. White. Misses Addie Sherman and Mamie Hubbard rendered an instrumental duet, Miss Lizzie Reid a recitation, Miss Hubbard and Frank Conklin a vocal duet, Mr. Conklin a banjo solo, with Mrs. William Pintard as accompanist; Miss Maggie Warden a recitation and Mrs. W. H. Knapp an instrumental solo.

John W. Abbot, a brakeman on a New Jersey Southern freight train, received injuries while coupling cars which resulted in his death. He was about 30 years old and lived in the western part of town. He left a widow and a five-year-old son.

A snow storm in this section did considerable damage. Telegraph and electric wires were down and two buildings were damaged. These were the Spinning and Patterson building and Duran Allaire's meat market.

Red Bank was to have another manufacturing enterprise in the shape of a factory for the manufacture of all kinds of agricultural implements. The buildings were being erected on the east side of the electric light works and business was to start about the middle of February. The promoter of the company was T. Edwin Griggs.

The social event of the season in the neighborhood of Holmdel was the marriage of Miss Mattie, daughter of Sylvester Tilton of Holmdel to Loyd M. Bohannon, son of G. W. Bohannon of Brooklyn, by Rev. A. Hageman at the residence of the bride's father. The couple went south on their wedding trip, after which they took up housekeeping at Brooklyn.

A surprise party was tendered Jacob S. Lee of Fair Haven, the oldest member of the A. M. E. church and a Sunday-school teacher for 40 years. One of the features of the evening was the presentation of a purse of money to Mr. Lee by the next oldest member of the church, Mrs. Roseanna Corlies.

The Porgie Chum Fish company was the name of a new organization at Keyport to furnish bait for fishermen. The capital stock of the company was $50,000.

W. L. Strong, a summer resident of Rumson, was elected one of the board of managers of the Protective Tariff League of the United States and Carmeluis N. Bliss, a summer resident of Oceanic, was a member of the executive committee.

A very pleasant soiree was held at M. V. D. Polhemus' at Holmdel.

Helen Rice of Spring street was given a surprise party. The guests met at Lulu Hubbard's on Washington street. Those present were Lillie Lewis, Mabel and Aggie Earling, Lulu, Gracie and Annie Broyer, Marlon Hulet, Olive Twilford, Bertie Kridel, Sammie Rogers, Neva Assay, Alma and Lillie Laug, Nellie and Mamie Wilbur, Flossie Cadoo, Lulu and Allice Robbins, Anna Morris, Lulu Hubbard, Jessie Rice, Bessie Bainton, Florence Mumford and Belle Rogers.

There was an evening gathering of friends of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Mount at their home on Monmouth street. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. William H. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chadwick, Mrs. William Ackerman, Mrs. Belle Crossley, Misses Florence Wood, Jessie Ackerman and Florence and Lillian Chadwick, Dr. Walter S. Whitmore, Willie Ackerman and George S. Goff.

Miss Eleanor S. Walling, teacher of the New Monmouth public school, and pupils of the school gave an interesting entertainment in the schoolhouse for the library fund. Those who had special parts on the program were John Francy, Mary A. Pettit, George Kinney, Annie McConety, Eva Walling, Etta Wallace, Grace Patterson, Robbie Poole, Benjamin Griggs, Thomas Reddington, Agnes Walling, Janie Murphy, Laura Sherman, Louise Griggs, Minnie Frost, Maggie Gorman, Mamie Kinney, Nellie Roberts, Lizzie Walling, John Reddington, Harry Morford, James Griggs, Minnie McConety, Mary Roberts, Patsy Lohan, George Roberts, Alvin Winkler, Nora Walling, Fannie Morford, Alice Morford and Thomas Pettit.

A lodge of the Grand Orient of the Knights of Pythias was instituted at Tenny by the degree team of the Red Bank lodge. The latter was composed of Elwood Minugh, Harry Robinson, William N. Gray, Charles Applegate, Joseph D. Cooper and Alonzo Longstreet. The new lodge had 16 members.

Charles G. Dullols went into business with Marcy Dullols and ran the store at Marlboro conducted previously by E. Jutcher.

A soiree of the Ivy club of Greenport was held in Band hall. The committee of arrangements consisted of B. H. Brock, W. A. Haynes, Frank Price, Harry Ferry, Charles O. McFadden, Thomas Tallman and Hugh Fritche.

Mrs. Junius Walling of Oceanport visited Mrs. Catherine Price of the same place, making the trip in a rowboat. In getting out at Mrs. Price's Mrs. Walling fell overboard. She was rescued by Benjamin Eldridge, who was nearby.

Twenty-Five Years Ago.

L. de la Reussille began alterations to his store in the Bloomberg building, which, when completed, would make it one of the finest jewelry stores in all this section of New Jersey. The store was to be modernized in every respect and the latest system of lighting was to be installed.

The third annual ball of the Patrons' Benevolent association of Red Bank was held in St. James clubhouse on Monmouth street and over $500 was cleared. The committee in charge consisted of Patrons Joseph Bray, Joseph Imlay, William Antonides and Edward Connors.

The board of chosen freeholders took favorable action on the application of making a county road of Pluckney road, part of Branch avenue and part of the Rumson road. The request for the new county road was made by John S. Applegate, Jr., counsel for Red Bank and Shrewsbury township, and George K. Allen, engineer for both municipalities.

H. C. Plinn of Tinton Falls was engaged to teach German and French at the Red Bank public school.

Fire of mysterious origin destroyed the dwelling of Mrs. Caroline J. Conover of Kings highway, Middletown. The loss was estimated at $10,000.

J. Lester Eisner was guest of honor at a dinner given at the Globe hotel by the workmen in the cutting department of the Eisner factory. A quartet composed of Thomas Pettit, Aloysius Patterson, Frank Moynahan and Arthur Pryor rendered several selections.

Bruno Raab and family, whose dwelling at Lincroft had been destroyed by fire, were making their home temporarily with Charles Mauser.

Quick action of the Red Bank firemen saved five horses from burning to death when a large barn on Burrows avenue, owned by Jesse N. Beer, was gutted by fire.

Dr. C. A. Palmer moved to Brooklyn, where he assumed the practice of his brother, who had died a short time previous, leaving Holmdel without a physician.

The road supervisors of Monmouth county met with the board of freeholders and decided that $4.50 per day for team and man would be the price fixed by them for road work.

Work was started on a frame dwelling on Carr avenue, Keansburg, for George Whitehead of New York. When completed the building was to be used for stores on the ground floor and apartments on the second floor.

George W. Oberlander, a member of the Keansburg fire company, won a popularity contest conducted by a local newspaper and was to enjoy a three weeks' trip to Bermuda at the expense of the publication.

William D. Pennypacker, who with his three sons published the Asbury Park Journal for many years, died in New York after a long illness.

Edward Johnson of Keansburg died of pneumonia after a sickness of a week. He was 77 years old and had lived at Keansburg since his retirement from the contracting business in Newark.

At the annual meeting and election of officers of the Hazlet fire company, John L. T. Webster was made president, Leonard D. Roberts vice president, Thomas B. Cowles foreman and Clarence E. Bahrenberg and Joseph C. Cherry assistant foremen. D. H. Taylor was elected master of Liberty Grange at Marlboro. Harry Dennis and John Wright, who conducted a grocery business at Eatontown, agreed to dissolve partnership. Mr. Wright was to continue the business.

Charles Hamberger was elected president and Howard E. Johnson vice president of the Highlands lodge of the Patriotic Sons of America. The Robert B. Mantel fire company of Atlantic Highlands had a pig roast at which 66 persons were present. Harry Posten was toastmaster. The feast was prepared by Joseph Zavidal, formerly chef of the Bay View house.

Sarah Fischer, Kenneth and Tessie Schenone and Frank Weigand were selected to represent the Keyport high school in the interscholastic debate between the Keyport and Matawan schools.

Miss Virginia Parker of Shrewsbury entertained at a Leap Year dance in celebration of her birthday. Her guests included Dorothy Linson, Ruth and Tessie Silver, Ruth and Emily Lamarsche, Catherine and Roberta Parker, Elizabeth Morford, Harold Stout, Donald Laves, William Matthews, William H. Hendrickson, Jr., Paul and John Parker, Clarence E. Boughton, Jr., and John E. McClellan.

A Junior Holy Name society was organized at Red Bank with Frank H. Brasch, Jr., president, Frank Stier vice president, Joseph McCue secretary and Walter Hogan sergeant-at-arms.

The town hall was filled to overflowing at a mass meeting held for the benefit of the Jewish war sufferers. A campaign was started to solicit funds. Those in charge were Abram Tannenbaum, Morris Forman, Louis Swartz, Morris Sherman and Leon Reuckhaus. Louis G. Davidson was named treasurer of the fund.

Vice Chancellor John E. Foster of Atlantic Highlands, who had his headquarters at Newark, established a branch of the chancery chambers at Long Branch for the convenience of litigants in this section of Monmouth county.

J. Raymond King of Shrewsbury carried on a telephone conversation with a man in California. This was one of the first long distance calls to be made in this vicinity to the Pacific coast.

A section of Shrewsbury township known as the Westside, adjacent to Red Bank borough, had a school problem and out of it grew a movement which prophesied annexation for that section of Shrewsbury township to Red Bank borough.

James Morford of Wallace street, who was employed in Henry Supp's clothing store, was seized with a dizzy spell while on his way home and fell heavily to the pavement in front of Joseph Salz's store. Dr. Harvey W. Young was summoned and after giving temporary treatment took him to his home.

H. Wallace Bennett of Red Bank rented the William H. Johnson sawmill and grist mill at Holmdel.

Harold G. Borden received a contract for a large brooder and incubator house on Dr. Ernest Fahnestock's farm at Shrewsbury. The building was to cost $5,500.

Miss Etta Wynms of Hudson avenue entertained 16 members of the Sons of Veterans auxiliary at a game party in celebration of her birthday. Roy Algor of Fair Haven sold a typewriter to the Fair Haven council and as a part of the transaction he was to instruct Borough Clerk Charles P. Cross how to manipulate the machine.

Phillip Goldman of Linden place, a graduate of the Red Bank high school, passed with a high percentage the civil service examination for stenography and secured a position as such in the Postoffice department at Washington.

The Musicians Union of Eastern Monmouth elected Rudolph Malchow president, Charles E. Neiman secretary, Edward H. Lafetra treasurer and Kenneth Wyckoff and Harry Malchow members of the executive board.

Miss Phoebe White of White street was building a house on the south side of Sunset avenue, between Leighton and Shrewsbury avenues, as an investment. Her brother, William White, was the contractor.

J. Schanck Holmes, a former Holmdel resident, died at Quincey, Illinois in his 93rd year. He was one of those who went to California in 1849 during the "Gold Fever Days." He later joined Company G of the New Jersey Volunteers and served with distinction throughout the Civil war.

Mrs. Adelaide N. Gardiner of Little Silver, widow of John H. Gardiner, died from the effects of paralysis in her 88th year.

Herman B. Duryea, a prominent sportsman in this country and abroad and who had a large estate overlooking the river, between Brown's dock and Locust Point, died at Saranac Lake. He was particularly interested in the racing of catboats in this section and was the owner of the speedy catboat Twilight. He made several trips abroad and took with him Edward V. Willis of Eastside Park, who sailed his boats in "European waters."

Miss Jennie Wilson, daughter of John H. Wilson of Rumson, became the bride of Samuel Skiff of Ballston Spa, New York.

Miss Amy L. VanKirk, daughter of Mrs. Peter VanKirk of Headens' Corner, died of spinal paralysis at her mother's home.

An overheated furnace started a fire in George H. Davis' dwelling at Port Monmouth. The fire was extinguished before it had gained very much headway.

Alex Phillips, who farmed his mother's place near Phillip's Mills, and Cornelius Willett of Port Monmouth took jobs on the railroad as locomotive firemen.

Henry DeGrute of Port Monmouth sold his fishing business and equipment and went to New York to help put in nets in a large lake on the E. H. Harriman estate.

A potato carting frolic was held by James P. E. Bennett of Vandenburg when several neighboring farmers and their teams assisted him in carting 240 barrels of potatoes to Marlboro station, where they were sold to Abbott Worthley for $4 a barrel.

George Mosby, son of Mrs. Archie Mosby of Eatontown, entertained at a party in celebration of his 11th birthday.

John Dean of Tinton Falls was confined to his bed as the result of overtaxing his strength trying to lift a heavy piece of iron in his automobile shop at Shrewsbury.

New 1941 Road Maps Are Now Ready

New Jersey's new 1941 road map, containing numerous new and improved features, is ready for free distribution to the public. State Highway Commissioner E. Donald Stern announced.

"These maps are not for sale," cautioned Commissioner Stern, "and anyone can obtain a copy by addressing A. Lee Grover, secretary of the State Highway Department, Trenton, N. J."

Chief among the improvements on the map are enlarged reproductions of the New York and North Metropolitan areas and the Camden-Philadelphia-metropolitan area, printed on the reverse side. State highways, county roads and local streets in various municipalities are clearly marked off in the metropolitan area maps.

The reverse side of the map also is profusely illustrated with photographs of various points of interest in the state, the latest type of highway safety construction, the new landscaped Rockefeller boulevard, safely lighting, snow removal, official highway signs and a mileage table of distances between important cities.

Governor Charles Edison, in a message to the motorists, which appears on the map, says, in part: "For the comfort and use of residents and visitors alike, New Jersey has provided the finest and safest network of hard-surfaced highways to be found in any state."

Commissioner Stern also has contributed a statement in which he stresses the importance of adequate highways to national defense. "Under such conditions the highways of this state will form the most important link in America's first line of defense. To meet the requirements of such an emergency, military authorities have urged the building of a super highway connecting Boston and Washington, D. C. The New Jersey section of this great artery already has been designed from New York to Philadelphia. Its construction is vitally needed as a major contribution to the full development of our state and the defense of the United States."

STUDEBAKER'S DEFENSE ORDER FOR AIRPLANE ENGINES IS A "PLUS" ORDER

Separate division is being created to expedite production of Studebaker's share of national defense program

WHEN the Government asked Studebaker to build airplane engines on a big scale, it was not the Studebaker plants or facilities that the Government wanted, but rather the Studebaker organization of engineers and production executives.

The Studebaker program for producing airplane engines will have no effect, in itself, on Studebaker production of automobiles. The equipment in Studebaker plants is not suitable for the manufacture of airplane engines and therefore separate equipment for that purpose is being provided.

Studebaker production of automobiles will be affected only if defense requirements for materials or labor necessitate a curtailment of production by all automobile plants.

See and drive a new 1941 Studebaker now—and see for yourself why you save substantially on operating cost as well as first cost. You may use your present car as part payment—easy C.I.T. terms.

Our country's national defense program creates new problems and new responsibilities for all of us. Studebaker intends to discharge its defense responsibilities in a manner which will add luster to its name.

Republican Praises Governor's Speech

Rumson, N. J., January 23, 1941. The Honorable Charles Edison, Governor of New Jersey, State House, Trenton, N. J.

Dear Governor Edison: I have read your inaugural speech in full, and hasten to congratulate you for your high-minded message to the people of New Jersey to whom you appeal "not as Republicans and Democrats, but as Americans, united to serve our country."

I am a Republican, and in the recent election I voted for your opponent, Mr. Hendrickson, whom I considered to have a political philosophy and a sense of responsibility to the people of New Jersey by no means dissimilar to yours.

This year for the first time I took an active interest in state and national politics, and my interest was awakened in April simply by reading Mr. Willkie's conception of democratic government in his article "We the People."

In consequence, in my home in Rumson on May 15, we started a Willkie club which is generally credited with being the first in New Jersey and second only to the club that started in or outside of Hartford, Connecticut.

There were ultimately more than 300 clubs formed in New Jersey.

To many of us who are sick and tired of hocus pocus, bunk and hypocrisy in American politics, Mr. Willkie's philosophy of frankness, forthrightness and political decency was a long-awaited relief to participate actively in American politics.

Mr. Willkie lost, but the principles for which he stands are just as strong in our minds now as ever.

We must carry on these principles, and I feel confident that most of the clubs constituted the Willkie clubs are ready to raise our voices again when the justification to do so arises.

I believe that we now have that justification. In your message you emphasize the need for our elected officials to perform. I heartily concur that it is and has been necessary for a long time.

In principle I am just as much opposed to the political practices and methods of the Mathis machine in Ocean county as I am to the Hague machine in Hudson county.

The membership in the former Willkie clubs was non-partisan. The reforms you propose should likewise be supported in a non-partisan spirit, and in my opinion no one should oppose these proposed reforms on purely political grounds.

I earnestly hope that those who participated in the Willkie club movement will agree that Mr. Willkie, by adhering to his principles and placing the future of his country as he sees it, before any purely political consideration in his endorsement, with modifications, of the President's lend-lease bill, is of even greater stature now than during the campaign for the White House.

Spiritual Rebirth Needed In World

By Cordell Hull. (Reprinted from The Christian Advocate)

There are at work in the world today powerful forces the significance of which no individual and no nation can ignore without falling into a position of the gravest danger and of the utmost jeopardy.

These forces are not new in the experience of mankind. They rose on many occasions in the past and, for varying periods and with varying intensity, held sway over human affairs.

They spring today from the same source from which they have always sprung in the past—from godless and soulless lust for power which seeks to hold men in physical slavery and spiritual degradation and to displace a system of peaceful and orderly relations among nations by the anarchy of wanton violence and brute force.

These massed forces of lust for tyrannical power are directed against the very bases of the way of life which has come to be the cherished ideal of a preponderant majority of mankind—against the moral, spiritual, social, political and economic foundations of modern civilization.

Nation after nation has been engulfed into terror and ruin and endangered by the exercise of brute force combined with fraud and guile. And as the dismal darkness descends upon more and more of the earth's surface, its menacing shadow falls blacker and blacker athwart our continent.

Our very instinct of self-preservation bids us beware.

We have the power to meet that menace successfully. For that we need material means of defense. These means we are determined to create, and we are creating them. But more than that is needed.

Men will defend to the utmost only that in which they have complete faith. No more vital test has ever confronted the American people than that which confronts it today.

Terror is more difficult and dangerous times ahead. Our national independence and our cherished institutions are not immune from the challenge of the lust for power that already stalks so much of the earth's surface.

Unprecedented effort and heavy sacrifices will be required of us as the price of preserving for ourselves and for our posterity, the kind of America that has been fostered and preserved for us by the vigilance, courage and sacrifice of those who preceded us.

We shall succeed if we retain unimpaired the most precious heritage which they bequeathed us—an unshakable faith in the everlasting worth of freedom and honor of truth and justice, of intellectual and spiritual integrity, a triumphant faith in God.

Without that faith, no material means of defense will suffice. With it, we need fear no enemy outside or within our borders.

We need today a resurgence of spiritual purpose and of moral stamina. We must rededicate ourselves to the service, the defense and the nurturing of freedom under justice and law. Our homes, our schools, our churches, our leaders, in every walk of life must inculcate this faith and this spirit. Our churches, particularly, have an exceptionally important role to play in this work of spiritual rebirth. The terrible misfortunes which are being visited upon mankind have been the result of a dangerous deterioration of standards of personal and of national conduct.

We desperately need today a revival of religious fervor, a renewed humility before God in support of wholehearted adherence to high standards of individual and group behavior.

In times of grave crises, there are always some who fall a prey to doubt and unreasoning fear; some who seek refuge in cynicism and narrow self-interest; some who wrap themselves in the treacherous cloak of complacency. All these are dangers that lie within us.

Each and every one of us must search his mind and his heart for these signs of fatal weakness. The stern realization of the crises which lie upon us calls, as never before, for vision and for loyalty. They call for all the strength of hand, of mind and of spirit that we can muster.

They call for self-reliance, for self-restraint, for self-imposed and freely accepted disciplines. They call for the kind of national unity that can be achieved only by free men, invincible in their resolve that human freedom must not perish. They call for unselfish service today if we are to win a secure tomorrow.

A responsibility seldom equalled in gravity and danger rests upon each and every one of us. Neglect or delay in assuming it, willingly and fully, would place in mortal danger our way of life and the sacred cause of human freedom. Were we to fall in that responsibility, we would fall ourselves; we would fall the generations that went before us; we would fall the generations that are to come after us; we would fall God.

I am supremely confident that we shall not fail. I am certain that in the minds and hearts of our people still lie willing springs—inexhaustible and indestructible—of faith in the things we cherish, of courage and determination to defend them, of sacrificial devotion, of unbreakable unity of purpose. I am certain that, however great the hardships and the trials which loom ahead, our America will endure and the cause of human freedom will triumph.

Trail of Crime Ends In Jail

Long Branch Youths Confess to Robberies

The thrilling crime trail of two 17-year-old Long Branch youths ended for the time being Tuesday in the county jail after they had been arraigned in connection with 40 shore robberies.

The two, Andrew Corcione and Felice Picciotti, had been arrested last Friday after leading the police on a 60-mile-an-hour chase through Long Branch in a car belonging to Picciotti's father, which had been reported stolen shortly before. Corcione jumped out of the car as it slowed down in making a curve. Picciotti later abandoned the car and was found by the police hiding in some bushes.

The pair were placed in the Long Branch jail. Early Sunday afternoon they made their escape but were captured a few hours later. They were handcuffed and placed in cells. Tuesday they were taken to Freehold, where they pleaded guilty to breaking and entering in the following cases:

November 2—Home of Anthony Pingatore, jewelry at $10; November 7, home of Anna Zucker, tableware and jewelry; home of Dr. Joseph Bassone, watches, rings and $18; home of W. Stanley Bove, silverware, two watches and $130; home of J. J. Wyley, two watches, jewelry and $6, and January 26, escaping from jail.

Judge Giordano set February 13 for sentencing and when Corcione indicated he wanted bail set, fixed the amount at $15,000. Both youths were promptly hustled off to the county jail.

First Aid Squad Finishes 7th Year

Middletown Handled 147 Cases Last Year

The Middletown township first aid squad, which maintains headquarters at East Keansburg, completed seven years of service recently with the best record of its history. Captain Harold Cruse reported that in the past year 147 cases were handled, 37 of which were accident cases and 110 being hospital transportation cases.

The squad's receipts for the year were $1,241.53 as compared to expenditures of $1,344.22. The semi-annual report of the auditing committee was approved by the trustees.

In the past seven years the squad has handled 1,466 cases. It is a volunteer organization, supported by public contributions and by profits of various social events.

IN SERVICE 25 YEARS.

Red Bank telephones increased from some 1,500 to approximately 5,100 during the quarter-century which Joseph Novak, of 39 East Sunset avenue, latest Red Bank recipient of the New Jersey Bell Telephone company's 25-year gold service emblem, has helped build the telephone line network now serving Monmouth county. Novak was a lineman until 1933 and has been a splicer since. His anniversary occurred last Friday.

FEBRUARY CHICKS.

Poultrymen, especially those using White Leghorns, have found that it is usually good business to hatch about a quarter of their year's quota of chicks, during February, observes Dr. W. C. Thompson, head of the poultry department at Rutgers. Pullets from these early hatched chicks, he explains, start laying in late July or early August when market prices for fresh table eggs begin to rise.

Early hatched chicks help to fill the empty laying houses which mortality and culling have created during the production year. Such early hatched pullets will probably lay well for about three months and then go into a partial molt in November and early December, a period which will serve as a rest. Experience has demonstrated that early hatched pullets may be used to good advantage as breeders in the following spring.

Early hatching makes a more efficient use of selected breeding stock and helps poultrymen breed from fewer and better hens. Modern breeding practices make it possible for any poultryman to care for early hatch chicks economically and efficiently. The mildness of the present winter, if extended through February, should make early hatching still more feasible this year.

GROWING SPINACH SEED.

Because of reports that there may be a scarcity of spinach seed in 1942, many growers are interested in saving spinach seed this year and perhaps growing some for sale, reports C. H. Wyley, extension professor of vegetable growing at the New Jersey College of Agriculture, Rutgers University.

"Spinach seed is not difficult to grow provided weather conditions are favorable and a few recommended practices are followed," Wisley says. "One important rule is to obtain seed from either wintered-over spinach or from very early plants. The seed should be matured before midsummer. Usually less than 50 per cent of the seed produced after midsummer or in the fall ever germinates.

"As soon as the male spinach plants in a row exhaust their supply of pollen, they die, leaving the female plants to bear seed. This seed develops at different times, and the best time to harvest is when the fringed seed pods begin to shatter. Then the plants are cut, tied in bundles and stacked, or they may be cut, gathered, and placed on large canvases protected from rains to dry before being threshed.

"An average acre yield of spinach seed is 500 pounds, but yields of 1,000 pounds per acre are not uncommon."

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

PICTURING THE HOUSE

Automobile headlights provided the illumination for this novel picture of the house, taken with a time exposure on high speed film.

ALMOST everybody has taken pictures of the house in the daytime—but how about a picture at night? All you need is a location where the camera won't be disturbed, and, of course, a camera that can be set for a time exposure.

Naturally, the house must be lighted in some manner—either by automobile headlights, by street lights, by moonlight, or other means. The light doesn't have to be extremely strong—if it is weaker, you just expose for a longer time—but the illumination should be fairly even on the side of the house that you picture.

