On the Beach

During our high school years the teachers of Red Bank High have skippered us through the hard times, but they have also let us gradually learn how to sensibly direct our own lives. For this we are grateful. We can go into the world with the assurance that we have had as good an education as our teachers could provide. We have been taught how to use our education in jobs and in college, and we will always use this background to meet the challenges and opportunities of the world.

This book records some of the lighter events while we were in the throes of learning, but in the future when we take up the Log it will remind us not only of the fun but also of the high ideals that were instilled in us at Red Bank.

Admiration

We dedicate this yearbook to a devoted educator, Miss Elisabeth A. Kelley. Her unselfish efforts to assist young adults in achieving a secure position in a changing society, and her resolute determination to guide them against all pitfalls, will always be remembered.

And Thanks

We also inscribe the 1960 LOG to Mr. Thomas A. MacNulty, a teacher and good friend who dedicated himself to our class. For three years he devoted his time, effort and ideas to the sustaining of the Class of 1960, withstanding all our complaints and making our problems his.

MR. WILLIAM FIRTH

Board of Education

The Red Bank Board of Education, under the direction of President E. J. Canzona, counts among its responsibilities the development of the school budget, the formation of school policies and the hiring of teachers and administrators. Its members, elected by the residents of Red Bank, act for the community in the attainment of educational goals.

The Class of 1960 is appreciative of the Board's fifty-one years of assistance to the school and community.

MR. SAMUEL CAROTENUTO

DR. GREGG HIBBS

Dr. M. Gregg Hibbs, superintendent of Red Bank public schools, is known to most students as the gentleman who starts off pep rallies with words of encouragement. At these times his enthusiasm is infectious; but bolstering school spirit is only one small facet of Dr. Hibbs' job of administrating.

Recently, Dr. Hibbs foresaw an increased enrollment and strove for the completion of a larger and more modern high school.

Dr. Hibbs has always been a tireless worker and friend to the student body.

May your future be filled with good health, success and prosperity.

Royal H. Hintze

Mr. Royal Hintze, Red Bank High School's chief administrator, has charge of the rules and regulations for efficient operation of the school.

Although Mr. Hintze is a very busy man, an appointment may be made with him to discuss problems of various natures.

The Honor Society induction ceremony is among the many notable institutions Mr. Hintze has inaugurated during his four years at Red Bank.

MR. ROYAL HINTZE

MR. WILLARD BROWNING

May I offer you my most sincere best wishes for the future. I hope that the pleasant memories of your high school days will remain with you throughout your future years.

Willard F. Browning

Mr. Willard Browning, recently appointed Vice-Principal in charge of curriculum, has been given a reassignment of duties within the administration. He will discontinue, indefinitely, the infamous Red Bank High School institution, "Will the following please report to Mr. Browning's office." Respected and well-liked by all students, he has exceeding patience and tolerance in directing the basic high school program.

To the Class of 1960 this cordial and enduring homework assignment: Whenever you pause to look back at your years here, may you learn to regard them with naught but warmth and fondness.

GOOD LUCK AND HAPPY SAILING!

George Saffa

A new addition to the administration this year is Mr. George Saffa. Mr. Saffa, a former chemistry teacher, has succeeded Mr. Willard Browning as Vice-Principal in charge of student discipline. It is now Mr. Saffa's job to reprimand undisciplined students and to encourage them to more acceptable social standards.

Besides his job as chief disciplinarian, Mr. Saffa serves as advisor to the Student Council and writes a column, "Dean's Corner," for the Buccaneer.

Guidance

Members of the Guidance staff give each student continued assistance in planning a program of study suited to the pupil's abilities and ambitions. Through the administration of tests, the counselors are able to determine an appropriate course of study.

As the year progresses, a student's guidance counselor may help him to find outside employment or to prepare for admission to a college or university. To supplement this service, the Guidance Department offers, on a sign-out basis, college and career publications containing information designed to aid all students toward prospective vocations.

The largest department, English, not only offers a four year program in the mechanics of our language, but also elective courses in Literature, Public Speaking, Remedial and Developmental Reading.

This year Developmental Reading was introduced into the curriculum, because of the need for academic students to develop their reading habits and skills.

An advanced course in English IV was added as the complement of the advanced course in English III. Both courses have proved to be quite successful.

The objective of the department is to make certain that each student has a command of the four basic English skills, which are writing, speaking, listening and reading. In accordance with this objective, a student's program, during his four year stay at Red Bank includes training in theme writing, development of speaking techniques, instruction in comprehending written and spoken material and appreciation for a more mature and diverse reading program.

U. S. History II students enter into a lively debate.

In order to better understand the present and the future, we must use history to interpret the past. Red Bank is fortunate in having excellent courses in International Relations, U. S. History, World History and Economics. These subjects help the student to better understand the world in which he lives.

This year we have instituted an experimental advanced class in U. S. History II to supplement the enriched course in U. S. History I, which was put into effect last year.

In order to be certain of our social, political and economical foundation, World History and U. S. History I and II are required for graduation from Red Bank High.

Red Bank High School's Foreign Language Department provides three year courses in Latin, French and Spanish. At the present time, the recently instituted German program only provides a two year course. Next term a third year will be added to the present German curriculum.

The history of mighty Rome, influenced by Caesar, Cicero and Cato, is a chief concern of Latin scholars. Through translations, the student uncovers a wealth of facts concerning one of the world's greatest classical empires.

The romance languages, French and Spanish, acquaint the student with the literary and cultural aspects of the countries in which the languages are spoken. In both courses oral interpretation is greatly stressed.

The successful and continually expanding German program instructs the student in the conversational and cultural aspects of Germany and its people.

Keeping abreast with the scientific requirements exacted from students in our modern world of science, Red Bank requires all students to take at least one course in mathematics.

Students, homogeneously grouped, are enrolled in courses from General Math to advanced Algebra and Geometry. Mr. Aubrey Dell'Omo instituted an extra-curricular advanced math class, thus making the math program more extensive.

During the year, juniors and seniors participate in various mathematics contests and activities at New York University, Rutgers and New Jersey high schools. The winners receive citations and scholarships.

New laboratories were more than welcomed this year; however, without water and gas for the first two months, the Chemistry students couldn't produce their conglomerations. The storage problem in the new quarters was solved by using everything at once.

The adequate laboratory facilities and students' natural interest in science encouraged several enlightened projects in all the sciences. With the rumor that the Physics program would become more theoretical in scope, the pilot and regular classes flourished.

Red Bank's four year program of sciences places it high on the scale of modern education.

Expansion was the keynote for the Industrial Arts program. With the completion of the new Auto Mechanics and Mechanical Drawing workshops, Industrial Arts students were able to make use of extensive and professional tools. Among this highly technical equipment was a blueprint machine donated by Mr. V. W. Ronfeldt of Coffin, Coffin and Ronfeldt, Contractors.

A practical knowledge of machines and tools was necessary to create skillful and original projects.

Mr. John Moses, a member of the Department, received national publicity when his article concerning the formation and operation of industrial arts clubs was published in the Industrial Arts and Vocational Education Magazine.

MR. JOHN LUCKENBILL

MR. ROBERT SPENCER

The Music Department is designed to help students further their musical interests and abilities.

Mr. Robert Spencer's Choir and Choralettes, who harmonize both classical and popular music, perform for the student body and various Red Bank civic groups.

The Orchestra and Band, composed of students with the ability to play stringed and brass instruments, provide an opportunity to give group instrumental performances. The Band, repeated winner of the Elks' National Youth Day Trophy, plans a week-end stay and reciprocal concert with a high school band from Oyster Bay, New York.

Business Education

An exchange visit with North Plainfield High School and a trip to one of New York's better department stores highlighted the year for the Distributive Education classes.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Mary Bierstadt, the cooperative work experience plan permits qualified seniors to gain practical knowledge of business fundamentals by working in downtown offices in the afternoon.

Stressed by the Red Bank Secretarial Department are speed, accuracy and neatness. These are considered the most important factors in training girls in typing and business techniques.

Miss Catherine Laird

Miss Catherine Laird, a New Englander, was the co-adviser this year. Her opinions always gave direction to the class and her help will never be forgotten. Taking charge of the football programs and some other facets of our class work, Miss Laird has shown herself an able leader.

Advisers

Mr. Jacob Needle

Mr. Jack Needle, another Bostonian, was one of our able and appreciated advisers this year. Dividing his time between our class, his classes and the Log, he had a rough job but did it well. At the football stand, the Senior Show, and the prom, Mr. Needle was always there to help pull us through.

CAROL ACKERMAN

Singularity is the word for Carol, who finds it gratifying to "just plain create." Suzie, who has decided to put off college for a while, will become a buyer or art student sometime in the future. Longfellow is her meat in literature.

GEORGE ADCOCK

George, our own man about town, can usually be seen in one of his "fire-trucks." His hobbies are cars and boats; and as an athlete, football, archery and hunting are favorites. George plans to attend Penn State and major in advertising.

ROBERT AKLUS

Bob, one of the class musicians, is well known for his hot piano and cool attitude. Music, especially jazz, is his number one interest, with sports a close second. Bob plans to attend the University of Alabama

ALBERT AMBS

Athletic Al, one of the New Shrewsbury gang, was a newcomer to our class in the junior year. Dating and playing football head his list of favorites, along with chemistry and steak. Rutgers and an engineering degree are in Al's future.

GEORGIA ATEEK

As president of our Red Cross Club this year, Shortie is well on her way to being a nurse. Making pigtail pets is one of Georgia's hobbies, and Monmouth College will find an eager nursing student next year.

ESTHER BAER

Debby, another newcomer to our class, wasted no time in getting acquainted and becoming one of us. She is a member of the National Honor Society and a tennis star to boot. She wants to attend Johns Hopkins School of Nursing.

JAMES BAHR

Jim, the Log's competent Associate Editor, does his work in a quiet, unassuming manner. Math comes easy to this friendly scholar who is an Honor Society member. A semi-finalist in the National Merit Scholarship test, Jim plans to study chemistry at Princeton.

RICHARD BALZANO

Richie, who played football for Red Bank for four years, is one of our better dressers. He likes to go bowling and to drive-ins on week ends. Among Rich's plans after school is a hitch with the Air Force.

1

6
0

JOSEPH BARBERIO

Joe intends to "make a lot of money." A bowling enthusiast, he also enjoys fishing and fooling with machines. He says he likes history but not literature. After graduation Joe is going to join the Navy.

MICHAEL BARON

One thing that has kept Mike busy this year is the Buc. He has been writing the sports column for the school paper all year. One of his dislikes is math in any size, shape or form. After graduation Mike hopes to attend Syracuse University.

LLOYD BASKIN

Artistic Lloyd, planning to go to the University of Cincinnati after high school, is looking forward to a career as an industrial designer. A National Honor Society member, he has done much for his class as Senior Class President and Junior Vice-President.

JOHN BEALE

A singing career and Juillard College form Johnny's future ambitions. Slow pokes on the road ruffle him since cars are his hobby. Sometime during the next few years John plans to join the Navy and complete his military obligations.

FRANK BAUER

Frank, known as skip to most, plans to join the Air Force after graduation and then sell foreign cars. Varsity tennis man Skip, who likes to go to as many parties as possible on a week end, is an avid jazz enthusiast.

GAIL BECKER

Full of creative ideas, Gail is looking forward to college in order to help develop a well-educated mind. She likes doing domestic chores: sewing, cleaning and buying clothes. Sportswise, swimming is Gail's favorite, while she has an aversion for hyperbolic people.

GERALD BEER

Affable Jerry gets along with almost everyone. Most of his spare time seems to be taken by cars. Mechanical drawing is Jerry's favorite school subject, while outside school he is seen in his white '53 Ford, "the Ice Cream Wagon."

NICHOLAS BELL

Nick, the president of the Distributive Education Club, is a sharpshooter at the firing range on week ends. He has his future well mapped out to become a traveling salesman for Colt Firearms.

DIANA BENNER

Diana, pursuing her artistic endeavors, plans to enter the field of commercial art after four years at Middlebury College. Besides doing watercolors in her spare time she enjoys sailing, and "getting away from it all!"

RUSSELL BENTZ

With a twinkle in those big, spectacled eyes Ned always adds to a class with his humor. Engineering is his choice of a career, while trig is his favorite subject. An avid bowling enthusiast, Ned can usually be found at a local recreation center.

SHIRLEY BENNETT

Shirl's idea of fun is to go out on dates; dance; and spend all her date's money eating shrimp and rice, pizza pie, and ice cream sodas. Future plans may include a career in the W.A.F.

BARRY BERDAHL

Barry, whose interests include target and skeet shooting, sailing and electronics, is headed for the medical profession as a psychiatrist. He enjoys reading news magazines and books with historical backgrounds, and bluntly states that he dislikes "small children and large crowds."

CAROL BERNSTEIN

Our indispensable prompter for the Junior Play plans to become a guidance counselor. Carol's likes include the songs "Autumn Leaves" and "Scarlet Ribbons," history, wonton soup and sleeping late. Her pet peeve is people who don't listen when you're talking to them.

BENJAMIN BERRY

Amiable and hard-working Rod loves toying with machines, especially autos, but photography also holds its place in his life. With his future in mind, Rod hopes to become a preacher and now spends much of his time studying the Bible.

ELIZABETH BETT

Pretty, perky Liz, the Log's proficient Art Editor, is always seen on the football field twirling her flag during half-time. Her antics have made blonde-haired Liz one of the most popular girls in the class. She hopes to be an interior designer.

RUTH BIEN

Short and quiet Ruth, who hopes to become a secretary, lists her favorite pastimes as cooking, sewing, reading and gardening. An energetic worker, Ruth gets a little weary when her homework runs over four hours. Crowded cafeterias also get her goat.

JUDITH BIRCH

Judy, with beautiful blonde curls, is a newcomer to Red Bank from Scranton Technical High School, Pennsylvania. On week ends she likes to go out to dinner and to the drive-in. Future plans include a career as a laboratory technician.