For just a portion of the house, you can use a flash bulb, if your camera has a fast lens and is loaded with high speed film. For example, if you have an f/4.5 lens, the flash can be used 40 or 50 feet from the house, with just one medium-sized flash bulb in a good reflector.

Automobile headlights provide fine illumination for a single-story house, if the car is parked carefully.

Mrs. Helen A. Brown died at her home on Atlantic street Saturday afternoon following an illness of several weeks. She is survived by her husband, Harry S. Brown, and a son, Harry A. Brown. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon. Rev. Harold E. Green, Jr., pastor of the Reformed church, of which Mrs. Brown had been a member for many years, officiated. Interment was in Holmdel cemetery.

Mrs. Carleton Wharton is substituting as school secretary in place of Mrs. Frank Boyce, who has been ill.

Mrs. W. L. Conover recently entertained Mr. and Mrs. Frank Magalhães and children of Brooklyn.

At a meeting of the borough council Monday night, announcement was made that the borough was released from making further improvements to the septic sewage disposal tank by the state board of health. Councilman Croes stated that the slight changes made had resulted in obviating the necessity of spending $15,000 on the plant. As the result of complaints made about the traffic lights at the six corners, it was announced that the town would increase the number of lights to allow traffic to flow through those channels. In the summer time the lights will be set on the old schedule to give the state highway traffic more time.

The program committee of the Arrow Hi-Y, meeting at length recently and discussing new methods in the program of the club, outlined the following schedule for February:

PUBLIC NOTICE.
Notice is hereby given to the legal voters of the School District of the Borough of Easton, in the County of Monmouth, and State of New Jersey, that the annual meeting for the election of three members of the Board of Education will be held at the Schoolhouse (Broad Street and College Avenue), on Tuesday, February 11, 1941, from seven o'clock P. M. to nine o'clock P. M. and as much longer as may be necessary, to enable all the legal voters present to cast their ballots.

Three members will be elected for three years.

At said meeting will be submitted the question of voting a tax for the following purposes:

For current expenses..... $ 24,800.00
For repairs and replacements..... 1,000.00

The total amount thought to be necessary is..... $ 25,800.00

Dated this 27th day of January, 1941.
RICHARD B. ROBERTS,
District Clerk.

NOTE:—The term "current expenses" includes principals', teachers', janitors' and medical inspectors' salaries, fuel, text books, school supplies, flags, transportation of pupils, tuition of pupils attending schools in other districts with the consent of the Board of Education, school libraries, compensation of the District Clerk, of the custodian of school moneys and of transient officers, transient schools, insurance and the incidental expenses of the schools.

A member of the Board of Education shall be at least 21 years of age, a citizen and resident of the school district, and shall have been such a citizen and resident for at least three years immediately preceding his or her becoming a member of such Board, and shall be able to read and write.

Petitions, legally nominating candidates to be voted on at said meeting, must be filed with the District Clerk at least twenty days before the date of the meeting in order to have the names of such candidates printed on the official ballots to be used in voting. Blank forms for this purpose may be obtained from the District Clerk.

Persons who may vote at the election are:

(a) Those who were registered for the last preceding general election or any special or primary election held subsequent thereto; or not being so registered but being qualified to vote for a member of the Legislature, have registered at the polling place on the Saturday preceding the election between the hours of 7:00 and 9:00 P. M.

(b) Those in a district having permanent registration who are registered at least three days prior to the date of the election.

NOTICE.
Notice is hereby given to the legal voters of the School District of the Borough of Little Silver, in the County of Monmouth, that the annual meeting for the election of three (3) members of the Board of Education will be held at the High School, on Tuesday, February 11, 1941, from seven o'clock P. M. to nine o'clock P. M. and as much longer as may be necessary, to enable all the legal voters present to cast their ballots.

Two members will be elected three years.

At said meeting will be submitted the question of voting a tax for the following purposes:

For current expenses..... $ 14,000.00
For repairs and replacements..... 1,000.00

The total amount thought to be necessary is..... $ 15,000.00

The following propositions will also be submitted:

Proposition No. 1.—Special current expenses and continuing additions to the present school building, and to add two additional rooms thereto, to purchase school furniture, fixtures and necessary equipment, therefore, and to spend for road alterations, improvements, additions and constructions, a sum of money not exceeding the sum of $2,000.00.

(2) To issue bonds of the School District of the Borough of Little Silver for the purpose of securing a sum of not exceeding $10,000.00.

Dated this 30th day of January, 1941.

SIDNEY SNOW Will be Glad to Answer Any Questions on Food

Three Meals A Day

Copyright BY SIDNEY SNOW, 1938

Edited by WILMA E. DEUTE

Food, of course, must be well seasoned to be worthy of its piquancy

Boiling A Vegetable Is First Step In Preparation To Many A Fine Cook

The common way of preparing carrots and cauliflower is to boil them. However, there are those women who boil them a bit and then start from there to really prepare the vegetables for the evening meal.

STUFFED PORK CHOPS

It is only fitting that such a fine bit of meat as a pork chop should have so many fine ways for its preparation. They, of course, can always be fried, and cooked in a Dutch oven and how nice when baked on top of scalloped potatoes. Just as delicious, are stuffed pork chops.

STUFFED PORK CHOPS

6 rib pork chops, 1 1/2 inches thick
1 cup fine dry bread crumbs
1/2 cup chopped celery
1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon onion
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon savory seasoning
Dash of pepper
3 tart red apples

For the stuffing cook the celery, onion and parsley in the butter for a few minutes, add the bread crumbs and seasonings, and stir until well mixed. Wipe the chops with a damp cloth. Cut a pocket in each chop. Sprinkle the chops with salt and pepper and rub lightly with oil. Sear the chops in a heavy hot skillet, turning the fat edges down at first and then brown both sides. Then fill each chop with stuffing and skewer the edges together with toothpicks. Lay the stuffed chops on a rack in a baking dish or pan with flour. Season each place, cut side down, one half of an apple which has been cored but not pared. Cover closely and bake in a moderate oven for about 45 minutes, or until the meat is tender. Lift the chops and apples together from the baking dish onto a hot platter and remove the toothpicks. Garnish with parsley and serve at once. Serves six.

FRIED CARROTS

Wash, scrape and cut some tender young carrots in quarters, lengthwise. Throw them into boiling salted water and parboil them for ten minutes. Drain off all the water and let the carrots stand in a colander for a few minutes. Heat three tablespoons of butter in a large frying pan; add the carrots, not too many at a time, and fry to a light brown, turning to brown on the other side. Take out with a large fork, and serve in a hot dish.

FRIED CAULIFLOWER

Cut a head of cauliflower into pieces about one and one-half inches long, and boil quickly in salted water for 15 minutes. Drain thoroughly and wipe each piece dry. Beat the whites and yolks of two eggs separately and mix them. Dip the pieces of the cauliflower into the mixture; fry in butter on both sides until a light brown and serve immediately.

ESCALLOPED CHEESE AND OLIVES

2 teaspoons onion, finely chopped
1 tablespoon butter
2 1/2 cups strained canned tomatoes (juice and pulp)
5 tablespoons tapoca
1/2 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1 cup grated cheese
1/2 cup stuffed olives, sliced
1/2 cup buttered crumbs

Brown onion in butter. Place tomatoes in top of double boiler and bring to a boil over direct heat. Combine dry ingredients; add gradually to tomatoes and bring to a brisk boil, stirring constantly. Place immediately over rapidly boiling water and cook five minutes, stirring occasionally. Add onion. Place layer of tapoca mixture in greased baking dish, cover with cheese, add layer of olives, then remaining tapoca. Cover with crumbs. Bake in moderate oven (350 F.) 20 minutes. Serves six.

FRENCH FRIED EGG PLANT

Do yourself and your family a real favor and prepare a mess of French Fried Eggplant. French fried onions are grand. French fried potatoes are standard the world over. French fried eggplant is newer—but will top both of the others in sheer goodness. Take the small eggplants. Peel off the skins. Then slice very thin—about an eighth of an inch in thickness. Drain off the liquid. Dip in eggs beaten up. Then dip in state bread crumbs. Then dip in deep fat and fry as one fries French fried potatoes. Drain on brown paper and serve at once on a very hot platter.

Hot Off the Griddle

By ESTHER DONLAN

At the end of every season there are always clothes to be put away. Before doing so it is well to remove all spots. Dry cleaning is the best. Leave unpressed, since gasoline odor discourages moths.

Mildew stains, if the stain is not too old may be removed by applying soft soap and powdered chalk, keeping it moist and laying it in the sun.

Furniture should never be stored unless it has all been thoroughly cleaned first. Brush and clean with a vacuum cleaner if possible.

Silks, woolsens and artificial fabrics will scorch and glaze if ironed wet. Some will shrink. They are best ironed when barely damp, to allow shaping of the garment.

Woolen sweaters and dresses should be measured before wetting. Use a tape measure with the garment flat on a table.

When cleaning copper or brass, it is best to use cotton waste or worn soft brushes for rubbing.

To clean chromium, use good soap suds to cut all grease then rinse with hot rinse water; wipe dry and polish with a dry dish cloth.

Always use thin gauze like cloth for applying liquid cleaner of any kind and have a pad folded under the spot to be removed.

When sprinkling for ironing, sprinkle clothing evenly, of course heavy garments use more water.

A simple mayonnaise serves as the foundation for many varieties of salad dressings. All mayonnaise sauces are made in the same way. Points to remember are that the ingredients should be kept as cool as possible and that they should be fresh and of good quality.

The most common of the salad plants are—lettuce, endive, chicory, celery, watercress, mustard and cress, dandelion, sorrel, cucumber and tomatoes. Stronger flavors are given by using onions, garlic, chives, and other useful standbys are cold vegetables, nuts, cheese, cold meats, etc.

Eggs should be boiled from ten to 15 minutes, then plunged immediately into cold water. This makes the shells easy to remove and prevents the black layer forming between the yolk and the white.

There is a very large choice of tinned and bottled foods that combine readily into the making of hors d'oeuvres.

One pint of milk to 2 eggs or 5 egg yolks gives a minimum soft thick custard that will bake in small cups.

A Sally Lunn and a sponge cake should never be cut, but broken apart with a fork.

Hominy bread, like spoon bread, is served from the dish in which it is baked, and eaten with butter with a fork.

To be certain that white clothes will stay white when ironing, it is well to be sure the ironing board cover is clean and also the iron.

Woolen goods should never be boiled as it will cause shrinkage.

Because of mildew, it is well to never sprinkle more than a day's ironing.

If one wants to oil leather shoes, yet keep the color light, use white vaseline, paraffin oil or lemon oil. Linseed oil darkens.

Many people do quite a bit of home dyeing, some with and some without success. Tints are best used to freshen the original color rather than change it.

Always hang brushes and brooms when not in use, or have special racks so they are kept off the bristles.

In the winter as well as the summer there are rugs to be stored. If the space for storage is limited, it is better economy to use the commercial rug storage, which may include cleaning and moth-proofing.

One cannot expect to exterminate pests in one treatment. It requires persistent endeavor.

It is a good idea to rub a few drops of liquid wax to each square foot of linoleum after it has been washed.

Relax These Cold Afternoons Over Coffee and Cookies

By SIDNEY SNOW

ONE WILL FIND A COZY ROOM, a pot of hot coffee and chocolate pinwheels very luring on these cold afternoons, especially after shopping or that constitutional walk. It will all prove wonderfully relaxing.

CHOCOLATE PINWHEELS

1 1/2 cups sifted flour
1/2 cup sugar
1 egg yolk, unbeaten
3 tablespoons milk
1 square unsweetened chocolate, melted

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually and cream together until light and fluffy. Add egg yolk and beat well. Add flour, alternately with milk, mixing well after each addition. Divide dough in two parts. To one part, add chocolate and blend. Chill until firm enough to roll. Roll each half into rectangular sheet, 1/4-inch thick, and place chocolate sheet on top. Then roll for jelly roll. Chill overnight, or until firm enough to slice. Cut in 1/2-inch slices. Bake on ungreased baking sheet in hot oven (400° F.) five minutes, or until done. Makes 3 1/2 dozen pinwheels.

SERVE A LOBSTER BISQUE FOR A COMPANY DINNER

A lobster, in spite of the fact that it is in season all year round is still considered somewhat of a delicacy, especially inland. However, if one thinks these delicacies are a little too dear for every day use there always comes the day when something special is wanted for company use, then one's thoughts turn to the wee lobster and he is so nice served like this:

LOBSTER BISQUE
2 pounds boiled lobster
2 cups milk
3 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
Cayenne
1 cup cream, scalded

Remove the meat from lobster shell. Dice body meat. Chop claw meat and tail fine. Add cold water to body bones and tough end of claws, cut in pieces, bring slowly to boiling point and cook for 20 minutes. Drain, reserve liquid. Heat butter, add flour and seasoning and gradually add liquid. Stir until smooth. Scald milk and stir in gradually. Add lobster meat and cook slowly for 5 minutes, add cream and serve at once. If desired, use white stock in place of water.

POTATOES A LA MAITRE D'HOTEL

Here is a potato with a fancy name that will grace any table at any time and be particularly pleasing to the men folks:

1 pint potato balls, cut with French cutter, and cooked until tender. May be used either hot or cold.
1 cup scalded milk
2 tablespoons butter
2 egg yolks
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper

Heat the milk and potatoes in the top of a double boiler. Cream the butter and add the yolks of the eggs, beating them in well, add the parsley and seasonings; mix thoroughly, and when the potatoes are hot and have absorbed part of the milk, stir in egg and butter into them; add the lemon juice and serve at once.

COLE SLAW THAT WOMEN WILL LIKE

Here is a very fine way of preparing cole slaw that may or may not be popular with the men. However, women love it and probably many men will, too.

PINEAPPLE COLE SLAW
2 cups shredded cabbage
1 cup shredded pineapple, drained
2 stalks celery, cut fine
1 small green pepper, cut fine
1/2 cup whipping cream
3 tablespoons vinegar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper

Combine the cabbage, pineapple, celery and green pepper. Mix well. Beat the cream until stiff, slowly add the vinegar, salt and pepper and continue beating until well blended. Mix with the cabbage mixture and chill.

SHIRRED EGGS

2 cups strained canned tomatoes
1 cup onion, finely chopped
1 teaspoon onion, finely chopped
1 teaspoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt
Dash of paprika
4 eggs
1/2 cup grated cheese
1 teaspoon parsley, chopped

Place tomatoes and onion in top of double boiler, bring to boil; add dry ingredients and bring to brisk boil, stirring constantly. Place over rapidly boiling water, cook 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Pour into baking dish; make four depressions and break an egg into each. Sprinkle with cheese. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) for 15 minutes or until eggs are firm.

COCONUT ICE BOX COOKIES

5/8 cups sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 eggs, lightly beaten
1/2 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1 cup granulated sugar
1 1/2 cups melted butter or other shortening
4 cups (1/2 pound) coconut, shredded and chopped

Sift flour once, measure, add soda and salt and sift again. Combine other ingredients in order given and add flour last. Pack tightly in pan, six inches, lined with waxed paper. Chill overnight. Remove loaf from pan, cut in half, and slice crosswise in 1/2-inch slices. Bake on ungreased baking sheet in hot oven (400° F.) five minutes, or until done. Makes six dozen cookies.

Dining Abroad At Home

There are many American families who desire a change in their daily menus, and wish to try foreign dishes that are tasty and easily prepared. Here is one from Italy that will fill this role with surprising ease and will be the answer to the housewife's prayers for simplicity, tastiness and all around good eating.

RICE WITH SHRIMP

1 1/2 cups rice
1/2 pound shrimp, canned or fresh
1 small onion
1 carrot
1 stalk celery
1 or 2 sprigs parsley
Olive oil
Tomato juice
Broth, about 2 quarts
Salt and pepper
2 tablespoons butter
A handful grated Parmesan cheese

Chop together the onion, carrot, celery and parsley and brown in about 2 tablespoons of good olive oil. When brown add about 1/2 cup or more of the tomato juice or tomato conserve and season with salt and pepper. Cut into small pieces about three-fourths of the shrimp, having saved the larger ones, and mix this with the above. Meanwhile, put the rice (which has been cleaned with a towel) in a pan with a piece of butter and when the butter has been absorbed add the rice. When the rice is about half cooked add the above mixture and continue cooking. When nearly done, add the whole shrimp. Before removing from the fire add a handful of grated Parmesan cheese, and serve hot.

If you use fresh shrimp instead of canned, cook them in the tomato juice with seasoning for a few minutes until they are done. Remove the shells and proceed as above using the sauce in which they were cooked to mix with the shrimp.

BAKED PICKEREL

Pickereel
2 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup water
Salt and pepper

Wash and clean fish well. Place in baking dish and dot with butter. Season with salt and pepper to taste. Add lemon juice and water and bake in a hot oven (440° F.) for about 20 minutes.

SWEETBREADS

To prepare sweetbreads, let stand 1 hour in cold water and then drain. Place them in boiling water to which 1 tablespoon vinegar has been added and cook 15 minutes. Drain and plunge them in cold water in order to keep them firm and white. After this parboiling, sweetbreads are ready to cook in any way desired, such as sauteing, broiling or creaming.

VEAL CHOPS

Select chops 1 inch thick. Rub each chop with salad oil. Sprinkle with chopped parsley, a few drops of onion juice, and salt and pepper. Let stand 30 to 40 minutes. Drudge with flour. Sauté in small amount of hot fat in skillet, turning to brown both sides. Cover and cook over low flame 20 minutes longer, turning occasionally. Serve with sauce, if desired.

Breakfast Fruit Requires Careful Consideration

Baked Apples Slightly Dressed Up

A breakfast dish, somehow, is always considered of little importance. Women forget that a breakfast meal as well as any other time we eat, and therefore spend little time and less thought in its preparation. Now we all know, that fruit is an important and seldom overlooked item in the breakfast menu and should be given considerable attention. It is not always possible to serve fresh fruits so we cook those that we are able. A baked apple is a good example of this and can be something to rave about if properly prepared with just a touch of something a little different like this:

BAKED APPLES

6 apples
1/2 cup raisins
2 teaspoons candied orange peel, chopped
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup water
2 tablespoons small red cinnamon candies

Wash, core and peel apples. Fill centers with raisins and orange peel. Place in a well buttered baking dish. Combine the sugar, water and cinnamon candies and cook about 10 minutes. Four over apples and bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) about 45 minutes or until the apples are tender. Baste frequently with the syrup while baking.

ICE CREAM SAUCES

An indefinite number of fine desserts can be made by merely adding a nice sauce to the ingredients with the exception of the butter and flour. Bring to a boil and then add the fish. Cook about 25 minutes until fish is tender. Remove fish to a hot platter in a double boiler, add flour and stir until blended. Slowly add the strained liquid (adding more wine if necessary, to make 2 cups). Cook until mixture thickens, stirring constantly. Four over fish, garnish with quartered lemon and parsley.

MELBA SAUCE

Put one cup canned raspberries through a sieve, add 1/2 cup sugar and boil about 5 minutes. Cool and keep in refrigerator until used.

BUTTERSQUOTCH SAUCE

Cook 1/2 cup granulated sugar, 1/2 cup light brown sugar, 2 tablespoons light corn syrup and 1/2 cup cold water to 250° F. or until a little drop of cold water becomes quite brittle. Remove from fire, beat in 1 1/2 tablespoons butter, 1/2 cup hot water and 1/2 teaspoon vanilla. Serve hot.

MAPLE WALNUT SAUCE

Cook 2 cups maple syrup and 1/2 cup butter until the mixture threads from the spoon (234° F.). Remove from fire, add 1/2 cup walnuts and serve hot.

CHOCOLATE SAUCE

Cut 2 squares unsweetened chocolate into pieces; add to 1 cup water and cook until smooth and thick. Add 2 cups granulated sugar, a few grains salt and stir until dissolved. Boil 3 minutes (222° F.); add 2 tablespoons butter and 2 teaspoons vanilla and serve at once.

PERCH WITH WINE SAUCE

"Fixin' a fish" so that the confirmed fish eater will eat it with enjoyment is an undertaking not undertaken by many. The brave women would try something like this:

PERCH WITH WINE SAUCE

3 pounds perch
3 cups water
1 cup white wine
2 sprigs parsley
3 whole peppers
2 cloves
1 bay leaf
2 teaspoons salt
1/2 cup celery, cut fine
2 carrots, diced
1 onion, sliced
2 tablespoons butter
1 1/2 tablespoons flour

Wash and clean the fish thoroughly. Combine all the ingredients with the exception of the butter and flour. Bring to a boil and then add the fish. Cook about 25 minutes until fish is tender. Remove fish to a hot platter in a double boiler, add flour and stir until blended. Slowly add the strained liquid (adding more wine if necessary, to make 2 cups). Cook until mixture thickens, stirring constantly. Four over fish, garnish with quartered lemon and parsley.

KNOW NEW JERSEY—No. 5

By G. A. Bradshaw

Canal Bridge At Griggstown

Closing of the Delaware and Raritan Canal in 1934, after 100 years of operation, ended activities in many communities along the waterway, which stretched from New Brunswick on the north to Bordentown on the south. Bustling business centers in the days when boats moved up and down the stream in an almost endless procession, little villages, like Griggstown, live now in the memory of the past. Pictured above are the bridge, the bridgekeeper's house and the lock house at Griggstown, similar to many along the route.

But the little house has the distinction of being a public library, probably one of the smallest buildings used for such a purpose. It is open every Friday afternoon with about 150 books on the shelves. It is serviced by the Somerset County Library, General Washington passed through Griggstown, which is in Franklin Township, Somerset County, on his way to Morristown after the Battle of Princeton in 1777. It is also remembered as the home of John Honeyman, the famous American spy.

Greeks Respond Like Our Firemen

Former Red Banker Describes Spirit

The response of the Greeks to defend their nation from attack is similar to the answer of Red Bank firemen to an alarm.

Thus does George Noglows, a former resident of Red Bank who now resides in Greece, describe the situation in that country. "There are not words in the English or Greek language," writes Mr. Noglows to his brother, William Noglows of South street, one of the proprietors of the Strand restaurant and Red Bank Candy Kitchen, "in which to tell of the marvelous spirit with which the Greek nation has met this invasion of their country."

Mr. Noglows, who left Red Bank four years ago for his native country, states that outside of the lack of coffee and sugar, food in his homeland is plentiful. The schools in his locality, the eastern section bordering on Turkey, have been closed, but only as a precautionary measure.

Mr. Noglows for many years conducted a shoe shine and repair shop on Broad street.

HANDLING A BULL

"Every day is a lucky day for the dairyman who is careless about handling dairy bulls—he's lucky to be alive!" says M. A. Clark, County Agricultural Agent.

It is often the "quiet" bull that suddenly turns on his caretaker. Dairy bulls which are closely confined are likely to get playful when they are handled, and just as soon as a playful bull discovers his own strength, he becomes vicious.

The bull stall should be constructed of durable material that will withstand heavy blows. Cement or extra heavy metal tubing is satisfactory. The fence surrounding the outside exercise paddock should also be built of extra heavy material. Discarded boiler flues that are set in cement posts are often used. As long as bulls are properly confined they have less chance of injuring human beings. From the standpoint of safety, it is a definite mistake to allow a bull to run with the dairy herd. The use of safety breeding pens further reduces the necessary handling to a minimum.

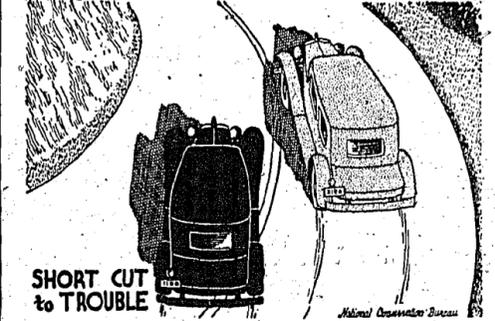

"A strong bull staff which is attached to a heavy metal ring in the bull's nose should always be used when handling becomes necessary. A bull should be trained to a staff before one year of age. It is also wise to remove the horns at about one year of age or when the bull shows the first signs of becoming ugly. Removing the horns will often tame down a young bull for an indefinite period.

Judgment Upheld

The supreme court has upheld the judgment for $18,167.33 which Lester C. Clayton of Freshhold obtained against Mrs. Mary S. Clayton as executor of the estate of his father, Charles H. Clayton. Mr. Clayton sued on a note for $10,000 given by his father in settlement of a partnership when their automobile sales and garage business was sold.

What Do You Know About Safe Driving?

SHORT CUT to TROUBLE

No. 2—Your Car on the Road

PLACE a circle around the letter "T" if a statement is true and around the letter "F" if a statement is false. When finished, turn upside down to read correct answers at bottom of this test. Your score is the number right minus the number wrong. How good are you?

1. It is more economical to drive at moderate speeds than at high speeds. T F
2. At 50 miles an hour, the ease with which you can turn your car is about one-fourth as great as at 25 miles per hour. T F
3. In parking on the up grade, it is best to turn the front wheels away from the curb. T F
4. A motor vehicle with adequate four-wheel brakes going 40 miles per hour should be able to stop in 50 feet. T F
5. A right turn on a four-lane highway should be made from the left side of the right lanes. T F
6. Tires will not give as many miles of service at 60 miles per hour as at 35 miles. T F
7. It is not possible to specify one safe speed for all intersections. T F
8. Trying to cross street car tracks when the wheels of your car are nearly parallel to the rails may cause a serious skid. T F
9. If you park your car on a downgrade, it should be left in neutral gear. T F
10. A car is steadier on a curve when the engine is coasting on diminishing power than when it is pulling. T F
11. The "shoulder" of a road is the raised portion found in the center of the roadway. T F
12. Your control of the car is affected by the grip which four small areas of tire surface have on the road. T F
13. A car can round a flat-surfaced curve at a higher speed than would be safe on a banked curve. T F
14. A good road surface for driving is one that is hard and gritty. T F
15. The number of passengers you carry in your car can have no effect on your braking distance. T F

Correct answers: 1. T 2. F 3. T 4. T 5. F 6. T 7. F 8. T 9. F 10. F 11. T 12. F 13. T 14. T 15. F. Your score is the number right minus the number wrong. (Excludes questions recorded by the Center for Safety Education, New York University.)

TRUCK SHIPMENT REPORTS

United States Department of Agriculture marketing officials are investigating possibilities of roadside reporting stations as a means of obtaining information on fruits and vegetables going to market via truck. The idea is commended by Prof. A. G. Waller, agricultural economist at the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station, Rutgers University. With the support of both producers and distributors of perishable farm products, marketing officials believe that reports upon truck shipment are needed to supplement those now issued on the movement by rail and boat.

Waller and the U. S. D. A. point out with the swing to more of the fresh fruit and vegetable tonnage moving by motor truck, reports upon rail and boat movement no longer suffice to supply that information completely. This is the reason the Department is delving into the possibilities offered by roadside stations on principal highways at which the kinds and quantities of fruits and vegetables loaded on all passing trucks could be determined.

Red Bank Rotary Club Pays Honor To Its Governor

Leslie B. Fort of Plainfield Makes Official Visit Here Thursday

Thursday's meeting of the Red Bank Rotary club at the Molly Pitcher hotel was featured by the official visit to Red Bank of Rotary District Governor Leslie B. Fort of Plainfield. Governor Fort congratulated the local club on its various successful activities during the past year and spoke of the problem of attracting younger men to join the service organizations and also spoke of the necessity of maintaining a high percentage of attendance at regular meetings. The speaker stressed the value to members of making up absences by attending the meetings of other clubs in this district.

Governor Fort spoke of the effect of the world wide crisis upon Rotary International and stated that Rotary was carrying on in war-torn Europe; that meetings were being held by the clubs in England as usual despite the war. He outlined the tremendously helpful activities of the Rotary War Relief fund.

Governor Fort also spoke of the coming Rotary convention to be held in Denver this summer, where the theme of the meeting will be "The Rotarian Amid World Conflict."

The visitors and guests included Winfield Rose, Arthur Dear and Lee W. Berry of Long Branch and Ralph E. Pearce and Al Rushton of Asbury Park.

The attendance prize at the meeting was donated by E. Allaire Cornwell and was won by Dr. William A. Wirth.

President Harry W. Crawford announced that the local club would hold a 20th anniversary meeting during March.

Following the luncheon meeting a short meeting was had by the president, directors and committee chairmen with the district governor, at which plans were discussed for the extension of Rotary activities. Those attending the latter meeting were President Crawford, William A. Miller, Harry B. Isaacs, Hans Wolf, Myron V. Brown and Mr. Cornwell.

The Swes are so short of fodder this winter that French army horses crossing the border with the defeated soldiers have been turned into sausages.

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

BY CONGRESSMAN WILLIAM H. SUTPHIN

Farm Security Administration. What It Is—What It Does.

We believe the farmers of New Jersey would like to be better informed on the assistance available, when needed, through the Farm Security Administration, with Regional Office located in the Postoffice Building, New Brunswick. Alan C. Ebert, assistant to the Regional supervisor, has prepared a brief statement of these activities for this column, to better acquaint farmers with the program, and invites those who need help to contact him at New Brunswick.

Since the inception of the program, Farm Security has rendered assistance in the form of loans or grants to 1,438 families in New Jersey. During the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1940, rehabilitation loans were made to 832 farm families in New Jersey, totaling $440,883. In the same period eight farms were approved for purchase by New Jersey tenant farmers, for a total of $65,498.

Other activities with which the Farm Security Administration is charged include Debt Adjustment and Co-operative and Community Service loans.

The Debt Adjustment Division has been very active. The majority of those applying for rehabilitation loans are carrying a heavy burden of debts. Through debt adjustment these may be scaled down or extended to permit the farm family to repay their indebtedness from income. Foreclosure is prevented and the family saves its source of income. This service is available to all farmers whether or not they are eligible to receive loans from this Administration. Loans made average below one thousand dollars. The net expense for the loans is made to low-income farmers who cannot obtain credit from any other source.

Co-operative loans to permit small operators to own large pieces of equipment for joint use are made by the Administration. Loans are also made for participation in Purchasing Co-operatives. An amendment to this year's appropriation prevents, however, the establishment of Co-operatives such as the Women's Co-operative Market in Atlantic county, which has been most successful during its first season's operation.

The Farm Security Administration is charged with making rehabilitation loans to those low-income families who cannot obtain credit from other sources. These loans are not available to the large commercial operators. With a program largely educational, a "live at home" policy is required of all borrowers. They are shown how to raise their own food and feed for the livestock. The keeping of accurate records is stressed. Much progress has been made along this line with families who never have known the value of records. They have learned to use them to help revise their operations to continue profitably on their own farms.

Farmers who need the kind of help described in this brief article are encouraged to write to Alan C. Ebert, Farm Security Administration, Postoffice Building, New Brunswick, New Jersey.

Navy Ship Program Expansion. The House passed last week, with only two dissenting votes, an authorization of $903,000,000 for the construction of 400 small Naval ships, minesweepers, patrol ships and auxiliaries, chiefly for defense of our coastal waters. These smaller ships release destroyers for offshore duty. The 70-foot PT series of small boats have a speed of 70 miles per hour, carry large gasoline supplies, six torpedoes, two depth bombs and a complement of machine guns. These little attack boats are referred to variously as "mosquito boats" and "suicide boats."

The minesweepers will be assigned the duty of keeping our harbors and coastal waters clear of enemy mines in the event of need. The whole authorization, therefore, can be characterized as 100% defense preparation. The bill provides for the armament of these ships as well as their construction. They will be built in Great Lakes waters, and brought to New York via the New York state canal system and the Hudson river. The shipbuilding facilities of the Atlantic coast already are taken up with construction of larger naval and merchant ships.

Artillery Firing At Fort Hancock

Firing by seacoast artillery is scheduled to be held by troops at Fort Hancock as indicated below:

Record Firing—From 9 a. m. to 4:30 p. m., January 30 and 31, February 3 and 4. During this firing the following described areas will be unsafe for shipping:

Left boundary—Line from Coast Guard cupola through Norton point and extending seaward to a distance of 11,000 yards. Right boundary—Line due east from Sandy Hook light extending to a distance of 11,000 yards.

Subcaliber Firing—From 9 a. m. to 4:30 p. m., February 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 10 and 11. During this firing the following areas will be unsafe for shipping:

Left boundary—Line from Sandy Hook light through Scotland lightship and extending seaward to a distance of 5,500 yards. Right boundary—Line due east from Newsvink light extending to a distance of 5,500 yards.

Firing will be temporarily suspended while ships are in Ambrose channel or vicinity.

The dates and times given above are approximate only, being dependent upon the weather and other unforeseen conditions. Firings not completed by February 11 will be announced at a later date.

WAYSIDE CLUBS PROGRAM

The regular monthly meeting of the Wayside 4-H Poultry Club was held last Thursday evening at the home of Frank Drouot of Summerfield. Vice president Bobby Roche was in charge of the meeting. Newly-elected officers were installed by County Club Agent Stelle and one new member, Bobby Lalshaw, was voted into the club. The group made plans to attend a hockey game at Princeton university next Wednesday evening, and to also attend a swimming meet at Rutgers university Saturday afternoon, February 8.

Following the business meeting, the program for the year was planned as follows:

February—Keeping records on chick flocks.
March—Sources of chicks and care.
April—Caponing demonstration and practice.
May and June—Poultry judging.
July—Poultry production demonstrations.
August—Annual picnic.
September—Tour of members' projects.
October—Quiz test.
November—Election of officers.
December—Installation of officers and program planning.

Jail Breakers Caught

Police Piccolotti and Andrew Corcione of Long Branch, who were arrested last week for several shop robberies, broke out of the Long Branch jail early Sunday afternoon. They were captured after a man hunt of several hours. Corcione was captured first and told the police his companion was hiding in the junior high school building on Morris avenue, near where he was picked up. Piccolotti was found sitting behind a door in the schoolhouse.

DIVORCE GRANTED

Orchids from a Holly Grower

Buick SUPER Sedan, $1185.*

ORDINARILY we don't go in for owner-testimonials.

But every now and then, along comes a letter that so perfectly portrays the way Buick owners feel about their cars that we haven't the heart to keep it from you.

Here, for example, we quote from Mr. Ambrose Brownell, English holly grower of Milwaukie, Ore.

"... When I drove that '41 SUPER out of Flint... and started a circle trip home... I jotted down each gas purchase and mileage to sort of figure my expenses...

"It wasn't long before I got suspicious of something wrong... The gas gauge needle just didn't go down fast enough..."

"But, Roy, all the way home it was the same story. The Buick wormed through miles of city traffic... made numberless stops to inquire directions, purred along in sizzling heat that made my feet feel like two fried eggs, breezed over the Rockies at 9,000 elevation... and finally fairly stole home through the sinuous Columbia Gorge.

"Statistics? Of course: 3,200 miles; 165 gallons... Ethyl gas; 19.51 miles per gallon; gas expense—1¹⁰/₁₀₀ per mile; total out-of-pocket expense—1¹⁰/₁₀₀ per mile.

"... Roy, I'm glad I bought a Buick."

Mr. Brownell has other nice things to say about his Compound Carburetion-equipped 1941 SUPER.

But the point is that everywhere Buick is running up such astonishing records for thrift that letters like this are commonplace.

Why not drop in on your local dealer and try out the thrifty traveler that brings us orchids from a holly grower?

LEADERS NAME COMMITTEES.
Ralph Butler, president of the Monmouth County 4-H Club Leaders Association, named several standing committee chairmen at the meeting of the association Monday evening, January 29, in the Extension office in the Freehold court house. The appointments follow:
Association membership—John W. Havens, Imlaystown; Parent cooperation with 4-H clubs—Mrs. John Polhemus, Neptune; New 4-H clubs—William M. Patterson, Ardena; 4-H Club Attendance—Mrs. William Zickler, Neptune; 4-H Council cooperation—Walter Ham, Jr., Freehold; Constitution and By-laws—Fred Daum, Englishtown.

Other committees that will be formed subsequently are: program committee, refreshment committee and recreation committee. Each of the above named chairmen are to have two other members of the leaders association work with them on the committee, these to be selected either by the committee chairman or appointed by Mr. Butler.

It was decided to hold the next regular meeting of the association at 8 in the Extension office on Monday evening, March 17. At 7:30, for a half hour previous to the meeting, each committee is expected to meet and prepare their report. Other business transacted, besides discussing policies and procedures to be formulated by the association, was the announcement that Pomona grange awards will be made again this year to 4-H club members in the county showing outstanding all-around development. The same rating sheet that was used in the previous two years will be used again this year. Attention was then called to winter sports events at Princeton university and at Rutgers university which club members may attend.

Report On Jail And Prison Farm

The continued improvement in conditions at the Monmouth county jail and the development of the county prison farm are outlined in a report made public today by Sheriff Morris J. Woodring which recites that more than 2,300 bushels of vegetables were successfully produced on the farm at Allenwood.

The report also points to the work of the 52 venereal disease clinics held at the jail and the fingerprinting and photography department which was established by Sheriff Woodring. Prisoners are not assigned to farm work alone, the report explains, but are also engaged in making hundreds of attractive road, direction and municipal signs, which will make their appearance in the county this spring. The signs, in several colors and on rustic wood panels, are made with wood letters cut by jig saw. Besides the road signs the prisoners are also making attractive signs to be placed at various county institutions. Signs welcoming motorists to various communities are also being produced and will be furnished to all towns which request them, Sheriff Woodring said. The material is furnished to the prisoners by the county road department.

During 1940 a report, made by Warden Joseph Schwark, declared that 1,419 prisoners were received for a total of nearly 45,500 prison days. This was 82 prisoners less than in 1939 and did not include 651 night lodgers sent to the jail by Freehold and state police.

Dr. David S. Carey, jail physician, reported to the sheriff that on daily visits five to seven prisoners are treated for ailments suffered before they entered the jail. Very few cases of disease develop in the jail, he said, and the health of the prisoners is surprisingly good.

Veneral Disease Clinic.
The venereal disease clinic reported that 124 prisoners received treatment, forty of them for the first time. At least 68 per cent of those who leave the jail continue their treatment at some other clinic.

The prison farm, where many acres of land have been cleared by prisoners, required 20 to 35 prisoners for each working day. These men were housed in a dormitory, 30x70 feet, which was built this year. Sheriff Woodring listed the vegetables grown on the farm for use in the jail and other county institutions, citing particularly that 500 bushels of white potatoes had been raised on ground which had previously been termed unsuitable for potatoes.

More than 7,000 ears of early sweet corn were raised and 3,000 ears of late sweet corn. Other vegetables successfully produced included early spinach, early radishes, early turnips, early string beans, pickles, early squash, peas, lima beans, sweet potatoes, onions, beets, carrots, late spinach, late turnips, cabbage, late string beans, late sweet corn, tomatoes, kale and watermelons.

967 Prisoners Fingerprinted.
All fingerprints taken at the jail for the past eight years have been classified and filed and a new system of index cards and photographs has been set up with equipment purchased last year. During the year 967 prisoners were fingerprinted and copies of each supplied to the state police and the F. B. I. as well as municipal police departments. The same department also made 1,208 negatives and 4,137 pictures for the photographic file, some of which were for the use of the prosecutor's office, the probation department and municipal police departments.

As was to be expected more than half of the prisoners sent to the county jail during the year were held under the disorderly persons act. Of the 1,419 committed 141 or 10 per cent were minors. The number of minors received was 43 more than the previous year.

Of the 56 odd municipalities which send prisoners to the jail, Freehold

CIVIL SERVICE JOBS.
Open competitive examinations for the positions described below were announced by the United States Civil Service commission today. Applications will be accepted at the commission's Washington office not later than the closing dates specified. Where two closing dates are given for receipt of applications, the extra time is allowed those sent from Colorado and states westward. All salaries are subject to a 3 1/2 per cent retirement deduction.

Positions in scientific fields for which examinations were announced are:

Associate chemist - petrographer, $3,200 a year. Applicants will not be required to take a written test. They will be rated on their education and experience, which have included paid professional experience in chemistry or geology. Closing dates are March 3 and 6, 1941.

Junior technologist (any specialized branch), $2,000 a year. A four-year college course with major study in a branch of technology is required, except that applications may be accepted from senior students subject to certain conditions. Closing dates are February 20 and 24, 1941.

For higher grade technologist positions, with salaries ranging from $2,600 to $5,500 a year, applications will be rated as received until December 31, 1941. Applicants will not have to take a written test, but will be rated on their training and experience.

Pharmacologist, various grades, with salaries from $2,600 to $4,600 a year. A four-year college course with specialized study is required, plus appropriate experience in scientific investigative work. Applications will be rated as received until December 31, 1941.

Examinations for the positions of associate and assistant technical editor in the War department were announced. The salaries are $3,200 and $2,600 a year, respectively. The duties include editing and writing, largely in the field of engineering, chemistry and physics. Appropriate college study and experience must be shown. Closing dates are February 20 and 24, 1941.

The commission also announced an examination to secure artist-designers for federal government work. Salaries range from $1,820 to $2,600 a year. Design, execution, drawing, or supervision of various kinds of art work are among the duties of the positions. Closing dates are February 20 and 24, 1941.

An examination for men only for the position of junior stenographer in Washington, D. C., only, has been announced. There are adequate registers of female eligibles. The salary is $1,440 a year. Applications will be accepted until further notice.

Full information as to the requirements for these examinations, and application forms, may be obtained from Alex. Curchin, secretary of the board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, at the Red Bank postoffice, or from the secretary of the board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, at any first- or second-class postoffice.

The Cat
Deliberately
Debonair,
The cat comes creeping,
Down the stair,
She wraps herself
Around my feet
Until her tail
And whiskers meet
And with a most Persuasive purr
Massages her
Uneasy fur.

Then with a lazy
Nonchalance
Sharpens her claws
Upon my pants!
This operation Finished, she Still has the brass
To badger me
And says quite pointedly—
"meow!"
(A feline synonym for cow.)
She spatters lacteal
North and south—
Everywhere but
In her mouth.
Then licks her lips
As though to find
Some proof that she
Has really dined!
And, after wiping off
Her chops,
Her legs and face
And back she mops.
She even reaches
Way around
And quats her tail off,
I'll be bound!
Then curling up,
She heaves a sigh
And shuts one pale,
Decisive eye.
The other one,
With female gulle,
Performs as sentry
For awhile,
But this at last
Shuts too, and puss
Falls in the arms
Of Morpheus.
A cat, I think,
We'll all agree,
Personifies
Placidity.

DAIRY CLUB MEETS.
The regular monthly meeting of the Freehold Junior Dairy club was held on Friday evening, January 24, at the home of Donald Conroy of North Farmingdale. During the regular business meeting, newly-elected officers were installed by the leader, William M. Patterson. In addition to making plans for the next meeting, the group planned to attend two special winter sports events in February. On the 8th they will attend a swimming meet at Rutgers university, and on the 19th a hockey game at Princeton university.

The next meeting of the club will probably be held at the home of Albert Niehaus of Holmdel on Friday evening, February 28. A local farmer will be asked to show motion pictures of local farming operations.

A game party, which was to have been held Friday by the Middletown auxiliary of Riverview hospital at Elliott hall at Middletown, has been postponed until some time in March, because of the great amount of illness among members.

Mercker To Discuss Potato Industry
A. E. Mercker, formerly with the Bureau of Markets in Trenton, and now associated with the Bureau of Agricultural Economics in Washington, has accepted an invitation to meet with potato growers in Central New Jersey next Thursday at Hightstown, according to an announcement by M. A. Clark, county agricultural agent.

Mr. Mercker probably knows more facts about the potato industry in the whole country than any other man. Since potato prices are largely determined by the total United States crop, the situation in other potato growing areas is of vital interest to Central Jersey producers.

At a recent meeting of community committee members for the Agricultural Conservation Program, Mr. Mercker's discussion was so well received that he was urged to come back to New Jersey again so that the potato growers would have an opportunity to hear his story. The Hightstown meeting is to be held in the Grange hall, starting at 2 p. m. Mr. Mercker will be introduced by Dr. W. H. Martin, Dean and Director of the N. J. Experiment station.

Ocean Grove Man Found Dead
Benjamin P. Jones of Ocean Grove, reported missing for several hours, was found dead Friday morning near an abandoned roadstand on Route 35, Eatontown, County Physician H. W. Hartman issued the death certificate stating death was due to convulsions, probably resulting from ptomaine poisoning.

The body was discovered at 8:30 a. m., Friday by Percy Brown of Eatontown, a Boro bus driver while making his run between Asbury Park and Red Bank. Brown reported to Officer Charles Heidt at the Eatontown borough hall. Investigation was made by Officer Heidt and Chief Harry Kirkgarde.

DAILY CACKLERS STUDY POULTRY HOUSING.
At the regular meeting of the Daily Cacklers 4-H Poultry club of Freehold, the members devoted their study to poultry housing. The meeting was held at the home of Joseph Ham on Thursday evening, January 23. Joe was in charge of the study program which followed the business meeting. Their study of housing included construction of houses, the necessary features to be included in planning poultry houses, such as type and arrangement of equipment, amount of floor space, roosting space and nesting space per bird and management.

The next meeting of the club will be held on Thursday evening, February 20, at the home of Ernest and Leonard Brown.

Red Bank Batteries Now in Regular Army

Physical Examinations This Week— Leave For Fort Bragg February 7

We're in the army now! Such was the response of members of Batteries B and E, 112th Field Artillery, New Jersey National Guard of Red Bank, Monday morning when the two batteries were inducted into federal service at the Red Bank armory.

The Red Bank outfit (unless orders change) will entrain for Fort Bragg, North Carolina, Friday, February 7. A complete roster of members of Battery E, who passed their physical examinations this week, was released last night by Captain George A. Hogan, commander. Members of Battery B, under command of Captain Joseph E. Fix, as yet have not all undergone physical examination and it will be impossible to obtain a roster of Battery B until all have taken their physical examinations.

Since induction Monday, officers and members of both batteries have been spending hours at the Chestnut street armory doing detail work and undergoing physical examinations. Daily drills have been held outdoors as well as indoors, and immediately upon induction members of the batteries were put on guard duty outside the local armory starting at early morning until midnight. Throughout the night a guard is kept on duty inside the building.

All officers and members of both batteries report daily at the local armory and unless on outside detail they remain in the armory until 5:30 p. m., when they are allowed to go home for the night. This is encouraged by army officials. The men are obliged to take only lunch in the armory. For those who make the armory their headquarters (this being only a small number) breakfast is served at 7 a. m. and dinner at 6 p. m., when the men desire they may take two meals at home.

Midnight Sunday was the final hour for enlisting in the local National Guard unit and several last-minute recruits enlisted, making the strength of both batteries 182 men. Three medical officers have been on hand all week, and examinations are expected to be completed today.

Battery E has not been seriously affected as to strength as only three men out of 91 have been rejected, and it is believed that Battery B will come through with a similar report.

During the examinations, several incidents took place. One was the case of Corporal Charles F. Parker, who on January 21, was advanced from private first class to a corporal, giving him an increase in salary to $54 per month. Under his physical test it was found that he had four molars which needed removing, or else he was out. Two others were removed some time ago. Hearing this news, Corporal Parker hustled himself to the office of Dr. Douglas Edwards on West Front street and had them pulled. Dr. Edwards made an emergency bridge set for Corporal Parker and he is to be re-examined today, the deadline.

Defense Council Organizes, Elects Officers, Directors

Group to Provide Recreation Centers for Service Men

Residents of a dozen municipalities in this section of the county met Sunday night at the Molly Pitcher hotel to organize the Defense Council of the River Boroughs, the purpose of which is to provide recreation centers for soldiers of Fort Monmouth and Fort Hancock. The following officers were elected:

President—Clement L. Despard of Rumson.
Vice president—Mrs. Monroe Elmer of Red Bank.
Secretary—Mrs. George Miles of Rumson.
Treasurer—Albert W. Worden of Red Bank.

Members of the board of directors are Froeholder James S. Parkes, Robert Trask, Mrs. Edward VanSicklen, Mrs. Benjamin Crate, Jr., and Tony Hunting. The group voted to incorporate and Mr. Parsons, who has been serving as president pro tem, was authorized to proceed with this matter.

Twelve Selectees Leave Tomorrow

Twelve men from the Red Bank draft district will leave tomorrow morning for the army induction station at Trenton. If they pass the physical examination there they will be on their way to a year's military training.

Induction notices were received by the 12 men last week, but a last minute change occurred when one of the selectees, Pasquale Tomalio of Shrewsbury avenue, Red Bank, joined one of the Red Bank field artillery batteries. The vacancy in the selectees' ranks was filled by Dermot Thomas Callahan of 777 River road, Fair Haven.

Wanted a Job, But Got Sock on Jaw

John Joseph Burns of Monmouth Beach, justice of the peace and proud possessor of a fireman's 20-year service badge, stopped at The Register office this morning on the way to Justice of the Peace Elmer C. Wainright's office at Shrewsbury to swear out a warrant for the arrest of John "Zooie" Lynch of Keanburg, labor leader.

Mr. Burns told The Register that Lynch hit him and knocked him to the sidewalk yesterday when he applied for a job at the Sea Bright labor union office. According to Burns, Lynch announced to a group of job seekers that "there's no more work today." Burns replied, "that's too bad." It was after this remark, Burns claims, that Lynch "smacked him on the knicker."

Introduce Budget At Fair Haven; Drop-In Tax Rate

Estimated Rate Is $40.30. As Compared With $41.12 in 1940

The 1941 budget of the borough of Fair Haven was passed on its first reading at an adjourned meeting of the mayor and council last night and shows a reduction in the tax rate from $42.20 per thousand to $40.30. This reduction is due entirely to the borough budget because the 1941 figures for county and state taxes are not yet available, and any future variation from the above figure will be due to changes in county and state figures.

Public hearing on the budget will be held Monday night, February 24. The amount to be raised by taxation in Fair Haven for local purposes is only $38,000, as compared with $38,000. This means a reduction of $2,155.51 in the running expenses of the borough, exclusive of the schools.

By paring $1,500 of various appropriations and by appropriating surplus cash amounting to $8,000, the governing body was able to reduce the tax rate, notwithstanding the fact that there were increases in other items. These increases, as enumerated last night by Councilman Edgar V. Denise, chairman of the finance committee, are: $100 for fire hydrant service, $1,400 for streets, $194.44 interest on bonds and $120 for the public library. In addition the council appropriated $500 as the borough's share of fighting the proposed increase in rates of the Monmouth Consolidated Water company, and made provision to pay off $2,000 in bonds issued last year.