CLYDE BISHOP

Clyde, a gym enthusiast can usually be found driving around town or listening to his jazz collection. Along the musical line, his favorite song is "Moanin'." Clyde is college bound with physical therapy as a goal.

DIANE BISHOP

Cheerful Di enjoys roller skating, swimming and boating. She dislikes baked beans. Pizza is her favorite dish, and chemistry rates high in school. In the future, we see Di as an efficient telephone operator at the Bell Telephone Company.

CHARLES BORGMAN

Quick and clear thinking characterizes Charles' attitude in all his classes. As a newly elected Honor Society member, Charles maintains that his favorite subjects are history and mathematics. In his spare time he can be found beside the radio taping popular songs.

RUDOLPH BORNEO

"I care," says easy-going Rudy, alias Dolphin, as he looks down upon people who flick ashes in his sleek white convertible. Submarines, parties, dating and the song "Someone" rate tops on his list of favorites. Rudy's future plans include a college education.

BETSY BOYD

A very talented and well-liked girl, Betsy is quiet and neatly dressed. Her special hobbies are drawing and playing the violin and she is quite proficient at both. Her plans for the next four years are centered around college.

BEVERLY BROOKS

Efficient Bevie likes bowling, swimming, ice skating, baseball and Mickey Mantle. Her pet peeves are conceited people and show-offs, while she rates pizza and spaghetti as her favorite foods. A glance to the future reveals Bev as a secretary.

MICHELE BROOKS

Good-natured Bunny enjoys skating, dancing, parties and just having a good time. Unreasonable teachers and conceited people often annoy her. Frequently she is heard saying, "I got an idea!" Bunny plans to enter the business world.

PATRICIA BROWN

Patz has two aims: a nursing career and marriage. In her spare time she enjoys reading, especially books on medicine. Demonstrating her versatility, Patz was a cast member in the Junior Play and was a Chorus member for two years.

ANTOINETTE BRUNO

Friendly Toni, always wearing a smile, can usually be found talking on the telephone. Perry Como tops her list of favorite singers. We can look forward to seeing Toni as a successful beautician, followed up by marriage.

THOMAS BRUNO

One of a pair, Tommy plans to be a barber. He can most often be seen cruising around town in his "Fury." This Little Silverite rates pizza and "Small World" high on his list of favorites, while women drivers aggravate him.

CAROL BURKE

An active F.H.A. member, Carol finds pleasure in collecting foreign dolls, eating Italian foods and studying her French. Working with handicapped children stands out as Carol's ambition, and she plans to attend a school which will train her in this field.

GARY BURNON

Gary is one of the best dressed boys in the Senior class. His MG is his pride and joy; and his boat, when it isn't broken, will give the speed record quite a scare. The future finds Gary as a businessman.

ROBERT CAMPBELL

Bob occupies his time with his favorite hobbies, either guns, coins or cars. His future plans, however, may lead him into the field of art, which is one of his outstanding interests, or perhaps into the field of taxidermy.

FRANK CANNELLA

As head of the drum section, Frank has been the backbone of the band for four years. Looking forward to a musical career, he plans to attend the Navy school of music. Jam sessions and Italian food are among his favorites.

MAUREEN CABANISS

Well-liked Maursy enjoys drawing, attending parties and dancing, while conceited people are her main dislike. In this active Red Banker's future we see college and then a dentist's office where Maursy will be a dental receptionist.

MARIE CAMMARANO

Quiet Marie is one of our pretty color guards. Skating, swimming and listening to the "Platters" are things she likes to do along with washing the car and eating pizza pie. The business world is her future aim.

SUSAN CAREN

Athletically inclined Sue, who plans a clerical career, can be found gardening, bowling or catching up on the latest ball scores in her spare time. Dislikes include people who act without thinking, and high on the list of favorites is her home economics class.

CAROLYN CARNEAL

An accomplished seamstress, Carolyn says that she would like to become an airline stewardess after she has attended Katherine Gibbs for two years. People who are never on time annoy Carolyn. Staying up late on week ends is what she likes best.

ELKE CARTWRIGHT

A musician and an amateur psychoanalyst, Elke has also been quite active in sports. Listening to classical music and reading Freud constitute her week ends, and she is most at ease in school in art class. A teaching career is her aim.

CAROL CATELLI

When she is not talking on the phone or writing letters, you will find Carol at a football or basketball game. "I'm so excited!" is the byword for Carol, who plans to go to nursing school upon graduation.

JOAN CATENACI

Joanie, our pizza-loving natator, spends her spare time in the water. Future plans are quite definite: University of Miami and then on to medical school. An active supporter of our class, Joan's pet peeve is a self-centered person.

DENNIS CARUSOE

When there is accurate shooting at the basketball court, Murph can usually be found as the source. Outside of basketball, his special interests are cars, music and girls. Lunch-time is the high point of this college man's school day.

BEATRICE CERRONE

Bea's favorite hobbies are collecting signs and records. Her choice of food is Italian, with pizza heading the list. Bea, who hopes to be a beautician, plans to go to the Winifard School of Beauty and someday have a shop of her own.

DIANA CLARK

Diana is one of our peppy Cheerleaders who enjoys watching as well as cheering. With chemistry topping her list of school subjects, Diana has elected nursing as a career. She uses much of her spare time going to clubs.

JOHN CHILDS

His friendly personality and easy-going disposition have made John popular with everyone. An active student of French as well as a sportsman, John plans to attend college. As for his interest in girls—he seems to go for all of them.

CAROL COBB

Cobbie is a friend of animals. Riding horses, hunting, training dogs or attending horse shows or rodeos are her consuming passions. Her vocational choice of dog trainer is good, as dogs don't giggle as some annoying girls do.

RONALD COHEN

A linguist, sportsman and musician, Ron has taken an active part in many different fields, as well as becoming an Honor Society member. Spanish, basketball and the Band are just a few of the future Dr. Cohen's time consuming interests.

ALICE CONROW

Quiet but versatile, Alice will eat "anything edible but pickles." She enjoys playing the piano, "Stardust" being her favorite song. Alice looks forward to attendance at Fairleigh Dickinson and then a career as a Navy nurse.

JUDITH COOK

Judy, our girl from Paris, plans to fill her future with housekeeping. Sports and music have filled her high school life, bowling heading the list. Credulous Judy is often heard saying "I believe it" or bemoaning her history class.

RALPH COSENTINO

Ralph has a special interest in cars and plans to become an auto mechanic after he finishes high school. High on his list of favorites are rock 'n' roll, football, baseball and auto-marine mechanics.

DAVID COTTEN

Dave and fun just seem to go together, for wherever there's one you'll find the other. His activities include selling programs at the football games and boating on the Navesink. Dave plans to go into religious work after college.

JOHN COTTINGHAM

John, a future mechanical engineer, has a special talent for photography and takes pictures for the Buc and the Log. He won the photography award in 1959 and plans to attend Rutgers or Drexel Institute of Technology.

ROBERTA COUDRIER

Blonde Bertie is a swimming and boating enthusiast. Lunch seems to be her favorite subject and any stable food suits her. Sewing occupies some of her idle time. After graduation she plans to major in merchandizing at a business school.

ELIZABETH DAL PRA

Pretty and polite Betty Lou can usually be found talking on the telephone, listening to records or dancing. Her famous last words are "good enough." When she finishes high school Betty plans on attending New York University to study retailing.

LARRY DALTON

Amiable Larry, a native Red Banker, likes to go horseback riding or play football and, on week ends, go to the movies. He enjoys all foods, his shop class and "Red River Rock." Army life is what he wants in the future.

MARY DARNALL

Gifted with an artistic talent, little Gnat spreads her good humor wherever she appears. With a teaching career in view, Mary's college choice is the University of Michigan. Spare ribs and limeade rate with her as chic foods.

CHARLES DAVIS

Charlie, an indispensable member of our Bowling Club, likes to hunt, fish or play baseball. Rating high on his list of pet peeves are school and books. As for week ends, he likes to landscape his home or take a long drive.

NORMAN DEACY

A cheerful fellow at all times, Norman is a real comedian. Football and food are his special likes, while sleeping also rates high. A Navy career is in Norman's crystal ball and his million will come from horse races.

CLARENCE DEAN

One of the leading vocalists of the class and a song writer, Clarence is also a sports enthusiast. After studying at the Watchtower Bible School, Clarence, a member of the "Fidelitones", hopes to carry his religion to others as a missionary.

THOMAS DEFOREEST

Tom, whose ambition is to graduate from Lehigh as an engineer, has been active in Camera Club, Audio-Visual Aids and Jazz Club. On week ends Tom can be found working hard to keep his white car white or eating roast beef.

JUDITH DEMORJIAN

Studying Armenian and chemistry are two of Judy D's favorite pastimes. Excelling in Spanish, she held the female lead in the prize-winning competition at Rutgers for two years. With hopes of being a chemist, Judy is going to Drexel Institute of Technology.

MARGUERITE DE PIETRO

Marge, who has been an active member in the Secretarial Club, plans to become a secretary upon her graduation from Red Bank High. She dislikes conceited people, while she especially likes to try out her artistic talents by designing in her spare time.

JOHN DE SANCTIS

A future Rutgers man, John has shown his athletic abilities by being a varsity football man and a member of the golf and baseball teams. "What's happening?" can usually be heard from this future engineer.

JERALDINE DICKSON

Jeraldine, known as Jeri with the flaming hair and dancing feet, was the grey-haired principal in the Junior Play. An Honor Society member, Jeri plans to go to Wellesley. Social climbers and buses annoy the Copy Editor of the Buc.

SUSAN DOBSON

Sue goes for that flavor of excitement, since foreign correspondent work is her ambition. Douglass is the college she has chosen to train her for this work. At home mercurial Sue likes to relax sewing or reading good novels.

KENNETH DOCKRAY

A typical Texan, Ken is tall, dark and handsome. A teaching career in music is this accomplished violinist's aim. Model car building takes up his spare time. Ken, a past member of the Texas All State Orchestra, plans to go to Alabama State.

JOANN D'ONOFRIO

When not in class, cute JoAnn can usually be found at basketball games or holding conferences over the phone. Her dislike of Monday mornings didn't keep her from taking part in many school activities. A successful future awaits her in a secretarial career.

CHARLES DOREMUS

Clamdigger, an avid member of the "O'Connor Clan," spends most of his spare time sailing or going to parties. Known for his derby hats, Charlie's pet peeve is chronic complaining. He is looking forward to success in the art of floral designing.

MARGARET DOTTS

Talented and lively Margaret enjoys dancing, playing piano and reading, her favorite books being Alfred Hitchcock mysteries. She is all for sports and parties. Margaret, alias Surkey, plans to attend business school to become a secretary.

DIANA DURDACK

Although Dee had an active four years at RBHS, she always found time for swimming, dancing and sports. A staunch procrastinator, her favorite saying is "I'll do it later." Katherine Gibbs and a job as a private secretary make up her future.

JEAN DZIEZYK

Italian foods, records and homework occupy most of Shorty's time. Swimming and ice skating are her favored sports, while being the chief pest to all teachers is her somewhat disputed honor. Jean looks forward to a book-keeping career.

RONALD EBERT

Ronnie has an interest in sports which was evident from his participation in the soccer team at Teaneck High School. His other favorites include food, driving and dating. Ronnie's ambition is to enter the business world after service and college.

FREDERICK EDWARDS

His striped pants have earmarked Rick as the non-conformist among the boys. President of the Xaviers, tall Rick is also a connoisseur of fine foods. A career in medicine is his aim after attending Maryland or Duke University.

AUDREY EDMUNDS

Audrey's admirable ambition is to attend Beaver College in Pennsylvania and become an elementary school teacher. She says attending football games, being with the gang, horseback riding and eating submarine sandwiches are among her favorite past-times.

BARBARA ELY

Blonde Barb wants a career as a medical technician after her four years at Ursinus College. She always exclaims, "not a chance!" or "you're kidding, of course!" This cast member in the Junior play considers midnight telephone calls her hobby.

KAREN EVERMAN

Fun-loving "Kar" enjoys those Sunday trips with the gang, all Italian dishes and the song "Someone." Karen can be found cruising around or talking on the telephone. Her future plans call for attending airline school.

BARBARA FARRELL

Lucky is the business that gets Barbara as its secretary, for with her ability everything will run smoothly. Her dream to travel all over the United States will undoubtedly come true.

SUZANNE FERA

This sweet little miss can always be found on the telephone. Susie is bound for college, possibly N.Y.U., to become a buyer. Pizza, football and history are among her many likes.

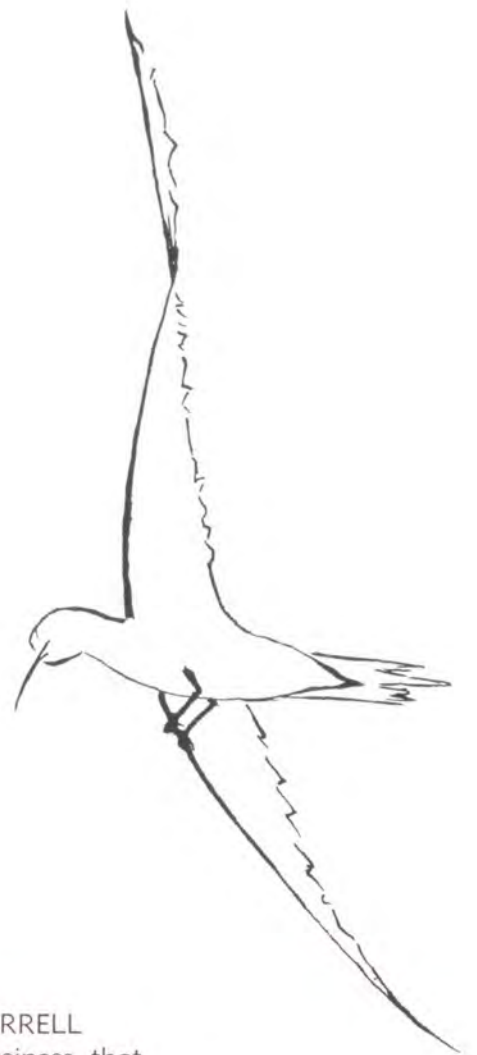

TERESA FERRO

Tiny Terry hopes to be a good cook. She enjoys collecting stuffed animals, bowling and horseback riding but hates to get up early. In the future Terry plans to become a saleswoman. If anything goes wrong you'll always hear "How embarrassing".

LEONA FERRER

Prudent and accomplished, Leona has shared with us her talent as a piano accompanist and bassoonist. Staying slim is one of her favorite projects, while Wheaton College and a doctorate in Psychology are the future plans for this Honor Society member.

RICHARD FISHMAN

Fish, who can usually be found driving around, "digs music the most." He has won many band awards and enjoys baseball, football and basketball. Rich plans to be a dentist and to attend Rutgers or Alfred.

KEVIN FITZGERALD

"Fitz," who comes to us from New Shrewsbury, hopes to be an engineer. He may enter the Navy after graduation. Football, baseball and golf are his favorite sports, and chemistry heads the academic list. It's a nod of approval for spaghetti from Kevin.

ALBERT FLEMER

On week ends Bert can be found at the movies or football games. He hopes to become a nurseryman after serving in the Navy. In his book Rock'n'Roll is out, but pizza and progressive jazz are tops.

PATRICIA FLORIO

Perky Pat enjoys participating in water sports and listening to records. Cheats and gossips rate low on her list, and her favorite comment is "Really!" Pat plans to go to college and to become a medical technician. The future sees her at the University of Pennsylvania.

KARIN GAMEL

After majoring in international relations or foreign service, Karin's ambition is to travel and to visit Moscow. Marksmanship and letter writing are her favorite pastimes. Anything by Nat "King" Cole constitutes superb listening, while good fun consists of those West Point and Princeton week ends.

EDITH GARGULIO

Edith's ambition is "to make all women beautfiul" after she has attended beauty culture school. Tall and quiet, she loves to have a good time with the gang. Those who think they are sages are avoided by Edith.

JOHN GARLAND

Singing Johnny, known to all his pals as "Baby Son," plans to study aeronautical engineering in order to be fully equipped in his career as a military pilot. Model airplanes and singing are among the pastimes of this newly elected Honor Society member.

JOHN GATTA

Towering over the rest of his team-mates, Jake has been a consistently good man on the varsity football team. Collecting jazz albums and enjoying the music at Birdland constitute Jake's other interests. A football career in college is his immediate aim.

JOAN GEILE

A whiz on the ice rink, Joan also shows fine judgment at the bowling alleys. Trenton State and elementary school teaching are in her crystal ball, while at present Joan seems to love Mr. Henyon's advanced history class.

ERNEST GERONI

Ernie has plans for eventually opening his own barber shop, perhaps after a term in the Navy. Talented in producing real jazz on his saxophone, Ernie disapproves of rock'n' roll music. His other interests include golf and cars.

JANET GERST

"For crying out loud" means Jan is in the crowd. This future history teacher plans to be well equipped in handling her students by also majoring in psychology. She loves sports, parties and dances, but dislikes noseys or conceited people.

ANNE GIBBONS

Annie is one of those girls who really gets out and does something for the class. An art major at Montclair State followed by a high school teaching career form her future plans. A majorette, Annie lists two faced people at the bottom.

JOHN GRAMBOR

Chemistry minded Jack can often be found practicing his marksmanship with the bow and arrow. With intentions of becoming a biochemist, Jack plans to attend Rutgers or Penn State. Windy teachers have always given him a rough time.

JAMES GRANATO

Looking forward to entering school and becoming a barber, Jimmy also has plans of entering the Marines. Among his likes he counts basketball, swimming, French fries and movies. Beatniks and jazz are definitely off beat with Jim.

AMELIA GRANDINETTI

"Window watching" and talking are two of Meal's usual time consumers. She hopes to complete a two year liberal arts course at Monmouth College. Sportswise, swimming and bowling are her meat.

FRANK GRASSO

A veteran member of the band, Frankie plays a "wild" trumpet. Collecting jazz albums is a favorite hobby, but he is never found buying one of those rock 'n' roll ones. To own his own barber shop is Frankie's aim.

DOUGLAS GRAY

Doug, a sports car and fishing enthusiast, can often be found in his Singer 1500. Automotive engineering lies in his future. Popular Doug's many contributions to the school include being Freshman Class Treasurer and President of the Student Council.

SHIRLEY GREENE

Bouyant and vivacious Shirl makes good use of her voice not only on the telephone, but also as an actress. This Feature Editor of the Log, who was Kyle Roberts in the Junior Play, plans to attend college and major in literature. This gal likes to do anything that's fun!

PETER GRUDIN

Pete considers the three B's of music to be Brubeck, Bach and Blakey, while Shakespeare is the ultimate in reading. Editor of the Buc and author of a published poem, Pierre hopes to become a writer after going to Harvard.

ANTHONY GUALTIERI

Ants would like to attend Rider College and become an accountant. Tony, whose hobbies are baseball, basketball and the "Xaviers," would also like to enter the Air Force. Always with a zesty comment, he adds to any class, especially lunch—his favorite.

WILLIAM HACK

Bill, one of the handsome lifeguards at Ship Ahoy Beach Club, is quiet but efficient. College and a major in math are in Bill's future. On week ends he likes to go riding in his car and to stop for a pizza along the way.

JOHN HADLEY

To become a Beatnik and own the world will placate John — for his tastes are discriminating. Conservative party crashing, hunting, Mad and hot rods round off his square edges. Heading for college, he will first enroll in the Navy's three year plan.

ROBERT HAFFA

Aspiring to West Point, Bob intends to make a career of the Army. As President of the class our Junior year, and as a member of the Xaviers, he shows us his unique personality. Football and music also capture his interest.

DUDLEY HAGER

Known for his collection of rare signs, Dud aspires toward a career as a collegiate Smokey Bear. Translated freely, he is planning to study the forestry profession at Rutgers. Week ends find Dud boating or playing hockey—in season.

LOUIS HALL

"No, no!" Louie denies. "I am not a walking freckle." Always on the lookout for a person with an everlasting gum machine, Monsieur Louis didn't seem to find it in his French I class. A career with the government seems to be his ambition.

LINDA HAMBLÉN

Always full of fun, Linda, who turned gray for the Junior Play, would like to attend college to get a R.N. and a B.S. Winning the Penguin races at Monmouth Boat Club is Linda's favorite weekend pastime, while, in school, history is her shining light.

NANCY HAMLIN

Versatile Nancy is quite an individualist . . . A member of All State Orchestra and Shore Conference Band, she was also President of the Gym Leader's Club. Nancy, who is Treasurer of the Honor Society and the Log's Literary Editor, always has original ideas.

SARAH HARP

A newcomer this year, Sally is loved for her laughter by all who know her. This accounts for her nickname, Angel. Quite a French scholar in her former school, she has chosen to become a biological lab technician after college.

WAYNE HARRISON

Good-natured Wayne's "devil may care" attitude characterizes him as an easy going chap. Butch is known for his collection of guns with which he likes to tinker. Playing football occupies some of his spare time.

LLOYD HASLAM

Good looking and fun loving Lloyd is known for his amusing expression "you big dummy!" Lloyd is an ardent sports fan and also likes to tinker with autos. After graduation he plans to attend Rutgers to become a laboratory director.

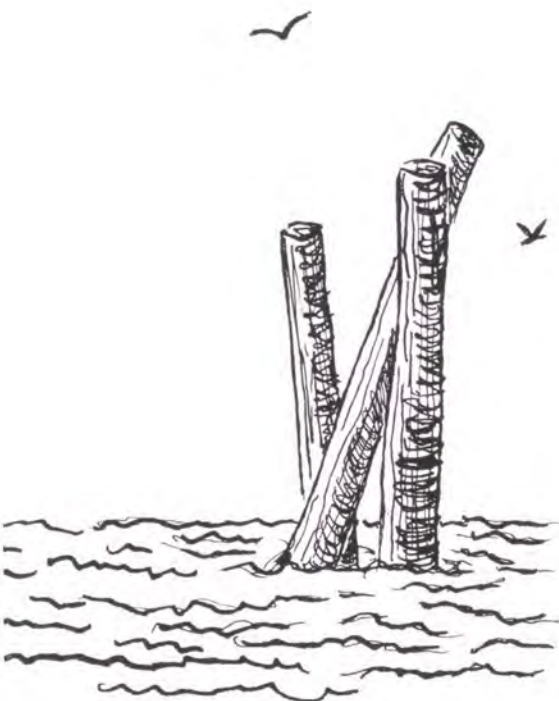

MARY HAWN

Intelligence, good looks and a sweet personality distinguished Mare as a really popular senior. Mare is an all around miss, who goes in for dramatics and enjoys dancing. This statuesque senior shouldn't have any trouble in attaining her ambition of becoming a model.

JOHN HAYDEN

Buddy is tall, dark and handsome with a slow, infectious grin. His interests are football and swimming; but has anyone ever seen him not surrounded by a group of girls? This popular senior plans to attend Duke after graduation.

NANCY HIGHT

Nancy, who likes to be with the crowd, reigns as one of our head majorettes. She plans to attend college for two years and then become a dental hygienist. In her spare time she enjoys reading, dancing, sewing and asking, "Where's Heather?"

WILLIAM HOFFMANN

Easy going Bill has a good disposition. We hope his character will stay the same, for Bill will be one of those Army M. P.'s and then a state policeman. He won't get any traffic tickets, because horseback is the way he likes to travel.

ROBERT HOLLEY

Future veterinarian Bob, who loves to spend a day at a horse show or a golf match, is a newcomer to Red Bank from way out west in Lawton, Oklahoma. We will certainly be looking for his shingle one of these days.

WILFRID HOPWOOD

Upon graduation Bill is going to kill two birds with one stone by fulfilling his ambition of being an engineer while he's working for Uncle Sam. Earnest and hardworking, Bill's philosophy is "Love the world and everything that's in it!"

PATRICIA HORNBERGER

Talented Pat has carried the name of Red Bank far with her outstanding achievements as a flutist. An Honor Society member, Pat claims French is la language magnifique. Smith College will find an excellent all around student next year in Patty.

ANTHONY HOWARD

That Tony is one of the foremost students of the class was shown in his election to Boys' State last year. Also a top athlete on the basketball team, Big Ants plans to attend Villanova to study business or education.

PETER HUBBARD

Pete, one of the few in our generation who actually likes classical music, is headed for Rutgers and medical college. A quiet but fun loving fellow, he was a first place winner at the Rutgers Science Fair and electronics is his hobby.

EDWARD JACOBI

Ed, whose hobby is coin collecting, wants to attend college and become a chemical engineer. He dislikes homework and Caesar, yet he likes books about history and war. On week ends he enjoys sleeping and his standard saying is, "Working is against my philosophy."

CAROL JACOBUS

Good-natured, diligent Carol, a Spanish National Honor Society member, loves to relax on week ends by reading books and listening to records. Happy will be the executive who gets Carol for a secretary, for with her excellent training at Katherine Gibbs she'll be well-equipped.

KATHRYN JAMES

Rey, a great sportswoman and student, held the lead in the Junior play in her former school. Her lifetime ambition is to keep Chuck happy; while camping or motorcycle trips are the only things for which she will get up early.

SUE JOHNSON

"Hi there" means Sue, our future high school history teacher, is whizzing by to some activity. This buzzy bee, who adores, baseball, football, pizzas and turkey with the trimmings, is always trying to maneuver a trip to some place.

MARJORIE JORDAN

Margie, whose ambition is to become an elementary school teacher, plans to attend Ursinus and major in history and English. On week ends she likes to travel and get away from it all, especially that crowded cafeteria at Red Bank High.

LINDA KACHEL

Lively Linda is fond of swimming and sailing. As secretary of our class and the county Student Council, Linda can always be found doing more than her job requires. Her future plans include college, followed by a career in medicine.

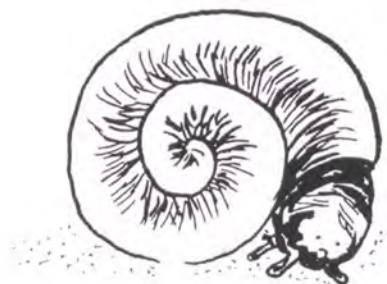

HELEN KARDOS

Wherever there is a crowd, you'll find "Mickey." Helen's ambition is to go to Antioch College and become a psychologist or social worker. Driving, parties, jazz and having fun are Helen's current interests.

CAROL KELLY

Noted for her acting as Miss Moran in the Junior Play, Carol is usually found talking when she's not reading a good book. Carol will be up in the clouds as an airline hostess after attending Katherine Gibbs.

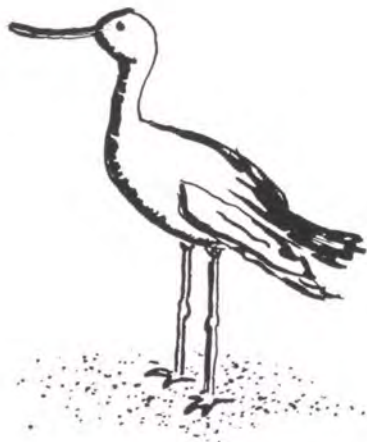

SUSAN KEMP

Sports-minded Sue enjoys swimming, basketball and football games. She plans to go to college, but is undecided as to which one. She dislikes conceited people, but loves "chocolate, anything chocolate."

RICHARD KINNEY

Water-loving Rich plans to serve his country by joining the Coast Guard. Rich's ambition is to go to Glassboro College and become a teacher. As his week-end pastime, he likes to ride around, go to parties and go on short trips.