It was pointed out that the cash surplus of $18,000 at the end of the year was the result of exceptionally good tax collections during the year. According to borough collector, George Curchin, collections of 1940 taxes amounted to 77 per cent. The previous year it was 71 per cent and had been as low as 60 per cent.

The complete budget is printed in this issue of The Register. The following letter from Mr. and Mrs. C. Powell Boyland of Knowlwood was read:

"We wish to express our appreciation and thanks to the members of the Fair Haven police force, fire department and ambulance unit for their prompt and cheerful assistance in locating our son, who in the company of two other small boys, was missing from home on the eve of January 23."

Mr. Denise, who was one of the first to start searching for the three children, declared that Red Bank police also joined in the search, and a motion was adopted to send letters of thanks to the Fair Haven police and fire departments and the Red Bank police department.

Cars Collide At Fair Haven

Raymond Boeckel Has Scalp Injury

Two Locust residents were involved in an auto collision last night at 7 o'clock at the corner of River and Hanco roads, Fair Haven. Patrick Malone of Navesink River road was traveling west on River road with the intention of making a left turn into Hanco road, and the other car, operated by Raymond Boeckel of Main street, Locust, was going east on River road. Ice on the road caused the Boeckel car to skid when the driver applied the brakes.

Both cars were damaged. Mr. Boeckel suffered a scalp injury and was taken to the office of Dr. C. C. Perrine for treatment.

Police Chief Joseph Herden, who investigated, issued summonses to both drivers for a hearing tomorrow night at 7:00 o'clock before Recorder Harry B. Kurtis.

Gopsill Lectures Police Sees Danger of Sabotage

Proximity To Two Forts Brings Problem To Red Bank, Police Head Says

Councilman Thomas M. Gopsill, stepping from his role as councilman to that of police commissioner (technically chairman of the police committee), eyed 14 stalwart members of the Red Bank police department, who occupied the two front rows of the council chamber Monday night, and proceeded to lecture them on various matters concerning the welfare of the borough and its citizens.

While Mayor English and members of the council listened attentively, and newspapermen, dispossessed for the time being from the "press row," sat somewhat ga-ga-eyed, Mr. Gopsill sought to drive home the warning that Red Bank's finest must be more than ever alert in the near future when they will be beset by problems the like of which Red Bank has never seen.

The police head referred to the fact that this section within a short time is to have an influx of thousands of service men and declared that with this increase in population will come increased business dishonesty. Already, Mr. Gopsill declared, there is every reason to believe that many persons now coming into town have questionable reputations.

"Changing conditions and the steady influx of visitors into our community," said Mr. Gopsill, "are making the job of a police officer a lot tougher. I will expect every man to show the same courtesy as he has in the past to the upright citizen but I do not expect the Red Bank policeman to be a 'lily.' If you know what I mean, and if you are required to bring in a man horizontally you will find that you will have the backing of the mayor and council. I don't want any Espoistas walking on the streets of Red Bank." (Espoisto, it will be recalled, is the name of the thug who killed a New York policeman during a gun battle).

Mr. Gopsill's main concern seemed to be the prevalence of foreign agents in Red Bank. "I haven't the slightest doubt," he said, "but that foreign agents are operating right here in town. Who they are and where they are staying I do not know, but I do know that Red Bank is right in the middle of two important army posts—Fort Monmouth and Fort Hancock—and we will have to be doubly careful."

Mr. Gopsill called upon the police to be ever alert for suspicious characters and asked the press to advise citizens who have any suspicions regarding subversive activities to communicate at once with the police. These suspicions, if they are founded, to have any foundation, the councilman said, will be turned over to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

"It is not our purpose," declared Mr. Gopsill, "to get the citizens of our borough worried, and it may be that I am painting too black a picture. I hope that the conditions are not as bad as I see them; but I feel that we must be ever alert in these changing times."

"If the race track comes to this section," he continued, "more fuel will be added to the fire. With the police will come all sorts of people—outsiders, etc., to add to our problem. Then we have the National Sweepstakes Regatta coming in August. Altogether we have 12 tough months to look forward to. But we must remember we have a reputation for courtesy and we must keep it."

Councilman Gopsill singled out three officers—Lieutenant George Clayton and Policemen Joseph Evans and Benjamin Pryor—to bestow praise upon.

Lieutenant Clayton and Policeman Evans were the officers to capture the 17-year old youth, who for ten years attempted to attack several women in the borough. The officers caught the young man in a Midle-town township, which the police commissioner said was a case of "using your heads and cutting red tape."

"I mention Clayton and Evans because it just so happened that they were working at the time. I realize that each one of you men would have done the same thing had you been called upon. I want the chief of police to make this deed a permanent part of their records."

Mr. Gopsill said that women of Red Bank were entitled to protection from this sort of thing and he was being given them. He criticized the parole board roundly, declaring that if Red Bank authorities had been notified that such a person was to be released to the community, nothing of the sort would have happened.

He said he was not a psychiatrist and he had no sympathy with those who had come to him after the boy's arrest—"sob sisters," he termed them—who seemed to think that the only thing the matter with the boy was that he had a "kink" in his brain, and that "all we had to do was get it out of him, and everything would be all right."

Policeman Pryor, who is assigned to desk duty in police headquarters from 4 p. m. until midnight, was also praised for the courtesy he had shown four visitors to the borough who had enlisted the help of police in finding them accommodations for the night. The visitors, who hailed from Montana, wrote a letter in which they cited facts regarding the incident and stated that they had visited 40 out of the 48 states and had never received such courteous treatment.

Pryor not only located accommodations for the visitors, after considerable telephoning, but had the police car take them to their lodg-

Auxiliary Has 12th Birthday Luncheon Party

Mrs. Tony Hunting, First President and Organizer Is Honored

More than 60 persons attended the 12th anniversary luncheon of Fair Haven auxiliary of Riverview hospital Friday at Roosevelt tea room, Little Silver. Mrs. Tony Hunting, first president of the auxiliary, was guest of honor.

Mrs. Thomas Jardine presided. Mrs. Jardine was president of the hospital auxiliary executive board at the time of the formation of the auxiliary. Mrs. Hunting has served as president of the auxiliary three years. She was a member of the original executive board and of the board of directors of the hospital.

Mrs. Jardine introduced Mrs. John J. Knodell, present auxiliary president. Mrs. George T. Linton, president of the combined auxiliaries of the hospital, also spoke briefly. She traced the growth and progress made by the hospital.

Mrs. Linton introduced presidents of the five other auxiliaries of the hospital, who attended. They were Mrs. Charles M. Hilton, president of Red Bank auxiliary; Mrs. John G. Foller, Rumson; Mrs. Henry C. Mecklen, 3rd, Middletown; Mrs. Elmer C. Wainright, Shrewsbury; and Mrs. George C. D. Hurley, Oceanport.

Mrs. Hunting, Mrs. Jardine, Mrs. Knodell and Mrs. Linton all received congratulations. The luncheon tables were decorated with cut flowers. Members of the luncheon committee were Mrs. Walter B. Connor, chairman; Mrs. Peter J. Elchele, Mrs. Leon VanBuren, Mrs. L. A. Griffin, Mrs. H. S. Blingston, Mrs. J. P. Muiwihill and Mrs. Lillian M. Flannery.

Brainerd, Miss Dorothy VanDerHelden, Miss Marguerite Haring, Miss Mary Bradley, Alfred Henschen, Benjamin H. Homan, Jr., Thomas Irving Brown, Gardner Haring, John Cook, Charles Conover, Kenneth Granzer and Robert W. Brainerd.

Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Homan of Deal and New York, parents of Mrs. Straus, honored felicitations to their son-in-law from the Miami-Biltmore hotel at Coral Gables, Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Straus will leave February 7 by plane for an extended stay at the Miami-Biltmore.

Eatontown Sets School Budget

Taxpayers Asked to Raise $28,736

Eatontown borough taxpayers will be asked to raise $28,736 to support the borough school during 1941-42 school year. It was announced this week following budget meeting of the school board. The school budget, set at $38,075, was unanimously adopted.

Anticipated state revenue amounts to $9,200. It is also expected that next year's tuition for borough children attending Long Branch High school would be increased $1,200 to a new high of $10,800.

Infant Drowns; Mother Attempts Rescue; Fails

Davis Emde, 2½ Years Old, Falls Into River—Found By Mother

Seized with fear when she saw the hand of her two and one-half-year-old son, Davis Clark Emde, clutching to a cake of ice in the Shrewsbury river, into which he had evidently fallen after wandering away from home yesterday morning, yet cherishing the desperate hope that a spark of life might still remain, the mother, Mrs. Charles B. Emde, plunged into the icy water in a rescue attempt which proved futile.

Riverview hospital attendants and members of the Red Bank first aid and Jersey Central Power & Light company emergency squads worked for hours in an attempt at resuscitation, but were forced to yield when the infant failed to respond to treatment. County Physician H. W. Hartman was notified and he issued the certificate, giving drowning as the cause of death.

Mrs. Emde, suffering cuts and lacerations received from the jagged ice and from immersion and shock, required medical attention. The tragedy occurred on the property of Thomas F. Doremus of Vista place, not far from the Emde residence, which is in Buena place. The child had been reported missing a few minutes after 12 noon by Mrs. Emde, who notified police headquarters, and a search was immediately started. Mrs. Emde discovered her child in the water 20 minutes later.

According to Lieutenant George Clayton, who investigated, the child had left the house around 11 o'clock. The mother attended to household duties and did not discover his disappearance until about an hour later. A favorite in the neighborhood, the child had been in the habit of calling at the home of residents in the immediate section and Mrs. Emde, under the impression that he was again making the rounds, felt no undue concern. This time, however, the child had wandered onto the Doremus property and down to the riverbank. At this point there is a drop of several feet from the bank to the river and the child, probably not realizing his danger, wandered too near and plunged to the water below.

Mrs. Emde, unable to find the child, notified police headquarters at 12:30 o'clock, and Lieutenant Clayton was sent to the house. Mrs. Emde made in the meantime conducted search in the vicinity of the house, and proceeded to the river. Standing on the bank and peering below she saw the form of the child, one arm outstretched, the hand clutching to a cake of ice. Horrified, yet maintaining presence of mind, Mrs. Emde leaped into the water, which was about two feet deep, seized the child and struggled back up the bank.

At this time, Mrs. Lucy Whitney, colored, a domestic employed at the Doremus home, drove into the driveway, near the river. She immediately placed the woman and her child in the car and drove to the hospital. The father was notified at his office at New York and he returned home immediately.

Mrs. Lawrence Sangmeister and Anthony DeVito immediately started resuscitation efforts, and the First Aid and power company squads were notified. A pullmotor was brought into play but this failed to restore the child, and he was pronounced dead at 1:20 o'clock. The body was removed to the Warden funeral home on East Front street.

Baby Davis was born at South Orange July 1, 1938. The parents, Charles B. and Carol Newcombe Emde, have been residents of Red Bank about a year, coming to this borough from South Orange. They have another child, Robert, who is 10 years old.

The funeral, which will be private, will be held tomorrow at the Warden funeral home with Rev. Herbert S. Craig, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, officiating. Interment will take place at the convenience of the family.

Object To NYA Camp For 400

Meeting Friday at Atlantic Highlands

Protests were registered at the meeting of the Atlantic Highlands mayor and council Tuesday night against the proposed construction of the National Youth Administration of a camp for 400 boys on the baseball field Memorial parkway. William Oliver, NYA county director, stated that the plan is to house the 400 boys in barracks and send 200 boys to Fort Monmouth and 200 to Fort Hancock for mechanical training. He also said that at least $8,000 worth of supplies would be purchased weekly in Atlantic Highlands.

Council decided to hold a public meeting tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the borough hall to give the citizens of the borough an opportunity to be heard on the matter.

RAINBOW MEETING. Further plans for the national reunion of Rainbow Division Veterans to be held at Atlantic City in July will be made at a meeting of New Jersey chapter next Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the American Legion home on Riverside avenue.

Fine Program For Next University Of Life Sessions

Three Good Speakers Scheduled for Meetings Sunday Afternoon

The University of Life series, which will begin its fifth consecutive week Sunday afternoon at the Red Bank Baptist church, has a most interesting program in store for those who will be able to be present.

The speakers last Sunday were greeted by small, but receptive audiences, due in a large measure to the epidemic of colds and influenza in this section. Rev. Charles A. Thunn, pastor of the church, regrets very much that the attendance at these lectures has been curtailed to some extent by inclement weather, much illness and other attractions on the specific dates of the previous four Sundays. He looks forward, however, if health conditions will permit, to a large attendance at the sessions Sunday afternoon.

Dr. Byron C. Elaidell of Long Branch, who needs no introduction to Red Bank people, will address the assembly on the problems of the modern home and has taken for his topic "Family Health." Anyone who can win the confidence of folks like Dr. Elaidell most certainly has a message to pass on to men and women.

In the class of problems in religion, Chaplain Albert L. Evans of Fort Monmouth will be the speaker. He has served 23 years in the army and has seen the problem of "Personal Worship" manifest itself several times. Chaplain Evans has endeavored during the short time he has spoken before several local organizations and is a forceful speaker with a worthwhile message. Charles F. Morrison, assistant to Chaplain Evans, has given a great deal of his time to Boy Scout work in this area. He will talk on "Youth's Influence on Other Youth" in the department devoted to problems of Christian youth.

Final Plans Made For Hospital Party

Many Prizes Donated for Riverview Event

Accommodations have been made for men, women and children at a game party to be held tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at the Molly Pitcher Hotel by Red Bank auxiliary of Riverview hospital. Prizes have been donated by members of the auxiliary and friends of the hospital. The prizes will be numerous and include cartons of cigarettes, stationery, beer glasses, a window plant, Chinese garden, hurricane lamps, occasional trays and dishes, Nylon stockings, a pen and knife set, a match case and key ring set, cards, gasoline, lead tea set, a framed picture and many other useful items. There will also be money prizes.

Mrs. James Parkes, general chairman, has announced that plans for the party are complete, and that they include special tables for children and young people. All members have tickets for sale and they will also be on sale at the door. Steven Neimeis will have charge of the amplifying system. Mr. Robert Reussille is publicity chairman. Among those who donated gifts were Mrs. William Miller, Mrs. H. W. Hill, Mrs. Charles Hilton, Mrs. W. Hendrickson, Mrs. J. H. Mount, Mrs. D. V. Flicker, Mrs. George Linton, Mrs. Kenneth McQueen, Mrs. Harry Lippincott, Mrs. Guy Foster, Mrs. James Stevenson, Mrs. James Parkes, Mrs. Harold James, Lester Leonard, Mrs. Harrison Bance and Mrs. Thomas Doremus.

C. A. A. Secondary Students Chosen

Designation of applicants for Secondary (restricted commercial) High School Scholarships Non-College Phase of the Civil Pilot training program, Department of Commerce, for the Red Bank-Ground and Flight Training school, sponsored by the Red Bank Community Chamber of Commerce and the Red Bank Rotary club, have been made to the Acting Regional Superintendent of Civilian Pilot Training, Civilian Aeronautics Administration, Washington, D. C. Out of the 14 students who completed their schooling at the Red Bank high school and Red Bank airport (January, 1940, course) Peter A. Shulka of Linden and Ralph Hunt of Newton have been selected. From the 10 who completed their course in July, 1940, Warren C. Kraemer of Maplewood and Robert B. Allen of Red Bank have been selected. Alternates selected are Eugene G. Gwyer of Little Silver and Edward M. Black of Irvington. These students will be required to attend the school for approximately three months at a governmental selected training center, where they will receive 125 hours of ground school and approximately 50 hours of Advanced Flight Instructions. They will house and clothe themselves, but the government will pay all training expenses. Final examinations in the Third Ground school are being held in Red Bank today and a fourth school will probably be started within another month. Applications for the later school may be secured by writing to Harold V. R. VonRhis, 99 Monmouth street, Red Bank.

Supported by Merchants. The Red Bank Register is supported by local as well as out-of-town business men. Advertisements appearing regularly tell the story.

Aase Skard To Address Meeting Of College Women

Norwegian Refugee To Tell of German Invasion

Aase Gruda Skard, who escaped from Norway at the time of the German invasion of that country, will be the principal speaker at the annual fellowship meeting of the Monmouth county branch of the American Association of University Women at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon, February 10, at the Molly Pitcher hotel. The meeting will be open to members and guests but a nominal admission fee will be charged. The guests, Mrs. Henry E. Ackerson, Jr. will preside. Mrs. Emilio Fanjul is fellowship chairman.

MRS. AASE GRUDA SKARD.

Mrs. Skard is the daughter of Halvdan Koy, who was foreign minister of Norway at the time of the invasion and escaped with King Haakon to England. Mrs. Skard and her husband, who was librarian at Trondheim, have come to this country because their names were on the Gestapo list; to stay in Norway meant a German concentration camp for them both. With their four children (two girls, four years old, and two boys, one year old), they reached the United States December 6, after crossing Siberia by train and coming by boat to New York via the Panama Canal.

When the Germans landed their forces in Norway last spring, Mrs. Skard was in Stockholm, Sweden, with her two babies. She was doing some research in child psychology on the international fellowship of the American Association of University Women. Her husband with the two little girls was in Trondheim. For a month she was able to get no news whatever of her husband and the two children in Norway. Trondheim was heavily bombed; the children were sent away for safety; as the fighting spread, two battlefronts separated them from their father. He finally escaped into Sweden on skis.

When conditions became a little more settled, Mrs. Skard's mother went to the mountains to bring the little girls back to safety with her in Oslo. On their return she found her house sealed by the Germans and all her possessions and money confiscated because of her husband's loyalty to the king and the government. After much difficulty the little girls were finally brought into Sweden through the good offices of a young Swedish Robin Hood, who led and blustered his way into Norway and back-supplied his car with gasoline stolen from the German officers' cars as he went!

Then began long negotiations for the necessary papers and transportation to the United States. The trip was one to test the endurance of a young person, unaccompanied; to make it with four small children seems an almost superhuman feat. Each day brought new vicissitudes. Since the family was to go to Moscow by plane, baggage had to be strictly limited—for a family of six traveling more than half-way around the world to set up a new home in Riga the customs official sealed up the suitcase containing a forbidden camera—and the family supply of soap. In Moscow, although they had paid for tickets "soft class," there was no "soft" space to be had, so the family traveled "hard" across Russia and Siberia for nine days and nights. The food poisoned one of the little girls, and when Vladivostok was reached the parents had to take turns at night protecting the children from bedbugs. For the steamer to Japan, available space was sold three times over, and the little girls were nearly trampled to death in the mad rush up the gang-plank. The vessel narrowly missed a typhoon before Japan at last offered the travelers a haven of rest and cleanliness. But in spite of these exhausting experiences, when Mrs. Skard was invited to visit an elementary school in Japan—a privilege now seldom allowed to foreigners—she eagerly accepted, and watched procedures in the school with the interest of the trained psychologist.

Now at last the family is settled for the present, at least, at Washington. Mrs. Skard tells of their adventures with a smile, and adds: "We are so happy to be here. You do not know how good it is not to be afraid." She adds, "If it had not been for the fellowship from America I would have been in Norway when the Germans came, and my husband and I would certainly be in a concentration camp today." Mrs. Skard believes that Americans do not yet understand what happened in Norway. She believes it is desperately important that they should understand. She speaks without bitterness and without dramatics of how the Germans were able to take over Norway, and what the extension of German power has meant to one Norwegian family and to others like them.

Mrs. Skard holds a degree from the University of Oslo, and has done graduate study at the University of Paris, at Manchester university, England, and at Harvard in the United States. Child psychology is her field, and she has more than 30 publications to her credit, including a textbook on educational psychology for normal schools. She has translated into Norwegian two books by American authors, "Growing Up," by Karl de Schweinitz and "Adjustment and Mastery," by R. S. Woodworth. When she received the International Fellowship of the American Association of University Women, which is open to university women of 35 countries, she was doing research as a fellow of the Teachers' college at Trondheim.

Lefferson, Jacob Stryker, Sid Bennett, George Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mount and daughters Joycelyn and Claire and Miss Dunham.

Roberts Named Borough Clerk

Former Councilman at Atlantic Highlands

Nelson H. Roberts resigned as a member of the borough council at Atlantic Highlands at a meeting of the governing body and later a special meeting was appointed borough clerk. His salary will be $1,800. Edward Bahr, who has been serving as borough clerk since the resignation of John Woodward last year, will return to his former duties in the water department. Mr. Bahr was also appointed assistant tax collector. His salary will be $1,500. The ordinance providing for the modernization of the water plant at a cost of $32,500 was approved. Another ordinance appropriating $20,000 for inshore improvements in connection with the new breakwater, was passed on its first reading. The funds will be provided by the county over a five-year period, $4,000 being turned over to the borough each year.

INSPECT SEA SCOUT SHIP.

The Sea Scout Ship Commodore Joshua Barney of Atlantic Highlands was inspected last week by a group of Monmouth Council Sea Scout officials. The inspecting party was made up of Louis E. Cooke, Sea Scout commissioner; Commander E. L. Osborn of the U. S. Coast Guard; and Dr. Edwin F. Stewart Sea Scout official. This inspection is conducted each year so that each sea scout ship in the United States can be given a national rating. The officers of the Atlantic Highlands ship are Skipper R. Kennedy Carpenter, First Mate Albert Quackenbush and Second Mate William Andrews.

The inspection includes an inspection of the ship and its equipment, the crew, records, social affairs, advancement and the part taken in civic and other affairs. Last year the Atlantic Highlands ship was rated as a second class ship.

GUILD DESSERT-BRIDGE.

The Ladies' Guild of the Chapel of the Holy Communion at Fair Haven will hold a dessert-bridge Tuesday, February 14, at the parish house on Church street. Mr. Edwin P. Stewart is chairman of the committee in charge.

AT MARLBORO HOSPITAL.

At the New Jersey State hospital at Marlboro tonight a dance will be enjoyed by such inmates there who are physically able to attend. Tuesday evening motion pictures were shown in the service building.

VanDeWater, Mrs. Peter Green and Mrs. Frank Jackson were guests of Mrs. Anthony O. Lund Tuesday afternoon at a dessert-bridge. Thomas Goddette is confined to bed by illness. Mrs. Belle Gold Cross and Mrs. Roy Menning were high scorers Tuesday night at the weekly card party of the Ladies' auxiliary of Brevent Park & Leonardo Fire company. Mrs. Fred W. Meyers was hostess. Mrs. Vincent O'Sage will have charge of next Tuesday night's party.

Ray H. Stillman Reports Several Sales And Rentals

U. S. Government to Build 200 Houses on Shrewsbury Tract

Ray H. Stillman, real estate broker of Eatontown has just reported the following sales and rentals of properties:

Mrs. Ida MacDougal has sold her 53-acre farm on the south side of the road at Scotchville, to a resident of New York city. He will occupy the premises as his year-round residence after making renovations to the dwelling. The sale included a large chicken house and several other out-buildings. The property lies opposite the large apple farm of Carroll Barclay. The new owner will commute daily to his business in New York. Mr. Stillman has also just consummated the sale of the well-known Crystal Brook farm in Eatontown to a Monmouth county resident. This is the third time he has sold this property. About 14 years ago he sold it for Mrs. Stanley Higginson to Alfred W. Dodsworth of New York city. Mr. Dodsworth made extensive alterations to the dwelling, adding a wing and five bathrooms and a new hot water heating system. Mr. Dodsworth occupied the property for some five years and then sold it, through Mr. Stillman, to Vernon Minard of New York city, who is now selling it to a retired man and a resident of this county. The land comprises 12 acres, an apple orchard and a brook after which the farm is named. There is also a large horse barn and other out-buildings on the premises. This is considered the show place of Eatontown.

The same office has just consummated the sale of the large hollow tile and stucco residence of Oscar Oeschwald at 311 Main street, Matawan, to a local resident. This house contains eight rooms and two tiled baths and tiled surround and is considered one of the best built dwellings in Matawan. The lot has a frontage of 100 feet on Main street and a depth of 200 feet. The grounds are attractively landscaped. A large four-car garage and barn is included in the house as his permanent home.

The Stillman office has also consummated the sale to the United States Government of 50 acres or more of farm land on the west side of Shrewsbury avenue in Shrewsbury township for the Red Bank Building and Loan association. Streets and sidewalks will be laid out and 200 houses constructed. This water to house the civilian employees and non-commissioned officers to be stationed at Fort Monmouth.

Mr. Stillman has just rented, with option to purchase, an open field surrounded by woods at the extreme southern end of the Max Phillips property in Eatontown, to the United States Government, in which a $100,000 signal corps laboratory will be built this winter. He also rented 300 acres of woodland in Eatontown for use as training grounds for the enlisted men at the Fort.

Rentals also consummated by the Stillman Agency include the store at 4 Main street, next to the First National bank in Eatontown, to John Daly of Linerott. Mr. Daly has opened a grocery and butcher shop on the premises. Also rented was the former building on the east side of Main street, Eatontown, to John Ceppaluni of Long Branch who will open a tailor shop.

Mr. Stillman has rented the former George Wilkins' farm at Tinton Falls, now owned by DeCamp Stalter, to John A. Seltz of Freehold. The farm comprises 80 acres, a two-story colonial farm house and several large barns and outbuildings. Mr. Seltz will farm the property.

The same office has also rented the 140-acre farm of William VanLeer at Vanderburg to Harry Gloy of Freehold, who will farm the place. This farm was formerly owned by George Ingraham of New York and was sold to Mr. VanLeer through the Stillman agency last year.

The Viola Jardine river front home at No. 1 Vista place, Red Bank, has been sold to W. Conrow of Middletown. Mr. Conrow has also taken over the unexpired lease of Colonel A. S. Cowan, who has removed to San Francisco, California. The house contains ten rooms and three baths.

Choral Group Holds Rehearsal

Spring Concert Set for April 19

A business meeting and first rehearsal for the spring concert of the Threshers' choral was held this morning at the Mechanic street school. The concert will be held at Long Branch high school Friday, April 19. The resignations of Mrs. William Bill, music chairman, and Mrs. H. DeWinter, recording secretary, were accepted with regret. Mrs. John F. Trudeau of Red Bank and Mrs. H. L. French of Freehold were named as their successors. The choral rehearsal was directed by Willard Seiberg and Miss Dorothy Winterstein was accompanist at the piano.

Shrewsbury Boy Bitten By Dog

Charles Cromer of White street, Shrewsbury, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Cromer, was bitten on the right hand yesterday while walking near his home by a police dog, owned by James Poole, also of White street. The youngster was treated by the family physician. Dr. Edwin F. Stewart, borough health officer, ordered that Poole's dog be tied up for 10 days for observation. The accident was investigated by Policeman Otto Herden.

Vincent Palmer To Address Group

Explorer on Better Entertainment Program

Vincent Palmer, noted undersea explorer, scientist and adventurer, will recount some of his experiences next Wednesday afternoon at Mechanic street school in another of the programs held by the Better Entertainment committee of Red Bank.

VINCENT PALMER

Palmer, who went from the august halls of Harvard to the bottom of the sea in one jump, will supplement his lecture with motion pictures taken under water. His adventures have taken him across 100,000 miles and through 30 countries.

He has perfected an ultra-violet ray device by which he temporarily stuns fish so that they remain still while he is photographing them. The device consists of an arc lamp, whose beam is projected through a piece of optical quartz from which it emerges as a 10,000-volt ultra-violet ray. Fish moving into the ray are literally stopped cold, giving Palmer ample time to obtain the photographs he wants. If he keeps the ray on, however, for five minutes or more, the fish will die.

Three years ago, Palmer organized and headed a treasure-hunting expedition to Mona Island in the West Indies. While the expedition found no treasure, Palmer brought back with him beautiful pictures and rare zoological specimens, which he turned over to the Peabody museum in Chicago.

Charles Hesse Buys Belford Property

Charles Hesse, Sr., of Belford has purchased a house and lot on Campbell avenue, Belford, from the Second National Bank of Red Bank. The sale was made by Herman F. Labrecque of Campbell's Junction. The lot is 50x100 feet and on it are located a seven-room brick house and two-car garage. The house has a bathroom and modern improvements. Mr. Hesse, who purchased the property as an investment, will make considerable improvements.

New Members Join Bible Class

Four new members were welcomed at a meeting of the Married Couples Bible class of the Methodist church Thursday night at the church house on Broad street. They were Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Jaxox and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred F. Graulich. Following the business meeting Harold Baynton spoke on rug making. The next meeting will be Thursday, February 27. Miss Abbie Strickland will be guest speaker.

SOIL DISTRICT EXPANDS.

With the co-operation of the Monmouth County Board of Agriculture the possibilities of enlarging the Freehold Soil Conservation District are to be carefully studied in the near future, according to M. A. Clark, County Agricultural Agent. The supervisors of the district, under the chairmanship of R. C. Clayton, have long felt the need of enlarging the district so that its services would be available to any resident of the county, whether he lived in Upper Freehold township or Atlantic township. Mr. Clayton, with the other supervisors, Harold C. DuBois, and C. Richard Applegate, have been instrumental in perfecting an agreement with the Soil Conservation Service, whereby district aid is not restricted to cattle farms, and erosion control measures can now be applied to parts of farms or single fields where a farmer or land owner desires to cooperate.

The supervisors report that during 1940 over 95 acres of marginal land were planted to forest seedlings. Strip cropping for erosion control was applied to 225 acres of cultivated land and 150 acres have been protected by hillside terraces. Most of this terracing has been done by the farmers with their regular farm equipment. About three miles of diversion ditches have been constructed to take excess water off cultivated land, and here again almost half of the work was done with an ordinary plow and disk.

The government says Brazil now has 125,000 miles of roads. Unofficial estimates are that perhaps 20 to 25 per cent can be called good roads. The greatest share of the mileage is in the southern and central-coastal sections. Mountain building still is in progress in the Philippine Islands.

48th Anniversary Celebration For Crescent Council

Miss Lutie Algor Honored for 35 Years as Treasurer

Special tribute was paid Monday night to Miss Lutie Algor, one of four living charter members of Crescent council, Sons and Daughters of Liberty, at the council's 48th anniversary celebration at the Eatontown borough hall. Miss Algor has been treasurer for 35 years and has never missed a meeting since the council organized.

Other charter members are Howard Davidson of Long Branch, Daniel S. Morris of Eatontown and John Kaib of Newark. Al but Mr. Kaib, whose ill health confined him to his home, were present. Power Squadron Plans Piloting Course

Plans for an elementary navigation class, to be held at Red Bank high school beginning Wednesday, February 19, were discussed last night at a meeting of the Shrewsbury power squadron at the Molly Pitcher hotel. A course in small boat handling will be offered free of charge, and all men passing the examination prescribed by the United States power squadron will be eligible to membership in the local squadron. Lieutenant-Commander Victor L. Fox will be in charge of the class. The Shrewsbury unit is conducting an advanced piloting class in the Fort-au-Peck fire house. The practical "cruise" a semi-final test which is permitted to continue with his study and take the final examination for the advanced pilot rating, will be held Friday, February 14.

JONES-SCHANCK.

Miss Norrine Patricia Jones, daughter of Mrs. Michael Jones of Keyport, was married to J. Leon Schanck, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Leon Schanck, also of Keyport, at the Reformed church Sunday afternoon by Rev. Harold E. Green, Jr., pastor. The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, J. T. Beeler. She wore a gown of white tulle with a finger tip veil and carried a shower bouquet of roses and orchids. She was attended by her sister, Miss Erna Jones, who wore a blue tulle gown. William Schanck, brother of the groom, was the best man. A wedding reception followed at Buttonwood Manor, after which the couple started on a wedding trip to Florida. On their return they will make their home in Keyport, the groom being associated with his father in his heating business.

JOHN E. DENISE.

John E. Denise, a former resident of Rumson, died early yesterday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. T. B. Phillips of Huntington, Long Island. Surviving besides Mrs. Phillips, and his wife, are two other daughters and five sons. Mr. Denise was 87 years old and was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Denise. He was born at Freehold but moved to Rumson at an early age and was engaged in the building contracting business. The funeral will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at his late home with Rev. W. Calvin Colby, pastor of the Rumson Presbyterian church, officiating. Burial in charge of the Mount Memorial home at Red Bank, will be in Park View cemetery.

GUILD MEETING.

The official board of the Women's Guild of Trinity Episcopal church met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Harry Sutton in Hubbard park. Activities for the coming year were planned at the luncheon. Mrs. O. Ormond H. Minton presided. Tea was served at the conclusion of the meeting with Mrs. Walter Rutland and Mrs. Herbert C. Craig pouring.

Refugees May Send Recorded Messages

English refugees, by accepting an offer made by Gordon L. Ryno, manager of the Tuetting piano company store on Monmouth street, may send verbal messages to their folks back home. Their messages would be recorded on either the R. C. A. Victor or Philco home recording units, the product handled by the Tuetting store, and mailed to England. The offer has been limited to English refugees because England is about the only country receiving parcels from this country. He said recordings were made some time ago, by Scandinavian refugees but they did not reach their destination. There will be no charge for the recordings, the only cost being the mail charges.

Heavy Snow Falls To Halt Building Program At Fort

Replacement Center to House 1,050 Men By February 15

Heavy snow this week slowed construction activities at Fort Monmouth but officers in charge of the erection of the 300 temporary buildings expressed confidence that quarters will be ready for 1,050 men who will make up the first group to be stationed in the new replacement center.

Twenty-six buildings, including barracks and mess halls to accommodate the 1,050 soldiers, will be completed February 15, construction officers said. By March 15 quarters will be ready for 7,000 men who will augment the 4,000 stationed at the permanent post.

No attempt is being made at the present to push work on recreation buildings, gymnasiums and theaters because of the national emergency that requires men be quartered at Fort Monmouth for training in modern warfare communications as soon as possible. Auxiliary structures will be erected later.

The group scheduled to arrive next month will consist of men drawn in to the army from high schools and colleges and men who are detailed to care for barracks and cook meals for the soldiers at the replacement area. They will form a basic organization around which will be built the replacement center training group.

County Youth Take Part In 4-H Ceremony

Highlights of Citizenship in a Democracy Will Be Exemplified

Seventy-five New Jersey 4-H club members dedicated "Head, Hands and Health to the continuing of the American way of living" as the highlight of a citizenship ceremony before the New Jersey Farm Bureau annual meeting and banquet at Trenton Tuesday night.

Marion Golden and Vivian Lamb of Imbstown; William M. Patterson, R. D. 2, Freehold; John Frudden, Clarkburg; Frances Noller, R. D. 3, Freehold and Sara Marie Apple-Donald and Donald Conroy, of R. D. Farmingdale, were the Monmouth county members taking part.

To the assembled 4-H club boys and girls, Roy E. Anderson of Woodbridge said "The call is sounded for young Americans to reaffirm their faith in the basic principles of self-government, the foundation stone of our United States of America."

Congratulations to the young people on "assuming their rights and responsibilities of citizenship" were extended by Judge Harold B. Wells of the Court of Errors and Appeals.

Responding in unison, the club members pledged their best efforts to "live up to the obligations and responsibilities for which citizenship in a democracy stands."

Further, they promised to "stimulate and understand democratic living and practice tolerance, co-operation and mutual self-help in our homes and in our communities."

Each of the boys and girls participating in the citizenship ceremony received a copy of the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution of the United States and an illustrated booklet of instructions for using and displaying the American flag.

Presentations of the 4-H members for the ceremony was by Kenneth W. Ingwalson, state leader of 4-H club work at Rutgers university.

Presbyterian Bible Class Has Annual Banquet

Motion Pictures of Army Maneuvers—125 Attend Event

In spite of the snowstorm Monday night, more than 125 young men and their friends and guests attended the third annual banquet of the Young Men's Bible class at the Red Bank Presbyterian church. A turkey dinner, with all the "fixings," was served in the social hall of the church.

Following the dinner, those present joined in singing "America" with Donald S. Klapp, a member of the class, as soloist. The Rev. W. J. Worden, chaplain of the Bible group, offered the invocation.

The dinner was prepared and served by the following women, with Mrs. Robert M. Cadman in charge of arrangements: Mrs. W. Albert Doremus, Mrs. Albert W. Worden, Mrs. Ralph R. Eckert, Mrs. Paul Walsh, Mrs. Arthur H. Cadman, Mrs. George Mathews, Mrs. Fred D. Wilkoff, Mrs. William H. Wilkoff, Mrs. T. Newton Doremus, Mrs. L. S. MacKenzie, Mrs. L. O. Ford, Mrs. Joseph C. Davidson, Mrs. John Kennedy, Mrs. John E. Bally, Jr., and Miss Alberta Youmans.

W. Albert Doremus, superintendent of the church school and an active member of the Bible class, was toastmaster. Robert M. Cline, chairman of the class music committee, led the group in a short songfest.

Tribute was paid the late Ernest S. Huff of Harding road, who died January 25, 1940. Mr. Doremus said the members of the class held Ernest in loving remembrance and read the resolution of sorrow that was adopted at the time after which the entire assemblage paused in a moment of silent prayer.

The advisers of the Bible class spoke of how proud they were of the young men and their regular attendance every Sunday morning for the study of the Bible. The advisers who spoke included Ralph R. Eckert, organizer of the group; Dr. L. F. MacKenzie, chaplain, and George W. Strauss, member of the senior high school faculty. Joseph C. Koehn, another adviser who follows the doings of the Bible class throughout the year, "in spirit," has been confined to his home for the last four years with a heart ailment.

A. LeRoy Baker, a member of the Presbyterian church quartet, sang two solo selections, "Sea Fever" and a new rendition of "God Bless Our Land."

Mr. Doremus introduced the following past presidents of the group: James A. Worden, 1936; Arthur H. Cadman, 1937; A. Ernest Griffiths, 1938; John A. Mathews, 1939; and Frank N. Linderth, Jr., 1940. Mr. Doremus was president of the class in 1935 and Stanley J. Parker, who was confined to his home with an attack of grip, was the first presiding officer at the organization of the Bible group in 1934.

Mr. Worden, who was recently married, was the recipient of a combination end-table and magazine rack as a wedding present and an expression of the class' appreciation for his untiring work. Martin V. B. Smock, former superintendent of the Sunday-school and interested in the welfare of the group, spoke briefly, and did Rev. John A. Hayes, pastor of the church, who is now beginning his 14th year of service with the church.

Mr. Linderth, chairman of the banquet committee, explained that dinner was arranged by the officers of 1940 including Harry C. F. Worden, vice president; Frank A. Rogers, secretary; William Ford, assistant secretary; Gordon L. Forbes, treasurer, and William VanPelt, assistant treasurer. The committee itself was composed of Mr. Doremus, James A. Worden, Mr. Ford, Philip E. Bally, Mr. Griffiths and Robert R. Blackman.

Two talking pictures pertaining to maneuvers of the United States Army were shown by Sergeant Robert K. Bursley, chairman of the public relations division of the Southern New York recruiting district headquarters, located at 39 Whitehall street, New York City. The sergeant joined the Bible group recently. He gave a short talk concerning the training of men in the army and especially a recruit's typical day of activities stationed at Fort Monmouth. The first picture, "Army Wheels," showed the army's mechanized forces in defense maneuvers in Georgia and Louisiana. Operations of practically every branch of the army in the field was shown, such as tanks lunging at high speeds over rough ground, airplanes, troops and anti-aircraft equipment.

The second picture, entitled "Service With the Colors," included Robert Armstrong, William Landon and several other Hollywood actors in the cast. The scenes in full technicolor, were taken at "The Presidio," an army training post at San Francisco, and depicted a short story built around the army life of four young men, newly enlisted recruits.

The loud-speaker system in use during the speeches was operated by Kenneth Novak, through the courtesy of Bradley's Radio. The present officers of the Bible group are Harry C. F. Worden, president; Frank A. Rogers, vice president; William Ford, secretary; Samuel T. Harvey, Jr., assistant secretary; and Robert R. Blackman, assistant treasurer.

LUTHERAN

Dr. E. A. Robinson, August Budelman and Henry Franz were elected to the church council at the annual congregational meeting of the Lutheran church Thursday evening. Reports were read by the financial secretary, benevolent treasurer and treasurer of all church societies.

During the year the congregation added new equipment in amount of $1,000, reduced its bonded indebtedness by $500 and paid in full all current expenses. Also 28 members were added to the membership roll. Between 70 and 80 attended the loyalty dinner held in conjunction with the congregational meeting, which was served by a committee of ladies headed by Mrs. Fred Wilman. Sunday the newly elected deacons and society officers were installed by the pastor in an impressive service. The order for the installation of a church council was conducted by the pastor, Rev. Walter Cowen. The account from the book of Acts telling of the selection of the first deacons of the Christian church was read, together with the duties of office.

The church council will meet to night at 8 o'clock. As customary at the first meeting of each year, the council will reorganize, elect its officers for the coming year and appoint the necessary committees to carry on the work of the church. The confirmation class will meet tomorrow at the church. Anne Bolwyn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bowyn of Washington street, Rumson, was received by rite of Holy Baptism Sunday afternoon, Henry Franz and Mrs. Walter Cowen were sponsors.

PRESBYTERIAN

REFORMED

"Died As a Criminal" will be the subject of the fourth of a series of sermons on "The Articles of the Apostles' Creed" to be given at the Reformed church Sunday morning. The service which begins at 10:45 will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. C. H. Walvoord. The subject will be "The Higher Law." Service begins at 7:30 o'clock. Sunday-school will be held at 9:30 a. m.

The communicants' classes meet as usual this week. The young women will gather at the parsonage at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon and the young men at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening.

The Boy Scout troop which has recently been reorganized, meets each Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. Under the leadership of William Conover the troop shows great promise of advancement. Several of the old members have returned and new recruits have been added.

The Ladies' Aid will hold its monthly meeting in the church Tuesday evening, February 7, at 8 o'clock. Following the business meeting the women will prepare the kitchen and dining room for the dinners which are to be served on the following evenings.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

The Sacrament of Holy Communion will be administered at the morning service on Sunday, February 2, at 11 o'clock, by the minister, Rev. Kenneth R. Perincheff. New members will also be received into church membership at this service. Both vested choir of the church will contribute toward the service, with Mrs. Theresa Willey directing, the choir program. Included are students "Adagio," Beethoven; offertory, anthem by Young People's choir, "Gloria and Worship are Before Him," Purcell; and anthem by Senior choir, "Art Thou Wary?" Jackson. Mrs. Rita Macdonald will sing the incidental solo in the anthem; postlude by Seaca.

The evening hour of worship will open at 7:45 with the prelude, "Larghetto," Weber; anthem by Senior choir, "In Heavenly Love Abiding," Brown, and postlude "Lord, Who Can Be With Thee Compared?" Knecht. The sermon theme will be "Learning Contentment."

At the church school session next Sunday, "World Service" offerings will be received.

Mid-week prayer and praise service is held weekly on Wednesday evening from 8 to 9 o'clock, with the minister in charge. A cordial invitation is extended to all to participate in these inspirational evenings of song, prayer and fellowship.

The executive board of the W. S. C. S. met with Mrs. Kelly Warden of Mechanic street yesterday. This was a box luncheon and business session. Mrs. Higginson presided. An invitation is extended to all to attend a "Spiritual Retreat" at the Haddonfield Methodist church today. Sessions at 10:30 a. m. and 2 p. m., under auspices of W. S. C. S. First-hand information and inspiration for the work of the newly-organized Women's organization will be offered by excellent speakers to address both sessions. Women desiring to attend please notify Rev. Perincheff.

The name party sponsored by W. S. C. S. will be held tonight at 8 o'clock. There will be entertainment and refreshments. The general chairman is Miss Edna Mapps, assisted by Miss Minnie Combes, Mrs. Russell Hodgkins, Mrs. Harry Hotchkiss and Mrs. Frank Warner.

"Love," is the Lesson-Sermon subject for Sunday, February 2, in all Christian Science churches and societies throughout the world.

The Golden Text is: "The Lord hath appeared of old unto me, saying, Yea, I have loved thee with an everlasting love: therefore with loving kindness have I drawn thee." (Jeremiah 31:3.)

Among the Lesson-Sermon citations are the following from the Bible: "My little children, let us not love in word, neither in tongue; but in deed and in truth." (I John 3:18).

GETHESEMENE LUTHERAN, KEYPORT

The Transfiguration of our Lord will be observed next Sunday at all services of Gethsemene Lutheran church with church school in Keansburg at 8:45 a. m. and church school in Keyport at 9:30, followed by the chief service at 10:45 with sermon by the pastor. Vespers will be held in Keansburg at 7:30 p. m. with sermon.

Next Monday evening the Sunday-school teachers and officers will attend a meeting of church school workers at the Central district of the New Jersey Conferences of Lutheran churches, which will be held in Zion's Lutheran church, Rahway.

Tuesday evening the pastor meets with his confirmation class at 7:45 o'clock and the choir meets at 7:45 in the congregation's meeting quarters in Keansburg.

The regular meeting of the church council will be held Thursday evening, February 6, at the pastor's residence, 198 First street, Keyport.

Friday evening, February 7, the pastor will meet with an older group of young people who are receiving instruction for confirmation on Palm Sunday. Adults desiring to unite with the congregation are asked to arrange for private instruction by special appointment with the pastor.

The children's choir will meet Saturday morning during February, but will resume practice beginning the first Saturday in March in preparation for Palm Sunday and Easter services. The first year confirmation class will meet at the pastor's residence every Saturday morning at 11 o'clock. This instruction is for children 11 to 12 years of age.

Both were admitted to Riverview hospital and treated for cuts and bruises about the ribs. They were released Monday.

Obituaries

EMILIO CABRERA. Word was received here Tuesday of the sudden death on Monday afternoon at Lake Wales, Florida, of Emilio Cabrera, 46, personal servant for Thomas N. McCarter, of "Rumsonhill," Fair Haven, and Rumon roads, president of the Public Service Corporation of Newark. Death was due to an acute heart attack and Mr. Cabrera passed away within a few minutes after he was stricken.

He resided with his wife, Mrs. Marianne Oshlers Cabrera, of McCarter estate. He had been employed by Mr. McCarter the past fifteen years and had been with Mr. McCarter at Lake Wales only a short time when stricken. He was born in the Philippine Islands, and is survived only by his wife.

Services will be held tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock at the Worden funeral home, East Front street, with the Rev. Episcopal church, officiating. The interment, with the Worden directing, will be at Fair View cemetery, Middletown township.

WILLIAM H. DESPREAUX

William H. Despreaux, who for a number of years was employed by the American Railway express in the Red Bank office, died suddenly Thursday night at his home on Pearl street. He was 42 years old. Mr. Despreaux was sitting in a chair talking to members of his family when he was stricken and fell to the floor. Dr. Harvey W. Hartman was notified and he issued the certificate, attributing death to a heart attack.

Mr. Despreaux was born at Middletown and was the son of Mrs. Elizabeth Goodchild Despreaux and the late Robert H. Despreaux. Surviving besides his mother, are his wife, Mrs. Mary P. Despreaux; two brothers, Raymond E. Despreaux of Middletown and Louis A. Despreaux of Riverside Heights.

The funeral was held Sunday afternoon at his late home with Rev. Herbert S. Craig, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, officiating. The bearers were E. Eugene Allen, Norman Roberts, Roy Garrahand, Harold Kavocinski, Allen Greenwood and Fred Dintz, burial, in charge of the Mount Memorial home, was in Fair View cemetery.

ELMER E. PEARCE

Elmer E. Pearce of Locust avenue died at noon Monday in Monmouth Memorial hospital where he had been a patient since Friday. He was 47 years old.

Pearce was born at Lakewood and was the son of the late Callaway and Matilda T. Pearce. He was a plumber and had been employed by Charles Meeker and Cook & Oakley.

Surviving, besides his wife, Mrs. Helen Robbins Pearce, are two sons, Raymond and Donald Pearce, both of Red Bank; a sister, Mrs. Fred Cottrell; and a great-grandmother, Mrs. Ella Thompson of Long Branch.

The funeral will be held this afternoon at his late home with Rev. Christian Walvoord, pastor of the Reformed church, officiating. Burial, in charge of the Mount Memorial home, will be in Fair View cemetery.

CHARLES STEIN

Charles Stein of Oceanport died Monday morning at the age of 69. Mr. Stein had conducted a meat market at Bradley Beach for 16 years.

He was born at New York city, the son of Peter and Margaret Stein, and spent the greater part of his life there. He had been in ailing health for more than a year. Mr. Stein is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary Ellenberg Stein; a daughter, Mrs. C. Clyde Hayes of Eatontown; a son, Henry Stein of New York; a brother, Peter Stein of Mount Vernon, New York, and four grandsons.

The funeral will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Hayes of South street, Eatontown. Rev. E. M. Eeningburg of the First Reformed church at Long Branch will officiate. Interment will be in woodbine cemetery under the direction of the John W. Plock Funeral home.

Obituaries

ARTHUR A. SMITH. Arthur A. Smith of Bay avenue, Highlands, passed away yesterday afternoon in Monmouth Memorial hospital. He had been under the care of his family physician for the last six weeks and was admitted to the hospital Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Smith was born at Highlands and was a son of the late James H. and Kate W. Layton Smith. He was employed as a painter but has been retired a number of years. Mr. Smith had never married. A brother, Norman M. Smith, passed away in December, 1934. Mr. Smith would have been 82 years of age next February 9.

Services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of his sister, Mrs. Charles Howell, 228 Bay avenue. Rev. Leon Maritano, pastor of the Highlands Methodist church, will officiate.

Interment, with the Worden funeral home of Red Bank directing, will be in Bay View cemetery, Leonard.

Besides Mrs. Howell, Mr. Smith is survived by two other sisters, Mrs. Violet Anderson, First street, and Mrs. Albert Hartsgrove, Bay avenue.

CHARLES H. WOODWARD

Charles H. Woodward died last night at his home on Hamilton avenue, Leonard, in his 68th year. He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Woodward and had been a resident of "Leonardo" 30 years.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Betty Taylor Woodward; two daughters, Mrs. Leon Downer of Leonard and Mrs. John H. Reimer of Harvey, North Dakota; five sons, Edward, Charles, Harry, Herbert and William Woodward of Leonard, and three sisters, Mrs. Charles Stillwagon of Jamaica, Long Island, and Mrs. Anna VanHouten and Mrs. Blanche Bennett of New York.