LYNN KISSEL

Lynn is always going somewhere, for staying still is against this pretty blonde's principle. Lynn, who wants to be an illustrator, has lent her artistic talents to all of our class dances and to the Log. "Gad-zooks" is her usual reaction to surprises.

LAWRENCE KIRBY

Known by all for his good humor, Larry has made himself popular by sharing his many talents with all. The field of medicine or agriculture is Larry's choice of study at the University of Delaware. Lazy people rate low on his list.

LAWRENCE KRAKOWITCH

Larry can be found sleeping, eating or tinkering around with his short wave radio. "Tom Dooley", lobsters and chinese food top Larry's list of favorites. Rutgers, a career in chemical engineering and the Air Force are Larry's ambitions.

MADELON KREIGER

Madie's ambition is to attend Casenovia Junior College and study to become a medical secretary. She can usually be found shopping or dancing. Those tiny, one foot square pocketbooks annoy her, and long telephone conversations bore this blonde senior.

DIANE KRONGELB

Loquacious Di proposes to make elementary education her major at the University of Massachusetts. Jan, Schreiber and Daryl keep Di busy when she's not working or studying her French. "So what's new with you?" is the usual greeting from Diane.

RONALD LAPIN

Ronnie, a newcomer, has been captain of almost every sports team in his school at one time or another. He plans to become a doctor after studying at Rutgers. Among his honors are science and sports awards from his former school.

SUSAN LAVERICK

Susie, "Maverick with an L," our cute head cheerleader, loves those trips to West Point on week ends. Her well acted part in the Junior Play started Susie on her way to fulfilling her ambition to go into the dramatic field.

DONALD LEEGER

Hunting, fishing and archery seem to consume most of amiable Don's time. Looking forward to an engineering career after college, Freckles has been an active member of the Industrial Arts Club for four years. "Gee whiz!" is Don's usual reaction to surprises.

MARGARET LEONARD

Margie, a faithful member of the Distributive Education Club, has a definite aversion for vegetables, but shrimp cocktail and lettuce rate tops with her. Horseback riding and swimming are also two of her favorite pastimes. She plans to become a beautician.

JOANN LEROY

Little one, who plans to become a nurse, wants to attend Manhattan General Hospital. Included in her hobbies are cooking, sewing and roller skating. In school, she especially enjoyed Biology with Mr. Deland.

BRENDA LEWIS

Arranging parties and cornering people into committees at the Monmouth Boat Club and at her church are two of Bren's most interesting duties. Her affinity for animals appears to be leading her to a veterinarian career after college.

GRANT LEWIS

Grant is often seen driving around in a '59 Olds or lying on the beach. He likes baseball, football and swimming. One of his hobbies is eating, and steak and turkey are among his favorite foods. His future plans include attending Monmouth College.

GEORGE LONG

One of the key men on our football team, George also excels in baseball and was chosen to be on the All Shore Conference baseball team. His future plans include college coaching.

JUDITH LONG

Artistic Judy loves to work on color schemes, but finds that the Buccaneer and heading the Majorettes takes much of her time. New York City and "Ye gads!" are favorites with this tall brunette Pembroke and campus life are just around the bend.

THOMAS LoPRESTI

Hunting and target practice are two of Tom's favorite pastimes. In the classroom, however, math and science intrigue him, and a career in one of these fields is his future goal. Playing the trumpet keeps Tom busy at home.

PETER LUCAS

Luke, an enthusiastic sports fan, is often found shooting baskets or taking long, lazy swims. Girls and cars take up the remainder of his time, and Uncle Sam's navy awaits him next year. Any kind of rock'n' roll sounds good to Pete's ears.

SANDRA LUCIAN

Sandye, the girl with the sparkle, plays in the school band and orchestra. She plans to return to her native Colorado to study physical therapy and do a lot of skiing on the side.

TERESA LUCISANO

Frank Sinatra and jazz rate high for this pert, vivacious girl, but rock 'n' roll is strictly out with Terry. Cheering the team to victory and presiding over L'Espanol have kept her on her toes. A career as a beautician and marriage are next.

LOUIS MANNELLO

Lou, who wants to become a teacher, plans to attend either Trenton State or Monmouth College. He likes to watch the wrestling matches on television and gets his exercise by driving around in his car. He also enjoys history and English.

MARIE MARASCIO

Burie, a quiet little girl, plans to become a fashion designer after leaving Red Bank High. She practices for her vocation now by sketching and designing while listening to her favorite records or while munching on some roast beef.

STANLEY MARGERUM

This future Rutgers student plans to go into engineering as a career. His hobbies: girls and driving a 1952 Ford. Steak and French fries rate in the food line. He likes to take it easy over week ends.

OLIVIA MARTIN

Liv's ambition is to become a pediatric nurse. Strangely enough, one of her hobbies is collecting sugar from all over the world! This lively girl, who was a three-year member of the French Club, plans to attend Duke University.

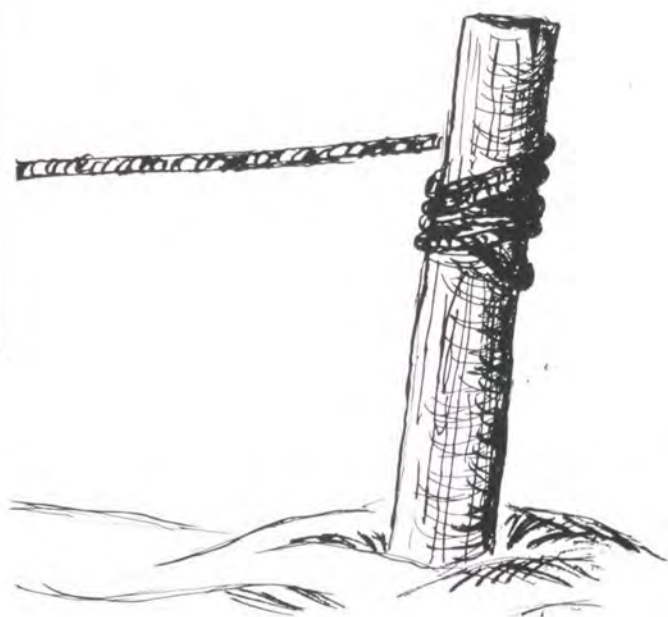

BRUCE MATTHEWS

Bruce, who is usually seen in his Austin Healey, can also be found motor boating. Hockey games are a favorite of his, and Latin rates first on his scholastic list. Next year he will be off to Lehigh to study metallurgical engineering.

BRUCE MAY

Big Bru has served the class well all through high school by being Vice President of the Freshman Class and President of the Sophomore Class. A tall, dark and handsome lifeguard in the summer, Bruce plans to attend Newark College of Engineering after graduation.

DOROTHY MAZZA

Dottie can usually be found in a certain person's Mercury. She plans to continue working for her mother in the Variety Store after high school graduation. In her spare time Dottie likes to either swim or dance.

FRANK MAZZA

Frank J. is Red Bank High School's golf pro. On week ends he can be found in his black Olds at the drive-in or at one of the crowd's parties. After high school the Army is this sportsman's next step.

JAMES MAZZA

Jimmy plans to be a mechanic; this accounts for the fact that he spends all his spare time remodeling his car. He gives thumbs down to conceited girls. On the other hand, he is always ready for spaghetti and meatballs.

JO-ANNE McMULLEN

Jo shows us her leadership by serving as Co-head of the Flag Twirlers, Assistant Layout Editor of the Log and chairman of a different committee for almost every class event. She plans to attend Syracuse University and then become an interior architect.

ALICE MERRILL

Alice many times gets that glint in her beautiful green eyes which precludes her jovial moods. With a motto of "Prejudice towards none," she spends her moments perdus working with children and intends to teach elementary school upon graduation from college.

ROBERT MINEHARDT

Known by his friends as Dawson, Bob is always friendly to everyone and is well-liked. He plans to go to college, possibly Rutgers, and become a pharmacist. On week ends he likes to take short trips or just sleep.

IRENE MONROE

Efficient and resourceful Irene is well qualified to fulfill her ambition of becoming a clerk typist. She enjoys athletics, especially bowling and basketball, and is known for her good sportsmanship. In her extra moments Rennie takes pleasure in sewing.

LOUISE MONROE

Sports-gal Weese, commonly heard to say, "You know my scream, Brylcream, a little dab will do you," is looking forward to a job as a stenographer with a reputable firm, to good materials with which to work, and to a good salary.

LARRY MOORE

Lar enjoys coin collecting, bowling, archery and naval stories. His favorite expression is "Give it up!"; and he looks forward to week ends and football games. Larry hopes to go into the electronics field in the future.

PHILIP MULLER

Artistically talented Butch, often heard to exclaim, "This must be the place," is interested in water skiing and reading war stories. He has a stockpile of honors in art and plans to become an art teacher.

PAULA MURDICO

Peppy Paula, known for "Navy, Navy, Navy" and her class support, plans to attend Trenton State College. A habitual telephone conversationalist and letter writer, Paula vows she doesn't like gossips. This Honor Society member participated in Student Government Day at Freehold.

JOAN MURPHY

Auburn hair and green eyes, a soft "Hi!", and a quick change of mood, and you've met Joanie. Princeton brings a twinkle to her eye, but physics is apt to take it away. After college she's off to Europe.

RITA MURPHY

This dramatist has spread Red Bank's name far by winning first place in the Forensic League's National District Tournament. Planning a psychology career, quick-witted Rita has spent most of her free time talking in Forensic League, International Relations and Philosophy clubs.

CAROLINA NANNINI

Wherever people are having a good time, Carol will be found, for her name is synonymous with fun. Carol's winning personality and lovely features have made her popular with all and naturally, conceited girls get a negative nod from her.

CONRAD NEWMAN

Sketchbook in hand and a winning smile are Conrad's special trademarks. Blond Conrad is known for his exceptional talents as an artist and a dancer, while his good humor will find him friends in any situation.

BARBARA NICKERSON

Good-natured Barb enjoys driving her own car, talking on the phone and dancing. Her favorite subject is typing, in which she received a typing certificate. Barb's plans after school include training for an airline hostess's position at the McConnell Airline School.

LAWRENCE NIELSON

Larry is enthusiastic about all things pertaining to horses and horse racing. He is known for his happy-go-lucky disposition and ready smiles. English rates high on his study list, and he plans to go to Vermont University.

GAIL NOLAN

Gail, who hopes to be a good secretary, enjoys swimming in her extra time. Tennis, ice cream and hamburgers are also her favorites, as well as her English and home economics classes. A gregarious person, Gail likes to be with her friends.

PETER NORMINGTON

Pete, known for his audible voice, enjoys boating, fishing and swimming. An honor student, he often uses his talents for puzzle solving and Log work. Pete's plans include a college education in preparation for a career in electrical engineering.

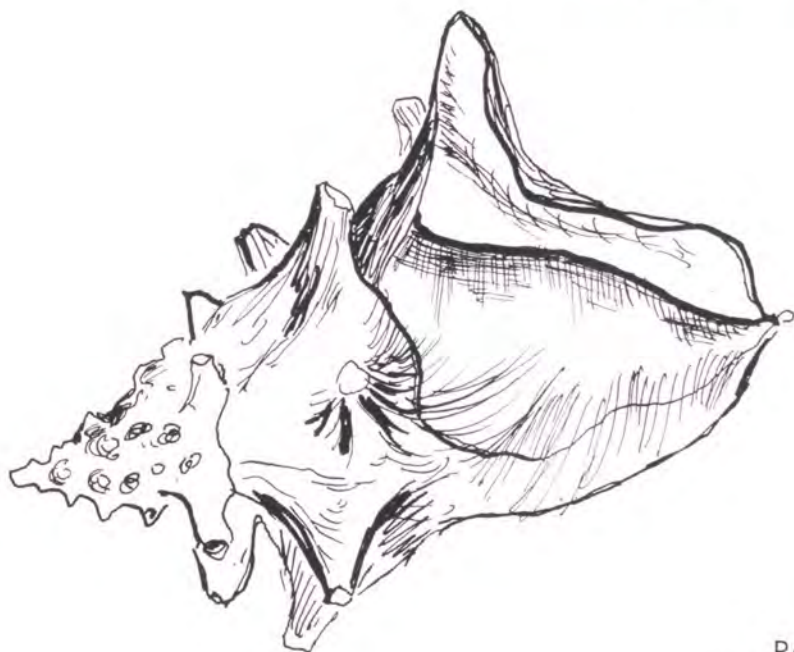

ROSELYNN NORTON

Vivacious Roselynn hopes to attend Monmouth College to study business, and then go out into the world as a medical secretary. Love stories and Italian foods top her list of favorites. To fill her spare time, "Rosie" likes to write letters and sew.

JOHN OLSCHESKE

Carefree Johnny loves sports and good times. He enjoys golf, basketball, swimming and dates. After graduating, John would like to attend a trade school in New York and then enter the Air Force. When it comes to cogitating, history is his favorite topic.

PAUL ORYLL

Athletic Paul takes to swimming, football, ice skating and baseball. The Air Force is his first step after graduation. On week ends Paul can be found with the boys, playing ball or sleeping. Pop music, turkey and watermelon are just a few of his diversions.

RUTH OSBORN

Dimples, who plans to be a successful business woman, enjoys collecting records, painting and eating. Although she dislikes those early morning awakenings, history class cheers her up. Skating, swimming, spaghetti, pizza and French fries are among her other favorites.

STEVEN PALMER

Quick-witted Steve always has an answer in math class and a pun in other gatherings. The Log's Editor in Chief, he deserves praise for coordinating the yearbook. Steve turned out many a "wild" hotdog at the football games too.

HARVEY PARENT

An ardent sportsman, Skip can be found brushing up on his football tactics in his extra time. Skip's philosophy is "What, me worry?" He intends to put in his service with Uncle Sam in the near future.

WILLIAM PARKELL

Big, redheaded Bill has that quality of being ubiquitous. His easy going personality has made him popular with all and got him his disc jockey position at WJLK. Bill, Sports Editor of the Log, is admired for his deep, resonant, singing voice.

GAYLE PATERSON

Gayle, who is a cooking fan and Spanish enthusiast, enjoys sewing and baby sitting. Rocks, fish and plants get her nod as fancies, while rude people rank as undesirables. Her future holds plans for Monmouth College and a career in nursing.

ELIZABETH PAXTON

Classy Betty Ann likes to go to parties and dances. "Man, like wow!" she exclaims about a spaghetti dinner. Bookkeeping and algebra are Betty's favorites, while snobbish people rankle her. Her future plans are to attend Pratt Institute and become a dress designer.

FLORENCE PEPE

Popular Flo could be heard at the football concession yelling, "Where's Paula?" Mathematics, week ends in New York and riding around town top her list of favorites. In the future our Spanish Honor Society's Treasurer looks to Trenton State Teachers' College.

ALEXANDER PERLSTEIN

Fun-loving Sandy can be found eating pizza or French fries, or listening to a hi-fi set. A member of the Spanish National Honor Society, he ranks Spanish as his favorite subject. He plans for a career in business administration.

LYNNE PETERSON

Versatile Lynne counts as her hobbies stamps, model planes and golf. She loves mystery stories, but dislikes taking showers in gym. Mechanical drawing is Lynn's favorite subject, and after high school she plans to attend Palm Beach Junior College.

SUSAN PHIFER

Sue, one of our pretty majorettes, won the Necchi Sewing Award in 1958. She dislikes going to the dentist, but collecting rock 'n' roll records, pizza, badminton and Home Economics would assuage her. After high school she plans to be a typist.

CAROL PHIFER

Carol, a letter-writing fan, likes to date on week ends. Her favorite food is chow mein and her favorite sport is swimming. Carol plans to become a secretary, and after graduation she will enroll at Mrs. O'Shea's Business Institute.

BARBARA PHIPPS

Steak, Distributive Education and football games are rated high with Barb, while nosy people are rated low. Marriage preceded by a job at Steinbachs or a hitch in the Waves are in Bobby's future. Sleeping late and Saturday night dates are always favorites on the week end.

JANET PICK

Proficient in everything from school work to sailing, Bunny is always busy but willing to lend a hand in anything. A National Honor Society member, she is known for her big smile and her good-humored gullibility. It's college life at Bucknell next.

SUE ANN PICKERING

Sue can be seen at the Future Homemakers of America meetings where she is one of the V.I.P.'s. Collecting picture post cards, bowling and mountain climbing are tops; but conceited boys and insincere people rate low with Sue.

JOHN PINGATORE

Ping has no real dislikes, but "Chazam," pizza, spaghetti and mystery stories are tops. On week ends he likes to sleep late and loaf the rest of the day. Golf is his special hobby, and in the future he wants to become a criminal lawyer.

RENEE PITTIN

A confirmed nonconformist, Renee lists reading modern poetry and developing new marking systems as her hobbies. She enjoys working with words and her philosophy is "Don't let it grab you." Her immediate future includes a science major at the University of Arizona or Stanford.

AARON RASSAS

Aaron, an entry from Shrewsbury, rates fishing, pizza, boating and history high, but algebra and stuck-up people are rated low. It's a good thing Rass likes to read, because the future holds Bucknell or Dickinson for a career in law.

JAMES RENNICK

Carefree Jim enjoys driving, parties and good times. On week ends he just takes it easy and watches his financial status. His favorite subject is history, which certainly will help him in his desire for a career with the State Department.

ALEXANDER RENZO

Husky Alley plans to enter the Marines after graduation. His hobbies include rock 'n' roll, girls, football, basketball and baseball. Tops are book-keeping, ravioli and "Oh heck" as a favorite expression. On week ends Alex will always be found everywhere but at home.

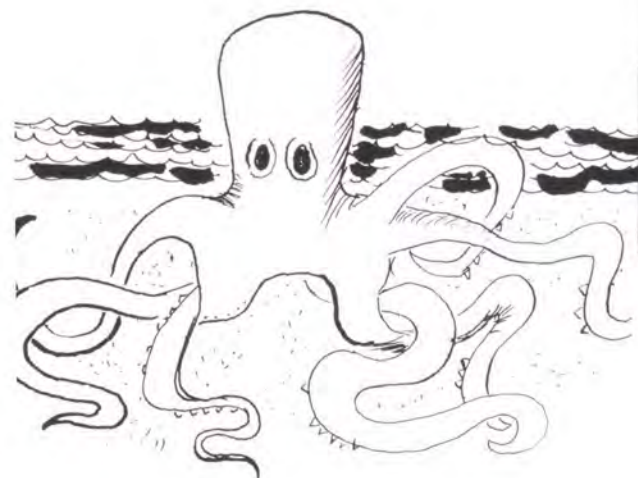

NANCY REUSSILLE

Twice our Business Manager and a Color Guard, Nance was a Student Government Day representative. "Blue Moon," vanilla milk shakes and French fries really rate with her. Spare time means water-skiing or college football games for this active twin.

PATRICIA REUSSILLE

Trish's sincerity and good looks have collected a mountain of well-deserved honors for her. Playing the lead in the Junior Play and attending Girl's Citizenship Institute are two of the highlights of diligent Pat's fully packed high school days.

IRENE RITTERMAN

A music lover, "I" is an ardent collector of jazz albums. Her future plans include Trenton State College where she will train to become an elementary teacher. Her talent at the piano will be an asset in this career.

EDWARD ROBINSON

Easy-going Ed's pleasures include reading and basketball. History ranks tops in school for Ed, and he digs crazy jazz. He dislikes injustice and violence. On week ends you can find El Chico at parties, at movies, or riding around.

HELEN ROBINSON

Helen intends to go to the Monmouth Medical Center or the Apex School of Beauty Culture for nursing or beautician work. Her favorite expression is "Maintain your coolness." "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" tops her song list.

WILLETTE ROBINSON

Willette, alias Billie, is always on the go. Her ambition is to become a veterinarian and attend the University of Pennsylvania. On week ends we find Willette at dances, in the movies or at parties.

ARTHUR ROSS

Art. called Weasel by his cronies, says his ambition is to pass a Latin test. Seriously, he is an Honor Society member and would like to attend M.I.T. Always with an answer in math, he plans to make engineering his career.

DONALD ROSS

Ambitious Don plans to be an engineer. He enjoys boating, skiing and bowling as hobbies, and chemistry as a school subject. He is known by his favorite expression "Good Show."

ANDRE ROVITO

Andy, who likes to "have a blast" on week ends, plans to go to beautician's school and become a hair stylist. His hobbies are cars, music and girls, and he likes all foods. His favorite sports are basketball and football.

JOAN RUDROW

Joanie, who is known for her high notes and smart clothes, is a vivacious girl. Her hobbies include sewing, dancing and bowling. On week ends she likes to attend parties or go bowling.

MARION RYSER

Marion, whose ambition is to become a secretary, served as Secretary of our Junior Class. During school hours she enjoys typing, while on week ends she serves as one of our Majorettes.

MARJORIE RYSER

Margie (I'm so embarrassed) Ryser has been one of our high-stepping color guards for three years. Eating Italian foods, listening to favorite discs and horseback riding rate high with her. The future holds a secretarial position for this pretty twin.

BRENDA SADLER

Buoyant Brenda has made good use of her small but beautiful voice by singing in the Choralettes for three years. Also a flag twirler and Secretary of the Honor Society, Bren, who hails from the South, will attend Mary Washington College.

EVELYN SAMUELSON

Having been an active member of the Future Homemakers of America, Sammy would now like to continue her interest in becoming a home economics teacher. In her spare time she likes to paint, swim or sew, but dislikes washing dishes.

JAMES SANFORD

Jimmy, affectionately called Belly by his teammates, is the key man on the football squad's center position. He likes to play the drums and on week ends he can be found at the drive-in or at the best parties.

CHRISTINA SANTANGELO

Chris likes to dance and listen to anything sung by Frank Sinatra. She is Caption Editor of the Log, a member of the National Honor Society, and a very active class member. Chris is noted for her renditions of "Ave Maria" at Latin conventions.

MARGARET SANTORO

Pretty Peggy with those sparkling eyes always adds life to any group. The University of Miami will be her starting place in a home economics career. One of our Spanish-speaking students, Peggy is also a member of the Major-ette Club and a habitual nator.

ROBERT SCHANCK

Math-loving Peaches is known to all for his geniality and mischievous laugh. Although he spends much of his time working at Prown's, he can also be found at Monmouth Boat Club. An Honor Society member, Bob hopes to attend Ursinus.

ALAN SCHER

Al is bound for Newark State College to become a high school art teacher. Oil painting, photography, cars and girls rank high on his list. Baseball, basketball, science-fiction books and Southern fried chicken are also among his favorites.

DONALD SCACCIA

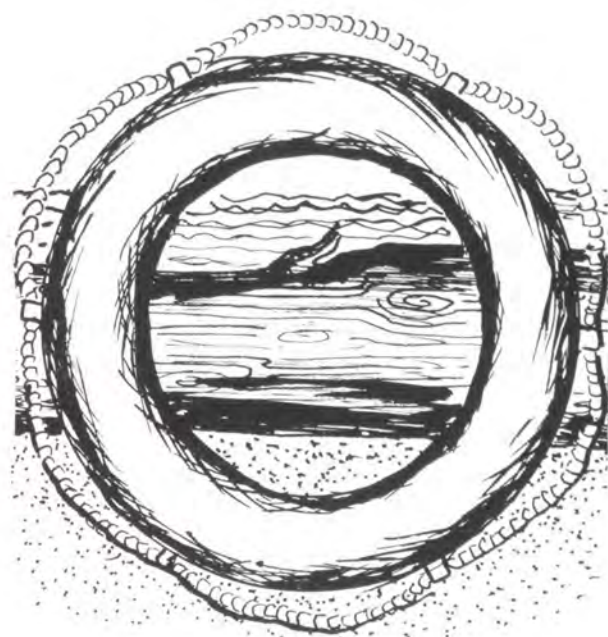

Thirp is likely to be found any hour of the day or night beating out some cool jazz on his drums. He has been an active member of the Student Council, the Executive Board, and the Band.

STEVEN SCHER

One of our Spanish enthusiasts, Steve claims he dislikes society and would rather draw pictures of it than become a part of it. However, we know he will be a good natured commercial artist, even with his beatnik proclivities.

JUDITH SCHREIBER

Judy, The Log's scriba, is one of the more gregarious members of the class and hopes to use this characteristic in a career of social work. In spare moments she likes to either sew, read, listen to music from Broadway shows or just loaf.

MARTA SCHROEDER

Strumming her guitar, sketching and "attempting" to play cards occupy Marta's spare time. Her "egads!" can often be heard at Forensic League meetings, and she's always an active participant in the Halloween window painting contests. She hopes for a singing career.

THOMAS SCOTT

Well-liked Tom makes use of his spare time by fishing. He is an avid fan of both football and baseball; and as for food, Tom enjoys those big, sizzling hamburgers. His future will be outlined in the Navy.

ROBERT SCOTT

Athletic Bobby, called Tuna or Tank by his teammates, is especially noted as the "best lineman and blocker" on the '58 grid squad. He lists eating, listening to jazz and dating as his hobbies. College and coaching football are in his future.

JOHN SESTITO

Jack, known for his art of making pizza, may some day be on our trails as a private detective. Another of his varied interests is in the postal department. During his spare time, Jack enjoys football, baseball and movies.

GLORIA SEWARD

Gloria's wide range of hobbies includes sports, dancing, singing and reading. Her pet peeve is people who try to be what they aren't. "Get wise" is oftentimes heard coming from her direction. Gloria's ambition is to become a beautician.

WILLIAM SEWARD

Willie spends his time listening to jazz records. Baseball, steak and the record "You're Mine" head his list of favorites. On week ends, Willie can be found with a certain someone from Long Branch. As for his future plans, it's the Air Force.

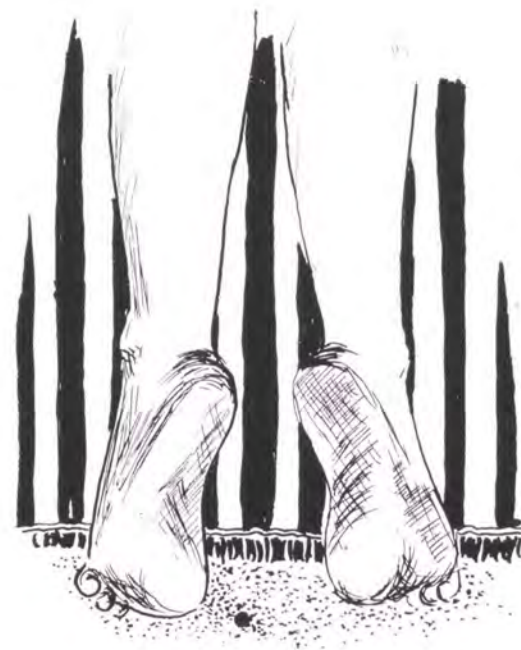

GEORGE SHELLY

George, labeled Moose, has the distinction of having won fifth prize in the Halloween painting contest. This has led him to indicate that he would like a career in art after attending Pratt Institute. Moose also goes for pool, basketball, and steak.

IRVING SHOMO

Mischievous Irkey, who has won several sports letters, is tops on the dance floor. Among his favorites is basketball, and it's thumbs down to people with all brains and no brawn. On week ends he can be found with his girl.

GWENDOLYN SHOWELL

Acting as Student Council treasurer for two years, Gwen has done more than her share in student activities. Nimble with a needle, her future lies in dressmaking. Gwen can be found at most football and basketball games adding to the school spirit.