The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Leonard Baptist church, with Rev. Elwood S. Wolf, the pastor, officiating. Burial by A. M. Posten and Sons will be in Bay View cemetery.

MRS. SAMUEL S. JOHNSON

Mrs. Caroline Johnson, wife of Samuel S. Johnson of Eatontown, passed away early Sunday morning at her home on Main street. She was stricken suddenly Saturday afternoon and sank rapidly.

Mrs. Johnson was 93 years old. She was born at Pine Brook and was a daughter of the late Matthew and Caroline Hulse Cover. She has been a resident of Eatontown for the past six years, coming to that borough from Neptune.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Johnson is survived by a sister, Mrs. Viola, wife of Charles L. Magatha, of Maple avenue, and three brothers, Matthew R. Cover of Wranamass, Daniel Cover of Long Branch and James Cover of Oakhurst.

The funeral was held yesterday afternoon at the Eatontown Methodist church with the pastor, Rev. Edgar A. Miller, officiating. Rev. Miller sang "Sometime We'll Understand." He was accompanied by the organ by W. Lester Whitfield, who also played several selections before and after the service. The bearers were John J. Dean, Jack Carney, William Height and Thomas January. Burial, in charge of the Worden funeral home of Red Bank, was in the Methodist church cemetery at Wayside.

CHARLES W. TILTON, Charles W. Tilton, 30, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Tilton of Springfield, Massachusetts, died at Manchester, Connecticut, Thursday, January 23. Besides his wife, Marjorie Buss, he leaves two children, Nancy and Robert. He is also survived by a brother, Samuel M. Tilton of Red Bank, and a sister, Joan of Springfield, Massachusetts.

He was a grandson of the late Mrs. Elizabeth N. Fisher of East Red Bank. He was well known in this section, having lived quite some time during his boyhood with his grandmother here.

Mr. Tilton was connected with the home office of the Aetna Insurance company of Hartford, Connecticut.

Story About the Battle of Red Bank Not Found In Modern History Books

Standing on the corner in the pretty little town of Westville, N. J., waiting for a bus that would take me over the great Delaware river bridge, the thought flashed through my mind that would have Washington and Franklin had thought, had they been enabled—spiritually or otherwise—to have seen such a structure and viewed such a teeming population in and around Westville, when they had such tough going as they did in 1777-78.

A young fellow about 15 and with all the earmarks of high school about him stood beside me. He looked me over with that keen and knowing eye of youth and said "Ho, hum, something got you down?"

"What's the matter, pal, something got you down?"

"Aw, nothin' never happens around here. It's dead."

"Didn't anything ever happen here, pal?"

"Nothin' that I know of, 'cept a couple crack-ups and bottlenecks over that bridge," he said, pointing to the fine concrete structure over Big Timber creek, which, by the way, is larger than many rivers in France, such as the Somme, Yser and I was going to say, the Seine.

"You say that your name is Ben but they call you Binge? Well, Binge, it is true what you say about gas bugs and bottlenecks, of which there has been no more painful and repeated demonstrations than right here in this little old town of Westville, Gloucester County, N. J., on a hot Sunday night in mid-August. But Binge, things did happen right here at this bridge, and they should care, faintly have heard about it from someone."

"Well, what was it, Buddy?" Binge queried, his healthy freckled face and bright interested eyes challenging me. "A red-hot Revolutionary war skirmish right up to and over this creek, on an old pling bridge and along the road to Gloucester Point, in which a distinguished young foreigner and a veteran colonel with several hundred American troops scattered as many Britishers and for which the distinguished young foreigner was made a general."

"Hot dog! That is something I didn't know about. Tell me about it, Buddy, and I'll have something to tell my pal that they don't know."

"W-e-l-l, I said, 'I wanted to take the next bus for Philadelphia, but seeing you want to hear the story about your own town, I'll lay over a couple of buses and tell you about it to the best of my ability. Let's go over and sit on the creek bank.'"

"O. K., Buddy, let's go." So over we went.

"It was this way, Binge, but first let me know anything about the Indians and their attacks on the country? Every locality should have some sort of a background, you know."

"Binge didn't think that he knew anything about that."

"Well, according to an old-time historian and lecturer named Buford, who lived hereabouts, on September 20, 1677, all the land from Big Timber Creek to Rancocas Creek at Medford, Burlington county, was sold to John Kinsey and some others from London by five Indian chiefs, two of whom were named Katumus and Sekapplo; the names of the others are not known. This is what they were paid by Kinsey et al., for the land: 30 guns, 30 axes, 30 hoes, 30 awls, 30 hammers, 100 fish hooks, 10 anchors, 100 lbs of brandy—though whatever an anchor of brandy is, we don't know, unless it's a small cask or container of some kind.

"This is what happened, Binge, Admiral Howe suddenly up anchor and sailed for New York with his fleet. He wasn't getting his ships caught in the ice for the winter and he told his brother, General Sir William Howe, in Philadelphia so, after a cold spell started to make ice in the creeks and along the river banks."

"What happened to the armies around here?" asked Binge.

"General Howe, having a gay time in Philadelphia, where I am sorry to say, the girls made a big fuss over him and his officers, called Lord Cornwallis from Gloucester Point and Abercrombie from Cooper's Point and went into winter quarters in Philadelphia, while Washington's New Jersey army, observing these things, withdrew by way of Trenton to join up with the main army at White Marsh, and from there, after some sharp maneuvers there with a section of the British army, started for Valley Forge."

"How does this little town of Westville fit into this picture? There are a lot of things I want to ask you, Buddy; for instance, who was this French guy you mentioned and how did Westville make him a general? Those things you left about were all close to Westville, but not in it; not that it makes much difference; we all got plenty carbon monoxide in Westville, especially week-ends. Please, 'joy! Do we get gassed?"

"Yes, and did those Britishers get gassed in Westville? Remember that, Binge! That's something to think about, for a small village to have something like that happen. Few towns have the honor of having a Revolutionary fight on their main street."

"Well, who was the Frenchman, that's what I want to know."

"It was the Marquis de Lafayette. You've heard of him, I suppose. Binge contemplated this statement of fact for a few seconds and I could see it getting under his skin as something of importance.

"Buddy, you mean to tell me that this man Lafayette won the Battle of Westville?"

"That's right. That's what I mean to tell you. So tell that to your pals at High School! Of course, not the pretty, prosperous town of today, but just a little two-story log-cabin village on the Salem-Bridgeton pike."

"Yes, but this Big Timber Creek was here just the same and this road and a bridge."

"Yes, just the same—only different."

"How do you mean different?"

"Why the bridge was just a light plank affair on pilings; the road a dirt, rutty road; mud in winter and dust in summer and the creek banks were heavily wooded with all those bushes and trees. That's why it was called 'big timber creek.'"

"Boy, oh, boy! Them were the days! Somethin' doin' all the time! Fighting, skatin', huntin', Indians, too, I guess. Man, man, use your g's on those words, Binge."

"The most gratifying intelligence about his youthful friend, the Marquis de Lafayette. Though not quite recovered from the wound he received at the Battle of Brandywine, he had accompanied Colonel Greene as a volunteer in Greene's expedition into the Jerseys and had been induced by the Marquis to take an opportunity of gratifying his belated humor in a brush with Cornwallis' outposts at the outskirts of Gloucester Point."

"The Marquis," writes Greene, "with about 400 militia and a portion of Morgan's Rifle corps, attacked the enemy's outposts on the evening of the 20th and 30 men were wounded many more and taking over 20 prisoners with a slight loss to himself. They drove the enemy half a mile and held the ground until dark. The enemy was reinforced during the skirmish and consisted of more than three hundred men."

"The Marquis is determined to be in the way of danger," said General Greene, in closing his letter to Commander Washington.

Lafayette himself, at the request of General Greene, wrote an animated, yet modest account of the affair to Washington. "I wish," observes he, "that this success of ours may please you; though a very trifling one, I find it very interesting on account of the behavior of our soldiers."

"About the matter, Washington Irving continues: 'Washington had repeatedly written to Congress in favor of giving the Marquis a command equal to his nominal rank (in the French army), in consideration of his illustrious and important connections, the attachment he manifested to the cause and the discretion and good sense he had displayed on various occasions. I am convinced,' said he, 'that he possesses a large share of that military ardor which generally characterizes the nobility of his country.'"

"So," says Irving, "Washington availed himself of the present occasion to support his former recommendations, by transmitting to Congress an account of Lafayette's youthful exploit. He received in return an intimation from that body, that it was their pleasure that he should appoint the Marquis to command a division in the Continental Army. The division of General Steuben at the time was made up of a veteran officer who had won honor for himself in the French War having been dismissed at the Battle of Germantown, the result of intemperance habits into which he had unfortunately fallen. Lafayette was appointed to command of that division. (This was about November 27, 1777, Irving says.)"

"Well, I think that's pretty fine," said Binge. "Are we going to hear about the Battle of Red Bank?"

"Washington Irving doesn't tell much about it, does he?"

"There are three or four brief accounts of it, one by Thomas F. Gordon in his Gazetteer (1824). Another by Barber in his History of the State, Sketches (1844), and several more detailed personal accounts by local historians which are not on public record."

"I told the eager young pal sitting beside me. But I saw that he was not interested in dry facts and figures, so I went on."

"Well, Binge, I told you about the two armies lying each side of Westville, with Westville—or what was then known as Westville-in-the-making—right in the middle; so put your ears back, boy, and listen. It is something like this, although some local historians may be able to give you more details about it. The Howe brothers, commanding the British army and navy, were approaching the Delaware river to the sea. Foraging parties were now the order of the day and very popular with the foreign soldiers. What they did to the Jersey was plenty and makes a story filled with ruthless pillage of the inhabitants for miles around."

"General Abercrombie was at Cooper's Point, which is now Camden, with two thousand men and General Cornwallis was right here within a short distance of Westville at Gloucester Point, with five thousand men, while the British fleet of 10 or more warships with their hundreds of heavy guns protected the land forces."

"The watchful General Varnum, who was head boss of the American army in this part of New Jersey, hovered in the offing, back of Woodbury and its environs with some five hundred men—of range of the British naval guns—keeping tabs on what the British were going to do."

"During the winter of 1777-78 the American army, under Colonel Mawhood, made life miserable for the farmers, but at the same time South Jersey became known as 'the bread-basket of Valley Forge,' through supplies of stock and foodstuffs slipped down both ends of the river by some of the steam-powered plying headed by such men as 'Light Horse Harry' Lee, 'Mad Anthony' Wayne, and others."

were falling. The American sharpshooters, 150 in number, a company from Morgan's Riflemen, under Lieutenant Colonel Butler, were the last who could hit a wild turkey in the eye at one hundred yards, had been picking them off, closely seconded by the same number of veteran militiamen under command of the Marquis de Lafayette."

"The Americans held the bridge and drove the British beyond the old tollhouse, where the latter had been reinforced, as the noise of the fight had brought forth men from the Gloucester encampment. When it became pitch dark and only the flashes of the rifles could be seen, it was observed by the Americans that the British rifle flashes were receding and that the sound of the reports was growing fainter. Having gone far enough into the enemy's camp domain, Colonel Butler ordered a retreat which was jubilantly effected by the Americans, who took with them heavy baggage, 20 prisoners and had counted 20 British dead and some 40 wounded. The American losses were so far as can be learned, trivial; that is, several wounded and the dead, if any, not known."

"Well, as battles go today, it wasn't so much; but it was considered quite a little fight for the times."

"Those riflemen were something, weren't they now?"

"Yes, Morgan's Riflemen had a big reputation. They were dressed in leather jerkins and caps with the tails hanging down over their ears and wore Indian moccasins. They were mostly hunters and trappers and could shoot like the dickens. Each at one time they didn't get down on their knees, New York state in time to put up a battle for the Red Bank Fort Merce."

"That's one reason Washington had to abandon that fort—He couldn't hold it. Morgan's brigade and Morgan's Riflemen don't seem to have been in, in spite of the fact that he had sent a trusted officer—Hamilton—up there with written orders for them to fight with all speed to the succor of the Red Bank on the Delaware. When they finally arrived it was all over."

"It was indeed a black time for the Americans. Everything set in against Washington; even some of his generals engaged at this time in a disgraceful brawl—against him. Wanted him thrown out of Congress, and the hero of Burgoyne's surrender, General Gates, put in his place. (See 'Washington Irving's Life of Washington,' Vol. II, Chapter XIV, page 245.)"

"Washington was to be a bum Christmas for Washington and his soldiers, and a worse winter, that terrible winter of 1777-78. But there was to be a turn for the better in the coming spring. Washington's men crossed the Delaware river above Trenton and made their way to join the main forces at White Marsh, where there was again a deal of maneuvering but no heavy engagements and on the 19th and 17th of January, 1777, the great Commander led his army to and wormed troops to Valley Forge."

"As I said, Binge, there was sunlight in the following spring when, after being trained by the rugged and unrelenting Von Steuben, the Continental Army, again crossed the Delaware at Monmouth, giving them a good feeling. That was a disastrous retreat for the British, across the Jerseys to New York for their safety. They were wounded, prisoners and principal by desertions of the Hessians, all told, three thousand men."

"Buddy, I was just thinkin', if the British were havin' everything their own way, how did they get a good time in Philadelphia, why did they up and leave it suddenly like they did?"

"Now, Binge, you're saying something, and that's another long and interesting story, but I'll give you the reason. It was because a big French fleet had arrived off New Jersey capes and an attack on New York was imminent. Sir Henry Clinton had succeeded the playboy general, Sir William Howe, in the command of the armed Philadelphia army of some 15,000 men and he evacuated that city all in one day. They started at 3 a. m. on the morning of June 18, 1778, crossing from the 'Neck' to Gloucester Point and by noon they all had crossed over to the Jersey side and were on their way through Haddonfield, Moorestown, Mt. Holly, Lumberton, Columbus and Cranbury, while Washington's men had left Valley Forge and crossed the Delaware again at Coryell's Ferry above Lambertville, on the 20th of June."

"Morgan's Riflemen, those hard-bitten campaigners, and some of General Maxwell's men had been detailed to hang on their rear and harass them for the march. They held the line, until Washington finally pounced on them at Monmouth, on their way to Sandy Hook to embark for New York."

"And Binge, here's another thing: a writ of habeas corpus, having been issued, the evacuation and march across the state, said that all the side roads were used, the 'parade' being many miles long, and that the officers' wagons (rain) alone, loaded with baggage and all kinds of plunder, was 14 miles long. He said that small parties of men 'worked on them' from all directions; tearing up bridges, felling trees and ambushing them wherever possible."

"Thanks, Buddy, that has been better than a moving picture show," Binge said. "It's saved me 15 cents too."

auto wrecks, bottlenecks and plenty carbon monoxide—but by heck, I see now that somethin' DID happen here and that Westville was responsible for Lafayette's victory. The Marquis wasn't it, Bud? O. K., and that's plenty for any town to do, ain't it, Bud? Beat that, if you can! Boy, I'll had to tell my pals at school about this."

"And as I finally climbed on a Philadelphia-bound bus I saw young freckled-face Binge, his eyes glowing with health and enthusiasm, waving at me and shouting, 'THANKS! Thanks a million, Bud, Goodbye; you'll hear from me soon!'"

WHITEWASH FORMULA.

Requests for information on making whitewash come to the county agent's office so frequently that we give herewith one of the standard formulae which is recommended by the Department of Agriculture. This formula, it will be noted, recommends the use of unslaked lime, which in our experience is difficult to find. There is no doubt that somewhat better results are assured if the formula can be followed to the letter. However, experience has shown that ordinarily four parts of high-grade hydrated lime will be approximately equal to three parts of the slaked lime.

Slake a half bushel of rock lime, using boiling water and covering the container to keep in the steam. Strain the resulting liquid through a sieve or filter and add to it a peck of salt, previously dissolved in warm water. Three pounds of ground rice boiled to a thin paste and stirred in while hot, one-half pound of Spanish whitening and one pound of clean glue previously dissolved by soaking in cold water, and then hung over a slow fire in a double boiler. Add five gallons of hot water to the mixture; stir well, let stand a few days covered from dirt. Then apply hot.

A disinfectant such as creolin may be added to the mixture to increase its antiseptic properties. Where a less durable whitewash will answer the purpose the above formula may be modified by leaving out the whitening and glue and omitting the boiling. It may then be applied with a spray pump instead of using a brush.

All walls, ceiling, rafters and eaves should be thoroughly brushed with a good quality of white wash, cobwebs, etc., before whitewashing, if the best job is to result.

ROUGHAGE AS DAIRY FEED.

In balancing a dairy ration and trying to feed cows economically, the dairyman should remember that the roughage that the cows eat will meet all the requirements of body maintenance, says M. A. Clark, County Agricultural Agent. If a cow were to live on no grain at all she would keep alive and in reasonably good health. She would probably give very little milk, however.

Ordinance To Ban Sale Of Raw Milk.

The Atlantic Highlands board of health decided last night to ban the sale of raw milk within the borough and an ordinance to that effect will be introduced at the next meeting. One case of undulant fever was reported recently and this is the chief reason for the board's action in banning the sale of raw milk.

The board last night adopted resolutions confirming the appointment of Dr. Edwin F. Stewart of Fair Haven as health officer. He succeeds George Stryker. It was explained that the change was made because Mr. Stryker is not licensed by the State Board of Health.

TO HOLD CLAM CHOWDER SALE

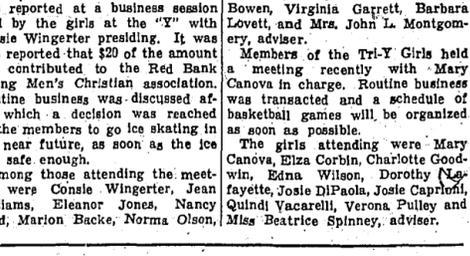

The women's department of the Baptist church will hold a clam chowder sale Friday, February 7. Orders may be placed with Mrs. George Young at the parsonage.

The Junior Girls' Hi-Y group realized a profit of $24 on a dance held recently at the "Y" gymnasium. It was reported at a business session held by the girls at the "Y" with Consie Wingerter presiding. It was also reported that $20 of the amount was contributed to the Red Bank Young Men's Christian association. Routine business was discussed after which a decision was reached by the members to go ice skating in the near future, as soon as the ice was safe enough.

Among those attending the meeting were Consie Wingerter, Jean Williams, Eleanor Jones, Nancy Byrd, Marion Backe, Norma Olson, Judy Miller, Pat McDonald, Kay Doremus, Bunny Dillon, Justine Johnston, Marjorie Newman, Betty Bowen, Virginia Garrett, Barbara Lovett, and Mrs. John L. Montgomery, adviser.

Members of the Tri-Y Girls held a meeting recently with Mary Canova in charge. Routine business was transacted and a schedule of basketball games will be organized as soon as possible.

The girls attending were Mary Canova, Eliza Corbin, Charlotte Goodwin, Edna Wilson, Dorothy Lafayette, Josie DiPaola, Josie Caprioli, Quindé Vaccarello, Verona Pulley, and Miss Beatrice Spinney, adviser.

America's War Medical Society Continues Battle Against Worst Enemy Of Man

'Miracle Drug,' Serum Almost Conquer Pneumonia

By JOHN GROVER
AP Feature Service Writer

Washington—Healthy horse blood and a scrambled mixture of sulphur and coal-tar dye are whipping pneumonia.

The U. S. Public Health service, which keeps score on the disease, reports it is losing ground as a killer. It ranked fifth five years ago with 120,000 annual deaths. Today it is eighth, with 80,000 deaths.

Once pneumonia murdered one in every four victims yet at the present time six in seven persons get well. Sulfapyridine and the new serums developed by science are the reasons.

Speeds Cure

Sulfapyridine is the miracle steppon of sulfanilamide, the greatest medical discovery of modern times. Sulphur and anilin, the dyestuff, are its basic components.

What it does to pneumonia is everybody's business, because everybody is pneumonia's potential victim. Sulfapyridine literally works miracles. Slowly filling lungs are cleared as by magic when the new drug attacks the pneumococcus. Cures that once took weeks are now a matter of days and hours.

The serums are not so dramatic, but work surely to save pneumonia sufferers. The varied strains of pneumococcus germs are injected in the veins of healthy horses. The horse's system manufactures 'antibodies' which kill the invaders. The horse's blood is drawn off, whirled in

Experimental Vaccines

This serum, injected into the pneumonia victim, acts as a reinforcement in the fight against the disease. It is reason No. 2 why the pneumonia death rate is going down. Often sulfapyridine and the serums are used together.

Science has these two wonder-working cures well in hand but hopes for more. Experimental vaccines are being tried this year and while research workers in the public health service aren't saying much, they have the highest hopes.

The tests may indicate pneumonia can be prevented by vaccination. If so, deaths from the disease will dwindle to a trifling and pneumonia will join smallpox as another great killer made harmless by science.

Democrats Take Cue Of Governor Edison's Message

Proposals Made for Liberalizing the State's Labor Laws

Trenton (AP)—Taking the inaugural message cue of Governor Charles Edison, fellow-Democrats launched in the New Jersey legislature this week proposals for liberalized labor laws and measures dealing with national defense and broadening powers of the governor over state officers.

Virtually identical with bills previously offered by Republicans, three of the measures, all dealing with labor, were introduced in the House by assembly minority leader Fred W. Devoe (D-Middlesex), while the remaining two were dropped in the Senate bill hopper by Minority Leader James I. Bowers (D-Somerset), and Senator John E. Toolan (D-Middlesex).

Devoe's proposals would provide the state with a wages-hours act for workers not engaged in inter-state commerce, curb chancery court powers to issue injunctions in labor disputes before a hearing to both sides and create a state labor relations board to enforce collective bargaining rights.

The bill introduced by Bowers would bestow on the governor wide powers to investigate conduct of state officers and the operation of their departments.

Toolan's proposal, drawn to combat sabotage, would fix a maximum penalty of $1,000 fine and three years' imprisonment for any person acting "with the intent to hinder, delay or interfere with the preparation of the United States or any of the several states for defense for war, or with the prosecution of war."

The measure also would provide a $10,000 penalty and ten years in prison for persons convicted of "intentionally defective workmanship" in plants directly or indirectly providing defense materials.

Edison, who dealt with the three subjects at length in his inaugural message, had invited co-operation of all members of the Republican-controlled legislature in bringing his program to effective conclusion.

The governor's office said the chief executive did not have an opportunity to study the measures designed to carry out part of his program but that he is advised that they are intended to attain objectives he listed among his first concerns in the inaugural address.

While Democratic legislators were concentrating on carrying out proposals advanced by Edison, two Republican senators put in resolutions in support of the Federal-lend-lease bill pending before Congress, provided the proposal be amended to limit the President's emergency powers to two years. Senate Majority Leader Alfred E. Driscoll (R-Camden) and Senator Harold A. Pierson (R-Morris) introduced the similar resolutions.

William J. Ellis, commissioner of institutions and agencies, declared that the national defense program had created emergency situations requiring complete co-operation of every service organization in each community in the state.

Ellis, speaking before the Paterson Council of Social Agencies, said good health and high spirits were essential to a successful defense program. "Men are even more important than machines," the commissioner said. "Morale is as essential to the soldier as is his gas mask, his gun or his technical knowledge of how to use them... civilian morale is equally vital."

Ellis is chairman of the committee on health, welfare and recreation of the New Jersey defense council.

E. Donald Sterner, New Jersey highway commissioner, criticized the Federal government as negligent for failure to build "military" highways, and urged annual expenditure of about $250,000,000 for a Boston-to-Washington super roadway.

Unless the super highway is undertaken in the immediate future, Sterner said, as a vital defense road, the government "will be much in the same predicament as a new railroad company which purchases enormous rolling stock but fails to provide rights of way or lay the rails on which it can operate."

The State Racing commission, taking note of reports that prospective track operators were ready to call quits because of inability to obtain necessary financial backing, reasserted it believed racing would return to New Jersey in 1941. It was widely reported that would-be track managers were finding it almost impossible to sell stock because the defense program threatened greatly increased taxes on luxuries such as horse racing.

How to cut the cost of Heating Your Home BY John Barclay AMERICA'S HEAR HEATING EXPERT. Automatic Operation of Dampers By Means of a Thermostat. It is a simple matter to automatically control your heating plant by installing a thermostat. A thermostat will automatically operate the dampers in such a way to supply even, steady heat upstairs during firing periods. It eliminates constant trips to the cellar for the manual regulation of dampers. A good thermostat may be purchased today at small cost. In fact, in a short period of time it will pay for itself by saving fuel that was previously wasted by over-heating of the house. Any thermostat that for every degree above 70 that we heat our home, 1 1/2% more fuel is consumed. If we heat our home up to 78 degrees, 12% more coal is used. If the automatic operation of the thermostat is governed by changes in room temperature it will stop this overheating and thereby save on coal consumption. Medical men tell us that during the winter 60% of illness is caused by colds. They further state that over-heating is one of the greatest causes of colds. It will pay you to get more information on thermostat dampers controls. Your home will be evenly heated at all times without constant trips to the cellar and you will save on your coal bill.

Rumson Man's Will Is Probated

Large Estate Disposed of by Neilson Edwards

Former Mayor Neilson T. Edwards of Rumson divided his estate among his wife, daughter, mother and three brothers.