JOANN SHUPACK

Our lively Log Sports Editor, Jo, also likes languages, especially Spanish and French. With a knack for a quick knit, Jo is known for making boat-neck sweaters. Shupie has decided that teaching high school is where she belongs after college.

SUSAN SILVER

Popular Sue is a girl who likes to listen to "old favorites," dance, or talk on the phone. A cast member of "Curtain Going Up," she has also been active in the Red Cross Council. She plans to enter the teaching profession.

SHARON SMITH

Sharon or "Red" as many call her, has that Bohemian look, which nowadays is necessary for a potential artist. Her hobbies are collecting books on horses and dogs and playing the bongo drums. She plans to attend the School of Visual Arts.

JUDITH SMITH

Artistically inclined, Judy can usually be found behind a sketch book or crawling over a mural. Smitty's activities, which keep her in a complete state of confusion, range from being Layout Editor of the Log to sailing her Wood-pussey.

BARBARA SNOVER

New to our class, Barbie is part of this year's corps of majorettes. Barbie will grace an office as a receptionist after attending business school. Her interests include everything from water-skiing, dancing and roller skating to her collection of stuffed animals.

KARL SOFFEL

Karl is one of the quiet members of the class of 1960. He enjoys electronics and plans to become a success in his chosen field. Karl's hobbies are stamp collecting and wood-working, and he also enjoys swimming and boating.

DALE SOHL

Dale's "Let's go kats" is well known around school. Always full of pep, Dale enjoys bowling and swimming. Around "Twilight Time" she enjoys French fries and tocas. In her spare moments she likes to knit and to attend games and movies.

JOSEPH SOVIERO

Lively Joe, a varsity letter winner, is one of our class cut-ups. When not "studying" he can be found outdoors, especially on the golf course. Basketball, baseball and Italian foods rate with Joe. Future plans include the Merchant Marine Navy.

DAVID SPENDIFF

Dave, our class Reb, played good football this last season. With a Southern twang in his voice, he'll tell "you-all" that his favorite pastimes are skin diving, hunting and stepping out with the boys or his best girl.

RALPH STEWART

Ralph, who likes to have a good time and lots of fun in everything he does, wants to become a machinist. He is a water-skiing fan, and practices often. On week ends he likes to go out.

ZOLTON SZEPLAKI

Zoli is interested in mathematics and, after graduation, will be headed for college to major in science. Drawing and swimming are his favorite hobbies. Also during his spare time he likes to watch television and to go visiting.

PAUL TAMBURELLA

T-bone would like to be a millionaire, but first he plans to go into the Marines. "Shucks," as his favorite expression, and pizza, as his favorite food, rate high, while loafing and swimming take up most of his spare time.

ROBERT TAYLOR

It's "anchors aweigh" with Bob, not only ahead in the Navy, but now as he works on the family boat. Going "full speed ahead" as usual, Bob will definitely leave Latin behind and set his course for Newark College of Engineering.

BARBARA THOMPSON

This girl with a mind of her own is intent upon becoming a doctor. Bobbi's ceramic work has brought acclaim from many, while those letters she writes are better than O. Henry's. The University of California will be her future stamping grounds.

PATRICIA TOMAINO

Writing letters is energetic Pat's hobby, an avid spectator at all our football and baseball games. This future elementary school teacher who sees Glassboro as her college choice counts Spanish as her favorite subject.

BARBARA TRAVIS

Casual Barb was seen as one of our first flag twirlers and is now one of the Senior members. Well-liked by all who know her, Barb is heading for a teaching career, and her aim is to make all her classes interesting.

NICKOLAS TRIGILI

Nicky, a jazz fan, can usually be found cutting up with the Band. He has been infected with shutter-bugitis, and therefore wants to pursue his studies in color photography. Week ends find him dating and eating Italian foods, of course.

GEORGE TUNSTALL

The future Dr. Tunstall, with a Ph. D. in chemistry will undoubtedly make a great contribution to the advancement of the space age. In the meantime besides being president of many clubs, this "whizz" enjoys swimming and eating shrimp.

DEANNA TURSINI

Dee's claims to fame are her sewing awards. Her hobbies include horseback riding, skating and swimming; and she'll eat practically any foods. Nursing, marriage and perhaps a trip to Florida squeezed in, are Dee's plans for the future.

ALONZO VAN SCHOICK

Al is known for his activities in the school orchestra. After high school he plans to divide his time between being an electrician and an ordained minister. A trip to Connecticut in his Cadillac fills his week end schedule.

HELEN VENTURINO

When not found riding in a '54 white Ford convertible, Helen may be found smothering a hamburger in onions, reading mysteries or watching a basketball game. A winner of shorthand speed certificates, Helen wants to be a secretary.

WESLEY WAINWRIGHT

Tall, and quiet, Wess can usually be found pursuing his favorite hobbies, collecting guns, fishing and hunting on the weekends. Wess will anchor himself with the Navy soon where he will probably find himself with the electrical engineers.

JACK WALLING

Jack, who is always "working hard," spends his extra hours toying with his souped-up car. A little hunting or football exercises this future Naval officer, and going to drive-ins or riding around provide his enjoyment on week ends.

JAMES WALSH

Jim counts tearing apart his smashed '53 Mercury, riding, swimming and listening to rock 'n' roll as his favorite pastimes. After graduation he plans to join the Navy or Marine Corps, and then go to college to major in animal husbandry.

WILLIAM WARREN

On week ends Bill can be found experimenting with hi-fi, reading Popular Mechanics or eating apple pie a la mode. His hobbies vary from electronics to auto mechanics. This jovial fellow is planning to study mechanics and join the Air Force.

JAMES WASHINGTON

Sporty James, our Booker T., enjoys track, football, basketball and all kinds of food. He likes commercial subjects best. He describes great things as being "lovely." After graduation he plans to join the Air Force.

DOROTHY WATSON

An ever-willing helper, Dottie has been very active in class activities and has kept up her good record by being Assistant Business Manager this year. Her hobbies include swimming and cooking. After college she aims to be a dental hygienist.

CURTIS WATKINS

Electricity comes first with Curtis in any situation. A quiet boy and a neat dresser, Curtis enjoys tinkering with his car. In the future a career as an electrician is the aim of this student of Ben Franklin.

RICHARD WEADER

Rich, Red Bank's own dilettante, engages in, among other things, astronomy, collecting military miniatures and building models. His future plans include attending Swarthmore engineering school. Physics, football, roast beef, and sea food rate as special preferences, while hard work is considered a definite dislike.

MAUREEN WEBB

A familiar face behind the desk at Mr. Hintze's office, Tootie can be found doing almost anything at Riverview when she's not in school. After high school Maureen plans to attend Lion's Institute, where she will train to be a doctor's assistant.

SANDRA WEBSTER

Congenial Sandy enjoys going places, meeting people, sporting the latest fashions and attending football and basketball games. Despising people who wait until the last minute, Sandy has made her future early, which include N.Y.U. and later, modeling school.

GEORGE WESTON

Science holds a high place in George's life. He regards physics and algebra as his favorite subjects and intends to further his interests by becoming an electrical engineer. For variation and enjoyment, George pursues the art of photography.

RICHARD WHITE

Little Richie's big ambition is to make money. An elongated submarine sandwich is tops with him, coupled with "auto mechanics and Sanford." Hailing from Eaton-town, Whitey likes to forget all about school on week ends. His future includes the Air Force.

THOMAS WHITE

On his serious side, Tommy's affirmed ambition is to become a journalist, and he lists seeing good plays as a hobby. Golfing and swimming hold his attention on week-ends. He plans to attend Boston University.

DORIS WHITMORE

This Executive Board member likes to dance and swim. Her favorite meal consists of pizza, dill pickles and Seven-Up. Dottie, who loves to spend a week end in New York, lists English as her favorite subject.

BARBARA WILLIAMS

Sweet Bobbie, a future nurse, counts reading fiction, attending football and basketball games, and going to parties and dances as her main interests. Her favorite subject is home economics, especially when called upon to make mashed potatoes, spinach and lamb chops.

EDITH WILLIAMS

Always gay and interested in having a good time, "Peanut" can be found wherever there's a lot going on. One of the locker room vocalists, Edith is a leading sports star. This Spanish National Honor Society member intends to be a secretary.

HEATHER WILLIAMS

Our popular redhead enjoys being with the "gang," as she showed by her prolific committee work throughout her busy high school life. Dental hygiene is Heather's chosen field, and she intends to go to the University of Pennsylvania.

GERALDINE WILSON

Gerri, quiet and blonde was a welcome addition to the class this year. Immature people get a negative nod from this recipient of a citizenship award and president of the Jackson, Michigan, Student Council. To become a speech correctionist is Gerri's aim.

LESLEY WILSON

This energetic worker used her talents on many committees, including dance decorations, cake sales, and program sales. Lesley, to whom all things are "good enough," plans to follow up her retailing education with a position as buyer for a department store.

BORDON WOLCOTT

Quiet Borden is known for his lack of height and his abundance of curls. He enjoys art and playing baseball, and his words usually have a western touch. Borden's near future will revolve around his enlistment in the Army.

CRAIG WOLCOTT

Commodore Craig's happy-go-lucky life centers around sailing his Comet and playing his trumpet. Craig, who is noted for his sense of humor, and who is recognized by his "spot", plans to attend Alfred University after graduation.

LILLIAN YAGGER

An energetic and very willing worker, five-foot Lillian finds relaxation in knitting and swimming. A model of modesty and honesty, Lil dislikes conceited people. Her mathematical ability will become an asset as she prepares for a teaching career at Trenton State.

JUNE YODICE

Amiable and attractive June served her class efficiently as treasurer for three years, and her school enthusiastically as a Cheerleader. An honor student, she looks forward to becoming a teacher. June is always busy, enjoying such activities as swimming and modeling.

ROCHELLE ZAREWICZ

"That's sharp" is a comment made famous by Rochelle, who plans to become a nurse. She enjoys football and basketball, and can regularly be found attending these events. Supplementing her school activities, Rochelle engages in such entertainment as bowling, cooking and dancing.

In Memoriam

WILLIAM CICCONE

There is no need to differentiate between those who knew Bill and those who liked him . . . He was as friendly and interesting a person as anyone could want, and the school, especially the seniors, will miss him terribly.

The Student Council

Once again this year the Student Council, the governing body of Red Bank High School, performed many services for the student body. The Council aimed for better student-teacher relations, school spirit, and student conduct.

As in previous years, the Council sponsored the selling of refreshments at basketball games, a Lost and Found Department, monthly dances, and transportation to away games.

The success of the many activities sponsored by the Student Council was largely due to the able guidance of Mr. George Saffa and the capable performance of the officers.

Every homeroom in the school is represented in the Student Council by elected delegates. Should a representative be absent from school on a meeting day, his place is taken temporarily by an elected alternate.

Standing, l. to r.: Wolfram Brueckmann, Vice-President; Doug Gray, President; Mr. George Saffa, Advisor.
Seated, l. to r.: Pat Hornberger, Recording Secretary; Gwen Showell, Treasurer; Carol Squire, Corresponding Secretary.

The Buccaneer

We got it out on time.

The Buccaneer, Red Bank High School's newspaper, strove to bring the news of the school closer to the students. Under the able direction of Mr. I. H. Falk, advisor, and Peter Grudin, Editor, the Buc was published monthly by and for the students.

The Buc room was the scene of much activity when the editors were on hand to make sure all pages were in order. Staff members and reporters dug out news items, interviewed students, and put the paper together so that the students were able to read the latest news.

Meeting a deadline on the Buc.

MR. JOHN LUCKENBILL

Buccaneer Band entertains at half-time.

The Red Bank High School Band, conducted by Mr. John Luckenbill, is comprised of students from the seventh through twelfth grades. It played at football games during half-time, introducing such intricate and colorful routines as "The Story of Transportation" and "The Many Faces of T.V. Commercials." This year the entire band participated in their third exchange program by giving a spring concert with the Mount Pleasant, Delaware, High School Band. These members, Sandye Lucian, Bea Reed, and Frank Cannella made the Shore Conference Band, and Sandye took top honors by making All-State.

DIANA CLARK

SUE LAVERICK

MISS DOROTHY LOVERSIDGE

Miss Dorothy Loversidge's peppy cheerleaders, commandeered by Sue Laverick, cheered Buc teams on to victory at every game this year. Their great enthusiasm was displayed at pep rallies before the opening and closing games of the football season, the Red Bank Catholic and Long Branch contests respectively. The "Mr. Dillon" and the "Fight" cheers, new this year, went off well, despite the fall taken by one of the girls during the latter. Jaunty red and white caps and the girls' hardiness in the freezing weather brought smiles and admiration from the crowds lining the route of the Santa Claus Parade. The girls kept school and community spirit high throughout the year.

Forensic Club

The main objective of the National Forensic League is to develop speaking techniques in all phases of oratorical interpretation. Through the years, it has been fortunate in receiving high state and national recognition, and has ranked well at the annual Temple University Speech Festival.

Rita Murphy, a senior member of the Forensic Club, received first place in the New Jersey National Forensic League District Tournament. The logic and forcefulness of our debating team has become known throughout the state.

Much responsibility for the club's success should be accredited to Renee Pittin, Aaron Rassas, and Tom White.

Public speaking at its best.

Art Club

This year, the Art Club, under the direction of Mr. Douglas MacIlvain, followed an unusual program. One out of every four meetings was devoted to hearing different artists speak on and perhaps demonstrate their specialties, such as oil painting or water coloring. At the other meetings the students did art work of their own choice. Visits to art museums and opportunities to exhibit its work were also part of the club's program.

Biology Club

The Biology Club, under the direction of Mr. Siegler, was composed of biology students interested in doing research with more advanced equipment. Members were required to maintain a "C" average to remain in the club. This group was divided because of its size, but met together once a month to compare notes and report on their separate activities. Trips were taken in small groups, one of which brought back carnivorous plants from the Pine Barrings. Other activities included growing bacteria, a trip to the Broadway play "The Miracle Worker", and a visit by a snake keeper from the Staten Island Zoo.

Biology Lab Assistants

Clockwise: Kate McLean, Mike Reason, Dana Stalsworth, Rochelle Morgovsky, Laurie King.

MR. SEYMOUR
SEIGLER

Aiding the Biology Department this year were the laboratory assistants. During free periods they worked to keep the equipment in order, took care of the guinea pigs and assisted in classes. Mr. Siegler and Mr. Deland, the advisors, hope that in the future more students will join this group.

The Bowling Club has many members.

Bowling Club

The clattering of pins and yells of "strike" were heard every Tuesday as the Boys' Bowling Club spun the balls down the alley. Sponsored by Mr. Vincent Deland, the club met at the Red Bank Recreation Center. The purpose of the club is to provide an opportunity for the members to bowl and learn the art of competition. The members have an interscholastic league as well as taking part in Shore Conference competition. Bowling has become a varsity sport and members who maintain the top six averages enjoy the privilege of taking part in conference matches and the State Bowling Tournament. Senior members include Louis Mannello, Ned Bentz and Don Ross.

MR. VINCENT
DELAND

Chess Club

"Checkmate!" This word, incomprehensible as it may seem to the opponent, is the almost inevitable end to every chess game. Meetings, held every Friday afternoon, are most ably directed by Mr. Popler. Although the club consists of only six members, they have mastered the techniques of chess and are in competition for the club championship.

MR. SOLOMON
POPLER

Chess, anyone?

Camera Club

The Camera Club, directed by Mr. Anthony Trufolo, took, developed, and printed, with its own photographic equipment, pictures of many school activities, such as dances and plays. The recognized leader of the club was John Cottingham, who was also on the photographic staffs of the Buccaneer and Log.

MR. ANTHONY TRUFOLLO

MR. ROBERT SPENCER

Selectivity described this year's harmonizing choralettes, a group of twenty girls who were chosen in audition where six applicants tried out for each vacancy. Eight sopranos, six second sopranos and six altos formed the Choralettes, whose accompanist was Anita D'Amico. The group, clad in crisp white blouses and two-piece, blue wool suits, sang at social and civic events, among which were meetings of the Women's Guild of the Trinity Episcopal Church, the Lions Club, the D.A.R. and the Kiwanis Club, and the dedication of the new cafeteria.

MR. ROBERT SPENCER

Correspondence Club

L to r.: Peggy Santoro, Lynn Kissel, George Tunsall, Renee Pittin.

Students of Miss Kelley's classes have become "Ambassadors of Good Will" through their correspondence with students of foreign countries. Membership was open to all students of U. S. History II, and entitled the student to a "pen pal" in a country of his choice. Students receive a better understanding of the world today through correspondence with citizens of neighbor nations.

Distributive Education Club

The 1960 Distributive Education Club was comprised of eighteen seniors from Mr. Joseph Farrell's Distributive Education classes. The members discussed careers in merchandising and learned more about the functioning of department stores. During the year the D.E. Club visited New York, where the members indefatigably toured Macy's Department Store, trailing Mr. Farrell's fast pace, and afterward relaxed to enjoy the Broadway performance of "Red-head".

MR. JOSEPH
FARRELL

WARD

Future Homemakers Of America

The Future Homemakers of America, sponsored by Mrs. Marjorie Ward, tried to meet the challenge of their motto, "Toward New Horizons". The motto reminded members that their contributions to home life today would influence the type of homes they will have tomorrow, and that the family life of members would influence the community and the world. One of the year's highlights was the combined trip of the Future Homemakers and the Future Nurses Club to New York City.

Future Nurses

Twenty Red Bank High girls, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Margaret Benner, volunteered to work at Riverview Hospital as nurses' aides during their spare time. The only requirements were that they be at least sixteen years old and be interested in nursing as a career. Wearing blue and white candy-striped uniforms, they assisted the nurses on all the floors and in the blood bank, thus gaining valuable experience while working for a worthy cause.

MRS. MARGARET

The Cercle Francais and its avante group, sponsored by Miss Hortense Quinche and Mrs. Fulvia Garruto, met one night a week and studied various phases of French, including the origin of the language, the proper use of the language and the culture of the French people. Most important of all its activities was the annual French banquet, held in the spring and a visit of a speaker from Morocco.

Cercle Francais

Front row: Joanne Shupack, Susan Graham.

Taking trips to colleges, teaching in Red Bank's elementary schools, seeing films, giving teas, and having interviews were included in the plans of the Future Teachers of America. The club consists of twelve girls under the guidance of its President, Jo Ann Shupack; Secretary, Carol Bernstein; Treasurer, Diane Krongelb, and advisers Miss Marion Olson and Miss Katherine Wenger.

Future Teachers of America

Deutscher Klub

The German Club, under the direction of Miss Andrea Manley, completed its second year. Its projects included a tortuous initiation of new members in which only German was spoken. One of the highlights was the arrival of Miss Helga Weiler from Cologne, Germany. Miss Weiler was sponsored by Miss Manley and is a pen pal of Barbara Farrell.

The aims of the club are to foster interest in German music, literature and philosophy, and to inform members about famous Germans. Among those studied have been Goethe, Schilles and Wagner. Studies of this type will be of great assistance to all college-bound students.

MISS ANDREA MANLEY

Standing: Lucy Wheeler, Mary Ann Holmgren, Rosemary Monteverde, Barbara Farrell, Ed Stominski, Carolyn Gerhold, Bob Weller, Robert Saffa, Diane Russell, Eileen Lazar. Seated: Leslie Beard, Arthur Ross, Pete Hubbard.

Gym Leaders Club

Grab your partners and away we go.

The Girls Gym Leaders Club meets weekly to instruct the squad leaders of all the gym classes on how to assist the other girls in improving their skills and getting more out of the physical education program. Projects for the year were decorating a Christmas tree in the gym lobby and participating in social service work.

Officers are Sandy Huserick, President; Norma Abrams, Secretary; and Margaret Dotts, Treasurer.

Geology Club

The Geology Club, organized this year by Mr. Howard Brown, provided for a more extensive knowledge of rocks and minerals. The club members gave reports on various subjects, such as glaciers and coral reefs. During the year the club also went on field trips.

Japanese Club

"Ohaiu Gazamo!" Under the supervision of Mr. Brzostowski and the direction of Mikado (Rita Murphy) and Vice-Mikado (Mary Darnell), Japanese Club members were mentally transported to Japan to study its culture, literature, language, and art. This unique club especially enjoyed playing "Origami" (paper folding) and "Go"

L. to r.: Rita Murphy, Mr. Brzostowski, Mary Darnall, Philip Muller.

Industrial Arts Club

The Industrial Arts Club, a select group of sixteen members, gained national recognition through magazine articles written by the advisor, John F. Moses.

In addition to its regular projects, the club was featured at the N.J.E.A. convention and at Oswego Teacher's College, New York.

The club suffered a tremendous loss in December when Bill Ciccone, a charter member and past officer, died. A memorial plaque in his honor is to be presented to an outstanding club member each year. The award will be based on friendliness, cooperativeness, dependability, willingness and desire to serve — all of which were outstanding in Bill Ciccone's life.

WILLIAM CICCONE

Latin Club

MISS MARY RICE

Eighty Latin students belonged to this year's Latin Club, sponsored by Miss Mary Rice and Miss Mary Stout. Richard Coote served as consul, Lynn Nilson as Scriba, and Albert Rothstein as Quaestor. The year's activities included a lucrative slave sale, a trip to Ryder College to attend the annual New Jersey Junior Classical League convention, and the killing of Julius Caesar on the Ides of March.

Press Club

The Press Club attracted eighteen members who wrote articles dealing with school news for the local papers. Each member had a "beat" which was regularly checked for information. Mr. Seymour Siegler, the club's adviser, edited the articles to be submitted for print, and, if each member turned in at least one item every other week, he was eligible for a weekend trip to Bear Mountain. Notebooks containing newspaper articles were kept to aid the students in their study of journalism.

Red Cross Council

The accent was on aid, first and last. The Red Cross Council, under the skillful leadership of Mrs. Mary Ruddy, provided canteeners for the several blood-mobile drives held at Fort Monmouth throughout the year. The Council sponsored a concert for the patients of Marlboro State Hospital, and, in conjunction with the Student Council, conducted a successful fund-raising drive for the Red Cross.

Science Club

Red Bank High School's Science Club, headed by Mrs. Elsie MacLeod, is a member of the Science Clubs of America, a national organization which has headquarters in Washington, D. C. The members of the club had special hobbies and spheres of interest in which they worked. Often they entered their projects in the Monmouth College and Rutgers University science fairs. Throughout the year special speakers from outside industries, who greatly enhanced the everyday enjoyment of science, spoke to the Club.

L. to r.: Judy Senitzky, Joel Morgovsky, Miss MacLeod, Frances De Salvo.

Secretarial Club

To belong to Red Bank high's Secretarial Club, a girl must be a senior enrolled in the secretarial-clerical curriculum. Among the club's many activities this year were visiting the Progressive Life Insurance Company to see its offices, doing volunteer work for various organizations, and helping in the high school offices. The girls ended the year by spending a weekend in New York City, where they had reservations at the Hotel Plymouth and tickets to see the hit musical "Flower Drum Song".

El Club De Español

L. to r.: Mrs. Maldari, Martin Iselin, Pat Lees, Richard Towers, Mrs. Garruto, Sandy Huserick, Vera Grilli.

MRS. FULVIA GARRUTO

The Spanish Club, sponsored by Mrs. Fulvia Garruto, Mrs. Elena Malderi, and Dr. Angel Franco, took part in Red Bank High School's Christmas Language Festival, where the members sang Spanish Christmas Carols. Each week, the club studied the customs of the Latin American countries, and, near the end of the year, attended the annual Language Day at Rutgers University.

Short-Cut And Puzzle Club

"What is a third and a half of a third of ten?" This is a sample of the puzzles which intrigued and challenged the twenty-two members of the Short-Cut and Puzzle Club this year. Under the watchful eyes of their advisor, Dr. Amy Chateaufauf, the students met each Friday afternoon to interpret and solve a few of the many complex puzzles offered by the worlds of math and science. The purpose of the club was to guide its members toward clearer, more concise thinking.

Visual Aids Club

MR. ANTHONY TRUFOLO

The appearance of a Visual Aids Club member in class has always been welcomed by the students. The club aided teachers in supplementing regular class work by setting up and operating projectors, tape recorders, record players and the public address system. Under the direction of Dr. Trufolo, the group also assisted during air raid drills and assemblies. The seniors among the nineteen who haunt Room 7 are John Cottingham, Tom DeForrest and Ben Berry.

Vocabulary Club

The Vocabulary Club, advised by Miss Marie O'Connor, was composed of ten juniors interested in improving their vocabularies and widening their cultural backgrounds. The members of the club studied the etymology of words with which they would not ordinarily become acquainted.

L. to r.: Judi Hudson, Ann Coats, Miss O'Connor, Arnold Vincent.

Color Guard

L. to r.: Varian Ayers, Penny Fazio, Marie Cammarano, Marjorie Ryser, Pat Florio, Lynn Sanborn.

MR. JOHN LUCKENBILL

The Red Bank High School Color Guard, contributed, with proud and majestic sweep, a grand feeling of patriotism, inspiration and school spirit to every performance of our Buccaneer Band in parades and game appearances. Bearing our national and school flags and the big Buccaneer banner, they also displayed colorful and entertaining banner-type announcements covering the themes of band programs and titles of many band numbers.

Though it was a very frustrating season for the team and fans alike, it may be the last season like that for a few years. This team, consisting mostly of juniors and sophomores, gained valuable experience and should regain football stature for Red Bank.

Coach Robert Glisson and assistants, Bob Olshan and Tom Karlo, had their hands full in September when only Bobby Scott and George Long returned from last year's big seasoned, starting team. The coaches were forced to rely upon smaller inexperienced sophomores and juniors to fill these vacated positions.

Though inexperience showed at the beginning of the season as the Bucs were generous in giving away touchdowns, the last few games saw definite improvement.

The first two games saw the Bucs lose one-touchdown decisions to powerful Red Bank Catholic and Rumson elevens, 7-0 and 14-7.

Then the Bankers held Manasquan to one touchdown until the third quarter. Here the Big Blue came to life and scored three touchdowns. This sealed a 27-0 victory.

game. Here faulty ball-handling gave the Lions three gift touchdowns and the game, 25-6.

The game against Asbury Park saw the Bucs outclassed 39-0.

The following week against Freehold, a fumble in the last quarter broke up a tight game and gave the opponent a 12-6 victory.

Looking like a completely different team, Red Bank fought a bigger Dickinson team nip and tuck in a great passing duel before bowing 27-20 in the last two minutes.

The next week the team tasted victory for the first time by romping over Neptune 28-0. A very effective running attack was demonstrated here.

A more powerful Long Branch team coasted to a 40-0 victory in the annual Thanksgiving Day Game.

Mention certainly must go the outstanding play of the JV and freshman teams. The JV's under Tom Karlo finished once-beaten in eight games. They also established an all-time record by winning 13 straight games before losing to Keyport, 6-0.

The freshman under Aubrey Dell'Omo and Chet Kovalski finished undefeated, untied, and once-scored upon in seven games.

Despite the basketball team's over-all record of five wins and twelve defeats, Coach Don Slaven's Bucs engaged in one of the most exciting seasons of all time. Almost every conference game was undecided until the last seconds. Unfortunately, lack of experience, illness and the pressure due to the natural comparison with last year's Shore Conference Champions handicapped the team to a great extent.

Behind tall Tony Howard, who led the way with his rebounding and shooting, and scorer and play-maker Dennis "Murph" Carusoe, the Bucs were no pushover for any team. Coach Slaven estimated Howard to be the most improved ballplayer he has coached.