Mrs. Lucy Brooke Edwards, Mr. Edwards' mother, is bequeathed $10,000, or 10 per cent of the residuary estate, whichever amount is greater.

The brothers, Edward Mitchell Edwards, Leonard Brooke Edwards and Richard Stanislaus Edwards, of the United States Navy will each get five per cent of the residuary estate.

The balance of the residuary estate is to be divided by the executors into two equal parts. One is bequeathed to Mrs. Alice L. Edwards, wife of the testator, and the second part is left in trust for life to Mrs. Charles M. Shipway of Princeton, Mr. Edwards' daughter, for her use.

Mrs. Shipway is to receive an income quarterly until she becomes 30, when she is to receive half the principal. The income from the trust is to be paid to her for life. If there are no children and if Mr. Edwards' mother is still living at that time, the trustees are to pay the income to the mother for life and then to Mrs. Alice Edwards.

If neither is living, 25 per cent of the principal is bequeathed to the Academy of the Protestant church in Philadelphia and 75 per cent, to Mr. Edwards' brothers.

Mrs. Shipway is bequeathed all of Mr. Edwards' numerous portraits, and his wife all personal and household effects.

The former mayor died January 4. He named his brother, Edward Mitchell Edwards, and Charles S. McVeigh as executors of the estate and Mr. McVeigh, trustee. The will was made July 24, 1933.

Forty-five per cent of the estate of the late Edwin G. Bruns, Jr., of Alenhurst and New York, who died January 13, will eventually go to the Actors Fund of America, the Saratoga Lake Sanitarium for the Prevention of Tuberculosis at Saratoga Lake, N. Y., and the Hundred Needles Cases Fund sponsored by the New York Times. His will sets up two trust funds of 45 per cent each of his net estate, the incomes from which are to be paid, during their lifetime to his wife, Margaret, and after their respective deaths, a niece, Emilie G. Terry, is to receive half the principal of the respective trusts and the other halves go to the charities named. Mrs. Bruns is also bequeathed the homestead, furnishings and automobiles. The remaining 10 per cent of the net estate is left to the niece, Emilie G. Terry, for life, and after her death to her issue. The will, dated April 15, 1940, appoints the testator's father, Edwin G. Bruns and the Central Hanover Bank and Trust Company, New York, as executors and trustees.

Matthew J. Munster of Rumson executed his will August 23, 1939. His brother, James A. Munster, was bequeathed $1,000. All the rest of his estate was left to his wife, Alice Munster. He named his brother as executor.

Mrs. Della F. Taylor of Matawan left her entire estate to her daughter, Ida T. Allison, in a will she executed March 31, 1934. Mrs. Taylor named her daughter as executrix.

Mrs. Mary T. Johnson of Oceanport disposed of considerable real estate in a will she executed April 29, 1932. She bequeathed three houses and lots at Little Silver, a house and lot at Long Branch and $500 in cash to her daughter, Pauline M. Hayden. Two other houses and lots at Little Silver and her homestead premises at Portaupeque were bequeathed to another daughter, Mayetta A. Johnson, who was also bequeathed the residue of the estate and was named as executrix of the will.

William E. Cotton of Lincoln, who died recently, left all his estate to his wife, Helen S. Cotton. The will was executed July 23, 1934, and named Mrs. Cotton as executrix.

Mrs. Dobbie A. Smith of Farmingdale made bequests of $50 each to the Farmingdale Methodist church, the West Farms Methodist church, and the Southard Methodist church. Bequests of a like sum were made to her half brothers, Frank and William LeCompte, and to John T. Cook and Ira B. Matthews. Bequests of personal effects were made to Delbert Cook, Ella M. Estelle and George W. Patterson, Jr. The will directed that the rest of her personal property be sold and the proceeds divided equally among her half brothers, Frank, William and Reuben LeCompte. Her one-fourth interest in the homestead farm at West Farms was bequeathed to her cousin, James L. Hall, who was appointed executor. The will was dated May 19, 1935.

Hamilton Truax of Wayside left his entire estate to his daughter, Arabella T. Halloran, in a will he executed last October. He appointed his daughter and Maurice Marx executors.

Carrie Llanor of Asbury Park, who died January 8, left her estate to three sons, Leon N., Benjamin P. and Arthur, and named them executors in a will drawn May 6, 1937.

Tunis Major of Howell township, who died January 4, bequeathed $50 to his daughter, Blanche Cottrell, and left the residuary estate to William Major, a grandson, and named him as executor. The will was dated October 30, 1933.

Noah MacDowell, Altonhurst, formerly of Long Branch, who died November 25, 1940, left his estate to Noah MacDowell IV, and Annetta, grandchildren, and designated Noah MacDowell, Jr., executor of the estate and guardian of the children until they become 21 in a will dated May 18, 1933.

P. Della Preston of Ocean Grove, who died November 14, made the following bequests: Jennie E. Ayers, a niece, $500; Unna M. Noe, a nephew, $500; Judith E. Ayers, a sister, a diamond pin; Emma J. Brown, a sister, a diamond pin; and Ann M. Dalrymple, a sister, a diamond pin. The latter was named executrix and was bequeathed the residuary estate. The will was made February 2, 1937.

Red Bankers Doing Great Work

Mrs. Douglas Crank of Fair Haven, who is in charge of the used clothing being shipped to England by the Red Bankers, announces that to date 4100 pounds has been sent. The need for warm and serviceable clothing, particularly stout shoes and overcoats, for the destitute of bomb-torn Britain is increasingly great.

Clothing may be left at the Monmouth War Relief workshop, 157 Broad street, or they will be glad to call for any donation of this kind. A phone call to Red Bank 2488 or 3821 will bring some one to your door.

Workers in the sewing and knitting department have been very active. Last week a shipment was made of 300 knitted articles for

Great Britain fighting forces, and 210 sewn garments for the needy civilians. This shipment was an accumulation of the past two weeks. The local workers are very proud of the work being done by these many volunteers, and the committee of the Monmouth War Relief wishes to thank each and every one for their effort and interest in this cause.

The above picture shows British children who have been evacuated to comparative safety in rural England being outfitted with clothing furnished by The British War Relief Society, Inc., 730 Fifth avenue, New York, to which organization the local workers of this worthy charity have been sending much wearing material and cash contributions.

Fort Dix Boxers Face Ft. Monmouth Tonight

Major Joseph Bennett and Former Army Champion To Officiate At Local Post

The first in a monthly series of inter-post boxing bouts will be staged tonight at Fort Monmouth between the pugilists of that post and leather-pushers of Fort Dix. The seating capacity of the post gymnasium, where the bouts are scheduled to get underway at 8 o'clock, has been increased to accommodate more than 3,000 fans.

Announcement was made this week that Major Joseph Bennett, well known local sports promoter, will referee the first four bouts and the semi-final and final attractions will be administered by Ray Smith, former heavyweight champion of the American Expeditionary force.

Cochin Bill Stoddard is confident that his Fort Monmouth boxers will come through tonight's test in good style. "It's just too bad for the Dixies," said Stoddard in commenting on his charges. Several men who performed in previous years at Fort Monmouth and also exhibited their abilities earlier this year will again be seen in the squared circle.

The schedule:

Lightweight class—John Primitera (P. M.) vs. Louis Muratore (F. D.) (five rounds)

Lightweight class—John Ritalano (F. D.) vs. Angelo DiCello (F. D.) (three rounds)

Light-heavyweight class—Bobby Brown (F. D.) vs. Daniel Frederick (F. D.) (three rounds)

Lightweight class—Eddie Taylor (F. M.) vs. Leonard Kremore (F. D.) (three rounds)

Lightweight class—Connie Verdy (F. M.) vs. Everett Runyon (F. D.) (five rounds)

Heavyweight class—Wesley Deise (F. M.) vs. Frankie Zamperio (F. D.) (five rounds)

Honor Gridmen At Fort Monmouth

Major McBride Addresses Squad

Giving due credit to substitutes of the Fort Monmouth football team, Major Dana S. McBride, head coach at the army post, presented sweaters to Fort Monmouth lettermen Monday night at the post gymnasium. Major McBride presided at the ceremony in the absence of Brigadier General Dawson Olmstead.

"I am sorry we cannot give everyone a sweater," the major said, "but athletic regulations set up standards for the letter awards." In concluding his remarks he said, "To the scrubs I give my heartfelt thanks and my very best wishes for future success."

Major McBride received an award of appreciation of his work as coach during the past year. The presentation was made by Master Sergeant Reubin Abramowitz, team manager.

Fort Monmouth's eleven finished the season in third place in the Monmouth county football conference, compiling a record of five victories, one defeat and a tie.

Crusaders Bow At Long Branch

Star of the Sea Wins in Last Period

The Red Bank Crusaders fell before a dazzling last period attack by the Long Branch Star of the Sea basketball team Sunday afternoon and were beaten, 41 to 31, after leading three-quarters of the way.

Red Bank held a 2-point lead at the end of the half by virtue of its 13-point lead in the first period. The scoring was fast in the third period but ended with the Crusaders still in front by a single field goal. The home team increased its pace in a furious last quarter but the visiting aggregation fell by the wayside. Long Branch scored 14 points and limited the hapless Crusaders to one lone field goal, registered by Rocky Calandrillo, who led the scoring with 16 points.

Bowling Oddity In Holmdel Loop

One of the oddities of bowling occurred last week in the Holmdel bowling league when the fourth-place Phillies took three games from the seventh-place Reds and scored 728 points in each game. This is the first time that such a feat has happened at Holmdel, according to Taylor Hance, proprietor of Hance's alleys, on which the match was rolled.

The Phillies team was made up of Joe Phillips, Kany, Kuehn, Mount and a dummy. While the four bowlers were bowling steadily no one had the same score in two games and on only one occasion were identical scores made. Kuehn rolled 155 in his third game and Mount chalked up 155 in his second try.

The score 728 had not been made by any team thus far this season, said Mr. Hance, but it was made four times last week, three times by the Phillies and once by the Giants in the third game of their match with the Bees.

Maximum grade of the Ponnysylvan Turpinite is three per cent.

River Street Bows To Asbury Cagers

Notwithstanding a marked improvement over its early season games, River street school's basketball team was beaten Thursday afternoon at Red Bank. The victors, Asbury Park grammar school, rallied in the third period to upset the Maroon five 19 to 15.

Red Bank went into the lead in the first period with two field goals, while holding Asbury Park to two points. The visiting grammar school reduced a point from Red Bank's margin before the end of the half and moved into the lead in the third period with eight points to three for Red Bank.

Rumson High Drops Fifth, Sixth Games

Lose to Freehold, 39-24, to Keyport 43-24—Jv's Split

The Weinheimer men of Rumson high school last week failed to break its losing streak which has cost them six losses out of seven starts. The Purple basketball team was defeated by Freehold high school Friday night, 39-24, on the Freehold court and took another trouncing, 43-24, Tuesday at Keyport.

Ed Peters was back in the lineup Friday after more than a week's absence, but his return failed to help the Weinheimer men out of their sliding board.

In the first quarter it looked like the Rumson team would get back into the win column. Jack Ford and Teddy Hammond put the Purple team out in front on a foul shot and field goal respectively for a 3-0 score. Ed Gangelmi pulled the Freehold team up with a field goal and Greenberg, spark plug of the county, seaters, followed with a field goal, putting the Blue and Gold into the lead at the end of the quarter, 4-3.

With Joe Callaert leading the way in the second quarter, Freehold led 15-8 at half time.

Pulling within two points of their opponents in the second period the Weinheimer men again made their way up ladder and came up to a 15-14 score. Bud Boyle started in the third with a one-hander from under the basket and then again with one from the corner, making the count at 15-22. "Mud" VanDrunt was good for a field goal from under the basket to make it 15-14.

Freehold blasted the Rumson quintet for eight points before the end of the quarter, making the count at 22-12. "Mud" VanDrunt was good for a field goal from under the basket to make it 15-14.

3-CUSHION BILLIARDS

How To Play

By Charles C. Peterson
Famous Trick Shot Star

(Fourth of a Series.)

The Diamond System. A billiard table is twice as long as it is wide. There are 8 sections on the side rail and 4 on the lower rail. These positions are divided by diamonds, which, in the diamond system, have numbers—cue ball and object ball numbers.

The inside numbers on the left side rail are object ball numbers (see diagram). The diamonds are numbered from 1 to 7 and the lower corner is 8. At the same diamonds, the cue ball numbers run 1 1/2, 2 1/2, 3 1/2, 4 1/2 and 5 on the side rail (5 being the corner) and they continue as 6, 7 and 8 on the end lower rail at the diamonds.

Furthermore, the object ball numbers on the right side rail at the diamonds are numbered from 1 to 7. (See diagram.) The lower right hand corner is 2, the next diamond is 3, diamond 4 is at the center. Then the object ball numberings from 4 to the left side rail double-up inasmuch as the table is half as wide as it is long; making points 5, 6 (at the diamond), 7 and 8 at the lower left corner.

It is quickly seen, therefore, that if you are playing from the other (far) or other side (right) of the table, the diamond numbers remain the same but reverse themselves.

These diamond numberings are the player's guide in the diamond system of billiard playing.

Before a player can use the diamond system in calculating 3-cushion billiards, he must understand connecting diamonds. We will explain connecting diamonds in the next lesson. Meantime, concentrate on the diamond numberings shown above.

Compete Plans For Basketball Tourney

Representatives of Red Bank, Long Branch, Manasquan and Asbury Park high schools met Saturday night at Asbury Park high school and selected pairings and dates for the second annual round robin basketball tourney to be held next December at Asbury Park. The first tourney, completed last month, was won by Asbury Park.

The tourney will open Saturday night, December 13, with Long Branch opposing Red Bank and Asbury Park meeting Manasquan. The second round will be held Saturday night, December 20 when Red Bank meets Manasquan and Long Branch opposes Asbury Park. The tourney will close Saturday night, December 27 with Red Bank playing Asbury Park and Long Branch opposing Manasquan. This schedule differs from the first tourney in that it is spread over a three-week period. The first competition was for one week.

Red Bank was represented by Ross Wiley, athletic director, and Carl E. Smith, basketball coach. Edmond E. Dreesolt spoke for Long Branch and Granville Maceo for Manasquan and Ed Carleton represented Asbury Park.

Officers To Use Sea Bright Arena

Captain E. B. Garland, athletic officer of the Fort Monmouth Army club, announced this week that facilities at the Sea Bright arena had been obtained for use of officers stationed at Fort Monmouth Tuesday and Thursday evenings, from 5 to 7 o'clock. The arena is equipped with badminton and squash court and ping pong tables.

Timely Notes on the Great Outdoors

Good News For 1941.

Here it is, fellows, just what all of us have been waiting for; your striped bass bill, No. 273, known as the Myers Bill as it is to be presented at an early date. "Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, section one of the act of which this act is amendatory is amended to read as follows: No person shall take in any manner whatsoever from or in any of the fresh or salt waters of this State, including the waters of the Atlantic ocean within three nautical miles of the coast line, or have in possession, any striped bass, commonly called rockfish, between the first day of December and the 30th day of April, both dates inclusive."

Section two of the act of which this act is amendatory is amended to read as follows: "No person shall take, catch, kill or have in possession at any time any striped bass measuring less than 18 inches in length or take, catch or kill on any one day more than five striped bass."

Section three of the act of which this act is amendatory is amended to read as follows: "No person shall take, catch or kill any striped bass from or in any of the waters heretofore mentioned, by means of a net of any description." Section seven of the act of which this act is amendatory is amended to read as follows: "No person shall sell, offer for sale, or possess for sale, or offer for sale, any striped bass, whether caught within the jurisdictional limits of this state or otherwise; provided, however, that this act shall not apply to striped bass, packed and in transportation in unbroken packages or containers. Also there are a lot of fellows that have to work early and late and can not fish the streams, whereas they can find a little time to fish their local pond."

The first edition of "The Reporter" has just been released. This is a publication issued by the National Wildlife Federation of Washington, D. C. In connection with the conservation education program which is soon to be introduced in the grade schools throughout the country. "A new Conservation Education program designed to fill four fundamental needs as indicated by a nationwide survey among representatives of conservation, educational and civic organizations is now under way and will be carried on throughout the United States in the following years by the National Wildlife Federation," David A. Aylward, president of the Federation, has disclosed. "To meet the primary need for the education of children, the National Wildlife Federation in co-operation with leading educators and conservationists is making available a series of four educational units for the use of pupils in the third to eighth grades of elementary schools.

These units are based on fundamental problems of conservation and are written so that they can be adapted to various subjects such as arithmetic, English, science, geography, history, civics, etc. The National Wildlife Federation will assist state and community conservation Federations and Councils to organize their forces for the solicitation of clubs and individuals in their communities to make these education units available to the children in the elementary grades of their schools. Each educational unit will cost $1.00 per pupil. Thus if the Adams school in Blank Community has 312 books or $312 to supply that school with the units. This will be the case for each school. It will have a historic influence and will have a tremendous influence on the future of our nation.

The writer has received a letter from G. C. Leach, chief of the Division of Fish Culture, United States Department of the Interior, in which Mr. Leach says in part: "It is sincerely hoped that the production of flounder fry at Woods Hole, Massachusetts, will be sufficient to enable us to furnish your allotment this spring."

The 6th National Sportsmen's show is to be held at the Grand Central Palace on February 15 to 23rd, under the auspices of Campbell-Fairbanks Exposition, Inc. From all reports it is to be the greatest show of its kind ever undertaken. There will be gathered together under one roof practically every phase of the great outdoors known to man. Contests will be staged from crow calling to angler versus swimmer. From the snow-covered hills of our northern states and parts of Canada, numerous guides and pets, both wild and tame, are preparing for the annual pilgrimage to the show. Within the next few days they will be mushing over the snow in dog-sleds heavily laden with equipment for their miniature camps.

From northern seacoast ports and southern waters, likewise intermediate points, will come great squads of deep sea fishermen—those who trifle with leaping tunas, mighty marlins, broadbills and numerous other species of the deep. Big game hunters, whose peregrinations range from the wilds of Hudson Bay to the jungles of South America also will be on hand to swap hunting yarns. Eskimos and natives of tropical climes will present their native forms of recreation.

From Maine again will come ace dog choppers, log rollers and canoe experts who will be seen in lively competition with guides from other states. The Department of Fish and Game, in charge of the show, has planned a large exhibit, presenting a juxtaposition of the blue fish state and showing what it has to offer in the way of charm for the vacationist. Home Old Town Indians will occupy a village of their own, and during the week of the show will build a canoe, using moose hide instead of birch bark, a method never before demonstrated at the Sportsmen's shows.

The meeting of the Monmouth County Federation of Sportsmen's clubs which was scheduled to take place last Friday at the Neptune Sportsmen's club was postponed on account of bad weather until February 14th. This will be the first meeting to be held in 1941 and there are a number of interesting subjects to be taken up. It is urged that every delegate attend.

Fifty-four members and guests of the Sun Rise Rod and Gun club held their annual winter dinner last Thursday. This makes the sixth year that the club has held this splendid get-together.

Jack Murphy, president of the club introduced Captain R. V. R. H. (Renny) Stout as chairman. Captain Stout made a splendid talk and really went to town on the subject of protection for our striped bass. He was followed by Ed Leaycraft, secretary of the New Jersey and the Monmouth county Federation of Sportsmen's clubs. Ed was very optimistic about the striped bass situation and said that he feels we will have legislation passed very shortly making striped bass a game fish. He was followed by Warden Ben Lane and Herman Johnson, president of Monmouth County Federation of Sportsmen's clubs.

The Sun Rise Rod and Gun club was founded in 1928 with 15 original members and has steadily grown until now it has a full quota of members and a long waiting list. It is one of the finest sportsmen's clubs in Monmouth county. Under the able leadership of its president, Jack Murphy, and the support of all its members the future sportsmen of Monmouth county can be assured of good hunting and good fishing for years to come.

It seems that there will be no more stocking of trout in our ponds. This is a shame. Most of the streams of Monmouth county are not very well adapted to trout and by not stocking the ponds it will work a very great hardship on many trout fishermen. I fail to understand why the Commission has decided not to stock the ponds. As far as the trout are concerned they are all caught out in a few days after stocking the streams.

I believe they will last longer in ponds. Also there are a lot of fellows that have to work early and late and can not fish the streams, whereas they can find a little time to fish their local pond.

With few exceptions, the entire Red Bank Women's Evening League, which bowls every Friday night on the Red Bank Recreation hall alleys, will be shooting for cash prizes in the East's largest women's tourney of the year, the New York Journal-American bowling tourney, at the Downtown Bowling academy, New York, between February 22 and March 16.

At least $3,500 in prizes will be awarded, but the number of this year's entries indicate that prizes will total more than $5,000.

Red Bank women, ten of whom won prizes last year, will be represented in the class A and class B competition. Four teams will represent the Recreation hall. Another, the Midlits, will bowl under its own name. Last year one Red Bank team placed fourth in class C while the other squad placed 15th in class B. Mrs. Amy VanVliet was a prize winner in the class A singles and many other local women qualified in the class B and class C singles. This year all members of the Evening league have averages qualifying them for at least class B bowling.

The Red Bank women in the tourney, their class and division follow:

CLASS A

Recreation Hall No. 1—Mrs. Doris Mabel, Mrs. Helen Brazier, Mrs. Echo Chamberlain, Miss Frances Koch, Mrs. Amy VanVliet, captain.

CLASS B

Recreation Hall No. 3—Mrs. Douglas Ingle, Mrs. Paula Brooks, Mrs. M. D. Brunt, Mrs. Anne Tunis, Mrs. Dorothy Ryan, captain.

Recreation Hall No. 4—Mrs. Frances Chamberlain, Mrs. Helen Currier, Mrs. Elizabeth Carpenter, Mrs. Peggy Huffel, captain.

Recreation Hall No. 5—Mrs. Eva, Miss Joan Schofield, Mrs. Elizabeth Menzopane, Mrs. Florence Auman, Mrs. Aschettino, captain.

Midlits—Mrs. Mary Jones, Miss Bertina Auman, Miss Hartzell, Mrs. Dorothy Webb, Mrs. Gabriella Dean, captain.

Recreation Hall No. 6—Mrs. Auman, Miss Hartzell and Miss Bertina Auman, Mrs. Maffei and Mrs. Dean, Mrs. Elizabeth Guebert and Mrs. Helen Borden, Mrs. Florence Hansen and Mrs. Inglis.

Singles—Mrs. Ryan, Mrs. Maffei and Miss Borden, Mrs. Bertina Auman and Ruth Jackson.

Annual Dinner Of Sunrise Club

Captain Stout Talks on Game Fish

The sixth annual venison dinner of the Sunrise Rod and Gun club was held last week in the basement of the Reformed church. Forty-four members and guests attended, and Jackson Murphy, president, introduced Captain R. V. R. H. Stout as master of ceremonies. Captain Stout's subject was protection of game fish, especially striped bass, in local waters.

Edward Leaycraft, secretary of the New Jersey and Monmouth County Federation of Sportsmen's clubs; Benjamin Lane, game warden, and Herman Johnson, president of the Monmouth County Federation of Sportsmen's clubs, also spoke. The dinner was prepared and served by the wives and daughters of members.

Food Patches For Food For Wildlife

New Jersey game wardens have been requested by the State Fish and Game commission to report names of sportsmen's clubs desiring installation of food patches in their respective territories next spring in order to guarantee an adequate supply of food for wildlife in the state.

Initiating a comprehensive program of food patch installation, the State Fish and Game commission has placed a tentative quota of 75 patches per county to improve the environment of wildlife and guarantee the success and well-being of broods liberated and hatched in the wild. The project is entirely cooperative in nature and design, sportsmen will be told by game wardens, in soliciting their whole-hearted interest in the work.

Locations of proposed food patches recommended by sportsmen's organizations must be adjacent to good cover in an area open to use by licensed gunners of the state. The State Fish and Game commission, through its division of game management, will furnish labor, machinery and seed. The cooperating sportsmen's club will be called upon to recommend the exact location and furnish fertilizer to the extent of 250 pounds per acre. Game wardens will assist clubs in choosing the proposed locations and attest to the fact that the area is considered open land.

The State Fish and Game commission desires to locate at least 1,500 food patches throughout the state during the spring planting season. In view of the fact that the planting season of the lower coastal plain region of southern New Jersey is one month ahead of North Jersey, the commission through its division of game management, desires to start operations from that region and work northward.

It is planned to utilize four units to complete the plowing and planting process. Each unit will consist of a tractor, harrow, plow and truck worked by two men. Exact reports from game wardens, schedules will be drafted to permit the four units to keep up with the planting seasons in all parts of the state.

Athletic Report Made At Meeting

Phalanx Club Plans Easter Eve Dance

Fred Comstock, chairman of the athletic committee of the Beta Mu Sigma chapter of the Phalanx fraternity, reported Thursday night of last week at a club meeting that the club's basketball record included five victories against one setback. In the one game played in the state Phalanx league, Red Bank was victorious.

President Stuart Edington announced that the Y. M. C. A. conference convention would be held February 15 and 16 at Atlantic City. The Phalanx club, one of the many Y. M. C. A. groups, plays a leading roll in the annual conventions. Edington also announced that a State Tribunal meeting would be held Sunday at Matawan.