The illness of Carusoe for three games during a vital portion of the schedule cost the Bucs immensely, as they lost these games by close scores.

Behind Howard and Carusoe, and in their first year of varsity ball, were junior Al Gatta, sophomore Alan Klatsky and freshman Eddie Winrow. Other seniors were George Long, Frank Bauer, Joe Soviero, Bobby Scott and Irving Shomo.

Starting the conference race in great fashion, the Bucs won their first two games by large margins. However, inexperience caused the team to lose leads in three games, two against champion Neptune.

Though there were many exciting games, the outstanding one saw the Bucs overcome a 17-point deficit against Long Branch and win the game in overtime, 65-62. Tony Howard capped the rally by tossing in the tying basket at the buzzer. Howard also tallied the final marker in a 52-51 extra-session sortie at Middletown.

This typical brand of excitement aided in assuaging the Red Bank faithful's concern about the grim season record.

Shore Conference Champs

Red Bank's 1959 baseball team gave this year's team a lot to live up to in matching its record. Exceeding the prediction's of everyone this team fought its way into a tie for the conference title and promptly defeated Long Branch in the playoff game to win the Shore Conference Championship.

Leading the return to help try to repeat last year's performance are regulars George Long and Warren Scott.

Following are Joe Soviero, Len Di Naples, Charlie Davis, Don Sweeney, John Newton and numerous JV's.

The Bucs started the season off in tremendous fashion by blanking their first two opponents Manasquan and Long Branch 5-0 and 4-0 respectively. They then made it three in a row by trimming Middletown, 3-2. Then the Bucs hit a rocky road for a week. No sooner were they handed their first Conference loss by Neptune, 2-0, they were pounded by R. B. Catholic 18-7. This didn't seem to phase the Bankers a bit. They went right out and won their next 3 games, defeating Asbury Park, 2-1, taking Long Branch again, 7-0, and beating Manasquan, 4-1. They were stopped here momentarily by Middletown, 4-2, before sweeping to victories over Neptune, 7-0 and Freehold, 4-3. Still having trouble with their arch rivals the Bucs bowed to the Caseys again by a score of 7-2. Dividing their last 2 conference games, losing to Asbury, 2-1 and beating Freehold, 6-3, the Bucs set the stage for a playoff game with Long Branch.

Victorious by 3-1 Red Bank emerged Shore Conference Champions.

Though the entire team played outstanding baseball the great clutch pitching of Denman Smith, the consistent hitting of George Long and the fabulous catches of John Newton in the playoff game must stand out.

Track season started in March with the wind and the rain, and many boys reported. They had plenty of potential, and did much with it.

Led by the hurdling of Jackie Jackson, the running of "Irkey" Shomo, the trackmen to many firsts and seconds in those events. In the field, Bobby Scott held down the opposition in the shot-put, helped by Bill Parkell with the discus, and "Murph" Carusoe in the javelin and pole vault events.

The coaching of Mr. Bob Glisson and Mr. "Chuck" Del'Omo was much needed to get the team in shape, to tell them the rules and to teach them to perform the different events.

The 1959 team did not win any meets, but they excelled in good sportsmanship and in their performance.

The standout for the team was sophomore Dave Winfield. The fleet-footed Winfield finished first for Red Bank in all meets in which he participated.

The Bucs defeated Freehold and Point Pleasant during the regular season while losing to Long Branch and Asbury Park in a triangular meet, Neptune by a narrow margin, St. Rose and Brick Township.

In the Central Jersey Meet Red Bank finished 16th in a field of 19. However the Bucs showed improvement in finishing 19th out of 28 in the state meet and 5th out of 9 in the Shore Conference Championship Meet.

Ned Bentz, high bowler for Red Bank, finished in the top three of the Northern Division. Ned compiled a 176.5 average, had the high series of 621 and high game of 231. Louis Mannello established a 141 average with a high game of 205. The team participated in the state tournament at the conclusion of the regular season.

Class

Platter Parade

Splash! A tidal wave of 373 freshmen swelled through Red Bank High School and began the class of 1960. George Adcock, President of the Freshman Class, and other officers, enthusiastically backed the magazine campaign which inundated our treasury.

In the spring of 1957, New York City was overrun by several bus loads of freshman Modern Living students when they went to see The Seven Wonders of the World.

"Under Paris Skies," the first big dance for the class of 1960, showed the artistic extent of freshman ingenuity. This successful event ended the freshman year and instilled a feeling of future anticipation among the class.

Business Manager, Nancy Reussille, with the help of her assistant, Heather Williams, directed the cake and candy sales which began the flow of money into our treasury for the sophomore year. Treasurer June Yodice replaced Carol Tomlinson, who moved to Texas. She organized the present efficient system of collecting dues.

In December, Liz Bett was the sophomore nominee for the Homecoming Queen.

As winter approached, Red Bank students began to fully appreciate the new "freezeway". Also with winter's cold blast came the flu epidemic which decimated the classes forcing out 450 students on the peak day.

"April Showers", the sophomores' harbinger of spring, saw freshmen and sophomores dancing to the music of John Luckenbill. Dave Wark and June Yodice received the royal crowns.

The trip to the Bronx Zoo and the Museum of Natural History by sophomore biology students provided several "unbelievable" incidents.

Sophomore traveling ended on a novel note with the exchange concert between the Red Bank and the Berwick, Pennsylvania, bands.

When the 1960 class entered as juniors in the fall, the Red Bank High enrollment had swelled to a new high; so the administration instituted the system of staggered sessions.

The ebb of excitement ran high as the class anticipated the forthcoming Junior Play, the J.S.R. and other class functions. The Junior Play in November was a huge success, with both students and parents packing the River Street School Auditorium in order to see Curtain Going Up. Pat Reussille and Steve Wlesh played the leading roles. A huge money-maker, it was a production that will long be remembered in the history of Red Bank dramatic presentations.

Two class trips were arranged by the English and history departments, so once again the class of 1960 invaded New York City. A Touch of The Poet and The Rivalry provided the students with a taste of the theatre, while the Metropolitan Art Museum increased their appreciation of art.

The class could now boast two disc jockeys because Bill Parkell and Lynn Kissel were the hosts of "Platter Parade", a WJLK broadcast from the China and Glass Shop in Red Bank.

The gym temporarily became a Barnum and Bailey circus tent for the annual J. S. R. whose theme was "Under the Big Top"

As summer approached and the construction of the new addition began, the cafeteria closed and the P.T.A. sold sandwiches to the starving students of R.B.H.S.

During the Tibetan refugee flight the World Church Association collected money to aid needy refugees and R.B.H.S. sparingly contributed to this fund.

A philosophy club was begun by Mr. John Brzostoski, and the limited membership spent most of their time studying ancient Buddhist concepts. Many of these concepts were contained in Monkey, a memorable and inspiring fairytale about the adventures of an ordinary monkey who found wisdom and immortality.

Middletown Art Work

With the warmth of May came the excitement of the joint concert soon to be presented. This year Red Bank members had the privilege of being first guests then hosts of the Northampton, Massachusetts High School Band.

In September, the class of 1960 returned from a well-earned vacation to make the best of their final year at R.B.H.S.

The new science and shop wings were in full swing by early November, but the library started its operation around Christmas time.

Completion of the new addition and various disagreements over the Log publication caused much confusion and conflicts during the first semester of the Senior Year. Class meetings became the floor for many heated discussions between Log staff radicals who wanted to improve the yearbook content and the conservative members of the staff who discouraged this change.

Under the direction of Mr. John Brzostowski, the Philosophy Club was converted into the Japanese Language Club, whose purpose was to study Japanese culture, art, music and language.

During the four years at Red Bank, students have acquired the tools necessary to develop the abilities to become dedicated and intelligent citizens of America.

Frosh-Soph Hop, 1957, "Under Paris Skies"

On a warm evening in April of 1957, the class of '60 had its first taste of high school social life at the Freshman-Sophomore Hop.

The gym took on the appearance of a quaint street in Paris inspired by the theme, "Under Paris Skies." Sidewalk cafes, trimmed with window boxes, lined with walls under a celestial ceiling of silver stars. A mural of the Eiffel Tower was the perfect setting for pictures.

"April Showers," the theme of the 1958 Frosh-Soph Hop, enchanted more than four hundred students and faculty members. Adorning the gym walls were lacy pink umbrellas, pastel birds, and thousands of springtime flowers. Silver raindrops with brightly colored balloons dangled above the dancers' heads.

Dancing in this beautiful illusion, everyone enjoyed the music of John Luckenbill's band. Highlighting the evening was the crowning of the princess and prince, June Yodice and Dave Wark.

F. S. H. Decoration Committee, 1958

"Under the Big Top"

Everyone enjoys seeing a circus, and dancing "Under The Big Top" to the music of Paul Seldin was even more exciting. This is what the couples thought who attended the 1959 Junior-Senior Reception.

With hundreds of yards of cheesecloth providing the roof of the main tent, and comical animals peering out of cages on the walls, a real circus mood was established. Authentic Barnum and Bailey posters and a merry-go-round of stuffed animals added to the decor of the dance.

On the snowiest week end of the year, the seniors were honored at the 1960 J.S.R. Harry Madole's band played "At An Evening in Rome"; couples danced past a Roman viaduct backdrop, white pillars, cafe tables, striped awnings, and a flowing fountain.

The dancers were entertained by the queen and king, Mary Hawn and Lloyd Baskin, who sang Senior Show tunes during the band intermission.

The honorific tradition successfully concluded the list of interclass dances that began in 1956.

PLAYBILL

The Junior Class Play, "Curtain Going Up", was presented in November at the River Street Auditorium under the skilled direction of Miss Martha Lee Weis. It featured Pat Reussille in the lead role as Miss Irene Burgess, a teacher trying to produce a successful play. Steve Welsh had the male lead as Mr. Carter, a new teacher at the school.

The problems of producing the play included placating an old-maid costume chairman, several misunderstood students, a pseudo-sophisticated actress, and a white-haired, cranky janitor.

As the comedy terminated and the problems, romantic and otherwise, were solved, all agreed that it was an outstanding production.

Show

"They appreciate me."

The Senior Show, "Where's Charley?" was produced at the Mechanic Street School on March 17, 18, 24 and 25. This former Broadway hit, the musical version of "Charley's Aunt", was a wonderful success.

Under the direction of Mr. Robert Spencer and Mr. Seymour Seigler, the cast enacted the story of how Charley (Lloyd Baskin) masqueraded as his aunt to chaperone Amy (Jo Ann Shupack and Kitty (Mary Hawn) when they visited Oxford. Charley was such a charming and rich "lady", that Mr. Spettigue (Louis Manello) and Sir Francis Chesney (Dave Cotten) both made attempts to ensnare Donna Lucia and her fortune.

Meanwhile Kitty and Jack (Bob Haffa) fell in love. Amy was disturbed that her beau Charley was never around, but the mystery was finally solved when the real aunt (Judy Demorjian) arrived from Brazil.

The chorus, composed of eight senior girls and seven boys, supported the cast by joining in such old favorites as Once in Love with Amy, My Darling, Lovelier than Ever, Red Rose Cotillion and the New Ashmolean Marching Society and Student Conservatory Band.

Senior Prom

The Class of 1960 topped its Senior year with the Senior Prom given on May 7 at the Paddock Lounge in Long Branch.

It was a memorable evening. We danced to the music of Charlie Guest's Band, and were served an elegant turkey dinner.

The Senior Prom was arranged by the Senior Executive Board. Committee chairmen were Craig Wolcott and Dottie Watson.

The Senior Executive Board, governing body of the class, guided the Class of 1960 through many successful projects. The Board, faced with the production of a senior show, took care of such matters as the program, tickets, and publicity. The football concession, headed by Louis Hall, boosted the treasury up a much-needed notch. Planning for the Senior Prom was another of the Board's projects.

Inherent in the production of a yearbook is struggle—first against apathy and then against the ominous, on-rushing deadline. The 1960 Log, buttressed by editors Steve Palmer, Jim Bahr and Pat Reussille, fought through its self-created obstacles, combining hundreds of pictures and tons of copy paper to create another in a long line of fine yearbooks for the seniors of Red Bank High School.

Each afternoon fifteen to thirty seniors would assemble in chaotic, mass confusion in Room 206. Another victory was achieved for student individuality when "freedom fighters" forced the office to close its doors each eighth period to keep the noise out. Frustrated editors, employing the lash and rack, pleadingly persuaded staff members to trickle out a few stories amid debates on the Truman and Eisenhower Administrations, Cuban and African nationalism and the value of the mark in Lower Slobovia. Room 206, in addition, became a haven for run-away history students and Buc members.

The work on this edition of the annual began in March of 1959 at election meetings and led into the selection of a theme. Summer meetings settled the editors into a vague understanding of almost nothing about their jobs but created an awakening of the work ahead. Amid the sleep-interrupted nights and the cataclysmic, distraught days prior to deadlines, the twin monsters of labor and worry took healthy bites of the battle-scarred yearbook workers. As the dust subsided, a weary but victorious crew was able to hold high, above the remains of the slaughtered leviathans, a symbol of achievement and cooperation, The 1960 Log.

Acknowledgements

To Mr. Gregg Hibbs, Mr. Royal Hintze, Mr. Willard Browning and Mr. George Saffa for the privileges they extended us.

To the secretarial and guidance staffs for their invaluable aid.

To Delmar publishers and Lorstan photographers for the fine job they did.

To all faculty members for the cooperation they gave us.

To all the club, team and class advisers and members for their patience and aid.

To the underclassmen who helped us identify pictures.

To Mr. Ray Pearce, Mr. Harry Hopkins and the entire custodial staff for their indispensable cooperation.

To Major Chalmers for his invaluable help in letting us use Fort Hancock.

To Miss Naomi Werse for supplying the opportunity for lengthy hours of work in room 307.

To all the people who eased our job of producing the best yearbook we could.