Plans were made for an Easter Eve dance Saturday, April 11. Lloyd McNally and Harry Greenwood were appointed co-chairmen.

Tonight's meeting will be brief and will be followed by a recreational period. Those attending last week's meeting were Edward Blafke, adviser; Stuart Edington, Fred Comstock, Jr., Lloyd McNally, Jack Simonds, Harry Greenwood, Sigurd Thompson, Gordon Forbes, John Ritter, Bill Bradley and Robert Worden.

Red Bank High Trips Atlantic Highlands

Coach Carl Smith Utilizes Two Squads In Victory—Top Hamilton In Conference

Coach Carl Smith gave his Red Bank high school second team a good work-out Tuesday night against the Atlantic Highlands high school varsity, but it took the class and sharp shooting of the Maroon varsity to insure a 42 to 33 victory at Red Bank in the second meeting of the two teams this year. The Red Bank junior varsity, playing the preliminary game, topped the Atlantic scrubs, 28 to 19.

Red Bank's starters, although presenting a veteran squad, have been relegated to substitute duties. They jumped into a 9-0 lead in the first period before George Dwight broke the string with a free toss. Dwight followed up a few seconds later with an over hand pivot shot.

Smith maintained his starting lineup until the half was almost over and the Atlantic marksmen commenced to find their mark. The Red Bank varsity picked up six points in the third period with Ray Vaccarelli scoring 5 of the 12 recorded. During this rally the Maroon held its longest lead when Tom Vetterli's field goal made the score 31 to 17.

George Dwight, whose shots found the hoop from unbelievable angles and shooting positions, led the futile bayshoremen and gained scoring laurels with 11 points. Ray Vaccarelli and Tom Vetterli scored 13 points for Red Bank.

Green and Gold Hold Piners in Last Half, But Lose

Red Bank Catholic High school's basketball team held Lakewood High school to two points in the last half Tuesday night at Lakewood but could not overcome a first half lead and fell victim to the Piners, 21 to 18.

Lakewood got off to a good start in the first period when it tallied 10 points to a lone field goal by Jerry Grause, for Red Bank. Catholic picked up one point in the second period and three more in the third while blanking the Piners. Grause, Quinn and Burns dropped field goals in the last period.

Grause, scoring four field goals and two foul shots, was the individual high scorer with ten points. This brought Grause's total to 42 for the year and places him second to George Rooney, who paces the team with 46 counters. Rooney was held scoreless Tuesday night.

Accurate conversion of free throws provided Red Bank's margin of victory over the Hamilton squad, Ray Vaccarelli and Tom Vetterli each converted five such shots and Pat Ambrosia, who led the Maroon attack with 11 points, registered one foul shot. Hamilton marked up seven field goals, but fell far in the conversion of free throws. Red Bank scored 11 of its 19 free throws and Hamilton scored three out of 12.

Three of Vaccarelli's foul shots came in the first period as did two of Vetterli's. Hamilton, after holding the Maroon even in the second period, cut two points off its margin in the third quarter. Hamilton fell apart in the last period while Ambrosia of Red Bank scored two field goals, Vaccarelli four points and Vetterli three to rout their opponents with an 11-point rally.

Red Bank's junior varsity was beaten, 39 to 22, in the preliminary game by the Hamilton seconds. Red Bank's Jay-vee team has not won a game in the conference thus far while Hamilton is in a triple tie with Long Branch and Carteret for first place.

It's A Game 'Curling' May Not Sound Exciting But Broom-Wielding Players Love It

Here is an exciting moment in a curling bonspiel (match) as sweepers clear the way to the scoring circle for an onrushing stone. The Scots gave us curling, a game that has been called shuffleboard on ice. Two 4-man teams throw circular stones to a target ring 38 yards away.

Each player curls two stones alternately with his opponent. Holding the stone by a handle, players release it with an "in" or "out" wrist twist which produces the long curve or curl from which the sport gets its name. The skip (captain) figures out plays and points with his broom to where he wants a teammate to lay a stone. Two sweepers wait near the target to brush a path for the oncoming stone. An end (inning) is finished when all eight players have curled two stones each. Usually 12 or 14 ends make a game, which lasts around two hours. The course is sprinkled with warm water. This forms pebbles or tiny knobs on which the curling stones ride.

1. Players curl a stone much like a bowler throws a ball. Stones weigh 35 pounds, are 36 inches around, and 4 1/2 inches high. 2. Sweepers brush furiously, their brooms creating a partial vacuum in front of the moving stone that carries it farther than would be possible otherwise. 3. A fraction of an inch counts in measuring the score. A team gets one point for each stone inside the ring that is not cancelled by a rival's stone lying closer to center.

Leonardo Quint Divides Two Conference Tilts

A field goal by Al Sica, that went through the basket after the final whistle had sounded, nevertheless provided the winning margin Tuesday night as Toms River High school's basketball team defeated Leonardo High school, 25 to 23, at Toms River. Sica's shot was in the air as the losing blow.

In losing, Leonardo's inconsistent play, dropped further into the second division of the Shore Conference. In spite of its upset victory last week over Atlantic Highlands, the Middletown squad stands ninth in the standings, one notch below their bayshore rivals.

Toms River fought desperately in the last period after trailing through the greater part of the game. Leonardo overcame a 3-point first quarter lead with a belated second period rally and led at the intermission, 14 to 13. Toms River assumed the lead early in the third quarter, but Leonardo again came from behind and held a three-point margin with only the last period remaining.

Gibson led the fourth quarter attack with two field goals for Toms River while Harry Huber was leading the Lions. Huber, however, only scored 4 points in the game while Gibson was leading the field with an even dozen.

Big Five Wins Over Keyport

Galatro's Big Five rolled to its second successive win last night on the River street school court, behind the sharp shooting of Leo LaBionda, who scored 20 points in defeating the Keyport All Stars, 43 to 33.

Galatro's piled up 33 points in the first half. The veteran Leo, graduate of Red Bank High school and well known throughout the county, racked off in the first and third periods, scoring four field goals in each and adding single baskets in the second and fourth quarters.

The Big Five will play every Wednesday night on the River street school court and will meet the Fair Haven Rams, Red Bank Phalanx and H-I-C clubs, the Fighting Irish and St. James Crusaders. The complete schedule will be released next week.

Keyport Cagers Defeat Hoffman

Shaw Paces Winners in Conference Game

Keyport high school's championship bound basketball team continued its winning ways Friday night with a 36 to 27 victory over Harold Hoffman high school of South Amboy on Keyport's home court. The defeat put Hoffman school into the second division in the Shore Conference standing.

Shaw highlighted Keyport's attack when he scored 20 points. Hoffman, displaying its best form of the season, held a four-point lead at the end of the half. However, Keyport's quintet showed a reversal of its offense after the half-time intermission and dropped 18 points in the basket. John Render scored 15 points for the Hoffman second stringers to lead the victor over Keyport's JVS 37 to 23. Kruser scored nine points for Keyport.

Fair Haven Bows To Neptune Five

The Neptune Raiders raided Fair Haven last night and trounced the Rams 38 to 22, on the Willow street school court. It was the second setback in nine games for the Rams and brought a four-game winning streak to an end.

Close and Oliver starred for the Raiders, scoring 14 and 10 respectively. Bill Legg, in a slump from his early season form, led the Rams scoring with three field goals. Fair Haven held a two-point lead at the end of the quarter, fell into a tie at the half and then fell apart after the second half began.

Red Banker Rolls First 300 Game

Joe Menzozpane of John street, local insurance man, who has more than 20 years of bowling experience behind him, rolled his first perfect game Friday night at Newman Springs road Recreation hall in a special match with Nurdy Aschettino. Although his perfect game will not receive official A. B. C. recognition because the match was bowled outside of an organized league and without a foul man, Joe will receive a $25 ring from Anthony Mazzocco and James Accera, proprietors of Recreation hall.

After rolling off nine straight strikes in his perfect game, Joe faltered slightly under the severe tension and was light with his tenth ball. The two and five pins stood momentarily and tottered over. Joe came back with two perfect hits to attain one of the greatest ambitions of his life. In a previous game he had rolled 256.

Phalanx Club Wins In Last Quarter

The Phalanx club scored 12 points in the last period last night at the "Y" house to defeat the Red Bank H-I-Y 41 to 40, in another inter-club basketball game of the Y. M. C. A.

Fred Comstock and Gordon Forbes made 24 points between them. Individual honors went to Helmer Martens of the H-I-Y, who marked up 7 field goals and one free toss for 15 points.

Farewell Party For Corporal Halleran

Corporal Melvin P. Halleran, a member of Battery B, 112th field artillery, was tendered a farewell party Monday night at the Red Bank Center avenue, Atlantic Highlands. The decorations were in red, white and blue. Games, dancing and a buffet supper were enjoyed. Corporal Halleran will leave with his company for Fort Bragg, North Carolina, next week.

Those present were Miss Alice Janus, Misses Marie and Alice Halleran, Jack McKenzie, Jack Oakes, Harold Elmer, Patrick and Jack Halleran and Tom Chevelier of Atlantic Highlands, Miss Norma Smith, Miss Barbara Mount, Miss Evelyn Hendrickson, Miss Claire Croft and Edward Dougherty of Leonardo, Miss Muriel Kalomycyk of Fair Haven, Miss Helen Piney of Keyport and Charles Galsey and John Cusick of Red Bank.

Guild Earns $25 At Luncheon Bridge

Mrs. Harry VanBrunt Was General Chairman

Mrs. Harry VanBrunt was general chairman of a covered dish luncheon and card party given Thursday by the St. Mary's guild of St. George's Episcopal church at Ralph hall, Rumson. More than $25 was cleared. Mrs. William Patrick, 81 years old, and Mrs. Annie Longstreet, 89 years old, were guests. They received vases filled with evergreen plants. Mrs. Patrick read a poem, "The Voice of Our Flag." Both women are residents of Red Bank.

Two special prizes were awarded. Mrs. J. H. Ritscher received a hand made velvet hat, donated by Mrs. Thomas McCarter. A coffee cake, made by Mrs. John Folter, was given to Mrs. Lydia Scott. More than 40 attended the party.

Fire Damages River Plaza House

Damage estimated at $500 was caused Sunday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Gorsegor of May Court, River Plaza, when fire, resulting from defective wiring, broke out in the bedroom of the semi-bungalow. Mrs. Gorsegor was at home with her three young grandchildren, but none were injured.

The fire is believed to have begun in the cellar and burned through the wall, breaking out in the bedroom. Mrs. Gorsegor said she had been in the cellar about 20 minutes prior to the outbreak of the blaze. The first notice of the fire was given by smoke seeping through the floor between the cellar and first floor.

The blaze was extinguished by River Plaza, Middletown and Lincoln firemen. Although the smoke hindered firemen to a great extent, damage was kept at a minimum.

CHILD CUTS HEAD

Charlotte Rogers, daughter of Bradford Rogers of West Front street, fell against a chair at her home Monday and cut her head. She received first aid treatment at Riverview hospital.

Freehold Man On State Board Of Agriculture

Roscoe C. Clayton Elected to Four-Year Term at Trenton Tuesday

Roscoe C. (Ross) Clayton of Freehold and Edward H. Phillips, Jr., of Cold Spring were elected members for four-year terms to the New Jersey State Board of Agriculture at the State Agricultural convention in the Assembly Chamber of the state capitol, Trenton, as the silver anniversary celebration of Agricultural Week and the Farm Show opened Tuesday at Trenton.

The men, both named to the board for the first time, succeeded Lester Collins of Monroeton, and James C. Ewart of Cranbury. The latter is now serving as president of the State Board of Agriculture.

Mr. Clayton has been an active participant in several agricultural organizations, particularly in the State Potato association and as one of the original supervisors of the Freehold Soil Conservation District.

Mr. Phillips combines vegetable production with dairying. He has served on the executive committee for the Cape May County Board of Agriculture and has been a representative at many farm organization meetings.

The meeting of the Co-Y Girls was held last week under the leadership of Mrs. Kenneth Bruce. Mrs. Bruce has found that during the meeting, informal discussions have worked out very nicely, and many girls who did not attend Sunday-school have acquired this habit. One of the recent talks among the girls included the question of "Happiness and What Goes Toward Making a State of Happiness Within Ourselves." The leader feels that several important matters have been discussed during the time that the group has been organized. One is getting rid of "calumnies" and "misconceptions." Comments from group members are working out things for the Red Cross. Some of the girls are crocheting afghans which they hope to sell. Another project on the way is the making of scrap books which will be given to the children's ward at the hospital.

An interesting item that has been made by the girls is candy jewelry. At Christmas time the group stuffed animals and gave them to the visiting nurse to be distributed. These were gratefully received and were a great success. Members in the group feel that they want to receive personal credit for the work they did for the Red Cross and the British Relief.

Last week the members of the group went roller skating. It is possible the group plan to give a hot lunch to a child in the school each day.

The fourth birthday of Elaine West, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur West of Washington street, was observed at a family gathering Sunday at the home of the child's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Percy West of Center street.

Rev. C. L. Heron, priest in charge of St. George's church, will take for the top of his sermon at the 11 o'clock service Sunday morning "I Prayed—But?" Holy communion will be celebrated at the 8 and 11 o'clock services.

Robert Lauber of Black Point road suffered a sprained arm from a fall from a pony last Thursday.

Rumson and Oceanic fire companies were called out Saturday night to extinguish a fire which started in a bungalow at 7 Forest avenue, owned by Mrs. William Ward. When the flames arrived on the scene the flames were shooting all through the ground floor, but the flames saved the place from being totally destroyed.

John Madden of Park avenue fell Monday night at his home and broke his wrist.

Charles E. Betts, Jr., returned to his position with the Trust company of New Jersey at Jersey City, after having been confined to his home a week with illness.

Miss Jane Pearsall, student at Trenton State Teachers college was a week-end visitor at her home on Lafayette street.

Oceanic Hook and Ladder company will hold its monthly meeting next Wednesday night in the fire house.

A party was given Monday night by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur West of Washington street in celebration of the birthday of their daughter Elaine and also the birthday of Mrs. West's sister, Mrs. Carl Thompson. Decorations were in pink and white. Present besides those mentioned were Mr. and Mrs. Bloomfield Fary, Mrs. Eleanor Lindsay, Joseph Fary, Joan Lindsay and Carl Thompson.

Miss June Boman of Bingham avenue has returned home from Monmouth Memorial hospital, where she underwent an operation for appendicitis. She is improving steadily and expects to be able to return to work within a month.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Borden made a trip by plane last week from Miami to Fort au Prince.

Miss Ludlow Campbell Boyd of South Orange, sister of John Boyd of this borough, was married Tuesday afternoon at the bride's home to Norbert Martin Ford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood W. Ford of Maplewood.

Rev. Quintan Beckley, Catholic chaplain of Princeton university, officiated. Mr. Boyd gave his sister in marriage, and Miss Joella Boyd of Rumson, a niece of the bride, was one of the bridesmaids.

SLEEPY DRIVER HITS TREE. Harry Wittersche of Keyport fell asleep while driving his car south on Neptune highway at Eatontown, crashed into a tree and wrecked the car. In spite of the damage Mr. Wittersche told Harry Kirker, Eatontown chief of police, that the crash did not wake him up.

Car Hits Truck And Starts Fire

A car operated by Morris Fishoff of Yonkers skidded on Memorial parkway, Atlantic Highlands, Tuesday afternoon and crashed into the rear of a kerosene truck which had stopped and was about to turn left into East avenue. The pipes on the truck were broken off, sending a spray into the Fishoff car and igniting the motor. The Atlantic Highlands fire department extinguished the blaze.

No one was injured. The truck is owned by Charles Rogers of Port Monmouth.

The drivers of both vehicles were summoned to appear in police court next Wednesday.

County S.P.C.A. Has Fine Year

Society Operated at a Profit in 1940

Another year of successful operation will be reported to the Monmouth County Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals at its meeting tomorrow night. The report, submitted by Mrs. William H. Gullium, secretary, and Mrs. John A. Linnett, treasurer, will show an operating profit of $266 for the year 1940 which, with a balance of $213 from 1939, leaves a total cash balance of $469.

Funds received by the organization were used to care for 1,990 animals, 1,185 of which were dogs and 794 cats. Homes were found for 303 animals and 20 additional cases were investigated. Most of the animals were cared for at the society's shelter, Sherman road, Eatontown.

Approximately $2,600 was appropriated to the expenses of operating the shelter and of repairs and additions to its facilities. The expense of operating the organization's ambulance was $382. Total expenses amounted to $3,207.49 and total receipts, including dues, contributions from municipalities served, receipts from the shelter, donations, and benefits were $3,463.23.

Mrs. Gullium and Mrs. Linnett also issued a statement explaining the recent development of the Monmouth County chapter of the organization. The Asbury Park unit was re-organized in November, 1938, at a meeting at Mrs. Gullium's home. Enrique de Villaverde, at that time mayor of Interlaken, was elected president and Mrs. Carl Grebel, who operated a kennel on Asbury avenue, offered its facilities. In March, 1940, the Asbury Park unit met with the Red Bank unit and the two groups were merged into the Monmouth County S. P. C. A. Ferdinand S. Strauss, Little Silver, was elected president.

Early last year Mrs. Stanley M. Tracy of Princeton and Allenhurst purchased the farm, containing 13 acres with a house and outbuildings, to be used by the organization as a shelter. This, together with two acres, gives the organization excellent facilities for performing its work. An anonymous Spring Lake resident contributed $300 for the construction of kennels, equipped with cages and heated.

The report includes an appeal for additional support to permit an extension of service. Explaining that the strictest economy must be practiced, it urges that all residents of the county interested in the care of animals join the S. P. C. A. and contribute to its work.

Ten Students Enroll At Fitkin

Group Received at Hospital Monday

Ten new students enrolled in the Ann May school of nursing, Fitkin Memorial hospital, Monday. They were received by the "Big Sisters," which is the class preceding them in training. After one week of orientation they will immediately start training.

The class includes Lorraine Bisert of South River, Mary Buchanan of Rocky Hill, Sylvia Lehman of Lakewood, Gertrude Levine of Englewood, Ruth O'Brien of Newark, Verla Ann Murray of Keansburg, Beulah Price of Grayson, Kentucky; Marguerite Clopper and June Morhls of Neptune and Ann Gordon of Asbury Park.

Tea was served in the reception room of DeCoppet Hall to the members of the new class, their families and friends. At 7:30 p. m. the new class met with the student council of the Students' co-operative governing body, who instructed them in the traditions of the student group.

Also present were Miss Thelma Munn, director of nursing; Miss Bernice Counts, assistant director of nursing; Miss Elizabeth Hoy, Mrs. Helen Buchanan and Mrs. Agnes D'Elia, members of the nursing school faculty; Anthony Eckert, superintendent; Mrs. Edith M. Nordmann, comptroller, and Mrs. W. A. Saller, secretary of the board of governors.

The capping exercises of section two of the 1941 class will be held Sunday at 3 p. m. in DeCoppet hall, adjoining the hospital.

Navasink

Mr. and Mrs. Sev Sorenson of Monmouth avenue are on a three weeks' trip to Florida and Cuba.

Mrs. Ada Hellum, who underwent two operations at Monmouth Memorial hospital, has shown a slight improvement.

Mrs. Harley Wyman is confined to her home with a severe cold. Miss Terent Westbrock has recovered from her operation and was able to be out last week for the first time in several weeks.

George Rogers is still confined to his bed with illness. The cold weather following the thaw last week made skidding possible again on the Lakeside avenue pond. The snow has been cleared off the ice by the young folks.

Who Knows About The Morris Of Monmouth?

An Illinois Reader Is Compiling Data Concerning Forebears

The Register has received a most interesting letter from Mrs. Weyant E. Morris of Elburn, Kane county, Illinois. Mrs. Morris is endeavoring to get additional data of the genealogy of the particular branch of the Morris family, which, according to her letter, part of which appears below, evidently lived at one time in Monmouth county.

If there are any Register readers who care to correspond with Mrs. Morris with the idea they may be able to give her some information, she will be very glad to hear from them.

I have been waiting for a day or so hoping to receive back from a photographer, the copies I am having made of the old Morris homestead in New Jersey, so that I could include one to you. I would like to know if the old buildings are still standing. I have a friend who has just joined the New Jersey Historical society and I will have him make the same inquiry, when I get the copies back from the photographer. We have just found these (a series) old pictures after the death of a widow of our uncle Walter Kimble Morris here in Elburn.

I am most interested in getting in touch with some of the Morris descendants who still live in old Monmouth county, New Jersey—but, we are not interested in that perennial theory of relationship (descent) to Robert Morris (the financier) nor to any theory of money coming to Morris from the government.

If those who subscribe to that theory will only do a little reading of the many fine biographies on Robert of Philadelphia, and if they will only realize that the United States government and all high-placed officials who knew Robert (Philadelphia) ought to know whether or not he died in 1806, and also ought to have known that he is buried in the White-Morris family vault in Christ church, etc., etc., (Philadelphia).

On the contrary, we have been doing such extensive research on the further back steps, first—before New Jersey and New York in the British West Indies, where the four Morris sons went, from England, in the time of Cromwell and the Restoration periods,—and then before that,—in England, Monmouthshire (county) and before that (even before the conquest) in Wales, of which Monmouthshire was a shire, before Henry VIII added it to England proper.

It is all very interesting—the history even more so than the actual family data,—and I hope we shall be able to fill in some of the later gaps, of those who left New Jersey and went over the mountains into Pennsylvania and Virginia. Our Illinois sylvanus, John Wesley Morris (md. Rebecca-Youmans)—came directly from Monmouth county, New Jersey in 1865, by train, in company with Morris Steward and family, and all went to Plano, Illinois (Hendall county) first, where Samuel Morris, b. 1807 had migrated to the year before (1864), he is the one who married a Rhoda van Marter in New York and had 10 children and upon her death in 1863, Samuel migrated in 1864 to Illinois, where he later (1870) married a Hannah Loomis Lincoln, who was the widow of Dar-us Lincoln, first cousin of Abraham Lincoln, and his has been a representative pioneer family there, while our line of John Wesley Morris, b. 1818, purchased lands in adjacent Kane county (Blackberry township) and there, in 1866, the 11th and last child was born. Favors Candidacy Of Harold Hollowell

Editor, Red Bank Register, Red Bank, N. J.

The announcement of the candidacy of Harold Hollowell for membership on the Middletown Township Board of Education has come to my attention.

It has been my pleasure to have been associated with Mr. Hollowell as a member of the Leonardo Field Club, Inc., he having succeeded me as President of the organization.

My associations with him in the conduct of several undertakings for the Field Club, were most pleasant and in my opinion he is fully qualified to carry out the duties of the position of a board member to the best interests of the township and its residents.

I therefore recommend that my friends lend their wholehearted support to Mr. Hollowell. Sincerely yours, Oscar H. Drechsel.

Club Discusses Welfare Work

Information concerning the welfare work of the Junior Woman's club was presented to the club's new adviser, Miss Catherine LeMaistre, Tuesday night at an executive meeting at the home of Miss Helen Borden.

Three Groups Meet At Club

Mrs. R. C. Brown Reviews Dickens' Life

Three departments of the Red Bank Woman's club met Friday at the club house. The welfare group met in the morning and the literature and American home departments in the afternoon.

The welfare group made seven nightgowns for the Red Bank Public Health Nursing association. Box luncheon was served at noon in the club library. Mrs. Alexander Pepin is department chairman.

Department members present were Mrs. William Hartman, Mrs. Stephen Francisco, Mrs. L. D. Seely, Mrs. Frank E. Ganter, Mrs. Benjamin Crane, Jr., Mrs. Hermann Asendorf, Mrs. Alfred F. Lindenstruth, Mrs. William Penn Strode and Mrs. Elizabeth Higginson. Mrs. William F. Hamlin, a member of the Mount Vernon, New York, Woman's club, was a guest.

The life of Charles Dickens and his book, "David Copperfield," were reviewed by Mrs. Robert C. Brown at the meeting of the literature department. Mrs. Brown based her discussion on the book, "Introducing Charles Dickens," by Ward and Becker. Mrs. Seely, department chairman, presided.

Mrs. George H. Miles spoke at the

"WINDOW" PICTURES

The "window" effect was obtained, very simply, by having the children peer through the French door into the darkened dining room. Such stunts give you novel pictures.

GOOD snapshots around the home depend partly on your subjects—and partly on how you present them. Often, a clever or unusual presentation makes an excellent picture out of the most familiar subject-matter.

Take a look around the house, and note the spots or locations that will make good "notings" for pictures. The fireplace, the stairway landing, the stairway corner, the big easy chair by the bookshelves—all these are good "picture spots."

Windows and French doors are useful, too. In the daytime, a bright window can be used as a background for silhouette shots—with shades drawn on the other window. Or, you can bring up your photo lights, to illuminate the shadow side of the subject, and thus get a bright, cheerful "high key" effect.

The picture above shows the effect. However, a French door was used in this case—the children were simply peering into the dark dining-room, but the frame makes a very satisfactory window effect. It's just as if the subjects were peeping out on a pitch-dark winter night.

Try some of these effects. They're easy, with any camera—using high speed film and photo bulbs for the night shots. And they add novelty to your collection of home pictures.
